RAILROAD EARNINGS.

The following table shows the gross earnings of every STEAM railroad from which regular weekly or monthly returns can be obtained. The first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the period from January 1 to and including such latest week or month.

The returns of the street railways are brought together separately on a subsequent page.

STREET RAILWAYS AND TRACTION COMPANIES

The following table shows the gross earnings for the latest period of all STREET railways from which we are able to obtain weekly or monthly returns. The arrangement of the table is the same as that for the steam roads—that is, the first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings or the calendar year from January 1 to and including such latest week or month.

Street Railway Net Earnings.—The following table gives the returns of STREET railway gross and net earnings received this week. In reporting these net earnings for the street railways, we adopt the same plan as that for the steam roads—that is, we print each week all the returns received that week, but once a month (on the third or the fourth Saturday) we bring together all the roads furnishing returns, and the latest statement of this kind will be found in the CHRONICLE of July 23, 1898. The next will appear in the issue of August 20, 1898.

American Cereal Company.

(Balance Sheet of Dec. 31, 1897.)

The American Cereal Co. is an Ohio corporation, organized in 1891, that took over the business of several manufacturers of cereal products, on account of which fact it is frequently called the "Oat Meal Trust." Its outstanding capital stock is $3,341,700, and its dividends in 1895 were 6 per cent per annum; in 1896, 3 per cent; in 1897 and since, 6 per cent, payable Q-F. Business is reported as much better than a year ago, and the managers are said to have recently advised that $100,000 be set aside yearly from earnings to provide for the outstanding bonds. A press dispatch also says that it is understood the company has acquired control of the Corle & Son Oat Meal Co. of Kansas City, whose plant has a capacity of 1,000 cases a day.

San Francisco Breweries (Limited).

(Report for Year Ending April 30, 1898).

The report of the directors says:

Reduction of Prices.—In the early part of the year under review competition had become very keen, and it was recognized that exceptional steps must be taken in order to meet it and to regain lost trade. Accordingly the prices of the company's beers were reduced, with the result that the company gradually recovered its trade and at length induced the competing breweries to come to an arrangement for raising prices and curtailing expenses. This agreement was entered into in May last and is working satisfactorily, and profits have already begun to show a considerable improvement. The earnings of the year have been £21,400 2s. 9d. before charging depreciation and debenture interest. No depreciation is provided, as in view of a reconstruction scheme it is unnecessary to make this provision, especially as the large amount of £14,000 has been written off profit and loss account for repairs and renewals. From June last, an extra tax of one dollar per barrel has been imposed by the Government for war purposes. The selling price has been increased by a similar amount.

Reconstruction.—The question of the reconstruction of the company has had careful and constant consideration by the directors, in conjunction with the committee of shareholders appointed at the general meeting in August last. Many unexpected difficulties have arisen from time to time, causing considerable delay in the negotiations, which had to await the chairman's return, but it is hoped that the basis of a satisfactory scheme may now be quickly arrived at, and as early as possible full particulars will be communicated to the shareholders, so that they may have ample opportunity of carefully considering the proposals before the special meeting which will be convened to consider them.

The vessels, it is stated, will be run by the Boston Fruit Co., and will furnish weekly mail and passenger service to West Indian ports as far as Jamaica.—V. 66, p. 615.

Arizona Copper—Reconstruction.—An extraordinary general meeting was held on the 27th ult. for the purpose of passing (inter alia) the following resolutions:

I. That each preferred share of £1 shall be divided into four shares of £1 each. That two of these shares shall be called preference shares and two ordinary shares.

II. That each of the 75,000 preferred shares of £1 shall be divided into two shares of 10s. each. That one of these shares shall be called a deferred preference share and the other a deferred ordinary share.

III. That the 75,000 deferred preference shares of 10s. each, arising from the subdivision of deferred shares, shall be consolidated and divided into 37,500 shares of £1 each, and that the shares so arising shall be called preference shares, and that the 75,000 deferred ordinary shares of 10s. each arising from the sub-division of deferred shares shall be consolidated and divided into 37,500 shares of £1 each, and that the shares so arising shall be called ordinary shares.

The present capitalization, etc., was indicated in the CHRONICLE of June 4, 1898, in connection with the plan then presented, see V. 66, p. 1087.

Ballston Terminal RR.—Listed in Philadelphia.—The $350,000 first mortgage 5 per cent gold bonds have been placed on the regular list at the Stock Exchange. They are a first mortgage on road at Ballston Spa, N. Y., that connects the main line of the Delaware & Hudson RR. with the manufacturing establishments at that point.

Baltimore & Ohio RR.—Reorganization Certificates Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has admitted to dealings the reorganization certificates of deposit for all the issues of bonds and stocks embraced in the plan, that had previously been listed. This includes all the securities disturbed except the Chicago Division 5s (a sterling loan), the Washington City & Point Lookout bonds and the Akron & Chicago Junction preferred stock.—V. 67, p. 318.

Bay State Gas Co. of Delaware—New England Gas & Coke.—Litigation.—At Wilmington, Del., on Aug. 11, Frank C. Jones, of New York, brought suit in the United States Court to set aside a deed of trust given by the Bay State Gas Co. of Delaware to Henry H. Rogers, John G. Moore and Frank W. Whitridge. The allegations of the plaintiff are reported as follows:

Jones claims that he is the owner of 1,500 shares of the stock of the Bay State Gas Co. of Delaware, that up to Nov. 1, 1894, it owned the stocks of the Bay State Gas Co. of New Jersey, but that J. Edward Addicks transferred to the trustees named 10,000 shares of the stock of the Bay State Co. of New Jersey, which enabled them to vote the proxies of certain Massachusetts gas stocks owned by the New Jersey company; that they elected the officers of the Massachusetts companies and then made a contract between them and the New England Gas & Coke Co., which they control, to make gas for the Massachusetts companies at 30 cents a thousand feet, which is excessive, and also causing the plants of the Massachusetts companies to be idle and become valueless.—V. 67, p. 221, 275.

Bear Valley Irrigation Co. of Redlands, Cal.—Reorganization.—New Bonds.—The "Pacific Banker and Investor" says:

For months there has been talk in Redlands of a proposition for the transfer of the Bear Valley Reservoir and plant from the Savings & Trust Co. of Cleveland, Ohio, to the water users. Recently A. G. Hubbard, who represents the Savings & Trust Co., made a proposition to dispose of the property, and a committee was formed, composed of the President and Secretary of each water company using water from the Bear Valley system. It was decided to issue bonds by the new corporation, to be formed, in the amount of $700,000, of which $525,000 shall be the purchase price, and the remaining $175,000 for the erection of a suitable dam in Santa Ana Canyon, the extinguishing of such liens as may be considered expedient, and for the general improvement of the plant. The bonds to mature as follows: $50,000 in the first ten years, at the rate of $5,000 per year; $660,000 in the next forty years, in 40 equal annual instalments, or, at the option of the Savings & Trust Co., $25,000 to mature in the first five years at the rate of $5,000 per year; $325,000 to mature in the next nineteen years in 19 equal annual instalments, and the remaining $350,000 to be due and payable at the end of the 25th year. It is agreed that the litigation now pending shall be pressed to a speedy issue.

Brooklyn Ferry Co. of New York—Brooklyn & New York Ferry Co.—New Company.—The stockholders of the Brooklyn & New York Ferry Co. on Thursday formally ratified the sale to H. B. Hollins & Co. of a controlling interest in the company. There were represented at the meeting 19,516 shares out of a total of 20,000, and the action of the stockholders was said to have been unanimous. The 484 shares not represented at the meeting were held by parties out of town.

The Brooklyn Ferry Company of New York has been organized to take over the property and will have a capitalization of $7,500,000 of first mortgage 5 per cent bonds and $7,500,000 common stock. Of the bonds $6,000,000 will be issued at once to pay for the $2,000,000 of stock of the old company, purchased at 300. An additional $500,000 will be used to retire an equal amount of debentures, which are subject to call and which will be paid off November 1. The remaining $1,000,000 of the bond issue will be held in the company's treasury, to provide for the payment of $1,000,000 underlying bonds. The stock will all be issued, but $1,000,000 will be held in the company's treasury.

The property acquired consists of the ferries from Roosevelt Street, New York, to Broadway, Brooklyn; from Grand Street, New York, to Broadway, Brooklyn, and to Grand Street, Brooklyn; from Twenty-third Street, New York, to Broadway, Brooklyn. There are fifteen boats worth $125,000 each, besides the ferry-houses, etc., and also several blocks of valuable water front and real estate at Broadway, Brooklyn. The old company paid regular eight per cent dividends and extra dividends annually.—V. 67, p. 273.

California Northwestern Ry.—San Francisco & Northern Pacific Ry.—Extension and Guaranteed Bonds.—The San Francisco papers report that the San Francisco & Northern Pacific has decided to guarantee interest at the rate of 5 per cent per annum on not exceeding $1,500,000 bonds to be issued at $25,000 per mile by the California & Northwestern upon an extension of 60 miles into the Redwood forests of Mendocino and Humboldt counties, Cal. The California & Northwestern was incorporated last March, with authorized capital stock of $3,000,000, of which $220,000 subscribed.—V. 65, p. 275.

Central Stamping Co.—Tinware Trust.—Assignment.—The Central Stamping Co., manufacturers of tinware and sheet metal articles, with factories in Brooklyn and in Newark, N. J., made an assignment Thursday to Alfred R. Turner, Jr. of Paterson, N. J. The company was organized in December, 1884, with a capital stock of $500,000, which was afterwards reduced to $400,000. It absorbed five of the largest concerns in the tinware trade in the country, and was therefore known as the "Tinware Trust." The concerns absorbed were Lalance & Grosjean and Frederick Haberman & Co. of this city, E. Ketcham & Co. of Brooklyn, James Aikman & Co. of Newark, N. J., and the St. Louis Stamping Company, of St. Louis, Mo. The liabilities are stated as between $270,000 and $300,000—one-third for merchandise, one third for bank discounts and one-third for loans. The nominal assets are understood to exceed $500,000—in machinery, plant, materials, merchandise and accounts. The company owns no real estate. Its office is at 25 Cliff Street.

Chesapeake Light & Power Co. of Hampton, Va.—Control Purchased.—W. J. Payne, of Richmond, has exercised his option and purchased practically the entire capital stock of the company at 110. The company is reported as supplying between 5,000 and 6,000 incandescent and about 80 arc lights, and has an ice plant with a capacity of ten tons a day.

Chicago Burlington & Quincy RR.—Dividend Increased.—The directors on Wednesday increased the quarterly dividend from 1¼ to 1½ per cent. The directors are quoted as saying that the earnings warranted the increase and that it is their policy to give stockholders the benefit of the earnings. The dividend rate was increased in March last from 1 per cent quarterly (4 per cent per annum), at which it had stood for three years, to 1¼ per cent, and now two quarterly distributions having been made of that amount, the rate is again increased to 1½ per cent.—V. 67, p. 272.

Chicago & Western Indiana RR.—Bonds Called.—Ninety-four first mortgage bonds of 1879 have been called for payment from the sinking fund and will be redeemed on Nov. 1st next at the office of Messrs. J. P. Morgan & Co., New York, at 105.—V. 66, p. 1234.

Christopher & Tenth Street RR. New York.—Bonds Due.—The $180,000 first mortgage bonds, dated Oct. 1, 1878, and due Oct. 1, 1898, will be paid at maturity at the Guaranty Trust Co., New York City.

Citizens' Electric Light & Power Co. of Kokomo, Ind.—Receiver applied for.—Application has been made for a receiver by the Capital National Bank of Indianapolis, which claims $6,400 against the defendant company and a personal judgment of $1,400 against President Frank E. Snow. The company was organized with a capital of $40,000.

City & Suburban Ry. of Washington, D. C.—New Company and New Bonds.—The following authoritative statement has been furnished us:—"This company owns and operates the valuable railway franchises granted by Acts of Congress to the Eckington & Soldiers' Home Ry. and the Maryland & Washington Ry., both of the District of Columbia, and also the franchises formerly belonging to the Columbia & Maryland Ry., for a road projected to extend northwardly from the district line through the suburbs of Washington, and through the towns of Bladensburg, Hyattsville, Riverdale, College Park and Lakeland, to Berwyn, Maryland, and thence to the town of Laurel. For the present the suburban line is to be completed only as far as Berwyn. It will therefore embrace a succession of almost adjoining and prosperous towns, and a populous territory, all lying within four miles of the district line.

"The issue of 5 per cent fifty-year gold bonds now offered are dated August 11, 1898, and are for $1,750,000 ($1,500,000 outstanding) is secured by a first mortgage to the Baltimore Trust & Guarantee Co., as Trustee, upon all the property and franchises of the company within the District of Columbia, and the valuable suburban line to Berwyn.

"The railway lines owned and operated, and thus included by the mortgage, embrace about 33·24 miles of track. The lines within Washington City proper will furnish street railway facilities to densely populated districts of the business and residence portions of the city, starting from the Treasury Building, reaching all of the principal public buildings, markets, depots and squares, and spreading out through the most prosperous and thickly settled suburbs, as will appear from the map accompanying this prospectus.

"The consolidation of these important railway properties, forming one admirably planned system, was effected under the liberal provisions of an Act of Congress, approved June 27th, 1898, which authorized the formation of the new system and provided for the issue of bonds now being offered. The new company's capital stock is $1,750,000, all outstanding. The bonds will have a sinking fund of $25,000 yearly from any surplus remaining after payment of 6 per cent on the stock, but they cannot be called. Interest is deposited with the Trustee to cover the period of construction, including the change from horses to underground trolley in the city and the installation of the overhead trolley on the suburban lines.—V. 67, p. 74.

Commonwealth Electric (Chicago).—Mortgage Filed.—The company has filed its mortgage for $2,500,000 to the Northern Trust Co. as trustee. The Electric Company on Aug. 12 purchased from the Calumet Gas Co. the latter's electric plant at Garfield Boulevard and Wallace Street, and part of the plant at Ninety-Sixth Street and Erie Avenue, South Chicago, for $500,000. The deal was signed by Martin J. Russell, President, and Lyman A. Walton, Secretary.—V. 67, p. 319.

Dallas (Tex.) Electric.—Receiver Applied For.—The American Loan & Trust Co. of Boston, as mortgage trustee, has applied to the United States Court at Fort Worth, Tex., for the appointment of a receiver for the Dallas Electric Co., interest on the bonds being in default. The property is said to be valued at $388,000.

Co. for $750,000. The line of the last-named company extends from Walkerville (ferry to Detroit) to Ridgetown, Ont., 84 miles.

General Electric.—Vote to Reduce Capitalization.—At the adjourned meeting on Wednesday President C. A. Coffin announced that 243,141 votes were cast in favor of the reduction of the capital stock and only 9,800 against it.—V. 67, p. 321.

Great Northern Ry.—St. Paul Minneapolis & Manitoba Ry.—Consolidation Proposed—New Stock to be Issued.—A circular to the Great Northern stockholders in connection with the call for the annual meeting Oct. 18 says that the following business will be considered:

"1. The increase of the capital stock of the Great Northern Railway Co. for the purpose of acquiring by exchange or otherwise the capital stock of the St. Paul Minneapolis & Manitoba Railway Co., with the view of consolidating the properties of the two companies.

"2. The total capital stock of the Great Northern Railway Co., as now legally established, consists of $50,000,000 preferred, and authority to issue $20,000,000 common in addition thereto, no part of which has been issued. It is proposed that the authority to issue common stock be surrendered, and that hereafter the capital stock of the Great Northern Railway Co. shall consist of a single class, with uniform rights and qualities."

We are not informed what proposition will be made to Manitoba stockholders, but it is suggested that five shares of Great Northern stock may be offered for four of Manitoba —V. 67, p. 274.

Hawaiian Commercial & Sugar.—Proposed Increase of Capital Stock.—Dividends Possible.—The directors recommend that the capital stock be increased from 1 0 000 shares of $100 each ($10,000,000) to 150,0 0 shares, or $15,000,000. While the present outstanding capital is $10,000,000, the amount paid in is only $23·12¾ per $100, making the total paid-in capital $2,312,755. The purpose of the increase is to fund the floating debt and to provide means for making important improvements. These improvements include an increase in the land cultivated of 2,500 acres and the construction of a new pumping plant for irrigation purposes. Col. Hecht is quoted as saying in substance:

At the meeting of the directors it was plainly evident to those present that some proposition must soon be put into effect to enhance the company. The total debt on Aug. 10, exclusive of bonds, was $321,-152. As an offset, there is unsold sugar valued at $339,000, figuring at the rate of $69 62 per ton. This is the remainder of the last crop. After paying all current expenses for operation until Jan. 1 next, there would be, under the present conditions, a deficit of $100,000. The directors, moreover, are convinced that the profit from operations can be doubled by making the proposed improvements and by increasing the acreage—say 2,500 acres additional—and that this can be done with a comparatively smaller proportionate expense.

Now, as to financing the corporation, there were four ways suggested—first, to absorb all the profits, but as debts would have to come first, the increase in the plant would necessarily have to be deferred, second, to assess the stockholders; third, to issue bonds and thus procure the funds to defray the cost of betterment; fourth, the proposition which seemed most feasible and was most favored, call a special meeting of the stockholders and increase the capital stock 50,000 shares. If this plan is carried out dividends can commence almost at once and be continued."

A short time ago there were unconfirmed rumors to the effect that control of the company was being sought by interests identified with the American Sugar Refining Co. For balance sheet, etc., see V. 67, p. 72; V. 66, p. 1045.

Hutchinson & Southern Ry.—Receivership Denied.—The court on Saturday, July 30, refused to appoint a receiver for this company. This, it was expected, would be the case, all coupons due having been promptly paid and the receivership suit being based merely on a claim against the old company foreclosed.—V. 67, p. 274.

Illinois Central RR.—Listed in London.—The London Stock Exchange has listed the following bonds: $4,939,000 St. Louis division and terminal mortgage 3 per cent gold coupon bonds; $6,321,000 St. Louis division and terminal mortgage 3½ per cent gold coupon bonds and $14,320,000 Louisville division and terminal mortgage 3½ per cent gold coupon bonds.—V. 67, p. 320.

Illinois Steel—Minnesota Iron.—Pending Consolidation.—The committees representing these companies have been in session during the week considering the general proposition for consolidation. The leading interests are understood to favor the union, which it is reported may be on the basis of 85 for Minnesota Iron and 75 for Illinois Steel stock. The Johnstown Steel Company, it is thought by some, will also be included.

The committee representing the Minnesota Iron Company is composed of President Bacon, R. P. Flower, H. M. Flagler, D. O. Mills and H. H. Porter; the committee representing the Illinois Steel Company includes President Gates, Robert Bacon, A. J. Forbes-Leith, N. L. Brown and Nathaniel Thayer.—V. 67, p. 177.

Jamestown & Lake Erie Ry.—Foreclosure Suit.—Foreclosure proceedings have been brought, interest being in default.

John Pettit Realty Co.—Disappearance of President.—John Pettit, President of this company, disappeared several months ago and all efforts to ascertain his whereabouts have been unavailing. The Realty Company is capitalized at $2,-000,000, represented by $1,000,000 of 6 per cent preferred stock and $1,000,000 of common stock. The common stock, it is said, controlled the corporation, and was mostly held by Pettit. The Bennett Building, at Nassau and Fulton streets, was owned by the company, subject to a mortgage for $1,-010,000. It was sold this week to H. B. Sire for about $1,-500,000. The company, it is said, still holds the Beekman Building, at Beekman and Pearl streets, valued at $256,000 and mortgaged for $156,000. Real estate bonds guaranteed 6 per cent interest by the Realty Co. were largely advertised for sale in London last February.

Lakeside Ry., Mahanoy City.—Status—Default—Proposition to Bondholders.—President Dallas Sanders in reply to our inquiry writes: "No receiver has been appointed for the road, and may not be even if the suit now pending (which is contested) should be decided against the company. Interest on the bonds has always been paid since its organization until May 1st, 1898. A proposition for the payment of those coupons at a reduced interest rate is now pending."—V. 66, p. 760.

Lowell (Mich.) Water & Light Co.—Foreclosure.—The American Loan & Trust Co. of Boston has brought suit as mortgage trustee to foreclose the mortgage for $100,000.

Manhattan Alma & Burlingame—Burlingame & Northwestern.—Successor Company.—The Burlingame & Northwestern has been organized with a capital stock of $340,000 to operate the old Manhattan Alma & Burlingame Ry., foreclosed in April last, and acquired in the interest of the Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe.—V. 66, p. 857.

Mergenthaler Linotype Co.—Lanston Monotype Co.—Johnson Typesetter Co.—Thorn Type Machine Co.—Composite Type Bar Co.—Typesetting Machines.—The Philadelphia "Financial News" says:

The great commercial and financial success of the Mergenthaler Linotype machines has resulted in the formation of a number of other companies, all with large capital. We give a list of the various companies:

	Capital.	Issued.	Par.	Price.	Machines in use.	Price.
Mergenthaler Linotype Co.	$10,000,000	$10,000,000	$100	$185	4,200	$3,500
Lanston Monotype Co	10,000,000	2,905,240	20	14	27	3,000
Johnson Typesetter Co	3,000,000	300,000	100	100	2	2,000
Thorn Type Machine Co.	10,000,000	1,000,000	100	....	....	2,000
Composite Type Bar Co	10,000,000	.....	100	....	....	2,500

All of the machines with the exception of the Mergenthaler, use separate type, and all cast their own type with the exception of the Thorn machine, which is owned by the American Type Founders Co., and uses type made by that company.

The Lanston Monotype Co. is controlled by Washington people, but J. P. Morgan & Co. have an interest in it. This company has done but little in the way of manufacturing machines in this country, but a $2,750,000 corporation has been formed in Great Britain, and it has paid the American Co. $600,000 in cash and $400,000 in stock for patent rights in England. Fire destroyed 28 of the machines with the company's main shop early in the year, which put an end to further installations after 27 machines have been put in. The company's last report, dated April 20, 1898, shows total cash resources of $528,612.

The Johnson Co. is owned by New Bedford, Mass., people. With the proceeds from the sale of 3,000 shares of stock it will begin the manufacture of machines. The company has already booked orders for machines in excess of $100,000.

As the Thorn Co. is a close corporation information regarding it is not obtainable.

The Composite Type Bar Co. is a New Jersey corporation. The chief claim of the machine is that it does away with the distribution of type or matrices. Its weight is but 250 pounds and it occupies a floor space of but 2 feet square. It molds type separately and after use fuses the base of the line of loose type after justification into a bar. The company has not begun the delivery of machines as yet. It has an office at No. 1 Madison Avenue, New York, and its officers are John Carnrick, President; Lucien A. Trott, Vice-President, and Arthur C. Schiller, Secretary and Treasurer.—V. 66, p. 1189; V. 67, p. 125.

Minnesota Beet Sugar Manufacturing Co.—New Stock.—The stockholders will vote at St. Louis Park, Minn., Aug. 27, on a proposition to amend the articles of incorporation so as to increase the capital stock from $250,000 to $500,000.

Valentine, Woodbridge, N. J.; Albert Bruns, Bronx Borough, New York; A. L. Sherer, Manhattan Borough, New York.

National Linseed Oil.—Official Circular.—President Euston has issued a circular which says in part:

"There is nothing in the financial condition of the company to justify a receivership, and the board of directors has no intention of permitting a receiver. Eliminating good will, patent rights and all doubtful assets and accounts, the company has good quick assets in excess of all its liabilities except its bonded debt. The value of the real estate of the company is more than $3,000,000 in excess of the mortgage placed thereon. The plants are in perfect order.

"The decline in the price of flaxseed and linseed oil has entailed upon the company an actual loss of $125,000 to $150,000.

"The charge that the company has speculated is not warranted by the facts. The company has never bought in any one year more flaxseed than 75 per cent of its manufacturing capacity. Such purchases are necessary to protect sales of oil made for future delivery. The company has at times made in a month as much as it has now lost, and may do so again. The board of directors are not discouraged as to the future of the property."—V. 67, p. 275.

New Telephone Co.—New Mortgage.—The company has made a mortgage to the Central Trust Co., as trustee, to secure $800,000 gold bonds in two series, the first consisting of $300,000 6 per cent bonds, due in three years; the second series of $500,000 5 per cent bonds, due in twenty years. The second series, it is stated, is to remain in the hands of the trustee until the first series matures, at which time $300,000 of the bonds is to be applied to the payment of the first series, and the remaining $200,000 to be used for extensions and betterments "then and thereafter necessary." The company is an Indiana corporation and enterprise.

Ohio Southern RR.—Sale Postponed.—The foreclosure sale set for to-day has been postponed, on application of the Central Trust Co. as first mortgage trustee, until Sept. 20. The postponement was desired as no reorganization plan had been agreed upon.—V. 67, p. 223.

Oregon RR. & Navigation.—Conversion of First Mortgage Bonds.—Change of Terms Offered.—The conversion of the first mortgage 6s into 4 per cent consolidated mortgage bonds of the Oregon Railroad & Navigation Co., undertaken by Kuhn, Loeb & Co., has reduced the amount of the 6 per cent bonds outstanding to $1,520,000, and the sinking fund will shortly cancel the entire outstanding balance at a price which, under the trust deed, cannot exceed 110 per cent.

The offer is therefore made to holders of the 6 per cent first mortgage bonds to refund said bonds into the 4 per cent gold bonds maturing 1946 upon the basis of $1,150 in 4 per cent bonds for $1,000 in 6 per cent bonds, this offer being subject to withdrawal or modification without notice. Loans and bills payable on June 30, 1898, $879,707, against $782,470 on June 30, 1897. The figures for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1898, are given under annual reports on a preceding page.—V. 67, p. 275.

Union Pacific RR.—Omaha & Republican Valley RR.—Kearney & Black Hills RR.—Foreclosure Sales of Branch Lines.—At Lincoln, Neb., on Aug. 18, the Omaha & Repub. Val. RR., 482 miles, was bid in at the foreclosure sale by the reorganized Union Pacific, the only bidder. Two sales were held, one under the extension mortgage and the second under the first and consolidated mortgages. The first sale brought $20,000 and the second $750,000.

At Kearney, Neb., on the 18th inst., the Kearney & Black Hills road was sold under foreclosure for $150,000 to Vice-President Cornish of the Union Pacific.

The Union Pacific by the acquisition of these roads, together with the Union Pacific, Lincoln & Colorado, the Julesburg branch and several other small branches, adds 900 miles to its system, the cost of which, together with the cost of the control of the Oregon Short Line stock, will be met largely from funds in the Company's treasury. It has not yet been determined whether to issue new fours to meet the balance of the cash requirement, but in that event the issue of bonds would be considerably within $5,000,000. The branch lines, it is said, will earn $600,000 net.

Sale of Collateral Confirmed.—At Boston on Wednesday Judge Lowell, in the United States Circuit Court, confirmed the sale of the securities of the par value of $1,343,000, as described in the Chronicle of July 23 (page 179), to Kuhn, Loeb & Co., for the sum of $409,975.

No Voting Trust.—The reorganization committee at its final meeting Thursday adopted the following resolution:

"Whereas, The reorganization committee of the Union Pacific Railway Company at the outset of its undertaking determined not to include a compulsory voting trust of shareholders as a condition of its plan, but at the close of its labors to create a proxy committee to which shareholders might voluntarily intrust their proxies while satisfied with and desiring to continue the policies and management inaugurated by the committee,

"Resolved, That the reorganization committee of the Union Pacific Railway Company hereby nominates and selects as a proxy committee Messrs. Louis Fitzgerald, Jacob H. Schiff, Winslow S. Pierce, Oliver Ames and E. H. Harriman to permanently represent at annual and other meetings of the shareholders of Union Pacific Railway Company such holders of the common and preferred stock of said company as shall desire to intrust their proxies to said committee for the purpose of maintaining the management and general policies inaugurated by the reorganization committee.—V. 67, p. 319, 222.

Union Traction Company of Anderson, Ind.—This company was newly organized last fall, and at once commenced the construction of the road from Anderson, Ind., north through Alexandria, to the town of Summitville, a distance of 17 miles. This line is now completed, including 3 miles of a cross-town line in the city of Alexandria. At Summitville connection will be made with the Marion City Railway just completed between that place and Marion, a distance of about 18 miles, permitting one to travel by trolley from Anderson north to Marion, Ind., a distance of about 35 miles. The Union Traction Co. is also constructing a road from the city of Alexandria west 9½ miles to the city of Elwood. Of this part of the road the grade is completed with the exception of about one mile. It is arranging to build a power station at Alexandria, which must be done before the road to Elwood can be operated.

The Union Traction Co. has become the owner by purchase and consolidation of the street railway plant in the city of Anderson, formerly owned and operated by the Anderson Electric Street Railway Co. This consolidation was completed July 1st, 1898. The company has outstanding $300,000 of stock, all common, none preferred, and has issued $600,000 of 5 per cent bonds, dated July 1st, 1898, to run 20 years, interest payable quarterly. Both principal and interest payable in gold. $150,000 of these are left in trust with the Farmers' Loan & Trust Co. of New York, trustees, with which to take up $150,000 of bonds outstanding, heretofore issued by the Anderson Electric Street Railway Co. on the city plant at Anderson.

The officers of the new company are: Philip Matter, President; J. A. Van Osdol, Vice-President; Ellis C. Carpenter, Secretary; Jno. L. Forkner, Treasurer: Charles L. Henry, Manager.—V. 67, p. 224.

Virginia-Carolina Chemical Co.—Purchased.—Press reports say the company has purchased the mills of the Southern Fertilizer Co. situated at Atlanta, Savannah, Rome and Oakdale, Ga., for $75,000.

Capital Stock.—An official of the company writes: "The original capital stock of this company was $6,500,000. There has been an authorized increase by the addition of $5,500,000, making a total authorized capitalization to date of $12,000,000. There has been as yet no change in the outstanding issues."—V. 67, p. 128.

This account for 1898 includes the results of the operations of the Memphis Division for four (4) months.

The mileage operated at the close of the year was 5,231·67 miles, as against 4,827·22 miles at the close of the year previous. The increase consists substantially of the mileage of the Memphis Division (331·70 miles, acquired March 1, 1898, and of the Knoxville Cumberland Gap & Louisville Railway (73·11 miles), acquired June 29, 1898.

An analysis of the Earnings and Expenses in detail in comparison with those of substantially the same properties in the previous year will be found in the report of the General Manager, page 375.

The net increase of $250,533 49 in "Interest and Rentals" is explained as follows:

Interest upon securities issued for the purchase of the Memphis & Charleston Railroad, viz.:
Interest for six months ended June 30, 1898, on Memphis Division First Mortgage Bonds at four per cent	$101,660 00
Interest from December 24, 1897, to June 30, 1898, on Certificates of Indebtedness issued in connection with the purchase of the Memphis & Charleston Railroad...	36,600 01
		$138,260 01
Increase in interest upon Southern Railway Consolidated Bonds		62,758 34
Increase in interest upon Southern Railway East Tennessee Reorganization Bonds, due to increase in rate, on March 1, 1898, from four per cent to five per cent...		15,000 00
Increase in interest upon Columbia & Greenville First Mortgage Bonds, due to increase in rate, on January 1, 1898, from five per cent to six per cent		10,000 00
Increase in interest upon Georgia Pacific First Mortgage Bonds, due to increase in rate, on January 1, 1898, from five per cent to six per cent		28,300 00
Increase in rental of Georgia Midland Railway, chargeable for a full year, as against nine months in the year previous		12,375 00
Sundry small increases		1,115 14
Total increases		$267,808 49
Miscellaneous decreases, due to retirement of Richmond & Danville and Georgia Pacific Equipment Sinking Fund Bonds, and reduction in interest on Atlanta & Charlotte First Mortgage Preference Seven Per Cent Bonds, refunded at four per cent on April 1, 1897		17,275 00
Net increase		$250,533 49

The increase of $62,758 34 in interest upon Southern Railway Consolidated Bonds was due:

(a) To the fact that $1,000,000 of bonds which bore interest for only portions of the fiscal year 1897, and $326,000 of bonds which were outstanding on June 30, 1897, but bore no interest during that year, bore interest for the entire year 1898, involving an increase of...	$37,758 34
(b) To the sale during the year of $1,000,000 of Bonds, bearing interest from January 1, 1898, six months	25,000 00

The maximum fixed charges as provided in the plan of reorganization were reached during the year.

Consolidated bonds reserved in the hands of the Trustee for future improvements amounted, at the close of the year, to $14,900,000, issuable only for expenditures for new and additional property, under the limitations specified in the mortgage, and at a rate not exceeding $2,000,000 in any one calendar year.

No bonds were withdrawn from the trustee, under this provision of the mortgage, during the calendar year 1897. $1,000,000 have been withdrawn during the year 1898, as stated below. It is not proposed to make further withdrawals this year.

Purchase of Memphis & Charleston Railroad.

The Company purchased during the year, through the Reorganization Committee of which Mr. Adrian Iselin, Jr., was Chairman, the property and franchises of the Memphis & Charleston Railroad Company.

The purchase was made under an agreement between the Committee and the Southern Railway Company, dated February 18, 1898, the Company issuing, for account of the purchase, its obligations, secured by liens upon the Memphis & Charleston property, and Preferred Stock, as follows:

Southern Railway Company, Memphis Division, First Mortgage Bonds, bearing interest at 4 per cent per annum until July 1, 1901, then at 4½ per cent until July 1, 1906, and at 5 per cent thereafter	$5,033,000 00
Southern Railway Company, Memphis Division, Second Mortgage Bonds, bearing interest at 5 per cent per annum	1,500,000 00
Southern Railway Preferred Stock	2,990,400 00

The total authorized issue of Memphis Division First Mortgage Bonds is $8,000,000, $1,417,000 of which are reserved for future improvements upon the Memphis Division, to be issued at a rate not exceeding $100,000 per annum, and $1,500,000 additional are reserved solely for the construction, if determined upon, of a line of railway between Stevenson and Chattanooga. If not used for this purpose the $1,500,000 of bonds can not be issued.

The total authorized issue of Memphis Division Second Mortgage Bonds is $2,500,000. $1,000,000 being reserved for improvements or for the purchase of additional property.

The $1,500,000 of Second Mortgage Bonds have not been sold, and, pending their sale, your company has issued $1,200,000 of Certificates of indebtedness. These certificates are payable in semi-annual instalments of $200,000 during three years, and are secured by a pledge of the $1,500,000 Second Mortgage Bonds. $200,000 of the Certificates of Indebtedness were paid on June 1, 1898. When all of them are paid the $1,500,000 Second Mortgage Bonds will be an asset in the treasury of your Company to be disposed of as circumstances may render it expedient.

The Memphis & Charleston Railroad property was delivered to the Southern Railway Company, under order of Court, on March 1, 1898, and has since that date been operated as the Memphis Division of this Company, the four months' earnings and expenses and six months' interest on the bonds and the certificates of indebtedness issued for the purchase being included in the Income Account, as above stated. The interest on these securities accruing prior to March 1 was received in cash from the Receivers of the Memphis & Charleston Railroad Company, and has been credited in Income Account accordingly.

The earnings and expenses of the Memphis & Charleston Railroad for the year ended June 30, 1898, including the results of operation by the Receivers for eight months, and by the Southern Railway Company for four months were:

Gross Earnings	$1,552,500 52
Operating Expenses (including taxes and trackage rental paid the N. C. & St. L. Ry. Co.)	1,149,853 11
Net Earnings	$402,647 41

The annual interest charges (until July 1, 1901) on account of this property will be:

4 Per Cent on $5,033,000 1st Mortgage Bonds	$203,320
5 Per Cent on $1,500,000 Second Mortgage Bonds (now owned by the Southern Ry Co.)	75,000
Total	$278,320 00
These charges will increase in 1901	$25,415 00

Virginia Midland Consolidation.

The property and franchises of the Virginia Midland Railway Company—heretofore leased and further controlled by the ownership of substantially all of its capital stock—have been conveyed to the Southern Railway Company by deed dated June 21, 1898.

The Consolidated Mortgage of the Southern Railway Company has thus become a direct lien upon the Virginia Midland property (subject to the existing Virginia Midland mortgages), whereas it has heretofore been a lien only upon the Virginia Midland stock and upon the leasehold interest in the property.

The Income Account of the Virginia Midland has heretofore been included in that of the Southern, so that the consolidation involves no change in the operated mileage or fixed charges of the system.

Knoxville Cumberland Gap & Louisville Consolidation:

The final payment for the purchase of the securities of the Knoxville Cumberland Gap & Louisville Railway Co. was made on April 1, 1898.

As all of the securities thus became the property of the Southern Railway Co., there was no reason for maintaining a separate organization for the K. C. G. & L. Co. A merger was therefore effected on June 29, 1898, and the road is now a part of the Southern Railway Company's property.

The total cost of the property (exclusive of interest which was charged to "Income Account" or "Profit and Loss") was $955,153 63.

Lease of Carolina & Cumberland Gap Railway:

This line, about 24½ miles in length, from Edgefield to Aiken, S. C., has been leased by the Southern Railway Company for thirty-seven years, effective July 1, 1898, at a rental of $6,250 per annum.

This affords the Company an entrance into Aiken, S. C., a winter resort of importance.

North Carolina Midland Railroad:

For reasons stated in the last annual report, it was decided by the Board of Directors to secure the construction of a line of railroad between Mocksville and Mooresville, N. C., a distance of nearly thirty miles. This construction was substantially complete at the close of the year. The Southern Railway Company owns a controlling interest in the stock and all of the bonds of the North Carolina Midland Railroad Co., which Company constructed and owns the line.

North Carolina Lease:

The injunction against the State authorities of North Carolina and the North Carolina Railroad Company referred to in the last Annual Report, restraining them from disturbing the lease of the North Carolina Railroad to this Company, was made permanent by the Circuit Court for the Western District of North Carolina on April 13, 1898.

This closes the litigation into which the Company was forced, in order to protect its rights under the lease. Every point in the case was decided in favor of the Company, and the charge of fraud in the making of the lease broke down completely in court. The case cannot now be appealed, and the position of the Company in respect to the lease has thus been further strengthened by a final decree of court.

New Industries:

During the year over 200 new manufacturing establishments of various kinds were wholly or partially constructed at points upon the Company's lines.

The aggregate cost of these plants, together with the cost of additions to existing plants made or begun during the year, is estimated to be over $4,000,000.

These new plants include thirteen cotton mills, which, together with additions during the year to previously existing mills, will contain about 253,000 spindles and about 2,200 looms.

There have been constructed during the year by the Company over twelve miles of additional side-tracks to new industries whose business is, or will be, tributary to the Company's lines.

These improvements indicate a steady and substantial growth of manufacturing industries in the South.

The traffic upon the Company's lines was somewhat affected at all points, and was practically stopped on certain portions in Alabama and Mississippi by the presence of yellow fever in the autumn and early winter of 1897.

Pursuant to the policy adopted in 1897, the accounts of the Company have been examined by certified public accountants, and the certificate of Messrs. Patterson & Corwin, as the result of the examination, is attached to this report.

Especial attention is directed to the General Manager's report for statistics, details of earnings and expenses, materials used, betterments made and economies accomplished in the operation of the property.

The acknowledgments of the Board are due to all officers and employees, for the faithful and efficient discharge of their duties during the year.

Respectfully submitted, by order of the Board.

SAMUEL SPENCER,
President.

ACCOUNTANTS' CERTIFICATE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15, 1898.

To the Bondholders and Stockholders of the Southern Railway Company:

We have critically examined the books and accounts of your Company, and hereby certify that the statements of income and profit and loss accounts for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1898, published herewith, agree with the books, and are correct.

We further certify that the condensed balance sheet, published herewith, correctly sets forth the financial condition of the Company as of the date June 30, 1898.

In the course of our investigation we examined the records of the departments of traffic receipts and disbursements to prove the entries of revenue and expenses on the general books, and verified the asset and liability balances by examination of the various auxiliary books and records, and by certificates of proper parties where necessary.

All important items and entries received careful attention, and were tested and proved by tracing to original authorized sources. All charges against plant, construction and equipment accounts were especially and critically investigated and found to be correct.

The cash balances were verified by comparison with the pass-books, statements or receipts of the various banks and other custodians, aud by actual count of the cash in the Treasurer's office.

The securities and bills receivable owned by the Company and held in the treaury, or deposited in trust, were also located and verlfied.

PATTERSON & CORWIN,
Certified Public Accountants.

—We are in receipt of the Western Union Telegraphic Code, compiled and published by the International Cable Directory Company, 30 Broad Street, New York. The Code words were taken from the official vocabulary, adopted by the International Bureau at Berne, Switzerland, in obedience to the instructions of the International Telegraphic Convention, and number nearly 150,000 carefully selected words by expert telegraphers in order to avoid errors in the transmission of messages. The volume also contains a Directory giving the names, street address, line of business and cable addresses of prominent firms and individuals throughout the United States and Canada. Heretofore Codes have commanded very high prices, but the new Western Union Telegraphic Code is offered for $5 per copy.

—The card of Andrew McKinney & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange, will be found on our first page. A general Stock Exchange business is transacted. A special list of investment securities will be mailed on request.

—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Minneapolis & St. L. RR. Co. will be held in the city of Minneapolis on Tuesday, Oct. 4. The books will be closed from Sept. 3 to Oct. 5.

The Commercial Times.

FRIDAY NIGHT, Aug. 19, 1898.

Now that hostilities have ceased and continued peace is reasonably assured, the general feeling of confidence over the favorable prospects for business activity which has been prevalent for some time past is becoming more pronounced, and has been reflected the present week in the activity and buoyancy shown by the financial markets. With the opening of Cuban ports, the buying of breadstuffs in the local market for shipment to Cuba has been a feature of the week's business. At the close, however, a report that maximum imports duties were to be enforced had a tendency to hold buyers in check. Crop accounts have continued of a generally favorable nature and values for cotton have declined sharply in anticipation of another large yield.

Lard on the spot has been in moderate demand for export to Cuba, but from other sources there has been only a small call for supplies, and prices have declined under fairly free offerings, closing at 5·55c. for prime Western and 5c. for prime City. Refined lard has been in slow demand and easier, closing at 5·80c. for refined for the Continent. Speculation in the market for contracts has been moderately active but at lower prices under increased pressure to sell, prompted by full receipts of hogs and in sympathy with a decline in corn.

Cut meats have been in fair demand for shipment to Cuba and at steady values, closing at 6¼@6¾c. for pickled bellies, 12@10 lbs. average, 7¼@7¾c. for pickled hams and 4@4½c. for pickled shoulders. Beef has had only a limited sale, closing at $9@10 for packet, $10@11 for family and $14@15 for extra India mess. Beef hams have been steady at $22. Tallow has advanced slightly, closing steady at 3⅜c. Oleostearine has been quiet at 4⅞@5c. Lard stearine has been steady at 6¼@6½c. Cotton seed oil has been dull at 23½@24c. for prime yellow. Butter has been quiet but steady at 14½@19c. for creamery. Cheese has been in moderate demand and steady at 6¼@8c. for State factory, full cream. Fresh eggs have been steady at 14½c. for choice Western.

Brazil grades of coffee have had only a moderate distributing sale, but values have been well maintained. The market for invoices has been quiet but steady, with No. 7 on the spot quoted unchanged at 6¼c. Mild grades have been in fair demand and firm for desirable grades, closing at 9¼@9½c. for good Cucuta. East India growths have been quiet but steady at 24¾@25c. for standard Java. Speculation in the market for contracts has been quiet, but owing to the moderate movement of the crop values have held to a fairly steady basis. Following are final asking prices:

Kentucky tobacco has been in small supply and firmly held. Seed leaf tobacco has been quiet but steady. Sales for the week were 1,350 cases, as follows: 300 cases 1897 crop New England Havana, 7½@9c.; 200 cases 1895 crop Pennsylvania seed, 13½c.; 250 cases 1896 crop New England Havana, 27@30c.; 100 cases 1896 crop New England seed, 28@37c.; 50 cases 1895 crop Dutch, p. t.; 200 cases 1896 crop Wisconsin Havana, 11½@12½c.; 100 cases 1897 crop Wisconsin Havana, 5@8c.; and 150 cases 1895 crop Zimmers, 18@20c.; also 250 bales Havana, at 80c.@$1 05 in bond, and 100 bales Sumatra, at 85c.@$1 75 in bond.

Speculation in cotton for future delivery has been moderately active, but it has been at decidedly lower prices, due to free selling by tired longs to liquidate their accounts, prompted by the improved weather conditions at the South for the growing crop, weak and lower foreign markets, the result of large estimates for the coming crop, and the fact that there has been an absence of force to the buying power, the demand coming almost exclusively from shorts to cover contracts and from exporters who bought against sales, principally to the Continent. Saturday prices declined 5 to 7 points in response to weaker foreign advices and under longs selling. Monday there was a weak and lower market, prices declining 9 to 11 points under continued pressure to sell by tired longs induced by the improved weather conditions at the South for the growing crop. Tuesday prices weakened slightly during early 'Change in response to easier foreign advices and the more favorable weather. Subsequently, however, the receipt of the weekly Government report, which stated that the crop had suffered injury from the recent excessive rainfall, stimulated some buying, and prices advanced, closing 2 to 3 points higher for the day. Wednesday the market was again lower, prices declining 10@11 points under selling for both local and foreign account, prompted by large crop estimates and the absence of force to the buying power despite the fact that prices ruling were close to the low record of values made for the crop of 1897-98. Thursday there was a steadier market as the pressure to sell from tired holders appeared to be over, and there was some buying by shorts to cover contracts, closing with prices 1 to 3 points higher for the day. To-day the market was unsettled. At the opening prices showed an advance on a demand from shorts to cover contracts, and in response to steadier foreign advices; then came a reaction under increased pressure to sell, but toward the close the market again turned firmer on renewed buying by shorts to cover contracts over the holiday, the Exchange having decided to adjourn business from Friday night until Monday morning. The close showed prices 1 to 2 points higher for the day. The spot market was moderately active; prices declined 1/16c. on Wednesday, closing steady at 5 7/16c. for middling uplands.

On the basis of the rates on and off middling as established by the Revision Committee, the prices for a few of the grades would be as follows:

RECEIPTS FROM THE PLANTATIONS.—The following table indicates the actual movement each week from the plantations. WEATHER REPORTS BY TELEGRAPH.—Our telegraphic advices from the South this evening denote that while there has been little or no rain in the Southwest the past week that in some sections along the Atlantic the precipitation has been heavy and there are complaints of too much rain. Along the Gulf the weather has been more favorable than last week. Reports from Texas indicate that boll worms, weevil and other insects have done damage in a few districts, but that the present outlook is for a large crop. Picking is general in South Texas.

Galveston, Texas.—Early predictions that the cotton crop would be a late one are being verified. The June and July rain caused too rapid growth of plant at the expense of fruit, and while the plant is vigorous the bolls are not well developed. There continues to be reports from many sections of damage by boll worms, weevil and other insects. Picking is general over the southern part of the State. In spite of drawbacks a large yield is looked for unless some accident happens. There have been showers on three days of the week, the rainfall reaching ten hundredths of an inch. Rain is needed. Average thermometer 84, highest 90, lowest 78.

Columbia, Texas.—We have had rain on one day during the week, the precipitation reaching twenty-one hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 81, the highest being 90 and the lowest 71.

Huntsville, Texas.—There has been no rain all the week. The thermometer has averaged 83, ranging from 71 to 95.

Dallas, Texas.—Dry all the week. Rain is badly needed in this vicinity. The thermometer has ranged from 61 to 98, averaging 80.

Luling, Texas.—We have had rain on one day of the week, the rainfall being two hundredths of an inch. Rain is badly needed. The thermometer has averaged 83, the highest being 98 and the lowest 67.

Corpus Christi, Texas.—The weather has been dry all the week. The thermometer has averaged 80, ranging from 72 to 88.

Cuero, Texas.—We have had rain on three days during the week, to the extent of five hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has ranged from 71 to 96, averaging 84.

Brenham, Texas.—There has been no rain the past week. Average thermometer 83, highest 94, lowest 71.

Palestine, Texas.—There has been no rain during the week. The thermometer has averaged 83, the highest being 96 and the lowest 70.

Weatherford, Texas.—The weather has been dry all the past week. The thermometer has ranged from 64 to 98, averaging 81.

Columbus, Mississippi.—The weather has been dry all the week. The thermometer has averaged 82, ranging from 70 to 98.

Helena, Arkansas.—Crops are in good condition and cotton is opening rapidly. There has been no rain here during the week, but showers have fallen in the neighborhood. The thermometer has averaged 75·4, ranging from 63 to 88.

Little Rock, Arkansas.—There has been no rain during the week. The thermometer has averaged 80, the highest being 94 and the lowest 68.

Nashville, Tennessee.—Rain has fallen during the week to an inappreciable extent. The thermometer has ranged from 63 to 85, averaging 74.

Memphis, Tennessee.—We have had dry, hot and favorable growing weather all the week. Two bales of new cotton were received on Wednesday. Average thermometer 80·3, highest 92·6 and lowest 67·5.

Mobile, Alabama.—Crop reports are conflicting. Many sections claim serious injury from rust, rot and shedding. There has been rain on four days of the week, to the extent of forty-three hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 80, the highest being 91 and the lowest 71.

Montgomery, Alabama.—Crops on uplands have improved somewhat, and on lowlands are recuperating. It has rained lightly on four days of the week, the precipitation reaching forty-eight hundredths of an inch. New cotton is coming in, but the crop is late. The thermometer has averaged 80, ranging from 71 to 90.

Selma, Alabama.—Shedding continues, and the outlook is less flattering. There has been rain on four days of the week, the precipitation reaching one inch and sixteen hundredths. The thermometer has ranged from 69 to 95, averaging 83.

Madison, Florida.—There has been rain on three days of the week, the rainfall reaching ninety hundredths of an inch. Rain is needed. Average thermometer 84, highest 93, lowest 73.

The amendment, is therefore now a part of the by-law defining causes for suspension or expulsion from the Exchange.

JUTE BUTTS, BAGGING, &c.—The demand for jute bagging has been moderately good during the week under review. Quotations this evening are 6⅛c. for 1¾ lbs. and 6¼c. for 2 lbs. of standard grades. Car-load lots of standard brands are quoted at 6c. for 1¾ lbs. and 6¼c. for 2 lbs., f. o. b. at New York. The market for jute butts has been quiet. GOVERNMENT WEEKLY COTTON REPORT.—Mr. W. L. Moore, Chief of the Weather Bureau of the Agricultural Department, made public on Tuesday the following telegraphic reports on the crop in the Southern States for the week ending Aug. 15:

VIRGINIA.—Week generally too wet for work.

NORTH CAROLINA.—Damp rainy weather, cotton improved locally but generally below average, more rust and shedding but blooming freely, promises good top crop, some bolls open.

SOUTH CAROLINA.—Too much rain and cloudiness for cotton, which is deteriorating, owing to rust and excessive shedding, bolls beginning to open in southern counties and picking will soon begin.

GEORGIA.—All crops need dry weather; cotton continues to "weed" and shed rapidly, rust is spreading, and some bolls are rotting.

FLORIDA.—Excessive rains in some sections caused serious damage to cotton, and will materially effect the yield if unfavorable conditions continue; picking quite active on uplands.

ALABAMA.—Cool and wet except last three days, favorable; at Marion, on 10th, nearly 10 inches rain fell in ten hours and damaged crops locally; rank growth, rust, rot, shedding and worms seriously damaging cotton; picking just started, though several "first bales" marketed.

MISSISSIPPI.—Heavy rainfall first of week injurious, but dry latter portion and favorable; cotton injured by heavy rains, shedding, rust, worms, grass and overgrowth; some favorable reports, but in the minority.

LOUISIANA.—Cool and showery first half of week, followed by normal temperature and sunshine; unfavorable week for cottou, complaints of shedding, rust and grassy fields being numerous and boll-worms inflicting damage in north sections.

TEXAS.—Warm, dry week, except over south-east portion where good rains fell; cotton has deteriorated as a result of dry weather over northern and western portions, and complaints of boll worm and caterpillar come from many parts of the State, in addition to which the Mexican boll weevil is damaging the crop in the southern portion; nevertheless cotton is doing well in some sections; picking is becoming general over southern portion and has commenced over central portions.

ARKANSAS.—Cotton still presents fine prospects generally but some complaints of rust and boll worms and too much rain.

TENNESSEE.—Excessive rains 8th and 9th damaged lowland crops; cotton has abnormal stalk growth and insufficient fruitage.

OKLAHOMA.—Cotton doing well, bolls beginning to open.

MISSOURI.—Cotton in good condition.

These reports on cotton are summarized by the Department as follows:

Cotton has suffered injury from continuous excessive rains and lack of sunshine over the greater part of the central and eastern districts of the cotton belt, in which sections too rank growth, rust, and injury from insects are extensively reported. In Missouri, Arkansas and Oklahoma the crop is doing well, and some favorable reports are received from North Carolina and Mississippi. In northern and western Texas cotton has deteriorated as a result of dry weather, and while insects are proving injurious over many parts of the State, the crop is doing well in some sections.

FLORIDA SEA ISLAND FIRST BALE.—The first bale of Sea Island cotton of the crop of 1898-99 raised in Florida arrived at Savannah, Ga., on Aug. 10. Last year the first bale arrived at Savannah on Aug. 19; in 1893 the earliest arrival was on Aug. 4 and in 1895 on Aug. 23.

NEW ENGLAND COTTON MILL SITUATION.—The Fall River Cotton Manufacturers' Association at a meeting held Aug. 15 discussed a new curtailment plan and it was agreed to close one month before Nov. 1 if 1,500,000 Fall River spindles will join. Signatures must be in by Saturday morning, Aug. 20.

BREADSTUFFS.

FRIDAY, Aug. 19, 1898.

A moderate volume of business has been transacted in the market for wheat flour, the increased demand coming from shippers for supplies for the West Indies now that the ex-Spanish Islands ports are again open to commerce. From other scources, however, demand has continued slow, purchases made having been almost exclusively of a hand to-mouth character, and prices have favored buyers, reflecting a decline in the prices for the grain. Rye flour has had a moderate sale but at easier prices. Corn meal has been in only limited demand, but offerings have been small owing to light stocks in sellers' hands and values have held steady.

Speculation in the market for wheat has been quiet, and the tendency of prices has been towards a lower basis, under generally favorable crop prospects here and in Europe, and an increasing movement of the crop in the Northwest. Despite the lower prices, exporters have been only limited buyers in the cash market. Saturday prices declined 5/8@1c., under limited selling prompted by weaker foreign advices, and the failure of predicted frosts in the Northwest to materialize. Monday the market was again lower, prices declining 1/4@1c. under moderately free offerings, induced by weaker foreign advices, favorable crop prospects, increased crop movement in the Northwest and indications of a further increase in the movement. Tuesday there was a steadier market and prices advanced 1/8@1/4c. on a demand from shorts to cover contracts. Wednesday the market was again easier, prices showing a decline of 3/8@5/8c., due to disappointing foreign advices and an increasing movement of the crop. Thursday there was an upward turn to prices, in response to stronger advices from the interior, a good demand being reported for cash wheat at large premiums, and on less favorable crop accounts from France, closing 3/8@1c. higher for the day. To day there was an easier market, under selling by the Northwest in anticipation of a free crop movement, closing at a decline of 1/4@1 1/4c. for the day. The spot market was moderately active. Sales for export here and at outports were 175,000 bushels, principally No. 2 red winter and No. 2 hard winter.

The speculative dealings in the market for Indian corn futures have been moderately active, but they have been at lower prices, values breaking rather sharply on Wednesday under considerable pressure to sell by longs, prompted by the improved prospects for the growing crop resulting from the favorable weather conditions latterly experienced, prices for the day showing a loss of 1½c. Thursday prices were lower during early 'Change on continued selling by longs. Subsequently, however, renewed buying for investment account turned the market stronger and the loss was recovered. At the lower prices there was a fair export business. To-day the market was easier under general selling, induced by continued favorable weather conditions for the crop, closing at a decline of 5/8@3/4c. for the day. The spot market was active. The sales for export here and at outports were 750,000 bushels.

Oats for future delivery have been quiet, but prices have gradually weakened in sympathy with the decline in other grains, and in response to weaker advices from the West, where elevator people have been reported as fairly free sellers. At the lower prices, however, there has been increased buying for investment account. To-day the market was quiet but steady. The spot market was steady. Sales for export were 20,000 bushels.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, P. M., Aug. 19, 1898.

The general business in dry goods has shown further expansion in volume this week, with the healthy feature that it has come from the increase in buying to meet immediate requirements rather than from any development of a speculative character. There can be no question about the distribution from second hands being excellent in the aggregate or that with it frequent recourse to the primary market has been necessary. The style of business now in progress is not altogether satisfactory to agents with large selling connections, and complaints are heard from them over the absence of transactions of considerable volume, but they still refrain from undue efforts to force supplies to sale by concessions in price. The market for raw cotton is a "bear" factor in the situation so far as forward business is concerned, the majority of buyers evidently counting upon it as an aid to lower purchases later on. The print cloth situation is uncertain. Another effort is being made to bring about curtailment of production, but latest advices are hardly favorable to its success. The woolen goods division is still disappointing in results, and has been unsettled by the announcement of an auction sale to be held Wednesday next of 75,000 pieces dress goods.

WOOLEN GOODS.—There has been a good attendance of buyers in the market this week, but their operations outside of a few lines have been purely of a sample-piece character, and the aggregate business secured in new woolens and worsteds for spring for men's wear has been unsatisfactory. Compared with a year ago the season is decidedly backward. An occasional advance of 5c. has been reported in medium grades of Cassimeres, which have secured the best of buyers' attention, but in other descriptions of both plain and fancy woolens and worsteds the market is not any more than steady. The reorder business in heavy-weights also has been quieter than expected. Cotton-warp and cotton mixed goods have not sold any better than pure wool or worsted fabrics. Overcoatings and cloakings are quiet without special feature. Dress goods close unsettled with the demand checked by the impending auction sale of 75,000 pieces of the Arlington Mills' fabrics.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of cotton goods from this port for the week ending August 15 were 9,243 packages, valued at $313,724, their destination being to the points specified in the tables below:

* From New England mill points direct.

The value of the New York exports for the year to date has been $7,770,413 in 1898 against $7,236,226 in 1897.

Sales of brown sheetings and drills have been more general, but there is still an absence of large transactions. Stocks do not appear to accumulate, however, and in all leading makes prices are maintained. Some jobbers have broken the price of leading makes of bleached cottons, but agents make no change in quotations and have sold more goods this week than for some time past. Wide sheetings and cotton flannels and blankets all quiet. Prices maintained. Denims inactive and easy. Ticks irregular in high grades; low qualities steady. Other coarse, colored cottons in quiet demand at previous prices. Kid-finished cambrics tend in favor of buyers. The demand for dark fancy prints is well sustained and all lines are in good shape. Other prints are in average request without change in price. Staple and dark dress-style ginghams well sold, and reorder business fair at steady prices. Demand for new spring lines promising well. Print cloths have sold to a fair extent on the basis of 2c. for extras.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—There has been more general business doing for fall than of late. Better grades of foreign dress goods in fancies in improved demand. Silks firm and more doing. Linens also show fuller sales. Ribbons, laces, hosiery and underwear generally quiet. Men's-wear woolens inactive.

Boston, Mass.—Tax Rate for 1898.—On August 17, 1898, the Board of Principal Assessors fixed the city tax rate for 1898-99 at $13 60, an increase of 60 cents per $1,000 over the rate of last year. The total valuation of taxable property is $1,036,063,094, of which $830,194,900 is real and $205,868,194 is personal. The increase in real this year is $26,334,350. There is a net decrease in personal of $2,853 465.

California.—Amendments to the State Constitution.—Hon. James H. Budd, Governor, has issued a proclamation designating November 8, 1898, for the citizens of this State to vote on the following amendments to the Constitution of the State of California:

Amendment Number One, being Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 41 (exempting certain claims against the city and county of San Francisco, and the existing indebtedness of the city of Vallejo for the construction of its waterworks, from the provisions of the Constitution requiring such claims to be paid from the income and revenues of the year in which they were incurred).
Amendment Number Two, being Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 10 (providing for framing local county government acts by inhabitants of counties for their government).
Amendment Number Three, being Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 44 (providing for the creation of a Court of Claims to determine claims against the State, and to consist of three Superior Judges, designated by the Governor, to serve without extra compensation).
Amendment Number Four, being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 37 (exempting consolidated cities and counties, organized or to be organized, or holding a charter under the Constitution, from certain legislation in relation to counties).
Amendment Number Five, being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 36 (relating to office of Governor, providing for succession thereto in certain cases and removing disability of Lieutenant-Governor from holding other office during term).
Amendment Number Six, being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 38 (relating to and defining grammar schools).
Amendment Number Seven, being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 34 (providing for adjournment of Legislature for not less than thirty nor more than sixty days during each session).

Elyria, Ohio.—Bond Litigation.—According to the Cleveland "Leader" on August 17, 1898, a petition was filed in the Common Pleas Court, to enjoin the issuing of $150,000 water works bonds, bids for which are asked until August 24, 1898.

Lancaster, Pa.—Re hearing of Bond Case.—We are advised that the Supreme Court differed recently in the suit to restrain the city officials from issuing $42,000 bonds for the repair of a broken reservoir. The Court has ordered another argument, which will be held at Pittsburg on the second Monday of October.

New York City.—Outlying Bonds Declared Legal.—On August 13, 1898, the Corporation Counsel sent to the Comptroller an additional list of bonds which have been approved by special counsel. Securities approved are as follows:

Town of Jamaica, $450,000 road bonds, dated April 1, 1897.
Village of Far Rockaway, $75,000 sewer bonds, dated February 1, 1898.
Town of Westfield, $35,000 4% road bonds, dated Nov. 27, 1895.
Town of Newtown, Union Free School District No. 2, $15,000 bonds, dated July 1, 1897.

We are advised that some doubt was raised as to the legality of the Jamaica town bonds, for the reason that the Town Supervisor failed to give a bond for the proper discharge of his duties in collecting and disbursing the money. He unquestionably did, however, collect the money and properly accounted for it all. It was concluded that the defect was not a condition precedent to the validity of the bonds or a jurisdictional defect, and, furthermore, that the city of New York would be estopped from denying the validity by the recitals in the bonds that all legal formalities had been complied with, at least after the bonds were in the hands of a bona fide holder for value.

Tax Rate for 1898.—The Finance Committee on August 16, 1898, reported to the Board of Aldermen an ordinance providing for the tax rate of 1898. The rate was fixed at $20 10 per $1,000, and the amount to be raised $47,856,863 13, including $954,119 97 for deficiencies.

St. Louis County (P. O. Duluth), Minn.—Bonds Valid.—On August 4, 1898, Judge Moer handed down a decision in favor of the county in the case brought by the county to enforce the payment of real estate taxes delinquent last January. Among the questions involved was the claim on the part of the defendants that that part of last year's tax levied to pay interest on the Miller trunk road bonds was invalid because the bonds were not floated at par. Judge Moer found that the bonds were sold at par, though for getting rid of $140,000 in bonds the county paid E. H. Gay & Co. $14,000 for their trouble.

Columbus, Miss.—Proposed Refunding Bond Issue.—In 1882 the city issued $100,000 6% 20-year railroad-aid bonds. The legality of these bonds was subsequently questioned, but the courts determined that they were a valid obligation. Under the law authorizing the bonds, the city should have established a sinking fund in 1892, but the administration at that time and each succeeding administration, according to the Columbus "Dispatch," ignored the law. Col. Humphries, the present Mayor, it is stated, is now negotiating with Eastern capitalists with a view to refunding the bonds at 4% interest.

Graham County, Kan.—Bond Issue.—We take the following dispatch from Topeka from the Kansas City "Star" of August 9, 1898: "The Graham County bonds which have caused so much trouble for the Commissioners of the Permanent School Fund have at last found a resting place unless something unexpected happens. The Commissioners bought them once for face value, but Treasurer Heflebower refused to pay for them and the Supreme Court in refusing a writ of mandamus against him said 'Uncle Dave' was right. A few weeks later the Commissioners agreed to pay 87 cents on the dollar for them, but Heflebower stopped the sale and another appeal was made to the Supreme Court. The second case has not been disposed of. A few days ago one of the banks of Graham County wrote John W. Breidenthal that it had money to lend that nobody who could give good security seemed to want. Breidenthal suggested that the bank buy county bonds. The bank has taken steps toward buying the disputed bonds. They have a face value of $10,000." See CHRONICLE, January 8, 1898.

The Certificates (or Trust Receipts representing them) should be promptly deposited with BROWN BROTHERS & COMPANY, 59 WALL STREET, New York City, so that arrangements may be made in time to submit a proposition to the next Legislature.

If said plan be recommended by the Board it shall be published and submitted to the depositing creditors for thirty days. If said plan be accepted by holders of a majority in value of the deposited certificates, it shall be binding on all, and shall be presented to the Legislature to be carried into effect by appropriate legislation.

2d. The bonds, when received in settlement, shall be assessed by the Committee to pay the cost of settlement, but such assessment shall not exceed five per cent in cash on par of the Certificates originally deposited with the Committee.

The full details of clearings for the week covered by the above statement will be given next Saturday. We cannot, of course, furnish them to-day, bank clearings being made up by the various clearing houses at noon on Saturday, and hence in the above the last twenty-four hours of the week have to be in all cases estimated, as we go to press Friday night.

We present below our usual detailed figures for the previous week, covering the returns for the period ending with Saturday noon, Aug. 20, and the results for the corresponding week in 1897, 1896 and 1895 are also given. In comparison with the preceding week, there is an increase in the aggregate exchanges of seventy-seven million dollars but at New York alone the gain is nearly sixty-five millions. Contrasted with the week of 1897 the total for the whole country shows an addition of 21·3 per cent. Compared with the week of 1896 the current returns record a gain of 63·3 per cent, and the excess over 1895 is 46·2 per cent. Outside of New York the gain over 1897 is 8·9 per cent. The excess over 1896 reaches 29·6 per cent, and making comparison with 1895 the gain is seen to be 19·0 per cent.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

August has furnished this year its usual assortment of crop trials. Starting with a very promising situation everywhere, drought and rains, and even frost, if we are to believe all the reports, are chargeable with having done quite serious harm in many sections. Very likely the month's reports of condition as given out by the various authorities will show depreciation. That is the ordinary outcome. But it should be remembered that we never fail to have rain, generally have drought, and not infrequently we have our first frost in some sections of the country, in August. These ills are almost always a part of the incidents of the month, and we notice likewise that they are invariably attendant upon a season when stock values are rising. The two may or may not have any connection with one another; but it is a wise rule for the investor not to place unqualified dependence upon the reports of damage received this month.

The legal battle which has been in progress the current week over the recent award of a little more than 12 million dollars of the city bonds has brought up anew the question of giving bond sales a more democratic, or as it is called "popular," character. What is urged on the present occasion is not an arrangement after the fashion of the recent Government issue; that was an exceptional transaction, never likely to be imitated by any city or State. The "popular" feature in the case consisted in selling the bonds below their market value and so donating to the subscribers the several millions of difference between the upset price and the actual value. Such liberality on the part of the legislator is only feasible where the taxation that results is indirect and so not felt by his constituency. The idea now advanced contemplates the adoption of some plan for bond offerings that will enable the moderate capitalist to secure a moderate amount of bonds at any given sale, even though his richer neighbor who can command millions to secure the whole issue may put in a bid that is more favorable to the city than any aggregate of the smaller bids. Of course, among moneyed men the large majority must be classed with those having moderate means, and as this system would likewise take care of the "under dog," to adopt it would be, it is claimed, democratic, or "popular."

It will be observed, however, that this demand relates by no means to a matter at variance between the rich and the poor. The really poor can be in no wise interested in the success of the proposal, and hence the complaint made and aim sought must fail to arouse sympathy among the charitably disposed anywhere. It is a contest wholly confined to the already rich and to those more moderately circumstanced; it is pressed by the latter, who, having already gotten above their poorer neighbors, desire to gain other advantages that they may rise higher and become richer. The only concern the very poor and the thrifty poor (many of the latter most likely possess the fee to a little home) have in the bond business is that the Government, or city or village, should get its money at the lowest possible rate; in that result they have a deep concern, for their largest comfort lies in keeping the taxes as small as the circumstances will allow. Neither can any feeling of hostility to capital or to the large capitalist, so often expressed by populists, have any part or influence in a contest between money kings and would-be money kings. The ruling principle heretofore has been to accept the bid that promised to secure the money asked for at an average rate which would prove most to the advantage of the city. That object, honestly pursued, forecloses discriminations of every kind either in favor of the rich or the less rich. Under its operation a free field opened for competition to the capital of the world, the bonds going to the highest bidder or bidders, has come to be the required condition and upshot of every satisfactory arrangement.

Now it seems that this method, notwithstanding its benefits to the city, is objected to because it gives to the rich an advantage over the man of moderate means. Very likely it does, but in no other way than it gives to the man of moderate means an advantage over his neighbor less favored in the matter of wealth. This is one of the inequalities existing in the world—one which we could not do away with if we would, and would not if we could. We can think of no world less attractive to live in than one where every man had equal endowments, every individual possessed exactly ten talents, and where no one knew more or had more than every other man. But, says the critic, even granting this to be so, is it not just that we with our one hundred thousand dollars should buy our bonds as cheap as the more fortunately situated man who is able to command millions? Why, for instance, should not we, moderate capitalists, secure the one, two, or larger or smaller per cent advance realized by the purchaser after the loan has been awarded as well as the firm or man who is able to take the whole issue? Those questions admit of an easy answer. Compressed into the briefest form, it is that the very existence in the list of bidders of men who command the money markets of the world is what makes the subsequent advance. The credit of the offered security has been improved by reason of the number, wealth, standing and general confidence felt in the judgment of the firms and individuals who have competed for or have underwritten the loan. Furthermore, it is this free market and the opportunities and inducements thus held out to moneyed men that has led to this concentration of capital within the market seeking such investments, and has consequently led to a maximum supply of loanable funds and to most active competition for bonds—the conditions which are needful for highest bids at any offering. Legislation contrived so as to deprive large capital of its natural advantages would, if successful, reverse these conditions and take away the benefits to city, State or Government now enjoyed.

We last week noted the arrival of $850,000 gold in transit for Cuba. A feature this week has been a further receipt of $441,793 gold from Europe, also in transit for Cuba, and the engagement of $500,000 French gold in London for shipment to the same place. This movement is indicative of the renewed trade conditions that have become active since the taking of Santiago and the lifting of the blockade. An explanation with reference to the shipment cited of French gold was given by cable on Wednesday, the statement being that there is no more Spanish gold available on the Continent, while the Bank of England parted with its entire stock of Alfonsos some weeks ago. Shippers now want Napoleons, as the Cubans do not favor the other 20-franc pieces; at the same time they favor French gold, as the francs more nearly correspond with the multiples of the peseta. It is quite possible that this movement from Paris is influenced in some measure by the derangement of Cuban currency caused by the decree of the American Military Governor at Santiago fixing the value of the centen at five dollars. When this coin was sent to Cuba its value was fixed at $5 30, to prevent its export. It seems not unlikely that the new value will lead to its export, as its valuation by our mint is $5 02. An Associated Press dispatch estimates that there are between fifteen and twenty million centen in circulation in Cuba.

The Chicago Great Western Railway report, issued this week, attracts attention not only by reason of the favorable income showing made, but also by reason of the excellent operating results disclosed. The improvement over the year preceding has been noteworthy in both gross and net; in the gross the addition is $705,184, or over 15 per cent; in the net $335,399, or over 30 per cent. Moreover, gross as well as net is decidedly the best in the history of the company. The effect of the improvement is reflected in an income statement which must be very gratifying to the company's shareholders. In brief, after providing for all fixed charges and allowing in full for the 4 per cent dividends on the debenture stock (both that on which dividends are payable in stock as well as that requiring payment in cash) there remains a surplus balance on the operations of the twelve months of nearly a quarter of a million dollars —$242,434. The latter sum is equal to 3 per cent on the $8,034,400 of preferred stock "A" on which dividends are payable in cash. It is not so long ago that the idea of such a result would have been regarded as visionary. While in common with all the Northwestern roads, the Chicago Great Western has derived important advantages from the favorable conditions prevailing (namely the large crops and the prosperity of the farming classes), the increased care and attention bestowed on the methods of operating have also been an important element in the improved net results shown.

We see that it cost only 70·13 per cent to operate the road in the late year, against 73·23 per cent in 1896-7, and that the ratio for 1897-8 is the lowest ever reached by the company. At the same time the report tells us that the policy of making liberal expenditures upon the permanent way and the rolling stock has been continued—that every tie in the whole line and about 95 per cent of all the bridges have now been renewed, and that in the renewals more than half the bridges have been made permanent with earth over stone arch waterways. The reduction in operating cost is not surprising considering that the company has in recent years spent considerable new capital in reducing grades and in various other ways bringing road-bed, track, equipment, etc., up to a high standard. The benefits which have resulted are seen when we come to study the traffic statistics. In 1897-8 the road carried 345,535 more tons of freight than in the year preceding, being an increase of over 30 per cent. Yet this was done with an increase of only 8 per cent in the freight train mileage. The report does not show the tonnage movement one mile, so we cannot tell what the train load is, but obviously the load must have been materially heavier. The best previous year in the company's history as far as earnings and revenues are concerned was the year 1892-93. A comparison between that year and 1897-8 will show the progress made in the interval.

Miles run by freight trains	2,168,918	2,903,398
Earnings per freight train mile	$1 89	$1 28

Thus, while the freight traffic during the five years increased from 1,588,598 to 1,814,750 tons, the freight train mileage in the same interval was contracted over 25 per cent, being reduced from 2,903,398 miles to 2,168,918 miles. There are no figures to show the average rate per ton per mile received by the company, but we all know that the general tendency of rates has been strongly downward during this period of five years. Yet despite the reduction in rates, the increase in train loads has been such that the Chicago Great Western now records earnings per freight train mile of $1 89, against only $1 28 in the earlier year. We may note that at $1 89 the Great Western's trains earn a higher average than do the trains of other leading roads in the same section, the average of the North Western for the year ending May 31 being $1 73, of the Rock Island for the year ending March 31 $1 65, and of the St. Paul for the year ending June 30, 1897, $1 68.

The Rio Grande Western has this week announced a dividend on its common stock, and thus the shareholders are getting the fruits of the improved earnings which the property has been netting. Larger or smaller dividends on the preferred shares have been a feature for some time, but dividends on the common shares are a new departure. The payment is not to be in cash but in preferred stock; it is based, however, on earnings. The company is simply pursuing a conservative policy, and making the distribution in stock, thus giving it the use of the equivalent cash. A similar policy, it will be remembered, was followed when dividends were first resumed on the preferred shares. A circular issued by the company says that the Auditor's figures for the late year show a surplus of $220,000 beyond the amount necessary for the full 5 per cent on the preferred stock. This is over 2 per cent on the $10,000,000 of common stock, and accordingly the dividend is 2 per cent—payable, as stated, in preferred stock. The $200,000 of cash represented by the dividend, together with $50,000 appropriated from profit and loss, is to constitute a betterment fund of $250,000; $87,000 of this had been expended up to June 30, and the company's statement tells us that a portion of the remainder has been authorized to be expended during the current fiscal year.

The annual report of the Buffalo Rochester & Pittsburg has been issued this week—about a month earlier than in former years. The tonnage of the road consists principally of coal, and the development of this coal traffic over that road has been simply marvelous. Of coal and coke combined the road carried no less than 4,641,081 tons in the late year, against only 3,380,800 in the previous year, and but 2,071,744 tons in 1893-4. The general freight amounted to 1,233,092 tons in 1898, 992,338 tons in 1897 and 910,988 tons in 1894—showing progress here too. Under the further addition in the late year the road actually had a larger tonnage in coal and coke than the Chesapeake & Ohio, whose report we reviewed a fortnight since—that is, the Buffalo Rochester & Pittsburg's aggregate was 4,641,081 tons, while that of the Chesapeake & Ohio was 4,474,790 tons. Like the Chesapeake & Ohio, too, the Rochester & Pittsburg is obliged to transport the traffic at very low rates, and the average is each year dropping to a lower depth. For 1897-8 the company realized only 4·2 mills per ton per mile on its entire freight tonnage. This, though somewhat better than on the C. & O., is decidedly the lowest in the company's history. The decline has been met by reducing the cost of rendering the service through the practice of broad methods of economy. We note, for instance, that the train load in 1897-8 rose to 326 tons, from 296 tons the previous year. In this way the company is able to show satisfactory income results, notwithstanding the low rates received. From the annual report it appears that after meeting all fixed charges and allowing $132,853 for extraordinary expenses and improvements, there remained a surplus of $352,321 on the operations of the twelve months. The two dividends of one per cent each paid on the preferred shares took $120,000, leaving a balance of $232,321.

A feature of the bank statement of last week was the further reduction in the surplus reserve. According to the report of that date it stood at $28,839,250, against $20,823,500 on March 5, which was the lowest of the year. This is a loss of $33,367,000 since June 25. The movement of money to the interior appears to be increasing, and in some cases gold has been shipped, but these were mostly to the East. Only two of the banks had last Saturday what may be called large amounts of legal tenders; one of these reported $4,293,700 and the other $3,165,000. Five of the banks had between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 each, ten had between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000 and the remainder had less than $1,000,000 each. The whole have only $55,519,500. It follows, therefore, that very many of the banks will have to meet the demands of their interior correspondents with gold. The requirements for bond payments have been so large that the stock of gold in individual bank vaults has been drawn upon to such an extent that a resort to the supply in the Clearing House vaults has become necessary, and on Wednesday a large amount of the metal was transferred from the Clearing House to the Sub-Treasury. Payments for the new 3 per cent bonds at the close of last week had amounted to but little more than one-third the whole, and as these payments are expected to increase in volume after the distribution of lots of $500 and under is completed, it is assumed that there will continue to be an important drain of money out of the banks and into the Treasury until the bond settlements shall be entirely completed. The specially-designated depository banks are gradually obtaining bonds with which to qualify for the reception of additional deposits. But there is active competition for these bonds by banks which are substituting the 3 per cents for the higher-priced issues as security for circulation. The Government expenditures are large, especially on account of the War Department for transportation, supplies and the pay of troops; but these expenditures are widely distributed, while the drain into the Treasury falls most heavily upon the New York banks.

Money on call, representing bankers' balances, loaned generally at 1¾ per cent until Thursday afternoon. In the last hour of that day there was a good demand for money, which caused an advance in the rate to 3 per cent, though loans were made at 2 per cent at the close. On Friday the range was from 1¾ to 2 per cent. For the week it was from 1¼ to 3 per cent, averaging fully 2 per cent. The rise in the rate on Thursday was mainly due to the fact that the receipts at the Sub-Treasury had for the first three days of the week been about $5,000,000 in excess of the payments and it was therefore assumed that the bank statement of this week would show a further and, perhaps, considerable loss in surplus reserve. Banks and trust companies quote 1¾ per cent as the minimum, the majority, however, obtaining 2 per cent. Time loans are in good request and rates are 3 per cent for sixty to ninety days, 3½ per cent for four and 3½@4 per cent for five to six months on good Stock Exchange collateral. Commercial paper is quiet with fairly good offerings and only a moderate demand. The inquiry is chiefly confined to down-town banks and trust companies, and choice names meet with ready sale. Rates are 3¾ per cent for sixty to ninety-day endorsed bills receivable, 4 to 4½ per cent for prime and 5 to 6 per cent for good four to six months' single names.

The commissioners to the peace conference at Paris have been appointed by the United States and by the Spanish governments. The commissions for Cuba and for Porto Rico have also been selected by both governments, and only the arrangement of preliminaries for the conferences remain to be made. About the only feature in the European financial situation during the week has been a sharp advance in Spanish 4 per cents on Wednesday. The Bank of England minimum rate of discount remains unchanged at 2½ per cent. The cable reports discounts of sixty to ninety-day bank bills in London 1¼@1⅜ per cent. The open market rate at Paris is 1¾ per cent, and at Berlin and Frankfort it is 3¼@3⅜ per cent. According to our special cable from London the Bank of England gained £80,475 bullion during the week and held £35,065,342 at the close of the week. Our correspondent further advises us that the gain was due to the import of £75,000 from Australia, to receipts of £130,000 net from the interior of Great Britain, and the export of £125,000, of which £100,000 were to the United States and £25,000 to Russia.

The foreign exchange market has been quiet this week with a downward tendency, though rates for actual business have been only slightly changed. The offerings of cotton futures are increasing; at the same time there appears to be a good demand for them, which serves to keep rates steady. Selling of sixty-day bankers' bills, in the expectation of covering later in the season, continues on a moderately large scale, and there is fairly active trading in checks, which have almost wholly taken the place of the regular demand sterling bills since the Internal Revenue decision permitting foreign checks to bear stamps of the same denomination as domestic checks. Though rates for actual business in sight sterling rule very close to the gold-importing point there seems to be no disposition to press offerings but rather to let the market take a natural course. Gold imports cannot long be deferred, and to hasten them would seem to be undesirable in view of possible disturbance to the London and the Continental discount markets which might result from too precipitate gold imports. There have been no arrivals of gold from Europe during the week other than those in transit to Cuba.

The range for nominal rates for exchange has been from 4 84 to 4 84½ for sixty day and 4 86 for sight. The market was dull and barely steady, tending toward ease throughout the week. Rates for actua business opened on Monday unchanged, compared with those at the close on Friday of last week, at 4 83¾@4 84 for long, 4 85¼@4 85½ for short and 4 85¾@4 86 for cable transfers. There was no quotable alteration in rates until Thursday, the market being dull and easy, with slight changes during each day and closing generally as it had opened. On Thursday there was a lighter demand for remittance and a little better supply of commercial bills, and rates for actual business fell off one-quarter of a cent all around to 4 83½@4 83¾ for long, 4 85@4 85¼ for short and 4 85½@4 85¾ for cable transfers. Friday the market continued dull and easy. The following shows daily posted rates for exchange by some of the leading drawers:

* The division (between gold and silver) given in our table of coin and bullion in the Bank of Germany and the Bank of Belgium is made from the best estimate we are able to obtain; in neither case is it claimed to be accurate, as those banks make no distinction in their weekly returns, merely reporting the total gold and silver, but we believe the division we make is a close approximation.

NOTE.—We receive the foregoing results weekly by cable, and while not all of the date given at the head of the column, they are the returns issued nearest to that date—that is the latest reported figures.

THE PHILIPPINE PROBLEM.

All that is stipulated in the protocol of August 12, regarding the disposition of the Philippine Islands, is contained in the third clause, which provides that "the United States will occupy and hold the city, bay and harbor of Manila, pending the conclusion of a treaty of peace which shall determine the control, disposition and government of the Philippines." On the face of the document, therefore, it is evident that Spain has not yet agreed to cede so much as a coaling-station in these islands, much less to relinquish sovereignty over the entire archipelago. The situation must be judged, however, in the light rather of practical common-sense than of formal diplomatic procedure; and looked upon from that point of view, it is plain enough that Spain must grant whatever the United States demands in the Philippines. The diplomatic alternative would be renewal of the war, and no possibility is more remote than this.

The mere fact that the question of ownership of the islands was left thus vague and undetermined in the protocol sufficiently illustrates the Spanish Government's position. Had Sagasta been unwilling to make concessions in the Philippines, and had he been convinced of his ability to enforce such objections, he would necessarily have demanded that the United States assign the limits of its exactions in the Philippines as it did in the case of the West Indies. By leaving the whole question to a peace commission which, as every one knew, would merely ratify the demands of the United States, the Spanish Government tacitly admitted that it could not obstruct any disposal of the islands. The motive for the vagueness of the protocol provision, from the Spanish negotiators' point of view, was to defer this part of the surrender until the Spanish public had accustomed its mind to the necessary outcome of the war. From the American point of view it is well known that the President wished to wait until American public sentiment had clearly shown how far our people really wished to go in the experiment of annexation.

In view of these facts, we attach little importance to the alleged contention of the Spanish Cabinet that the capture of Manila, having actually occurred after the proclamation of an armistice, cannot affect the problem of the Philippines. We are inclined to believe that even if recognized as rightful acquisition under the rules of war, the surrender of Manila could not materially change the situation. This surrender was gratifying as proof that we had not vainly asserted our ability to reduce the Philippine capital. It may turn out to be important as placing the United States in a wholly different position from what any other Power with a grant from Spain could occupy. It is certainly a matter of consequence in assuring our position with regard to the Philippine insurgents. But beyond these incidental advantages the capture of Manila merely confirms, and does not alter, the power of the United States to demand what it may choose of Spain's Asiatic colonies.

But the power to demand what we choose, and to enforce our demand, does not clear up the perplexities of the problem to the United States. These perplexities, and the division of opinion consequent upon them, have been strikingly illustrated at the Saratoga conference on the foreign policy of the United States, which met last Friday and Saturday. Out of a number of speeches reflecting various shades of purpose and opinion in the matter, two addresses by eminent public men, neither of whom has hitherto been in any way identified with the formal war discussion, were of particular interest. Mr. Carl Schurz argued that annexation of the Philippines would in the first place be dishonest, as violating the maxim of Mr. McKinley's annual message, that "by our code of morals, forcible annexation would be criminal aggression," and as contravening also the declared purposes of the war in the intervention resolutions. He contended, in the second place, that no genuine democracy had ever been founded in the tropics; that only immigration of Northern races would make possible such a government, and that the whole history of the tropical islands and colonies had proved that such immigration, on a really large scale, could never be anticipated. Therefore, in Mr. Schurz's judgment, neither the East Indian nor West Indian islands could ever be made into self-governing States which could with safety be admitted to our union. The single alternative remaining, if the islands were to be held by the United States, was colonial or provincial administration. This Mr. Schurz condemned as certain to bring demoralization and jobbery in the government of the islands, serious mischief through the virtual subjugation of the native races, and entanglement with the complications of European States. Concluding, Mr. Schurz advised that the annexation theory be abandoned; that the captured islands stand under military administration until pacified and organized for self-government; that they then be turned over to the control of their inhabitants.

This address, a full examination of which we commend to all our readers, appears to us to set forth more clearly and fully than has been done in any other quarter the position of the conservative element in this matter of foreign policy. With similar clearness and force the arguments of what may perhaps be called (after the English phraseology) the "forward" school in foreign policy were set forth to the conference by Judge Grosscup of Chicago. Judge Grosscup argued, first, that neither the language of Mr. McKinley's message nor that of the intervention resolutions could be held to apply as to "the future disposition of the prizes and captures of war." Porto Rico ought to be retained by us, by reason of its position at the gateway of the Caribbean Sea and of the future Nicaragua Canal; Hawaii and the Philippines as "a line of naval stations and home ports," useful "in the new career of commercial activity" on which we are about to enter. This new career, in Judge Grosscup's judgment, is the entry of American commerce and manufacture into the Chinese and other Asiatic markets, whose opening to foreign enterprise he describes as "a world event commercially more important than the discovery of America."

These two views of the situation fairly show the two opposite poles of public opinion in this very important matter. How far the public mind still is from anything like unanimity in the matter is further illustrated by the resolutions adopted at the conclusion of the conference, which chose what was obviously a middle ground by adopting the declaration that "we should not be justified in returning the conquered islands to the misrule and oppression from which we have relieved them. As soon as the islands under our present protection can be trusted to govern themselves, they should be allowed home rule, either independently or as a part of the United States, as hereinafter recommended. Until such time as they may be able to govern themselves they should continue under the protection of the United States, and the question as to whether at some future period, at the mutual desire of both, they should be permanently annexed should be left to the time when it arises."

On one point, as is shown by these typical resolutions, all the varying critics of the situation seem to agree. Neither the West Indian Islands nor the one important island of the Philippines can be returned to Spain. It has been commonly believed that the Administration, influenced by Secretary Day's well known conservatism, was willing to compromise on the minimum demand of a coaling station at Luzon. But it seems to us that public opinion has strongly negatived this proposition; first, on the ground that it would involve return of the island as a whole either to an incompetent foreign owner or to native anarchy, and, second, on the not unreasonable ground that a coaling station, if we may judge by our Government's long inaction on its ceded property in Hawaii, was no concession whatever.

Nor do we believe that the notion of taking over only the city of Manila will meet with any favor. A city under one government, while the surrounding country was under other, and possibly hostile, control would be a manifest absurdity for which even the Government of Hong-Kong provides no legitimate precedent. For ourselves, we can see no other way out of the existing perplexity than to accept the fact —for since Hawaiian annexation it is a fact—that we have entered on a colonial career, and to govern Luzon as an American dependency. There is serious weight to Mr. Schurz's reasoning that a fearful opportunity for political corruption will thus be opened, but there is also weight to Judge Grosscup's argument that our politics have suffered by a long career of "introspection," in the course of which the very lack of important outside problems has given an opportunity to demagogues who caught the public ear by sophisms on such matters as the revenue and the currency. When, moreover, the whole Philippine problem is sifted down, there remain but four alternatives. Of these, return of the Island of Luzon to Spain is generally rejected; Mr. Schurz has clearly proved the hopelessness of independent native government; annexation with the prospect of future incorporation as one of the United States is to our mind the most dangerous proposition of them all. There remain only annexation and colonial administration, in whatever form may most feasibly be contrived. In such a situation it appears to us that it is wiser to accept the facts, and plan how best to avoid the incidental dangers of the experiment, than to halt irresolutely because we see such dangers in our path.

At the same time we freely admit the hazard of this inevitable step. Hitherto, until the outbreak of this war our policy of isolation has protected us from continual friction with foreign Powers. During the contest itself the paramount rules and traditions of international war relieved us from open enmity and criticism. Henceforth, if we embark on this new experiment, we shall be judged by the same rules as govern judgment of other nations. The responsibility is very different from that which has rested on us in our light-hearted experiments of the past century. It will not do to govern reconstructed Cuba, Porto Rico and Manila as the Washington authorities governed the subjugated South after 1865; if we do that we shall presently have a series of insurrections on our hands. It will not do even to extend the haphazard methods which have brought frequent scandal into our Indian Bureau's affairs; for the care of the Indians was our own peculiar problem not open to outside diplomatic criticism. It will not do to conduct our foreign diplomacy with such easy retorts as marked the Behring Sea negotiation, or through such agents as have frequently made our foreign service ridiculous at not unimportant foreign capitals.

It certainly will not answer to choose our consuls from country politicians and our colonial administrators from the favorities of political "bosses." Unless we are to provide against such possibilities as these the colonial experiment will be something like national suicide. For ourselves, we believe that the very gravity of the undertaking, which we think our people fully realize, is our best safeguard against such pitfalls. Does any one, for instance, seriously believe that because in our domestic fiscal legislation of other years we may have carried the policy of protection to extremes, we will therefore now begin by shutting out goods of other foreign States from our newly-acquired colonies? If so, he must imagine that America has shut its eyes to the diplomatic drama even now in progress on the Chinese coast; that it has forgotten the lesson taught by our own people to England in 1776, when England tried precisely this policy of trade discrimination. It is not our belief that the lessons of history have been wholly wasted on one of the most intelligent of modern nations.

A ROAD IN A SILVER-PRODUCING STATE.

The annual report of the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad Company, with its good showing of income for the year, exemplifies in a striking way the latent possibilities of growth and development inherent in all railroad enterprises in this marvelous country, and particularly the Western half of it. If any one had been asked twelve months ago what roads had before them the least promise of improved results in the general era of improvement which then was seen to be opening up to our transportation systems, he would undoubtedly have pointed to the lines in Colorado. The reasons for such a belief were obvious enough. Colorado is not a distinctively agricultural State, such as are most of the Western States, and hence it could not be expected to benefit much from the great prosperity of the farming interest, which at that time was plainly in prospect and has since been realized. On the other hand, being a large silver-producing State, the road must necessarily, it was supposed, be affected adversely by reason of the depression which the silver-mining industry has encountered in recent years.

Now that the year is behind us and the report recording the year's outcome is at hand, what do we find? Without circumlocution, we may say it shows a rate of progress, or rather a degree of recuperation and recovery, hardly less noteworthy than that reflected in the returns of Western roads apparently much more favorably situated as far as the leading conditions controlling railroad traffic are concerned. For ourselves it is proper to state we never accepted the view that the Denver & Rio Grande could not count upon a considerable expansion in its revenues. Just twelve months ago, in reviewing the report for the preceding year, we indicated at length the probabilities of a satisfactory outcome. The result has more than justified the sanguine expectations then outlined, and we confess that the expansion in revenues has proved more pronounced than even we dared hope at the time. In brief, in the gross earnings there has been an increase, as compared with the previous year, of $1,397,811, or over 20 per cent, in the net earnings, an increase of $455,548, or over 15 per cent. Of course this is in comparison with rather a poor year, but the improvement is none the less noteworthy on that account, particularly in view of the circumstances above noted.

In interpeting the meaning and significance of such a gratifying advance, it should be borne in mind that in the development of a railroad property two things are preëminently necessary. First a wise and efficient management having faith in the enterprise, and secondly a rich and fertile territory offering the opportunity, if availed of, of yielding steadly enlarging sources of traffic. The Denver & Rio Grande has possessed both these essentials in a marked degree. We think in this country the importance of the first element in the magnificent results produced is not granted the full recognition it deserves. Growth is such a universal rule—such a common occurrence—in the United States, and railroad managers have so generally shown themselves capable and loyal (the few exceptions where this has not been the case only going to prove the rule), that we have become rather accustomed to think that growth would come anyway, be the management capable and progressive or the reverse. But such a view is wholly superficial. Without farsighted and assiduous managers, our railroads could never have attained their present state of development, nor, without the aid of that circumstance, could that quick and wonderful recovery which is now the topic of the hour, from the great depression of a short time ago, have been established. Indeed it may be confidently affirmed that except for the way our railroads have been guided and administered, the country itself could not have attained its present development, for the railroads have been the principal factor and agency in this development.

We are led to refer to this subject of management because in the Denver & Rio Grande case it has without question contributed powerfully to the renewed prosperity of the property. The President of the company, as is well known, is Mr. Edward T. Jeffery. Mr. Jeffery is also President of the International Trust Company of Denver. At the meeting of the Trust Company Section of the American Bankers Association at Denver this week, Mr. Jeffery delivered the address of welcome to the delegates. We expect to print the address at length another week, along with the full proceedings of the Convention, but wish to remark here that no one can read this address—with its hearty tone of welcome, its modest and yet eloquent and impressive references to the resources of the State of Colorado—without being impressed with the fact not only that Mr. Jeffery was well qualified to discharge the special function assigned to him for this occasion, but also that he is peculiarly fitted to administer a railroad property like that of the Denver. For it is evident from this address that Mr. Jeffery not only understands and appreciates the resources of the Centennial State, and has faith in the enterprise and progressiveness of her people, but that his position, influence and efforts are all being directed to develop these resources. Mr. Jeffery has at the same time, it must be admitted, been fortunate in the fact that the financial interests in the property here in the East, with Mr. George Coppell as Chairman of the Board, have had unbounded confidence in their President, and have given him full latitude and support in carrying out his ideas.

Of course, neither the net nor the gross revenues of the system in the late year were up to the previous maximum. But this only makes the results of the late year pregnant with increased possibilities for the future. For obviously with the likelihood of a return again to the best previous attainment under the revival in progress, the prospect is for an even better exhibit than that now disclosed for the late fiscal year. We have had occasion once or twice of late to refer in these columns to the company's enlarged dividend distributions on the preferred shares. It appears from the income showing now before us that after providing for the 2½ per cent dividends declared out of the year's revenues, also contributions of $30,000 to the Renewal Fund and $20,000 to a special fund established for meeting the expenses of converting the outstanding 7 per cent bonds—after providing for all these requirements and allowances, there was left a surplus of over a quarter of a million of dollars ($257,252) on the operations of the twelve months. This is certainly a satisfactory record. But, as already stated, the prospect is for even better results hereafter should the present industrial prosperity, as seems likely, continue and make further headway. As indicating the extent of the difference between the late year and the best previous year, we may note that at $3,342,926 for 1897-8 the gross earnings compare with $9,317,646 for 1892-3, and the net earnings at $3,325,326 compare with $4,035,561 in that year. In short, full recovery would mean a further addition of nearly a million of dollars to the gross and of nearly three quarters of a million dollars to the net. It may safely be taken for granted that it is merely a question of time when the showing for 1892-3 will not only be again repeated but surpassed.

Of course the recovery and recuperation which has been established in face of the mishap to the silver-mining industry would not have been possible except for the progressiveness of the people of Colorado and their readiness and ability to adapt themselves to the changed circumstances by turning to other avenues of usefulness. With silver-mining yielding gradually diminishing returns they devoted their energies to new fields. Gold-mining, for instance, was extensively developed, and the State now ranks as the largest gold producing State in the Union. In other directions, also, mineral development has been prosecuted. Agriculture, too, has received new attention. We stated above that the State was not an agricultural State in the sense that other Western States are. At the same time it must be admitted that even in the matter of agriculture the State is every year making greater headway. Evidence of this is found in the traffic statistics for the late year, showing grain shipments of 70,648 tons in 1897-8 against 40,283 tons in 1896-7, and shipments of fruits and vegetables of 81,568 tons against 31,957 tons, besides which there are gains in various minor items of agricultural tonnage.

Of course the company's largest single items of tonnage are coal and precious ore. Of coal the road carried 797,131 tons in the late year, as against only 609,262 tons in 1896-7, and of precious ore 404,963 tons against 273,217 tons. The last-mentioned item, we take it, indicates the development of gold-mining, the first-mentioned item the general manufacturing and industrial growth of the State. Mineral development in another direction is indicated by shipments of 235,337 tons of iron ore against only 67,776 tons; while merchandise shipments of 194,431 tons against 138,709 tons, lumber shipments of 100,728 tons against 75,126 tons, and shipments of stone, sand, &c., of 135,474 tons against 82,230 tons, indicate manufacturing and commercial growth. The expansion in the coke shipments, making them 144,892 tons against 90,927 tons, is connected with the same causes as the expansion in the coal shipments.

The truth is, the late year's traffic statistics are remarkable no more for the wonderful growth disclosed (the increase in actual tons moved having been nearly 50 per cent, the number of tons being 2,596,029 tons, against 1,731,694 tons) than for the great diversification in the tonnage which they show to be in progress. This diversification the Denver management have done everything to foster and encourage. They recognized that if, directly and indirectly, losses must be endured because of the decline in silver, these losses must be made good in other directions, and the figures we are now reviewing attest the success attending their effort. We may note that while gross revenues, as already pointed out, are still a million dollars below the total for 1892-3, the tonnage tells a different story. This shows an aggregate of 2,596,029 tons for 1897-8, against only 2,488,079 tons for 1892-3, so that the 1898 tonnage was actually in excess of that of the best previous year. The loss in revenues, therefore, must be ascribed to an important extent presumably to a fall in rates. At the same time the passenger revenues are much smaller than in the earlier year. This loss, however, we may assume will be quickly overcome when a full and complete revival of trade all over the country is established.

To the advantages arising from the steady increase in revenues which is at present in progress, the company has now the prospect of further advantage through a reduction in its fixed charges by refunding. Our readers are acquainted with the arrangements made to refund in advance of maturity the $6,382,500 of first mortgage 7 per cent bonds falling due in 1900. Suffice it to say, therefore, that nearly three millions of the bonds have been exchanged thus far, and that when the entire refunding operation is completed there will be a saving in fixed charges through it of $160,000 per annum. We need hardly state that the company's finances are in excellent shape, that there is no floating debt in the form of loans or bills payable, and that the ordinary current liabilities are greatly exceeded by the available current assets. No charges whatever were made to capital account during the year, everything being paid for out of earnings. The accounts of the company are stated with great clearness and fullness, which is not surprising considering that Mr. Stephen Little is the Comptroller of the company. Though the company has the benefit of Mr. Little's experience and services the books and accounts are nevertheless subjected to an independent audit. Mr. W. G. Purdy, the President of the Rock Island, who made the audit as in other recent years, certifies that he found everything correct and extols the system of accounting practiced and the great attention bestowed upon the records and accounts by the President and chief accounting officers of the company.

RAILROAD GROSS AND NET EARNINGS FOR THE HALF-YEAR.

In our issue of July 16 we furnished compilations showing the course of railroad gross earnings for the first half of the current calendar year. Now that we have the exhibits of the net, the results are found to be equally gratifying and notable. As far as security holders in the railroads are concerned the returns of the net are of much greater importance than those of gross. For it is upon the net results that interest and dividend payments are dependent. Hence it is pleasing to find an improvement in the net (on the roads reporting) of over 17¾ million dollars as compared with the same six months last year. In ratio the improvement is 14·18 per cent. In other words the railroads of the United States bettered their net results of the previous year by over 14 per cent. In the gross earnings the increase has been over 51 million dollars—in exact figures $51,151,016. The following gives the showing in tabular form.

January 1 to June 30. (180 roads.)	1898.	1897.	Increase. Amount.	Increase. Per Cent

In the issue of the CHRONICLE already referred to, we reviewed at length the conditions prevailing during the six months, and which made possible the favorable results now reached. We do not intend to go over the same ground here. Suffice it to say that a grain movement of unprecedented dimensions, great prosperity of the farming classes, business revival only slightly interrupted by the outbreak of war with Spain, a large cotton movement, and freedom from adverse meteorological influences and conditions, were the chief elements in the improvement. Of course we are not comparing with very large earnings in the previous year. In the gross at that time there was a decrease, and though in the case of the net there was some increase, this increase was relatively small. Indeed, the results in these six months have been either indifferent or positively bad for a great many years past. That fact, however, only serves to bring out in striking contrast the exceedingly favorable character of the present year's improvement. We give below the comparisons back to 1893, and it will be observed that in this term there has been no year recording anywhere near 51 millions gain in gross or 17¾ millions gain in net.

The improvement extended through the whole of the half-year, but in June fell to greatly diminished proportions. It may be noted as an interesting fact that during the first five months the ratio of gain both in the gross and the net continued remarkably even and constant. In the gross the percentages of increase varied only between 12·65 and 14·36, and in the net between 17·53 and 21·59 per cent. In June the increase was only 6·87 per cent in the gross and 6·39 per cent in the net, the shrinkage being mainly connected with the collapse of the Leiter wheat dea and the great contraction in the movement of grain. The following furnishes a summary of the monthly totals.

NOTE.—The number of roads included in January was 134; in February 141; in March 142; in April 139; in May 133; in June 121.

Further evidence of the exceptionally favorable nature of the exhibits is furnished when we arrange the roads in groups and ascertain that every group records an increase in gross, and outside of the Mexican roads every group also an increase in the net, with the exception of the New England group. In this last instance, too, it should be said, the increase in the gross has been hardly more than nominal. Undoubtedly the depression in the cotton industry has been an adverse factor in that part of the country. The trifling decline in the net, however, possesses no significance, as New England roads notoriously vary their expense accounts greatly from year to year.

While the improvement has been general, certain sections have fared very much better than others. The Pacific Coast roads on the whole rank foremost. In the gross their increase is over 25 per cent; in the net almost 47 per cent. The great revival of trade in that part of the country, the extra traffic arising out of the Klondike gold discoveries, and the prosperity of the farming classes, all contributed to swell the business and revenues of these roads. The Southwestern group comes next after the Pacific for amount and ratio of gain, its increase in net being over 30 per cent. It may be a surprise to hear that for the Northwestern group the addition to net has been only about 10 per cent. The explanation ist hat these roads have been very liberal in their expense accounts. In the gross the increase has been over 16 per cent. The trunk lines suffered greatly from the demoralization in rates, and hence their increase in net is only 5·06 per cent; moreover, except for the great expansion on the Baltimore & Ohio there would be hardly any increase at all. The following are the totals for the different groups. At the end of this article will be found a detailed exhibit classified in the same way and showing the figures for each road separately.

MILEAGE.—The mileage for the above groups is as follows: New England, 3,697 miles against 3,676 miles in 1897; Trunk lines, 21,768 against 24,804; Anthracite coal, 5,598 against 5,581; Middle States, 3,758 against 3,740; Middle Western, 12,065 against 11,337; Northwestern, 24,596 against 24,596; Southwestern, 14,875 against 14,791 Pacific Coast, 22,751 against 22,673; Southern, 20,428 against 20,398; Mexican, 4,307 against 4,314; grand total, 136,843 against 135,961.

After what has been said the reader will be prepared to hear that in the case of the individual roads the gains are in some instances exceedingly large, the Southern Pacific leading with an increase of $4,361,162 in gross and of $2,354,510 in net (this, too, for only the first five months, the return for June not yet having been furnished), and that, while there are a few losses, in no case does the decrease amount to as much as $100,000 in the gross and in only three instances in the case of the net. The detailed list of the gains as shown in the following makes an imposing exhibit.

* For five months to May 31.

As regards the statement for June, we have already indicated that it does not come up to the level of the returns for the preceding months, the reason being found mainly in the contraction in the grain movement. It deserves also to be pointed out that we are comparing with somewhat better results in the previous year. The following carries the comparisons of the June totals back to 1893.

In the case of the individual roads there are no such striking gains as in some of the preceding months, while on the other hand there is a larger array of losses. Here is a list of the principal changes.

† Covers lines directly operated east and west of Pittsburg and Erie. The net on the Eastern lines decreased $93,200 and the net on the Western lines decreased $155,709.

It remains only to be said that despite the losses here disclosed and the small increase in the final result, there are only two groups that show losses for the month in the net (the Trunk Line and the Northwestern) and only one, namely the Anthracite Coal group, that has suffered a decrease in the gross. We annex the following, furnishing a summary of the groups for June.

Monetary and Commercial English News

LONDON, Saturday, Aug. 13, 1898.

The Spanish acceptance of President McKinley's terms became known in London on Thursday morning and there was instantly a marked rise in the American department, accompanied by a general expansion in business. The American purchases of American securities have been for some time past on a considerable scale and this week they are larger than ever. For the first time the city is actively participating, and there are signs that the general public is likewise beginning to buy.

Everybody recognizes that the whole situation is so much improved in the United States that the fears respecting the currency may now be dismissed, and that consequently a long period of prosperity may be looked for. Outside of the American department, however, there is as yet little doing. In the first place the British railway dividends have been disappointing. Speaking broadly, the traffic returns all through the first half of the year were exceedingly good, and though it was understood that both wages and materials had risen, and therefore it was anticipated there would be an increase in expenditure, still the general anticipation was that for the most part last year's dividends would be maintained. The anticipation has been entirely disappointing. In one case the dividend has been reduced from 4 per cent to 2½ per cent and in other cases there have been reductions of ¾ and ½ per cent.

To put the matter as briefly as possible, there has been an increase of expenditure upon the eighteen principal lines of the United Kingdom of about 1¼ millions sterling. About one-half million is due to the rise in wages; the rest is due either to the coal strike in South Wales, to the rise in the prices of materials, or to the much larger expenditure upon betterments.

It may be well to remind the reader that the old Manchester Sheffield & Lincolnshire Railway Company, which was originally intended to connect the North of England from east to west, some years ago determined to build a trunk line to London, completely changing the nature and the policy of the company. The project is now nearly completed, and the name of the old line has been changed to the Great Central. The Great Central very soon now will begin to compete with the lines that heretofore have connected London with the North of England and with Scotland, and it would seem that these lines, anticipating a war of rates, have been actively preparing for it during the past half-year. Furthermore, the Great Western Railway Company, which connects directly with the Southwest of England and the South of Wales, is about to construct a new line by building short links between old branches and so making a direct line to the coast of South Wales, starting steamers from there to the south coast of Ireland, and thus competing directly with the London & North Western, which formerly had a practical monopoly of the mail traffic between London and the Southwest of Ireland, especially Cork. Apparently both the Great Western and the North Western have also been preparing for this competition. The result of all is that the amount paid in dividends this year is less by about £400,000 than the amount paid twelve months ago.

In addition to all this, the charges made by Mr. Hooley to the effect that he had made payments to a large number of noblemen and directors of companies, which he bought and transformed, has made a very bad impression upon the Stock Exchange. The charges have been denied more or less strongly, but the general belief is that they contain some amount of truth. In any case, the Stock Exchange jumps to the conclusion that the investing public will believe that there is no smoke without fire, and that consequently the old confidence in boards of directors which consist of men of high position will be shaken; moreover, that it will be much more difficult in the future to induce the public to subscribe to new enterprises.

At the same time the desperate plight in which Spain is, the unhappy condition of Italy, the delay in settling Crete, the unrest in the Balkan Peninsula, and the struggle of the nationalities in Austria-Hungary, all continue to keep up a certain amount of apprehension. Respecting Spain, it is understood that the negotiations with the Messrs. Rothschild for renewing the lease of the Almaden silver mines in consideration for a loan of three or four millions sterling will be resumed, and that the long talked-of tobacco monopoly will be created. It will give Spain a certain amount of money; but she requires very much more, and it remains to be seen whether Paris may lend. It may safely be said that London will not. In its difficulties the Government has authorized the Bank of Spain to increase its note circulation to 2,500 million pesetas. Nominally the peseta is of the same value as the French franc, and 25 pesetas are worth a pound sterling; but really the peseta is at a discount of about 50%. At its par or nominal value, then, the full issue, if it is made, will mean a note circulation of the Bank of Spain of 100 millions sterling, or about four times that of the Bank of England. It is easy to foresee what the value of the Bank notes will become if this decree is acted upon. True the decree ordains that if the circulation is under 2,000 million pesetas the Bank is to keep half the amount in gold and silver; while if it rises to 2,500 million pesetas the reserve is to amount to two-thirds. But it is one thing to decree these notes, and it is an entirely different thing to get gold and silver. The plain fact is, that the Government has no other way of paying its bills. The whole accommodation given to the public in bills and advances is about seven millions sterling, so that in one form or other the Government apparently intends to make the Bank of Spain lend itself a total nominally amounting to 93 millions sterling.

The struggle for concessions in China goes on. Just now there is a keen fight between the British and the Russian ministers at Pekin concerning the contract entered into by the Chinese Government with the Shanghai and Hong Kong Bank for a loan to construct the Nui-Chwang railway extensions. The Russian Government objects because the line will be in Northern China and wishes to compel the Chinese Government to forbid the line to be mortgaged as a security for the loan; also all foreign interference of every kind. It is said that the Russian Minister has succeeded; but though the struggle for concessions keeps up a certain amount of disquiet, there is no real apprehension of war between this country and Russia.

The money market is exceedingly easy and in spite of everything the banks can do, rates remain very low. They are sure so to continue so long as the Japanese Government lends freely here and gold is not taken from the Bank of England in large amounts. Gold is going to Germany, but the best opinion seems to be that the German demand will not be inconveniently large. Respecting what the United States demand will be there is much diversity of opinion. If the moving of the crops, the expansion of trade and the Government operations make money very dear in New York, and consequently gold shipments from London become large, there is sure to be a rapid and considerable rise in rates here. Otherwise rates will remain low. For the moment, therefore, the key of the position seems to be in New York. Not much gold will go to Japan, and no considerable amount will go to India. It is understood that the Currency Committee will meet again in October and that its sittings will probably be continued for many months. What its ultimate decision will be nobody can foresee, nor is it possible yet to judge whether the appointment of Mr. Curzon, who has for some years been Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, to the Viceroyalty of India will in any way alter the policy of the Indian Government.

Mr. Curzon is not quite forty, is exceedingly active, energetic and able, is a good speaker and good writer, and has made a reputation at the Foreign Office. Practically he has been the mouthpiece of the Foreign Office in the House of Commons since the present Government was formed. He has travelled extensively in Russia, Persia, along the northwest frontier of India, throughout India itself, and in China. He has written books on these countries and he has an immense faith in himself. Whether he will form a currency policy for himself remains to be seen. Hitherto the different viceroys have more or less been guided by the permanent officials in Calcutta. It is quite possible that Mr. Curzon may himself be his own Finance Minister and may insist upon carrying out an entirely new financial policy.

Meanwhile the monetary ease in India continues and is likely to continue until November and December. But on account of the dearth of rupees, owing to the closing of the mints, there is still a strong demand for Council drafts. On Wednesday the Council offered for tender 25 lacs and the applications amounted to 81 lacs. The whole amount offered was sold at an average price slightly exceeding 1s. 3 1/16d. per rupee. Subsequently a few thousand lacs were sold at 1s. 3 15-16d. per rupee.

WALL STREET, FRIDAY, AUG. 26, 1898.—5 P. M.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—The trend of business in Wall Street this week has been for the most part along conservative lines. The volume was smaller than during the two previous weeks, but was still relatively large, and reflects a wider public interest, which absorbed the offerings of securities and kept the market generally steady. The improved industrial situation, present and prospective, has led to increasing interest in some industrial securities. This is especially noticeable this week in the iron stocks, and is stimulated by an alliance or combination now being arranged which includes several of the largest companies in the West and Northwest. The iron industry is a constantly broadening one, and its future importance in this country can hardly be over-estimated.

Remarks by the President of a leading granger road, the weekly earnings of which are considered a barometer of trade conditions in the Northwest, to the effect that the large business now being reported is made up chiefly of West-bound traffic, is suggestive of what may be expected in that section when the Fall movement of grain sets in. As further illustrating the improved situation in the West, it is reported that local banks are generally well supplied with funds for moving the crops, and that there is likely to be less demand than in some former years for Eastern capital for that purpose. There is, however, a better demand for money at this centre and consequently a firmer tone to the market.

The open market rates for call loans on the Stock Exchange during the week on stock and bond collaterals have ranged from 1½ to 3 per cent. To-day's rates on call were 1¾ to 2 per cent. Prime commercial paper quoted at 3¾ to 4½ per cent.

The Bank of England weekly statement on Thursday showed an increase in bullion of £80,475, and the percentage of reserve to liabilities was 48·30, against 47·21 last week; the discount rate remains unchanged at 2½ per cent. The Bank of France shows an increase of 2,400,000 francs in gold and 1,600,000 francs in silver.

The New York City Clearing-House banks in their statement of Aug. 20 showed a decrease in the reserve held of $3,207,800 and a surplus over the required reserve of $28,839,250, against $33,111,850 the previous week.

Texas & Pacific seconds were the prominent feature; on very large transactions they advanced over 4 points. Of the miscellaneous issues, Standard Rope & Twine, on a steadily increasing demand, show a gain of 11¼ points. Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The stock market has been more than usually active. Although the transactions steadily diminished from 635,600 shares on Monday to 466,300 shares on Thursday, they were over 576,200 to-day. There was some irregularity in prices, but as a whole the market was firm and in some important cases a substantial advance is noted. Conspicuous among the latter are Northern Pacific, Louisville & Nashville, Metropolitan Street Railway and some of the lower-priced issues. The gangers occupied a prominent place in each day's market and were generally firm on a steady demand. The coal stocks were neglected. Cleveland Cincinnati Chicago & St. Louis has not sustained the advance recently made; it sold on Wednesday at a decline of 6 points, a small part of which it has regained. Manhattan Elevated was a weak feature, but its decline of nearly 7 points had but little effect upon the market. It has recovered sharply to day.

The miscellaneous list was more erratic than usual, although in most cases net changes are to a higher level. Minnesota Iron and Illinois Steel were strong, on the progress towards an alliance. The former sold up to 99½, a gain of nearly 30 points since Aug. 1. New York Air Brake and International Paper fluctuated over a range of about 12 points and Consolidated Gas over 10 points within the week. American Sugar, American Tobacco and People's Gas show substantial net gains.

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

The following table shows the gross earnings of every STEAM railroad from which regular weekly or monthly returns can be obtained. The first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the period from January 1 to and including such latest week or month.

The returns of the street railways are brought together separately on a subsequent page.

Net Earnings Monthly to Latest Dates.—The following shows the gross and net earnings to latest dates of all STEAM railroads furnishing monthly statements. The compilation includes every road from which we can get returns of this character and in that form is given once a month. Early returns are published from week to week, as soon as issued, but for the convenience of our readers all the roads making returns are brought together here in the week in which we publish our monthly article on net earnings—say on or about the 20th of the month. Besides the roads furnishing monthly returns, we have added this time the roads which make quarterly returns.

The returns of the street railways we give by themselves under a separate head at the extreme end of these tabulations —see page 422.

STREET RAILWAYS AND TRACTION COMPANIES.

The following table shows the gross earnings for the latest period of all STREET railways from which we are able to obtain weekly or monthly returns. The arrangement of the table is the same as that for the steam roads—that is, the first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings or the calendar year from January 1 to and including such latest week or month.

Street Railway Net Earnings.—In the following we show both the gross and the net earnings to latest dates of all STREET railways from which we have been able to procure monthly returns. As in the case of the steam roads, the returns of the different roads are published by us each week as soon as received, and once a month (on the third or the fourth Saturday of the month) we bring all the roads reporting together, as is done to-day.

Chicago & Eastern Illinois Railroad Company.

(Report for the year ending June 30, 1898.)

President M. J. Carpenter says in substance:

The gross receipts for the fiscal year increased 7·48 per cent [$293,827], notwithstanding the severe losses attending the coal miners' strike that lasted from July 1 until Sept. 15. The expenses increased 7·60 per cent, as follows:

Maintenance of way and structures	$52,630	or 16%
Maintenance of equipment	60,141	" 14%
Conducting transportation*	62,275	" 5%
Taxes increased	25,744	" 13·6%

*Of the increase in cost of transportation $16,207 was caused by increased cost of coal for locomotives.

It will be noticed that taxes were over 5 per cent of the entire receipts of the company and 32 per cent of all receipts after paying operating expenses and fixed charges.

There was an increase in freight receipts of $264,346, equal to 8·49 per cent. The number of tons carried one mile increased 7·80 per cent, but the average rate received per ton per mile was 5·12 mills, against 5·9 mills last year.

Physical Condition.—Of the new track acquired and built in the previous year, 51 miles has been ballasted with gravel and 5 32 additional miles of sidings constructed. The balance of this property is being ballasted as rapidly as possible. The physical condition of the road has been kept at a high standard. The sum of $304,000 has been charged to profit and loss on account of the depreciation of equipment, which was on hand at the time of the consolidation in 1887, and carried on our books at cost. Other facts of interest appear in the following:

21·93 miles of new eighty-pound steel rail was laid, displacing lighter steel; 1,394 lineal feet of timber trestles were replaced by steel girders, arch culverts or embankment. The last wooden span bridge on the main line—a 114-foot Howe truss, with trestle approaches—is now being superseded by three 60-foot deck girder spans of steel. Two new interlocking plants have been erected. A side track leading to the Soldiers' Home at Danville, Illinois, was built, and new mine tracks at Clinton, Coal Bluff and Leatherwood, aggregate 8·96 miles. A reservoir was constructed at a cost of $2,500 at Villa Grove, on the St. Louis division.

New Stock.—In accordance with its articles of consolidation, this company is authorized to issue $10,000 of preferred stock and $15,000 of common stock per mile of subsequently acquired road. In compliance therewith it has issued, since the last report, $1,221,800 of preferred stock, and $1,832,700 of common stock, on account of 122·18 miles of main line south of Shelbyville, Illinois, for which no stock had heretofore been issued. This stock is held in the treasury with the exception of $1,000,000 of preferred stock, which has been sold and the proceeds expended in general improvements of the property, including the substitution of steel for wooden bridges, the improvement of the newly-acquired property, application of air brakes and other standard appliances required by the Inter-State Commerce Commission, and the payment of car trust notes assumed in the purchase of the Chicago Paducah & Memphis Railroad.

Rio Grande Southern Railroad.

President E. T. Jeffery says:

Earnings.—"For the first five months of the fiscal year traffic was lighter than for the corresponding period of the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1897, and the indications were not very encouraging, but commencing with December an improvement set in which continued to the close of the year, so that the revenue of the company from traffic was, as already stated, 6·5 per cent more than for the previous year. Unless something unforeseen happens, increases may be expected during the ensuing six months compared with the corresponding six months of 1897."

Settlement with Denver & Rio Grande.—On January 1, 1898, the contract of February 27, 1895, with the Denver & Rio Grande RR. Co., whereby it guaranteed the notes of the Rio Grande Southern Co. covering its floating indebtedness, matured, and the final payments were made thereon by the Denver & Rio Grande Co., and the Rio Grande Southern Co., as required by the contract, paid over to the Denver & Rio Grande Co. the amount standing to the credit of profit and loss Dec. 31, 1897, amounting to $83,238. Your company is now free from floating debt, all its bills were paid at the close of the fiscal year except the month of June, which were paid during the succeeding month in the usual way, and there was a balance standing to the credit of profit and loss on June 30 of nearly $14,000.

Ties.—During the year 77,600 cross ties were used, being 23,231 more than in the previous year, and 55,576 additional ties were received and paid for, and will be placed in the track before next winter.

The earnings and expenses, and the charges, and the balance sheet for two years, were as follows.

Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company.

(Official Statement as of July 31, 1898.)

At our request President C. L. Rossiter has made the following statement regarding misleading figures recently published purporting to show the condition of the company's finances:

"Confusion sometimes arises in the minds of persons looking at the reports of the constituent companies comprising the Rapid Transit system because of ignorance of the relations between the various companies. The Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company is not a railroad company, but a business corporation, owning the stocks and securities of street railroad companies. It is of course primarily dependent upon these operating railroad companies for its revenue, but not wholly so. For instance, it owns the construction account of the Brooklyn Heights Company against the Brooklyn City RR. Co., payable at the termination of the lease and amounting on June 30th last to $4,125,357. Interest on this account to the amount of $177,622 was paid by the Heights Company to the Rapid Transit Co. during the fiscal year, and appeared in the Heights Co.'s fixed charges. In addition to this revenue the Rapid Transit Co. received $112,684 in interest on securities owned by it. Therefore, without considering the net profits of the operating companies at all it had as a credit to its own interest charges on Brooklyn Rapid Transit Bonds $290,307, while the interest charges on the B. R. T. bonds were only $310,750, leaving $20,443 to be required for this purpose from the net profits of the operating companies. As a matter of fact the operating companies made net profits of $186,000, part of which was charged off on account of old damage claims accruing in previous years, another part of which was turned over to the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Co., and the remainder of which was retained by the operating companies. The surplus to the credit of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company's income account for that year was something over $70,000.

"These figures were based mostly upon operation prior to the crossing of the bridge and prior to the opening of new lines like that to Coney Island, both of which ventures have been exceedingly profitable. Moreover, since the close of the fiscal year the company has disposed of $2,000,000 out of the $2,255,000 Brooklyn Queens County & Suburban first consolidated mortgage bonds which it owned, at a price which has enabled it to pay off all the debt incurred on account of the purchase of those bonds and to net a profit to the company of about $240,000, so that in its balance sheet of July 31st the company does not show a dollar of indebtedness other than its bonded indebtedness, and has a surplus to its credit of $368,000. The value of the new extensions of the company in increasing the revenue has been shown very clearly in the earnings since March 1st, which have shown an increase to date of nearly $400,000, or over 14 per cent. During the last three months our increase has been nearly 20 per cent.

"While all of this very high rate of increase is not likely to be maintained during the year, on account of the Coney Island business dropping off in cool weather, yet the increase of over $1,000 a day which we had prior to the beginning of the Coney Island season and prior to the beginning of operation over the bridge, together with the steady increase resulting from operations over the bridge will make a very substantial showing, so that the average increase for the entire fiscal year will probably be somewhere between 10 and 20 per cent.

"We could have made very much more favorable reports had we not undertaken to maintain our track and equipment in the very best possible manner. We expended during the last fiscal year for maintenance of equipment alone over $427,000, all of which was charged into operating expenses, and much of the work thus done was work which might properly have been charged against betterments if we had merely desired to make a good showing in our operating statements. My relations with the persons representing the largest interests in the company have convinced me that they are in the company to stay, to build up the property, and to put it in a condition where it will have the most substantial and permanent prosperity. Certainly that is their policy as it has been outlined to me, and that is the policy under which the system is being operated.

"The income account of the company for the last fiscal year showed a surplus of $70,268. For the first seven months, however, of the present calendar year the income account is as follows:

STATEMENT OF BROOKLYN RAPID TRANSIT FOR SEVEN MONTHS ENDING JULY 31, 1898.

Receipts—		Deductions—
Interest on securities owned and on equity in B'klyn City const. acc.	$166,499	Interest on mort. bonds	$189,504

		Expense accounts	3,489
Total	$505,932	Total	$505,932

"To the above surplus of $263,428 it would be fair to add the surplus of the operating companies not turned over to the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Co. during said period, namely, $35,591, making a total surplus for the period, if all of it had been turned over to the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Co., of $299,019.

"The combined statement of the operating companies for the seven months of the present calendar year, and also for the fiscal year ending June 30, is as follows:

GENERAL INVESTMENT NEWS.

Reorganizations, Etc.—Defaults, Reorganization Plans, Etc.—The usual index is omitted this week but that covering the items published to Aug. 13 inclusive, will be found in last week's issue.

American Telephone & Telegraph.—American Bell Telephone.—Increase of Stock.—The stockholders of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., the company controlled by the American Bell Telephone Co, and owning that company's long-distance telephone system, will vote Sept. 8 upon a proposition to increase the capital stock from $20,000,000 to $25,000,000.—V. 67, p. 72.

Appleton (Wisc.) Water-Works Co.—New England Water-Works.—Difficulty About Receivership.—Herman Erb, cashier of the First National Bank of Appleton, was recently appointed under a bill filed by the Central Trust Co. receiver of the Appleton Water-Works Co. in the United States Court, while J. M. Baer, also of Appleton, was appointed in the Outagamie County Circuit Court, under a creditor's bill. Before either receiver could take possession, however, the New England Co. seized the plant under a tax title.

Both receivers and the New England Co. have now been ordered to appear before Judge Seaman in the United States Court on Aug. 29 to determine which of the parties is right, fully entitled to the possession of the property.—V. 67, p. 221.

Astoria & Columbia River RR.—Contractor's Suit.—Suit has been brought at Seattle by three contractors against the Northwest Construction Co., Astoria & Columbia River Railroad Co. and Central Trust Co. of New York, for $241,488, and $15,000 attorneys' fees. The principal amount is claimed to be the balance due for materials supplied and labor performed in the building of the road. The Central Trust Co. is trustee under a mortgage the lien of which the plaintiffs asks the court to hold inferior to the lien of plaintiffs.—V. 66, p. 1000.

Atlantic Suwanee River & Gulf Ry.—Sale of Bonds.—Of this company's first mortgage 5 per cent 50-year sinking fund gold bonds due Jan. 15, 1945, interest payable January 15 and July 15, $101,000 were sold at auction this week, due July 15, 1898, with coupons attached, for 5 per cent of their par value.

Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe Ry.—California & Oriental Steamship Co.—Steamship Line to China and Japan.—In accordance with the announcement already made, the Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe has entered into a close traffic contract, covering both freight and passenger business, with the California & Oriental Steamship Co., a new American corporation with a capital of $5,000,000. Sailings will be made every 25 days from San Diego for Yokohama and Hong Kong, touching at Honolulu. The officers of the steamship company are: A. H. Butler, of San Diego, President; M. Stanley Tweedie, of the Tweedie Trading Co, New York, Vice President; L. B. Stoddart, of the firm of Bowring & Archibald, steamship agents, 9 Stone Street, New York, Treasurer. The company has one boat ready for service and is arranging to purchase in England two fast freight and passenger vessels.—V. 67, p. 271.

Baltimore & Ohio RR.—Second Instalment of Assessments Payable on or before Sept. 9.—The reorganization committee has called for the second instalment, being $1 per share of first preferred stock deposited, and $10 per share of second preferred stock and common stock, payable on or before Sept. 9, at the Mercantile Trust Co. of New York.

Sale of Preferred Stock.—It is understood the Eutaw Savings Bank and the Savings Bank of Baltimore, the largest individual holders of the second preferred stock, have sold their holdings for a cash consideration, $22a share being mentioned as the price, to Speyer & Co., of New York, representing the reorganization syndicate.

23,000 New Freight Cars.—Within the past 60 days the receivers have ordered almost 6,000 new freight cars, of which the Pullman Company is building 1,000 box and 1,000 drop-end gondolas; the Michigan Peninsular 3,000 box cars, and the South Baltimore Car Works 200 box cars, 500 Hopper coal cars and 15 four-wheel cabooses, making a total of 23,735 freight cars ordered in less than two years. These cars are all of modern construction, are fully equipped with air brakes and automatic couplers, and average 60,000 pounds capacity. It is estimated that fully 85 per cent of the B. & O. freight cars have air brakes and automatic couplers in accordance with the Inter State Law.—V. 67, p. 369.

Brooklyn Elevated RR.—Difficulties of Present Method of Operation.—The question having arisen how nearly the road is deriving its full benefit from the use of the New York & Brooklyn Bridge, we have made inquiries and secured the following facts:

The Brooklyn Elevated trains crossed the Bridge for the first time on Saturday, June 18, 1898. On July 1, 1898, the Brooklyn "L" commenced to operate the local railroad of the Bridge under the contract made in June, 1898, with the Commissioner of Bridges. The service during the month of June was only a partial service, and even to-day the service of the Elevated is of necessity limited, and will remain so until the two main lines, to wit, the Lexington Avenue division and the Fifth Avenue division, are electrically equipped. At present the Elevated operates only the Lexington Avenue division over the Bridge, and that only during "rush hours," viz., on a three-minute schedule from 6 A. M. to 10 A. M. and from 4 P. M. to 8 P. M. on week days. On Sundays in the summer time the Coney Island division is the only route the cars of which cross the Bridge.

Passengers for the Fifth Avenue division, Ridgewood and Broadway divisions are given free transportation on the local railroad of the Bridge and transfer to their respective trains at the loop station at High Street. The reason only one route is operated through to New York is that it is thought preferable to give a full service on one line than a partial service on two or more lines.

The local Bridge railroad is operated at all hours of the day and night as heretofore. The headway varies from 2½ minutes in the rush hours to 4 minutes in the non-rush hours and 6 minutes from mid-night to 5 A. M. On Sundays there being no rush hours the headway is 4 minutes until midnight and 6 minutes thereafter until 5 A. M. Monday.

The difficulty under which the company is operating is obvious. A train comes to Bridge Street drawn by a steam locomotive; the locomotive is detached and an electric motor car substituted. The latter, which carries no passengers, owing to the shortness of the present electric line hauls the train to the tilting sheaves of the Bridge where the other four cars of the train by means of grips take the cable and are hauled to Manhattan Borough. On returning the same operation vice versa is renewed. This causes detention of from 1 to 3 minutes each way and necessitates bringing trains to a full stop. In the interest of safety the management deems it wise not to better the headway until electricity shall be fully installed and every train, whether on the Bridge or along the routes of the Elevated, can be operated with one form of motive power, and be under the full control of one man with assistants. This is stated as the chief incentive which will lead to the early adoption of electricity on the roads of the company.

Electrical Equipment.—Plans are prepared and as soon as formal action is taken by the directors and Reorganization Committee contracts will be made. It is hoped to have all the contracts awarded before Sept. 15 and the routes mentioned under electrical operation before the dawn of the new year. The approximate cost of the third rail bonding and wiring, the motors and electric controllers, together with the necessary new equipment, is estimated at $300,000, but this does not provide for power house, engines and generators. The funds for the equipment are in hand, having been provided for in the reorganization agreement.

Power, etc., can be provided in one of two ways—first, by leasing power; second, by disposing of a part of the surplus securities reserved under the reorganization agreement.

The adoption of electricity will not only permit the elevated to operate through trains of all its routes so equipped across the Bridge at all hours, but will permit of the operation of single cars or short trains in the non-rush hours on very short headway. It will also change the method of illuminating cars and stations from what now is rather unsatisfactory to most modern and approved method of lighting. With the advent of the new year it is thought the Brooklyn "L" will give full through service over the Bridge and be an electric elevated railroad.

Result of Bridge Connection.—No figures, we believe, have heretofore been issued to show the effect on the traffic of the Brooklyn Elevated of the through service to New York. From Feb. 16 to June 18, 1898, the surface lines were furnishing the through transportation at five cents a head, while the passengers of the Brooklyn Elevated were obliged to change cars and to pay two fares in order to reach Manhattan. Consequently the traffic of the elevated fell off heavily during this period. On June 18 the elevated trains began to use the bridge, and on July first the bridge cable railroad passed under the control of the Brooklyn Elevated Company's receiver. The effect of these changes, as will be seen from the following table, was notable:

BROOKLYN ELEVATED RAILROAD—PASSENGERS CARRIED.

[Bridge service began on June 18, 1898.]

Month—	1898.	1897.	Month—	1898.	1897.
January	3,011,385	2,784,399	May	2,337,407	2,794,971
February	2,571,277	2,571,280	June	2,178,116	2,537,604

April	2,418,501	2,882,004	Aug. (12 d'ys)	1,249,475	900,480

For the month of July the gain in passengers, as compared with the same period of 1897, is 43 per cent. For the first twelve days of August the gain was 38 per cent. Additional points of interest affecting the property will be found in an editorial article in the current issue of the STREET RAILWAY SUPPLEMENT, which accompanies the present number of the CHRONICLE.—V. 67, p. 175.

Bell Telephone Co. of Canada.—Increase of Stock.—The directors, it is stated, have decided to increase the capital stock from $3,168,000 to $3,900,000.

Brooklyn Rapid Transit.—Official Explanation.—At our request, President C. L. Rossiter has made an explicit statement regarding the company's finances. This statement, with balance sheet, income account, etc, will be found under the heading "Annual Reports." In the current issue of the STREET RAILWAY SUPPLEMENT, also, is published an editorial article regarding the company's increased traffic as derived from the line across the Brooklyn Bridge. This article, it should be said, was in type before President Rossiter's statement reached us, and it should therefore be read in the light of the new facts which Mr. Rossiter presents. We are told the effect of the improved transportation facilities is already seen in Bensonhurst and other suburbs of Brooklyn in the sudden increase in the number of dwellings under construction.—V. 67, p. 316, 318.

Buffalo City Gas Co.—People's Gas of Buffalo.—Merger.—The long pending negotiations for the merger of these companies have been concluded on the basis fully described in our issue of July 16, page 124. The Buffalo City Gas Co. stockholders have the option of taking either 55 per cent. in the new preferred stock or 25 per cent in the preferred and 15 per cent in cash. A new mortgage will be authorized to secure $8,000,000 of 5 per cent bonds, of which $7,263,000 to be reserved to provide for the existing bonds of the constituent companies, leaving $732,000 to be issued for future requirements. Mr. Emerson McMillin will be President of the consolidated company.—V. 67, p. 124.

Buffalo Kenmore & Tonawanda Electric Ry.—Sold.—At the foreclosure sale on Monday this line, 5 miles long, was sold to Morris Cohn for $63,147 in the company's bonds, and also it is stated the amount of the claim of the assignees, $28,000.—V. 67, p. 27.

Buffalo & Susquehanna RR.—Addison & Susquehanna RR.—Lease.—A special meeting of the stockholders of the Addison & Susquehanna RR. Co. will be held Sept. 19 for the purpose of considering the lease of the railroad to the Buffalo & Susquehanna RR. Co. for the term of twenty-five years.—V. 66, p. 1042; V. 67, p. 26.

Cambria Iron Co.—New Company to Lease the Property and Supply Additional Capital—Right to Subscribe.—The Cambria Steel Co., it is announced, is about to be organized with probably $24,000,000 of capital stock, to lease the Cambria Iron Co. at a rental of 4 per cent, yearly on the Iron Company's $3,000,000 of capital stock. The stock of the new corporation will be offered to the stockholders of the Iron Company, the instalments to be called from time to time as fresh capital is required.

Vice-President John Lowber Welsh of Philadelphia is reported as saying:

"The Cambria Iron Co. has been in existence nearly fifty years, originally as a manufacturer of pig iron and iron rails. It now makes steel rails, structural work and miscellaneous steel work of all kinds. It has a capital of $3,000,000 and assets, at current low valuations, of $30,000,000. The works have really outgrown the capital, owing to the very conservative course always pursued by the managers of not dividing all the profits, but using them for the construction of new plants.

"With a view of providing necessary capital it is proposed to form a company to be called the Cambria Steel Co., with a capital of $24,000,000, which will lease the Cambria Iron Co. at a rental of 4 per cent per annum on the present capital of $3,000,000, making $320,000 per year, the surplus revenue to go to the new Cambria Steel Co. The shareholders of the Cambria Iron Co. will have the privilege of subscribing to the stock of the Cambria Steel Co. if the capital of the new company is fixed at $24,000,000, on the basis of three shares of new stock for one of the old. The new capital will be called only as required, possibly from $1,000,000 to $1,250,000 per year, for the next four or five years."—V. 67, p. 177.

Carolina & Cumberland Gap Ry.—Southern Ry.—Lease.—The Carolina & Cumberland Gap Ry., 24¼ miles in length, from Edgefield to Aiken, S. C., has been leased by the Southern Railway Co. for thirty-seven years, effective July 1, 1898, at a rental of $6,250 per annum. This affords the Southern Company an entrance into Aiken, S. C., a winter resort of importance.—V. 67, p. 124, 366, 378.

Catskill Electric Ry.—Increase of Stock.—The State Railroad Commission has authorized an increase of the company's capital stock from $30,000 to $100,000. The road, originally only about two miles in length in Catskill Village, is to be extended to Windham, Cairo and other villages in Greene and adjoining counties, making a line 16 miles long. Daniel F. Lewis, formerly President of the Brooklyn City Ry., is interested in the proposed road. Louis F. Roberts is President.

Central Fireworks Co.—Annual Dividend.—The company has declared its second annual dividend, viz., 7 per cent on the preferred stock, payable Sept. 1, 1898. The company's office is corner Green and Grand streets, Jersey City. T. J. Scharfenberg is Treasurer.—V. 67, p. 274.

Central Ohio RR.—Suit Filed at Columbus.—George K. Nash, as attorney for the company as reorganized, has filed an intervening petition in the United States Court at Columbus, O., in the case of the Mercantile Trust Co. against the Baltimore & Ohio RR., to recover about $1,000,000 rental alleged to be due it for the use of the line and rolling stock under the provisions of a lease executed Dec. 1, 1866. V. 66, p. 1236.

Central Stamping.—Creditors' Meeting.—At a meeting of the company's creditors this week Alfred R. Turner, Jr., the assignee, submitted a statement, showing liabilities $290,902 and nominal assets $345,233. Of the assets, $345,633 was in machinery, the balance being in merchandise, materials, outstanding accounts and bills receivable. The live assets were estimated at about $240,000. The five concerns mentioned last week as absorbed in 1891 were acquired, it seems, under lease and after ten years Lalance & Grosjean, the St. Louis Stamping Co. and Frederick Haberman & Co. withdrew.—V. 67, p. 370.

Chicago Burlington & Quincy RR.—Bonds Called.—Four per cent bonds due Sept. 1, 1921, to the amount of $68,000 have been drawn for payment and will be paid at par on presentation to the trustee, the New England Trust Co., 85 Devonshire Street, Boston, on Sept. 1, 1898.—V. 67, p. 370.

Chicago Cattle Loan Co. of Chicago.—Incorporated.—This company has been organized under the laws of West Virginia to loan money particularly upon live stock. The capital subscribed is $500,000, paid up $250,000, with the privilege of increase to $2,000,000. Incorporators:

Detroit & Lima Northern Ry.—Through Line Detroit to Columbus.—This company has put in operation its new line from St. Johns to Peoria, Ohio, 41 miles. At the latter point a traffic arrangement made with the Toledo & Ohio Central for Columbus gives the Detroit & Lima Northern a through line from Detroit to Columbus. An extension from St. John's to St. Mary's 20 miles is about completed.—V. 66, p. 616.

Detroit Utica & Romeo Ry.—New Enterprise.—This company has been organized with a capital stock of $300,000 to build an electric railway connecting the towns mentioned in the company's name. The incorporators are Alex. McVitte, Frank E. Kirby, Frank D. Andrews, E. G. Stevenson and Leo M. Butzel, of Detroit; George P. Davis, of Utica. Municipal bonuses aggregating $15,000, as also most of the franchises and right of way, it is stated, have been secured and it is hoped to have cars running by January 1. The motive power will be either electricity or compressed steam.

Flour Consolidation.—Proposition.—Thomas McIntyre, of New York City, was in Minneapolis this week to advocate a plan for the consolidation of the Washburn Crosby, Northwestern Consolidated Milling, and other flour making companies of Minneapolis, Duluth and New York City.

Fulton Wall & Cortlandt Street Ferries RR.—Sold.—After many adjournments the foreclosure sale of this company's franchise, etc., took place on Thursday. Joseph D. Donald was the purchaser for $25,000 over incumbrances, amounting to $596,276, making total price $621,276.—V. 65, p. 1178.

Illinois Steel—Minnesota Iron—Lorain Steel—Elgin Joliet & Eastern RR.—Chicago Lake Shore & Eastern RR.—Pending Consolidation.—The negotiations which have been pending for some time looking to a consolidation of the Illinois Steel and the Minnesota Iron companies, it is understood, have been practically completed, but no official statement of the terms of the merger can be obtained as we go to press. Reports are to the effect that the consolidated company will have a capitalization of $200,000,000, of which one-half preferred.—V. 67, p. 371; V. 66, p. 709; V. 65, p. 461; V. 64, p. 422.

THE DENVER & RIO GRANDE RAILROAD COMPANY.

TWELFTH ANNUAL REPORT—FOR THE FISCAL YEAR ENDED JUNE 30, 1898.

To the Stockholders of the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad Co:

The income of your Company from all sources, exclusive of accretions to the Renewal Fund, during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1898, including $62,402 91 interest on securities, etc., was $8,405,328 95, an increase of $1,408,531 68 compared with the previous year. The gross earnings from the operation of the railroad were $8,342,926 04, being an increase of $1,397,811 51. The operating expenses were $5,017,599 38, an increase of $942,262 89. The net earnings from traffic were $3,325,326 66, being $455,548 62 more than for the previous fiscal year. The increase in gross earnings was 20·13%; in expenses, 23·12%, and in net earnings, 15·87%. The net income afforded a surplus of $257,252 31 after providing for interest on funded debt, taxes, insurance and all other charges against income; also two semi-annual dividends aggregating 2½% upon the preferred stock and contributions of $30,000 to the Renewal Fund and $20,000 to a special fund established for meeting the expenses of converting the outstanding 7% bonds, as hereinafter explained. For detailed information you are referred to the tables and statistics prepared by the Comptroller and the Auditor, and submitted herewith for your information.

Current assets show an increase of $451,672 34 and current liabilities an increase of only $191,459 94, from $1,749,910 01 in 1897 to $1,941,369 95 in 1898. On June 30, 1898, the current assets exceeded the current liabilities $2,168,709 38, an increase of $260,212 40 from June 30, 1897, when the excess of current assets over current liabilities was $1,908,496 98. The unpaid vouchers at the close of the fiscal year, payable in the usual course of business during the succeeding month, amounted to $175,885 85, which is less than the amount that was audited for the month of June. There is no floating indebtedness of any kind whatever.

Your Company has in its treasury bonds and stocks aggregating at par $5,955,870, appearing on the books at $2,017,350 20, and in addition it has in its Special Renewal Fund and Special Bond Conversion Fund cash and securities at par $612,892 29, carried on the books at $473,069 71, total of all being at par $6,568,762 29.

For the fiscal year covered by this report the revenues from freight traffic were $6,181,777 34, against $4,894,611 61 for the preceding year. The passenger revenues for the year just closed were $1,360,715 84, against $1,247,991 29 for the preceding year.

In coaformity with the practice of the Company a committee was appointed at the annual meeting of the shareholders in October, 1897, to select an experienced and disinterested person to examine on their behalf the accounts, and verify them if found satisfactory. The committee again selected Mr. Warren G. Purdy, now the President of the Chicago Rock Island & Pacific Railway Company, who kindly consented to act, and who, after a careful examination in Denver of the books and accounts, verified them. His certificate is hereinafter submitted for your information.

Of the increase in Operation Expenses of $942,262 89, compared with previous year, $579,645 21 was in conducting transportation, and was caused by the larger volume of traffic to be handled and transported; the increase in Maintenance of Equipment was $191,148 57, and was due to the same cause; the increase in Maintenance of Way, $128,405 11, was mainly caused by the use of about 5,300 tons more new rails than were used in the preceding year, and by increased track forces; and the increase in Maintenance of Structures, $65,389 84, was largely due to the replacement with heavy spans of steel of several important bridges on the standard-gauge main line, where the original structures were built many years ago, some of wood and some of iron, of light design, and inadequate for the weight and speed of your standard-gauge trains. The permanent way was substantially improved and the rolling stock was increased in efficiency during the year on both the standard and narrow-gauge systems; all the standard-gauge motive power has been actively employed, and the narrow-gauge to a greater extent than since the panic of 1893.

In pursuance of the policy heretofore entered upon of strenghtening the track throughout the system, 7,270 tons of new 85-pound steel rail were laid between Denver and Colorado Springs, which completed the work referred to in former reports, of replacing all the 65-pound rail with 85-pound in the single main track, 92 miles, between Denver and Pueblo. It is proposed to re-lay with 85-pound steel during the ensuing year the 28 miles of double track between these points, and have all the main tracks of the First District of the First Division, Denver to Pueblo, a distance of 120 miles, where the traffic is the heaviest, laid with this weight of rail; and in renewing rails in future on other parts of the standard gauge main line the same pattern of rail will be used. The second-hand rails released in these renewals are laid on other parts of the system in place of rails of lighter weight, and the entire cost of replacing the light rails with heavier ones is charged to Operation Expenses. This plan has been followed for seven years, and accomplishes the double purpose of renewing with heavy rail the standard-gauge main line, and strengthening the narrow-gauge main lines with good second hand rail of larger section than that with which they were originally constructed.

During the year four heavy ten-wheel standard-gauge locomotives were added to the equipment, of which two were built at the shops of the Company in Denver and the other two were purchased. They are of the same type as those described in the last annual report, except that the capacity of the tenders has been increased to 5,500 gallons of water. About four-fifths of the cost of these engines was paid for out of the Renewal Fund and the remainder was charged to Maintainence of Equipment. Six more of the same class are now under contract and will be received about the end of August.

The gratifying increase in earnings was caused by a marked improvement in business conditions, not only in Colorado but throughout the country generally. Both the local and through traffic of your Company show substantial gains over the previous year, but they were mainly in freight traffic, as will be observed by reference to figures hereinbefore given. Nearly all interests served by your lines—the mining, the manufacturing, the commercial and the agricultural—yielded larger volumes of traffic, and the outlook at present is encouraging. The agricultural valleys traversed by your lines give promise of greater crops than those of 1897, which were the largest harvested to that time on farming lands tributary to your railroad.

In view of the fact that the Seven Per Cent First Mortgage Bonds of the Denver & Rio Grande Railway Company, amounting to $6,382,500, will mature on November 1, 1900, your Directors believed it prudent to prepare for refunding them at a lower rate of interest, and they are pleased to be able to inform the Shareholders that a satisfactory arrangement to that end has been made. Under the terms of the General Mortgage no greater amount than that of the outstanding Seven Per Cent Bonds can be issued in exchange for them, so that it was necessary to fix such rate of interest for the new bonds as would assure refunding at reasonable cost to the Company. After careful deliberation your Directors decided upon 4½ per cent per annum, and a contract has been entered into with responsible parties for refunding the Seven Per Cents on this basis. As the maturing bonds are a first mortgage upon about 296 miles of the most valuable part of the railroad, their lien upon that mileage will be removed when they are retired and the Four Per Cent General Mortgage Bonds, together with the New Four and One-half Per Cents mentioned, will then become a first lien upon the entire property of your Company. Satisfactory progress has already been made in the refunding, and when the transaction is completed the annual interest on the funded debt will be about $160,000 less than heretofore.

In their annual report for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1895, your Directors explained a contract entered into with the Rio Grande Southern Railroad Company, whose property, owing to adverse business conditions and consequent inability to meet obligations, had been placed in the hands of a Receiver. It was stated that an arrangement had been made whereby your Company advanced to the Rio Grande Southern $169,839 10 in cash and endorsed that Company's notes to the amount of $573,498 25, the notes running for one, two and three years, in equal amounts, with interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum to the secured and 4 per cent to the unsecured creditors. As part consideration the Rio Grande Southern Company assigned to your Company $671,000 of its First Mortgage Bonds, which were held as collateral by the secured creditors. In addition to this and under the general plan of settlement the Rio Grande Southern stockholders were to transfer to your Company, free of cost, one-half the capital stock of their Company. The bondholders were to cancel all unpaid coupons up to and including January 1, 1895, and the interest on the bonds was to be reduced from 5 per cent per annum to 3 per cent per annum for three years from the first of January, 1895, and 4 per cent thereafter during the life of the bonds. In their annual report for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1896, your Directors stated that every bondholder, stockholder and creditor had assented to the plan, and that a majority of the stock of the Southern Company had been assigned to your Company. The last of the notes herein referred to, endorsed by your Company, matured January 1, 1898, and with its payment the entire transaction was closed. The bonds of the Southern Company now bear interest at the rate of 4 per cent per annum, and those held by your Company afford a satisfactory income upon the investment. As the arrangement required the Southern Company to pay over to your Company its surplus, if any, standing to the credit of Profit and Loss on December 31, 1897, the Southern Company on that date paid to your Company the sum of $83,238 10.

The earnings of your Company on traffic to and from the Rio Grande Southern Railroad during the fiscal year were $351,783 75, against $351,239 78 for the year ended June 30, 1897. The gross income of the Rio Grande Southern from all sources during the year was $429,905 75, an increase of $25,678 02 compared with the previous year. The Net Revenue afforded a surplus of $7,587 74 after providing for interest on funded debt, taxes, insurance and other charges against Income. For further information regarding the operations of the Rio Grande Southern you are respectfully referred to the annual report of that Company for the fiscal year just closed.

With their accustomed faithfulness and intelligence the officers and employes generally have seconded the efforts of the management in behalf of your Company, and they are with pleasure accorded their due share of credit for the improved results that are herein submitted.

By order of the Board of Directors.

E. T. JEFFERY,
President.

Denver, Colorado. August 12, 1898.

From the net earnings		$1,339,689 58
are to be deducted:
Interest on funded debt	$965,965 56
Interest on floating debt	4,265 72
Erie RR. Co.—Rental of track	35,464 03
Clearfield & Mahoning Ry. Co.—Rental of track	71,516 67
Mahoning Valley Rlt. Co.—Rental of track.	15,000 00
Taxes	62,303 04

Profit		$352,321 08
Against last year		230,887 13
An increase of 52·59 per cent, or		$121,433 95

After meeting the fixed liabilities of the year, expending $132,853 48 for extraordinary expenses and improvements, and paying two dividends of one per cent each, amounting to $120,000, on the preferred capital stock, there remained a surplus of $232,321 08 to be carried to the credit of profit and loss account.

FREIGHT EARNINGS.

The average rate received per ton per mile decreased 57·100ths of a mill, being 4 23-100 mills, as against 4 80-100 mills a year ago. The average distance each ton was hauled decreased 6 49-100 miles, being 125 03-100 miles, as against 131 52-100 miles last year. Notwithstanding these adverse conditions, there was a gain of $350,807 01 in the gross freight revenue, arising from the increased tonnage, which more than offset the loss in rate and the shorter distance carried.

The revenue tonnage moved was:

Bituminous coal	4,092,850
Last year	2,949,582
An increase of 38·70 per cent, or		1,143,268
Coke	548,231
Last year	431,218
An increase of 27·14 per cent, or		117,013
Other freight	1,233,092
Last year	992,388
An increase of 24 26 per cent, or		240,704
Grand total tonnage	5,874,173
Last year	4,373,188
An increase of 34·32 per cent, or		1,500,985

Bituminous coal and coke furnished 79·01 per cent of the total tonnage.

Lumber, grain, pig iron, salt, merchandise and ore largely increased; whilst vegetables, fruits and brick slightly decreased—the net results giving a gain of 24·26 per cent in other freight.

PASSENGER EARNINGS.

The average rate received per passenger per mile increased 3-100 of a mill, being 2 161-1000 cents, as against 2 158-1000 cents a year ago. The average distance each passenger was carried increased 66-100 of a mile, being 22 17-100 miles, as against 21 51-100 miles last year. The increased number of passengers carried, with the small advance in the average rate and distance carried, including small increases in mail earnings, etc., produced a gain in revenue of $22,902 40.

The improvement, though slight, doubtless marks the close of a persistent decline that has been in progress ever since the World's Fair business of 1893.

Passengers carried		733,208
Last year		714,827
An increase of 2·57 per cent, or		18,381

EXPENSES.

The operating expenses, not including $132,853 48 extraordinary expenses and improvements, increased 5·01 per cent, or $112,960 88, of which $98,752 52 is found in conducting transportation account, arising from the increased tonnage of the year.

The average number of tons carried one mile per train mile was increased 30, being 326 now, as against 296 a year ago.

The average cost per ton per mile was 2 62 100 mills, being 52-100 of a mill less than last year.

The important improvements made in the physical condition of the road and its equipment have been the chief factors in attaining these results.

The new viaduct over the Cattaraugus Creek, on the Buffalo Division, was completed during the year. Its total cost, $104,384 04, was charged to extraordinary expenses and improvements.

Besides shortening the main line 4-100 of a mile the grade was reduced from one per cent to six-tenths per cent, the curvature lessened 146 degrees and a structure provided capable of carrying our heaviest rolling stock with safety.

The decrease in the length of road operated arises from the straightening of the alignment at Lanes Mills, Pa., and Cattaraugus Viaduct, N. Y.

The sidings were increased 6·42 per cent, or 9·24 miles, making the ratio of sidings to road operated at present time 45·58 per cent, as against 42·49 per cent last year.

CONSTRUCTION.

The following amounts were charged to this account:

Five new bridges	$3,119 11
Filling eleven trestles—two-thirds cost	4,942 56
Re-laying track with heavy steel rails	20,681 65
Land and land damages	12,591 32
New passenger and freight stations	2,779 15
New turntables and shop storehouses	6,051 79
Other buildings	3,660 53
New shops, tools and machinery	3,495 13
Additional facilities—Buffalo docks and trestles	11,758 54
Sidings and yard extensions	47,359 51
Cut-off line—Lanes Mills, Pa.	172,214 73
Overhead crossing—Buffalo Terminal Ry.—West Seneca, N. Y., one-half cost	18,459 59
Sundry miscellaneous items	2,391 32

During the year 49 24-100 miles of main track were relaid with standard rails, weighing 80 lbs. to the yard, making a total mileage of 225 88-100 miles, or 72·92 per cent of the total road mileage operated, exclusive of trackage rights, now equipped with the heavy rail, as against 56·53 per cent last year. The value of the difference in weight of the new rail over that replaced was charged to construction account, the remaining cost being debited to operating expenses.

Besides reducing the grades, curves, and eliminating long trestles, the main line was shortened 3 49-100 miles between Falls Creek, Pa., and Lanes Mills, Pa., by the completion of the cut-off line authorized last year.

By an agreement, your road was elevated at West Seneca, N. Y., to cross the Terminal Ry. of Buffalo over-head, each road bearing one-half the expense. The gain to our company is in the saving of a grade crossing at a busy point and a decided betterment of the line.

EQUIPMENT.

There was expended for new rolling stock as follows:

Twelve locomotives	$124,911 48
Five hundred and five freight cars	318,327 63
Ten Company's service cars	10,529 05
Air-brakes, automatic couplers and other betterments	30,911 71
		$484,589 87

Of the above equipment, five freight cars and nine service cars were built at the Company's shops.

The account was credited with the following items for equipment changed, sold and destroyed, charged to operating expenses:

Two locomotives	$14,870 08
Three hundred and four freight cars	101,634 24
Two Company's service cars	1,525 00
Depreciation in changing cars from a higher to a lower class	3,830 00
		121,859 32
Making a net increase of		$362,730 55

Included in the above are two hundred and forty-five car torn down at the company's shops.

During the year 519 cars were furnished with air-brakes and 1,242 cars fitted with automatic couplers.

The total charge to construction and equipment accounts for the year was as follows:

Buffalo Rochester & Pittsburg Ry.—proper	$309,904 93
Proprietary roads	6,129 74
Clearfield & Mahoning Ry.	6,817 00
EQUIPMENT	362,730 55
Total	$685,582 22

The following funds were provided to meet these expenditures:

Car trusts sold	$353,000 00

CLEARFIELD & MAHONING RAILWAY.

This company, at a meeting held April 14th, 1898, authorized an increase of its capital stock from $650,000 00 to $750,000 00. The new stock was sold on June 30th, 1898, at 120 per cent, realizing $120,000 00. After the repayment of $117,088 02, the amount advanced by your Company for the construction of this line, the excess amount, $2,911 98, was reserved to apply on future advances.

The annual rental of this road will now be $77,500 00 per annum, instead of $71,500 00 as formerly, your stockholders having, at a special meeting held April 14th, 1898, authorized the guaranty of dividends at the rate of 6 per cent per annum on the additional issue of $100,000 00 of stock.

ALLEGHENY & WESTERN RAILWAY.

On January 31, 1898, a contract was entered into to lease the line of this company from Punxsutawney, Pa., to New Castle, Pa., about 98 miles. This contract was ratified at a special meeting of your stockholders held at Ridgway, Pa., April 14, 1898.

The road is being built under the supervision of the Buffalo Rochester & Pittsburg Railway Co., and its cost is to be represented by 50% of 6% stock and 50% of 100-year first mortgage 4% bonds. According to the terms of the lease, the dividend on the stock, and the principal and interest of the bonds, payable in gold, are to be guaranteed by the Buffalo Rochester & Pittsburg Railway Co. on whatever amount of each will be issued to pay for the construction and equipment of the road.

The amount of bonds to be guaranteed is limited to $2,500,000, to be issued only after the proceeds of a corresponding amount of stock at par has been expended on the road.

The Allegheny & Western Railway Co. sold $2,500,000 of its 6 per cent stock at par, and the same amount of 4 per cent bonds at 90 per cent, to be paid for as required for the construction of the road.

The right to subscribe to four shares of Allegheny & Western Railway Co. stock, for every twenty-five shares of Buffalo Rochester & Pittsburg Railway Co. stock, was offered to your stockholders and largely availed of.

The road is expected to be open for business in the spring of 1899. It will afford a Western outlet for coal and coke, besides insuring return loading of miscellaneous freight.

BONDED DEBT.

$94,000 00 Car Trust bonds matured and were paid off. New series Nos. 13 and 14 were authorized for $390,000 00, and $257,000 00 issued. In addition, there were issued $96,000 00 of series No, 12, authorized in 1895, making a net increase of $259,000 00 in outstanding car trust bonds.

A $2,500 00 mortgage was assumed in the purchase of lands during the year.

The net result is an increase of $261,500 00 in the bonded debt of the company.

DIVIDENDS.

Dividends of one per cent each on the preferred capital stock were paid on August 16th, 1897, and February 15th, 1898.

ROCHESTER & PITTSBURG COAL & IRON COMPANY.

The operation of the Rochester & Pittsburgh Coal & Iron Company for the fiscal year, after deducting $56,999 96 bonds that were paid off out of the net earnings, shows a profit of $164,584 32, against $178,980 10 of last year, a decrease of 8·04 per cent, or $14,395 78. Against this profit the company charged $163,978 71, being the entire amount expended during the year for mining machinery, buildings, equipment, and the development of mines, leaving a balance of $605 61, which was carried to the credit of its profit and loss account.

The thanks of the Board are extended to the officers and employes for their faithful and efficient services.

Statements and statistics of the operations for the year are submitted herewith [in pamphlet report].

The Board regrets to announce, since the close of the year, the death of Mr. James A. Roosevelt, for many years a director, and who always took an active interest in the affairs of the company.

By order of the Board,

ARTHUR G. YATES,
President.

CHICAGO GREAT WESTERN RAILWAY COMPANY.

SIXTH ANNUAL REPORT—FOR THE FISCAL YEAR ENDING JUNE 30, 1898.

To the Shareholders:

The Directors, in presenting the sixth annual report containing the accounts for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1898, congratulate the proprietors upon the improved condition of the railway and the better results from operation.

During the year the Company has operated 929·51 miles, which is 1·49 miles more than in the preceding year, and the figures of the last year are given for comparison:

	This Year. $	Preceding Year. $	Increase. $

The Gross Receipts have increased 15·07 per cent.

The Net Earnings have increased 30·48 per cent.

The Freight Earnings have increased $553,503 08, or 15·59 per cent.

The Passenger Earnings have increased $137,253 59, or 14·63 per cent.

The other earnings have increased $14,424 61, or 0·74 per cent.

The earnings on "freight forwarded from and received at Chicago" increased $115,128 32, and the "other freight earnings" increased $438,377 76. Of the increase in the passenger earnings, $69,204 42 was from coupon tickets and $68,049 17 from local tickets.

The policy of making liberal expenditures upon the permanent way and the rolling stock has been continued. Every tie in the whole line and about 95 per cent of all the bridges have now been renewed, and in the renewal more than half of the bridges have been made permanent with earth over stone arch waterways.

During the year 226 freight cars have been purchased to make good the cars which have been destroyed and otherwise gone out of service since the organization of the company. The entire cost of these 226 cars is included in the operating expenses of the year.

All the locomotives and all the cars, both passenger and freight, have been thoroughly repaired and put in first-class condition.

The expenditures for Operating Expenses have been:

	This Year.	Preceding Year.	Increase.
For Maintenance of Way	$653,563 63	$676,025 95	dec. $22,462 32
For Maintenance of Equip.	600,246 02	467,097 38	133,248 64
For Conduct'g Transport'n	2,000,914 41	1,788,394 47	212,519 94
For Traffic Agencies and Advertising	192,591 78	179,557 21	13,034 57
For General Expenses	330,056 86	316,612 85	13,444 01

During the year there have been purchased 74 box cars and 100 special ballast cars. Air brakes and automatic couplers have been added to 700 freight cars, and this work is now progressing at the rate of about 250 cars per month.

The time limit contained in the Act of Congress within which railway companies are required to thus equip their freight cars has been extended to Jan. 1, 1900. At the end of the fiscal year the Company had 50 per cent of all its cars thus equipped, and it will easily complete the work within the prescribed period.

The total expenditures of the year for additions to the equipment amount to $185,687 18.

In 1895, the Company began a comprehensive plan of improving the track and permanent way by cutting down grades, widening and strengthening the banks, increasing side tracks, making permanent with earth, stone and steel its bridges, and thoroughly ballasting the track.

Since then the work has progressed systematically, and the present summer will nearly complete the work thus planned

There has been expended upon the permanent way:

In the fiscal year 1895	$170,653 36
In the fiscal year 1896	363,804 18
In the fiscal year 1897	520,449 35
In the fiscal year 1898	565,322 66
Total	$1,620,280 75

As the fiscal year ends June 30th, in the middle of the summer season, when only work of this nature can be prosecuted, it is difficult to specify the work done in the fiscal year. It is particularly difficult with the work which is going on the present season, which is of such a character that, while each piece is in progress, but little is completed. In the matter of bridging, besides 151 wooden culverts and 140 ordinary pile bridges, 20 important trestle bridges from 18 to 70 feet high, being nearly all the bridges of that class on the whole line, are being made permanent by being filled with earth on stone arched waterways at an estimated cost of $308,173.

Numerous gangs of men and teams are at work widening the cuts and strengthening the embankments, and ballast, in some places of gravel, and in others of crushed stone is being put under the track at the rate of about two miles per day.

Extensive fireproof shops built of stone, steel and brick, roofed with tile, and estimated to cost $250,000, are in course of construction at the town of Oelwein, which is the centre of the system. The machinery will be installed with electrical transmission of power, and it is expected that they will be ready for occupancy early in 1899.

Petersburg Electric Ry.—Piedmont Traction.—Foreclosure Sale.—The Upper Appomattox Co. and the Farmers' Loan & Trust Co., it is understood, have united in an application for a decree ordering the sale of the Petersburg Electric Street Ry. The mortgage indebtedness is said to be $50,000. Rio Grande Western RR.—Dividend on Common Stock Payable in Preferred Stock.—The company has declared a dividend of 2 per cent on its common stock, payable at its office, 11 Broadway, New York, on Sept. 30th, in preferred stock at par, to common stockholders of record Sept. 20. The annual statement is published on a preceding page.

A circular to the stockholders says:

The net earnings for the last fiscal year show a surplus of $220,000 beyond the full 5 per cent paid upon the preferred stock. While the expenditures upon the property during the past years have been liberal, both for current maintenance and for improvements and betterments, it is deemed best to make further outlays for improvements. The directors have therefore decided to make no cash division to the common stockholders, but to make a dividend of 2 per cent, payable in preferred stock at par, and so provide $200,000 of cash toward such betterment outlays. A further sum of $50,000 is directed to be charged to profit and loss from the balance to credit, making a total amount for betterments of $250,000. Of this $87,000 had been expended up to June 30, and a portion of the remainder has been authorized to be expended during the current fiscal year.—V. 66, p. 1090.

Saginaw Consolidated Street Ry.—Union Street Ry.—Foreclosure Decree.—At Detroit, on petition of the Boston Safe Deposit & Trust Co., mortgage trustee, foreclosure decrees have been entered in the United States Circuit Court against both these companies. The amount due under the mortgage of the consolidated company is stated as $253,719, subject to receiver's certificates for $30,000, and under the Union Street Railway mortgage as $361,150, subject to receiver's certificates for $59,000.—V. 65, p. 572; V. 64, p. 1043.

St. Louis Avoyelles & Southwestern RR.—Sold.—The property was sold on Aug. 20 by order of the United States Court, and was bid in by Emile Cahlback for $110,000 —V. 62, p. 1179.

St. Paul Union Stock Yards.—Additional Bonds Authorized.—At the annual meeting held June 8, 1898, it appears that Article 4 of the articles of incorporation was amended to read as follows: "The highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which said corporation shall at any time be subject is the sum of $2,000,000." Mark D. Flower is President and A. A. M'Kechnie Secretary of the company.

Tarrytown White Plains & Mamaroneck Ry.—New Bonds.—The Knickerbocker Trust Co., the mortgage trustee, advertises that it will pay the interest due Sept. 1 on the 5 per cent first mortgage gold bonds due March 1, 1928. The loan is $300,000, of which $150,000 outstanding.—V. 67, p. 75.

Union Pacific RR.—Union Pacific Lincoln & Colorado Ry.—Sale.—At the foreclosure sale of the Union Pacific Lincoln & Colorado Railway on Aug. 20, the property was purchased by First Vice-President Cornish and Attorney Greer for the Union Pacific RR., for the sum of $1,300,000.—V. 67, p. 372, 179.

COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

FRIDAY NIGHT, Aug. 26, 1898.

As a rule business conditions have been reported as fairly satisfactory, and merchants in most lines of merchandise have continued to note a gradually expanding trade, and confidence in the prospects for a good fall business continne to be quite general. The activity and higher prices for Industrial shares in the stock market is also taken as evidence showing improved business conditions. A report at the close of the week that the President had chosen the Peace Commissioner was a topic of some interest.

Lard on the spot at the Western market has been in fairly active export demand, but at lower prices. Refiners have been slow buyers. The close was steady at 5·40c. for prime Western and 5c. for prime City. Refined lard has had a moderate sale at a decline in values, closing at 5·70c. for refined for the Continent. The speculation in lard for future delivery has been moderately active. Prices have declined under general selling prompted by full receipts of swine and in sympathy with an easier market for corn.

Pork has had only a limited sale, but values have held steady, closing at $9 50@$10 for mess, $11 50@$12 25 for family and $11 50@$13 00 for short clear. Cut meats have been in fair demand for pickled bellies and firmer, closing at 6¼@7½c. for pickled bellies, 14@10 lbs. average, 7¼@7½c. for pickled hams and 4@4¼c. for pickled shoulders. Beef has sold slowly, but prices have not changed, closing at $8 50@$9 00 for mess, $9 00@$9 50 for packet, $10@$11 for family and $15@$16 for extra India mess. Beef hams have been steady at $22. Tallow has been quiet but steady at 3⅝c. Oleo stearine has had a limited sale and prices have advanced slightly, closing at 5c. for prime City. Lard stearine has been easier at 6¼c. for prime City. Cotton-seed oil had sold slowly and prices have weakened to 23c. for prime yellow. Butter has had a moderate sale at steady prices, closing at 14½@19c. for creamery. Cheese has been quiet and easier, closing at 0@8c. for State factory, full cream. Fresh eggs have advanced, closing at 15c. for choice Western.

Brazil grades of coffee have had a fairly active distributing sale, an upward tendency to prices stimulating a demand. Frost reports from Santos and the continued moderate movement of the crop have been the principal strengthening features. Speculation in cotton for future delivery has been only moderately active and the tendency of values has continued downward. Easier European advices and selling for foreign account has been the principal depressing feature. The weakness in the foreign markets, it is stated, has been chiefly due to the freer offerings by the South of cotton for shipment. Continued generally favorable prospects for the growing crop have also had a similar influence. Saturday was observed as a holiday by the Cotton Exchange. Nevertheless there was some "curb" trading and prices for January declined 5 points under unexpectedly weaker advices from Liverpool. Monday the market was weak and lower. Foreign advices were decidedly easier, due, it was stated to selling against firm offers of cotton from the South. There was also a moderate amount of selling in the local market for foreign account. Tired longs too were sellers to liquidate accounts, prompted by the weaker foreign advices and favorable crop prospects at the South. The close showed a decline in prices of 13 to 15 points as compared with last Friday's final figures. Tuesday the market was steadier. Foreign advices came better than expected, and there was moderate buying by both local and foreign shorts to cover contracts. There was also some buying for investment account, attracted by the low prices which, during Monday's decline, touched the minimum record made for the crop of 1897-98. Wednesday the market was again easier. There was renewed selling for foreign account, reported as being against firm offers from the South, and local longs were sellers to liquidate accounts. The buying power lacked force, coming almost exclusively from shorts to cover contracts. Thursday there was a quiet market and changes in prices for the day were unimportant, as neither buyers nor sellers were aggressive. To-day the market opened at a slight decline in response to easier foreign advices. Subsequently, however, reports of heavy rains in the Atlantic States stimulated some buying. The close showed prices 3 to 4 points higher for the day. The spot market declined 1/16c. on Monday. The close was steady at 5 3/4c. for middling uplands.

On the basis of the rates on and off middling as established by the Revision Committee, the prices for a few of the grades would be as follows:

GOVERNMENT WEEKLY COTTON REPORT.—Mr. W. L. Moore, Chief of the Weather Bureau of the Agricultural Department, made public on Tuesday the following telegraphic reports on the crop in the Southern States for the week ending Aug. 22:

VIRGINIA.—Showers and sunshine combined to produce fine growth of vegetation.

NORTH CAROLINA.—Continuation of rainy weather injuring all crops; cotton deteriorating, shedding and rust increasing, and even half grown bolls dropping; it is opening more rapidly in south, some picked.

SOUTH CAROLINA.—Excessive moisture injured cotton by causing increased shedding and rust; cotton looks promising, but is deteriorating, bolls on rank growth rotting to some extent; picking fairly begun.

GEORGIA.—Frequent showers keep land too wet to plow and add to the damage to cotton; cotton shedding, rusting and opening prematurely, much complaint of boll worms, picking continues.

FLORIDA.—Rains excessive over greater portion of State, damaging cotton on lowlands.

ALABAMA.—Favorable week; cotton considerably damaged by rust, rot, and shedding in southern counties, but general improvement noted; in northern counties cotton very promising, is opening rapidly and picking is becoming general in southern counties.

MISSISSIPPI.—Warm and dry; favorable week for all crops; cotton improving, opening rapidly and picking becoming more general, first bales reported in nearly all sections, fewer reports of shedding and worms.

LOUISIANA.—Slightly warmer than usual, with rainfall generally light, which was favorable for cotton; rust and shedding continue, but damage by boll worms decreasing, also less complaint of grassy fields; picking begun and several bales marketed.

TEXAS.—Warm and no rain during the week, except showers in south portion; cotton suffering from drought except in southeast portion, where crop is clean but very irregular and generally late, shedding in many localities, boll worms and caterpillars damaging crop in many sections, aided in southern portion by Mexican boll weevil; nevertheless in some sections crop is very promising, picking progressing in southern portion and commenced in northern portion.

ARKANSAS.—Warm, dry weather, favorable to cotton, which is beginning to open rapidly, picking has commenced, some damage by boll worms, caterpillars, rust and blight, some upland cotton continues to shed.

TENNESSEE.—Except rains, some heavy, middle of week, generally warm sunshine prevailed, greatly improving conditionof growing and maturing crops; cotton opening with scant fruitage.

OKLAHOMA.—Cotton continues to improve and is generally very fine very few insects on plants and but little shedding.

MISSOURI.—Dry weather needed for cotton.

These reports on cotton are summarized by the Department as follows:

In the Carolinas, Georgia and Florida cotton has continued to suffer injury from excessive rains and lack of sunshine, and complaints of shedding and rust are general in these States, premature opening being reported from Georgia. There has been a decided improvement in the condition of cotton in the Central Gulf States as a result of fair weather and favorable temperature conditions. In Texas cotton has suffered from drought except in the southeast portion of the State; the crop is clean, irregular, and generally late; in many localities it is shedding and suffering from the ravages of insects, while in other sections the crop is very promising. Picking is becoming general over the southern portion of the cotton region.

NEW ENGLAND COTTON MILL SITUATION.—The Chace, Sanford and Wampanoag mills of Fall River, representing in all 255,000 spindles, are idle this week and the Merchants' Manf. Co., 125,000 spindles, has posted notices of a two weeks' shut-down, beginning next Monday, August 29. The Sagamore No. 2, Chace and Stafford mills will be idle next week, and the Granite is to close for the week beginning Sept. 5.

BREADSTUFFS.

FRIDAY, Aug. 26, 1898.

Business in the market for wheat flour has been quiet Demand has been slow from both the home trade and exporters. Buyers generally have been slow in placing orders their purchases having been confined to peddling lots, a with few exceptions they have been holding off for lower values. Prices have shown some irregularity. In the main they have held to a steady basis, but here and there concessions have been obtained. Choice old crop wheat flour has been in light supply and well held. Rye flour has had a limited sale at steady prices. Corn meal has sold slowly, but offerings have not been excessive and values have held to a steady basis.

Speculation in wheat for future delivery has been on a moderate scale only. Early in the week prices were depressed by dull and easier foreign advices and a large crop movement in the Northwest. Subsequently, however, there developed a steadier tone on a falling off in the crop movement and a more active shipping demand. The statistical position also had a strengthening effect upon values. Saturday was a holiday in the local market. There was, however, some "curb" trading and prices for September declined 1⅝c. to 68c., in response to weak and lower foreign advices. Monday the market was easier under weaker foreign advices, a large movement of the crop in the Northwest and favorable weather conditions at the West for harvesting the crop. The close showed a decline in prices of ⅞@1¾c as compared with Friday's final figures. Tuesday there was a steadier tone to the market and prices advanced ¼@⅝c. The buying was principally by shorts to cover contracts stimulated by an improved shipping demand. Advices received from the West stating that only a small supply of wheat arriving was grading contract also had its influence in hardening values. Wednesday the market was firmer during early 'Change on crop damage reports from Eastern Russia. Subsequently, however, there developed increased pressure to sell prompted by weaker foreign advices, and prices declined, closing ⅞@1½c. lower for the day. Thursday prices were lower early in response to foreign advices. Later there developed a demand from shorts to cover contracts and as offerings were limited prices advanced and closed ⅛@¼c. higher for the day. To-day there was a firmer market during early 'Change on buying by shorts to cover contracts stimulated by firmer foreign advices and a moderate crop movement. Subsequently there was increased pressure to sell, and as the demand had subsided prices reacted. The close showed prices ⅜@⅝c. lower for the day. The spot market was quiet but steady. The sales for export here and at outports were 80,000 bushels.

There has been only a limited amount of trading in the market for Indian corn futures, and prices have declined under favorable weather conditions for the growing crop, free selling by the country and a large crop movement. Early in the week the downward tendency to values was most pronounced, prices on Monday showing a decline of ⅞@1c. A slight recovery followed in response to firmer advices from the West, where there was some buying by shorts to cover contracts. Subsequently, however, the market again turned easier under free offerings from the country. To-day the market advanced early in sympathy with the rise in wheat, later reacted, and closed ½c. lower for the day. The spot market was moderately active. The export sales were 175,000 bushels.

Oats for future delivery have been dull. Early in the week prices weakened slightly in response to easier advices from the West, where there was slightly increased pressure to sell. Sympathy with the decline in corn also had a weakening effect upon values. The cash trade has been only moderate, as neither shippers nor the home trade have been extensive buyers. To-day the market was quiet and unchanged. The spot market was steady. No export business reported.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, P. M., Aug. 26, 1898.

The most prominent feature in business this week was the auction sale of 75,000 pieces of dress goods, the production of the Arlington Mills, Lawrence, Mass. At agents' prices these represented a value of about $1,250,000, but at the prices realized at the sale but little more than $800,000. The competition was very irregular, and where plain goods declined on an average 20 per cent fancies fell off fully 40 per cent. It was hardly expected that the sale would prove an unqualified success, but the result was even more unsatisfactory than anticipated. As a test of conditions actually prevailing in dry goods this sale can hardly be accepted as a fair criterion, but it must be admitted that it confirmed what has been stated from time to time in these reports regarding the generally conservative disposition of the trade in face of prospects such as might be expected to tempt them into some freedom of action. Even at the low prices the largest houses bought sparingly. In the regular market conditions have not undergone any material change. The demand for cotton goods is considerable in the bulk, but there are very few transactions noted of individual volume and sellers, while filling orders readily at previous prices, generally refuse to make concessions. Woolen goods continue dull and unsatisfactory.

WOOLEN GOODS.—There have been no encouraging developments in the woolen-goods division this week. The demand for new spring woolens and worsteds for men's wear continues disappointingly conservative, as in only a few lines are buyers placing orders for other than sample pieces. There has not been any change in prices, but a disposition to curtail production is growing more noticeable, and several mills have shut down during the past week or two. In overcoatings and cloakings only a slow trade is reported, without change in quotations. Flannels and blankets are quiet but firm. Dress goods have been under the influence of the auction sale, and close the week more or less unsettled.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of cotton goods from this port for the week ending August 22 were 1,267 packages, valued at $64,190, their destination being to the points specified in the tables below:

* From New England mill points direct.

The value of the New York exports for the year to date has been $7,834,612 in 1898 against $7,461,707 in 1897.

Although agents refuse to sell heavy-weight sheetings and drills for prompt delivery at lower prices than before, the raw cotton situation inclines them towards an easier attitude on forward contracts. Light-weight brown and grey goods have sold more freely, and in sympathy with Fall River are occasionally steadier. Bleached cottons in moderate request throughout and prices unchanged. Wide sheetings quiet and showing symptoms of weakness in some quarters. Cotton flannels and blankets firm. Denims inactive and weak. Other coarse, colored cottons dull at previous prices. Dark fancy prints continue good sellers and other printed calicoes in average request without change in price. Ginghams in both staples and dress styles steady, with fair demand. There has been a slight curtailment of production at Fall River this week which promises to become more general next month and the demand for cloths has improved considerably, a large business being done. At the close the tone is very firm with sellers indifferent on the basis of 2c. for extras.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—There has been a good demand in the way of small orders for general lines of fall merchandise, and in these the market shows no special feature beyond sellers' efforts to close out stocks of fancies. Business for next spring continues backward.

Cincinnati, Ohio.—Refunding Bond Agreement Enjoined.—On August 18, 1898, Judge Spiegel granted an injunction restraining the Sinking Fund Trustees from entering into a contract with Roberts & Co., New York City, to refund $15,615,000 outstanding 7% railroad bonds at 3½%. According to press reports, the Court held that there was no competitive bidding and that the Trustees failed to exercise good discretion in accepting the terms of the contract.

New York City.—Tax Levy for 1898—Boroughs of Manhattan and The Bronx.—On Aug. 23, 1898, the Municipal Assembly confirmed the tax rate of $20 10 per $1,000, as reported by the Finance Committee last week. The assessed valuation of real estate as reported for 1898 is $1,856,467,923 and the personal estate $509,022,449, a total of $2,365,490,372

The total taxes to be raised in 1898 are $47,356,863 13, of which $46,402,743 16 represents the budget adopted December 23, 1897, and given in detail in the State and City Supplement, and $954,119 97, the amount added for deficiencies. The tax rate of $20 10 per $1,0 0, on the real and personal estate subject to taxation for all city and county purposes, amounting to $2,290,945,396, will yield the sum of $46,048,002 45, and the tax of 1·7558 per cent on the valuation of the personal estate of corporations, exempt from taxation for State purposes, amounting to $74,544,976, will yield $1,308,860 68, making the total of $47,356,863 13.

The foregoing figures all relate to the boroughs of Manhattan and The Bronx, consituting the old city before consolidation. For the coming year money will have to be provided for the entire consolidated city. This budget, as prepared by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, amounts to $77,551,222 07. The net budget, after deducting the general fund of unexpended balances amounting to $5,040,900 44, is $72,510,321 63. The tax levy (which will not be made until next year) for this latter sum will, of course, be on the entire property of the city, including Brooklyn, Queens and Richmond boroughs.

Bond Litigation.—The action brought in the Supreme Court to prevent the delivery of the $12,688,992 36 3½% bonds to the Produce Exchange Trust Co., to whom they were awarded by Comptroller Coler, came up for hearing on August 23, 1898. As stated before, the suit was entered to enjoin the award to the Trust Co. on the ground that their bid was not the highest. The Comptroller, on the other hand, claims that the bid of Vermilye & Co. was a conditional one and therefore not legal. Judge Cohen has reserved his decision.

Another suit has been brought by Zimmerman & Forshay, who bid in $1,000,000 of the above bonds, to compel the Comptroller to show cause why the bonds should not be awarded to them, claiming that the city would lose a quarter of a million dollars by not accepting the bids of those offering to purchase in small amounts. Judge Cohen has reserved his decision.

Montgomery Co. (P. O. Rockville), Md.—Future Bond Issue.—By an Act of the last Legislature the County Commissioners were empowered and directed to construct a turnpike from Washington, D. C., to Rockville over the bed of the old Georgetown turnpike. The Commissioners were empowered to bond the county for not more than $25,000. The lowest bid that the Commissioners have received for the work was $37,770 from a firm in Washington. The Commissioners were assured by competent counsel that the directions of the Legislature were obligatory, that it was their duty to build the road, and that their best plan was to raise the additional $12,770 by levying a tax upon the county. We are advised by the County Clerk, W. W. Welsh, that the $25,000 of bonds will probably be issued in the future, but that no details have been determined at the present time.

New Orleans, La.—Proposals for Liquidation of Claims.—In the CHRONICLE August 13, 1898, we stated that proposals were invited until August 9, 1898, by the Board of Liquidation of the City Debt for the sale of claims evidenced by financial ordinances and judgments against the city for debts incurred between 1879 and 1895, inclusive. We are advised by Mr. R. L. Tullis, Secretary to the Mayor, that all proposals were rejected by the Board of Liquidation, and that there will be a new advertisement for other proposals, which will be acted upon by the Board on October 11, 1898. It is the intention of the Board not to exchange the bonds for these claims, but to sell the bonds and apply the proceeds to the payment of the claims. The Constitutional provision limits the issue of bonds to $250,000, while the outstanding claims amount to more than $300,000. We append herewith a copy of the article of the new Constitution providing for the issuance of these bonds:

ARTICLE 313. All surplus revenues of the city of New Orleans from the year 1879 to the year 1895, both inclusive, except the surplus revenue dedicated to permanent public improvement and to schools, by Act No. 110 of 1890, derived from the 1 per cent tax levied under said Act, shall be turned over by the city to the Board of Liquidation of the City Debt. Said Board shall redeem all claims evidenced by financial ordinance or judgment against the city of New Orleans, for debts arising and incurred between the years 1879 to 1895, both inclusive, payment of which has not heretofore been provided for out of the reserve and permanent public improvement funds of the city for the years 1893 to 1898, both inclusive, excepting therefrom the claims for school teachers for the years 1880 to 1881, payment of which has been authorized by Act No. 110 of 1890, and is now being provided for by the city, said claims or judgments to be purchased on the most reasonable terms offered by creditors within the period of eighteen months succeeding the date of the adoption of this Constitution, the said Board to invite proposals by public advertisement, to be made bi-monthly; provided, any and all bids may be rejected. For the purpose of such redemption the city of New Orleans, through the Board of Liquidation, is hereby authorized to issue bonds to the extent of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, bearing four per cent per annum interest, payable semi annually in such denominations as may be by said Board determined upon, maturing in fifty years from the date of issue, but subject to redemption by said Board in the reverse order of their issue at any time after sixty days' notice.

Said Board is hereby authorized in its discretion to exchange said bonds for said claims against the city, evidenced by financial ordinances or judgments, or to sell said bonds and with the proceeds thereof purchase said claims; provided that no sale of said bonds shall be made for less than par.

Said Board of Liquidation shall, at any time it may be necessary, sell a sufficient number of the Constitutional Bonds of the city of New Orleans, now unsold, of the issue provided for by Act No. 110 of the General Assembly for the year 1890, and by the amendment to the Constitution of the State submitted to the people by said Act and adopted at the general election in 1892, to provide for the payment of interest or principal of the bonds hereby authorized to be issued. Whenever the said Board of Liquidation shall have received from the surplus revenues of the city of New Orleans, as provided herein, sufficient funds to meet the issue of bonds hereby authorized in principal and interest, the remainder of the surplus revenues so turned over to the said Board shall revert to the city.

TWO SUPPLEMENTS THIS WEEK.

Two Supplements accompany the present number of the Chronicle, both forming complete publications in themselves:

(1) The Quotation Supplement of 48 pages, being the regular monthly number of that invaluable publication.

(2) The Bankers' and Trust Supplement, an entirely new work, containing 80 pages, and devoted to a report of the proceedings of the Annual Convention of the American Bankers' Association held at Denver last week.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

The Czar of Russia calls for disarmament and peace. No doubt the letter containing these proposals is a wise, earnest and convincing document. It states truly and clearly the alternative of bankruptcy confronting the nations to which a rejection of its suggestions will in time bring them all. And yet very few believe that an acquiescence in the request will be the result. The reasons for disbelief are that acquiescence is on its face surrounded by such grave difficulties that the proposition seems almost quixotic; furthermore the operation of disarmament would be likely to work to the advantage of some States and to the disadvantage of others. A cycle of peace to Russia would just now appear to be especially opportune. With its boundaries on the Pacific well rounded out through the recent acquisition of a part of China, and a perfect terminus for its trans-Continental railroad having been thereby secured, time to construct that terminus and work out in connection with it, and in connection with other aims, some pressing interior problems would seem to be what was most of all needful for that country. On the other hand, to France, with its lost provinces to recover—the absorbing and paramount purpose of the whole nation for so many years—disarmament would be almost synonymous with the abandonment of that purpose and confirming Germany in her possession. And yet what a glorious vista the mere proposal of universal peace opens!

Notwithstanding the quarrelsome nature Congress has had the reputation of showing in recent years, the introduction of this country into the councils of European nations is an event that cannot fail to make for peace. We have in mind the silent and yet powerful influence, not of a union, but of an always possible union, between Great Britain and the United States as a make-weight for the settlement of any Continental differences. A compact, offensive or defensive, established between the two governments is a very unlikely event; either party would scarcely desire a general alliance or any alliance except when an emergency arose. Strong compacts between nations are not in any degree the product of gush. The fact that the two contracting parties had the same origin would have little if any weight. Self interest would be the first motive; common aims and interests another; and common language a kind of lubricator. When, if ever, we become a party to European questions, all these influences must come into play. They would necessarily drive two nations together that are not intent on war or revenge, or on territorial expansion, and who have no long-standing quarrels with their neighbors to adjust, but are seeking civil liberty, free commerce and trade development, which require above all conditions peace for best progress. With two nations of such power against war, would not the tendency set strongly towards the maintenance of peaceful relations everywhere?

The monthly Treasury figures issued this week for August disclose several features which will attract attention. Interest is felt in them chiefly because of the evidence they afford as to the productiveness of the war revenue law, August being the second month of its operation. It seems that the total receipts were $41,782,708, against $19,023,615 in August 1897. No one, however, should be misled by this comparison, as it is not a fair one; indeed no conclusion can be drawn from the difference shown, for the reason that a year ago the receipts from Customs and from internal revenue were abnormally small, being so because it was the first month under the 1897 tariff law. The Customs revenue last month was considerably better than in July, the new impost of 10 cents on tea showing its influence, the total received from that department of the revenue being $16,249,699, against $15,169,000 in July and $13,467,000 in May. As to the internal revenue receipts, they were only $24,015,935 in August, or about one million dollars less than in July, the previous month. Altogether these results are very promising. They probably indicate not far from $13,000,000 as the net product in August under the war revenue bill, which would mean about 156 millions of revenue for a full twelve months added to the productiveness of the old law. Another feature of interest is the disclosure in the debt statement that only $74,845,020 out of the 200 millions sold of the new 3 per cents had been issued on the 1st of September. We notice also that of this amount of new 3s outstanding there were $14,035,760 at the same date held by the Government, of which $7,662,000 were as security for Government deposits in banks and $6,373,760 as security for bank note circulation. Dealers in United States bonds tell us that a large amount of the new 3s have been sold over the counter, to savings banks and to other banks and institutions.

The hopeful feeling which pervades business circles is well illustrated by the report of mercantile failures for the month of August compiled by Col. W. M. Grosvenor for Dun's Review. The failures are found to have been the smallest of any month of the five years during which these excellent monthly records have been kept. The liabilities of the defaulted concerns aggregate only $6,078,655. How much better this is than the average will appear when we say the total in August last year was $8,174,428, that in August 1896 when the silver campaign was in progress it was $28,008,637, that in August 1895 the amount was $10,778,399 and in August 1894 $11,322,345. What is particularly gratifying, from our point of view, is that the improvement also extends to the comparison as to the number of failures—which has not always been the case in the past. It seems only 748 concerns failed in August 1898, against 921 in August 1897, 1,107 in 1896 and 1,025 in 1895. Commenting on the favorable nature of the returns, Colonel Grosvenor says the record is not only a most cheering one, indicative of a very unusual state of health and commercial soundness, but it reflects conditions which do not seem likely to be disturbed by adverse influences for some time. He notes, too, that it is interesting, now that the war has ceased and we have had nearly a full month without that hindrance to improvement, to observe how distinctly the gain in business increases, showing that, though the war cannot be said to have caused any depression while it continued, it did in fact operate to hinder many important contracts and purchases and so retard in some degree the recovery of business.

It seems as if the effect of Leiter's wheat operations were never going to be removed as an influence depressing wheat values. The price has been down for some time to 67 cents in New York and 63 cents in Chicago, or fully thirty cents a bushel below the figure prevailing at the corresponding date last year. Yet developments are all the time reported which would seem to confirm the views of those who hold that our farmers should have no difficulty in disposing of all the wheat they may have to spare—and at fair prices too. On one day of this week there were three items of news encouraging to better prices which at other times would have exerted a perceptible influence on values, but which now pass unnoticed. In the first place there was a dispatch from Washington reporting that Minister Angell had written from Constantinople saying that on account of local needs the exportation of wheat from the Province of Scutari in Albania had been forbidden. Then there was a cablegram from St. Petersburg in the daily press which read: "Owing to the failure of harvest in seven districts, even the landed gentry are asking the Government for relief. The Government is adopting measures for assistance, but the distress is becoming more acute every day." Finally, a cablegram from Vienna was published reporting the annual estimate of the world's harvests of wheat by the Minister of Agriculture of Hungary. This estimate is always looked forward to with much interest and generally accepted as furnishing a useful forecast of the probabilities. It was a significant fact, therefore, that the Hungarian Minister should be found expressing the opinion that there would probably be a shortage of 13,800,000 to 15,100,000 metrical centners. The details in the cablegram are very meagre, and some of the figures are evidently mixed, so we shall not attempt to go into that branch of the subject. The important fact is the estimate of a shortage, even if only a small one, for such a condition would necessitate further trenching on stocks, already extraordinarily low. As said, however, all these events have had no influence on wheat values, and thus the farmer is obliged to accept a price which is far below what he should be able to get under natural and normal conditions.

The Pennsylvania Railroad report of earnings for July has been issued this week and makes an unfavorable comparison with last year; but there is nothing surprising in that. Our review of the country's railroad gross earnings for July showed that a good many adverse conditions existed during that month. There was in the first place a great contraction in the grain movement. In the second place July 1898 contained five Sundays while July 1897 had only four, giving one less business day the present year. We also know that on the trunk lines the rate situation was very unsatisfactory. As far as the Pennsylvania is concerned, possibly too the competition of the new Pittsburg Bessemer & Lake Erie has encroached somewhat on the mineral traffic of the road. On the lines east of Pittsburg and Erie the Pennsylvania reports $318,100 decrease in gross and $110,300 decrease in net, while on the lines west of Pittsburg there is $193,700 increase in gross with $63,200 decrease in net. Last year in July the Eastern lines showed $221,800 gain in gross and $349,100 gain in net, and the Western lines $160,800 loss in gross and $75,100 loss in net. The following is a comparison for the Eastern lines for six years.

The Board of Directors of the Northern Pacific took important action yesterday with reference to future dividends on the preferred stock. They set aside $3,000,000 out of surplus income as a reserve to be available, as may be found necessary, until the end of 1901, toward maintaining the regular quarterly dividends on the preferred stock if at any time prior to that date current net earnings should prove insufficient for that purpose. The step is simply a prudential one. A preliminary statement of the company's income for the fiscal year ending June 30 was submitted at the meeting and actually showed a surplus of $2,897,874 on the operations of the twelve months above the amount needed for the 4 per cent dividend paid on the preferred shares. But in view of the fact that the results have been so unexpectedly favorable—that the expansion in the revenues of the system has been so extraordinary, so far beyond the expectations of the most sanguine—it is deemed wise to provide against the contingency of a possible reaction. The Directors consider that the business prospects of the company have never been better than they are at this time, and of course if current available earnings continue as at present, the reserve provided need not be drawn upon. If not used by 1901 the fund may then, by vote of the Directors, be returned for the general purposes of the company. In view of the large earnings which the company has been making, there has naturally been some talk of possible dividends on the common stock. The action of the Board with reference to the reserve fund shows that no dividend is likely as far as past earnings are concerned. It is reported, however, that the President stated to the board yesterday that if present prospects are maintained, of which he thought there was every likelihood, it would be proper for the board in the course of a few months to give consideration to the question of a dividend on the common stock from current earnings.

The bank return of last Saturday showed a loss of $7,495,950 in surplus reserve, carrying this item to $21,343,300, or within $519,800 of the lowest of the year. Though this result of last week's movements in money was somewhat anticipated, the character of the statement was not fully realized until Monday. Then there was a general marking up of loans by the banks, which led to some shifting of contracts, and this created an early demand for money at the Stock Exchange that caused the rate on call to advance to 3 per cent. Later there came a report that $2,250,000 gold had been engaged in London for shipment to New York, and though this report was not confirmed it had some slight influence upon money, the close being at 2½ per cent after loans had been made at 1¾ per cent. On the following day there was a lighter inquiry, due to the liquidation of important speculative accounts, and at the same time foreign exchange fell off, indicating gold imports, and consequently the tone of the money market grew easier, and loans on call were made at 1¾ and at 2½ per cent, closing at 2. On Wednesday and Thursday the rate ranged from 2 to 2½ per cent and on Friday from 2½ to 3 per cent. As above indicated, money on call, representing bankers' balances, loaned at 1¾ and at 3 per cent during the week, averaging about 2½. Banks and trust companies generally quote 2½ per cent as the minimum, though a very few have standing loans at 2 per cent; but on Friday some marked their loans up to 3. Time contracts are in better request at 3 per cent for sixty days, 3½@4 per cent for ninety days to four months and 4 for five to six months on good Stock Exchange collateral. The demand for commercial paper is limited, and not many of the banks or other institutions are buying. The supply is moderate, and rates are firm at 4 per cent for sixty to ninety-day endorsed bills receivable, 4@5 per cent for prime and 5@6 per cent for good four to six months' single names.

So far as is known, comparatively few of the banks have taken advantage of the offer of the Treasury to exchange small notes for those of large denomination. The reason assigned is that the supply of large notes is light and no more than sufficient for the current requirements of the banks. There are only about $8,000,000 of legal-tender currency certificates held by the banks of this city. It is claimed that those of the banks which have a fairly good supply of legal-tenders and other notes, which they have been accumulating in anticipation of the demand from their correspondents for crop purposes, are not willing to assist other banks in meeting deficiencies by turning over their large notes, and it is therefore thought that many of the banks will have to continue to ship gold to the interior. The Treasury Department is seeking to relieve the situation and the announcement is made that the October interest on the 4 per cent Government bonds will be anticipated on the 10th instant. This interest amounts to $5,596,467. The Treasury has made the provision, customary at this season, to meet a demand for small notes for crop purposes, and has caused to be printed large amounts of these notes, which can be speedily issued in exchange for notes of larger denominations whenever these shall be surrendered. Bankers who are in a position to judge as to the probable season's requirements for crop purposes are of the opinion that not much more than $50,000,000 will be needed to satisfy the demand. The banks at the chief distributing centres in the West are unusually well provided with money, in consequence of the wide distribution in payment for war supplies, and therefore their drafts upon Eastern deposits will doubtless be comparatively small. Banks report a good though not urgent demand from their correspondents in the West and Northwest for re-discounts, and this inquiry is expected to increase as soon as the crops move more freely. Business is reported very good all through the agricultural sections and in the principal cities. One feature of the situation this week has been the rapid increase in the net gold reserve of the Treasury. This was reported on Thursday at $217,904,484. The highest net gold reserve on record was $218,818,253 on March 31 1888. The payments for bonds have recently been made almost wholly in gold, and this will very readily account for the increase in the gold reserve.

The feature in the European political situation this week has been the proposal by the Emperor of Russia for a general disarmament by all the Powers. The manifesto had only a slight influence upon the financial markets, and London was chiefly affected by the loss of gold to the Continent and by the prospective movement of the metal to America. The Bank of England minimum rate of discount remains unchanged at 2½ per cent. The cable reports discounts of sixty to ninety-day bank bills in London 1¾ per cent. The open market rate at Paris is 1¾@1¾ per cent and at Berlin and Frankfort it is 3¾@3⅞ per cent. According to our special cable from London the Bank of England lost £62,124 bullion during the week, and held £35,003,218 at the close of the week. Our correspondent further advises us that the loss was due to the export of £65,000 (of which £40,000 was to Germany and £25,000 to the United States), to shipments of £161,000 net to the interior of Great Britain and to an import of £164,000, of which £140,000 were from Australia, £15,000 from South America and £9,000 from Portugal.

The foreign exchange market has been lower this week, influenced mainly by the dearer rates for money here and also by higher discounts in London. Selling of long sterling, in the expectation of covering later in the season at lower rates, still continues, and there have been somewhat liberal offerings of cotton and grain futures. Spot bills against these commodities are, however, scarce. The unusually small visible supply of wheat at Chicago and at other Western distributing centres indicates that the movement of the staple has been and still continues light, probably owing to the absorption of the grain for milling purposes. The new cotton is coming to market slowly and the export demand does not appear to be urgent. About the only spot commercial bills of importance now on the market are those against provisions and flour, and these are promptly absorbed. There have been further arrivals of gold in transit to Cuba this week, the amount received being $1,165,413, making, with the consignment of $433,009 last week, a total of $1,608,422. The engagement of $1,375,000 gold in London was announced by Lazard Freres this week. The arrivals from Europe thus far on this movement have been $2,855,573. There has been an arrival of $2,000,000 gold at San Francisco from Australia and $3,000,000 more is reported in transit from Sydney, N. S. W. The range for nominal rates for exchange was, until Thursday, from 4 84 to 4 84½ for sixty days and 4 85 for sight. Then a reduction in the long rate by Brown Bros. & Co. made the range for sixty day from 4 83½ to 4 84½. The tone was easy on Monday, but, with the exception of a reduction of one quarter of a cent in the rate for cable transfers, compared with the close on Friday of last week, to 4 85½@4 85½, there was no change in quotations for actual business, long remaining at 4 83½@4 83¾ and short at 4 85@4 85½. On Tuesday the market was weak for long and short, and rates for actual business were reduced to 4 83@4 83½ for the former and to 4 84¾@4 85 for the latter, while cable transfers remain unchanged. On Wednesday rates for actual business in long sterling were further reduced to 4 82¾@4 83¼, while those for short sterling and for cable transfers remained unchanged. The market was a shade firmer on Thursday, without any change in rates, and it was steady on Friday. The following shows daily posted rates for exchange by some of the leading drawers.

BANKERS' CONVENTION—HOW TO ADD TO ITS ATTRACTIONS.

We publish with this issue of our journal a Bankers' and Trust Supplement of eighty pages. The work was planned with the purpose of giving to our readers in attractive shape, while the matter was fresh and newsy, the entire proceedings of the National Bankers' Convention, held this year at Denver, August 23 to 25. We assumed that business circles would be gratified to have within a few days after its meeting the addresses, speeches and transactions of that important financial body. It is an interesting fact that another year this organization will attain its twenty-fifth anniversary. Why would it not be a pleasing idea to mark the event, not by any special celebration, but by some changes in methods which would give to the annual gathering wider interest?

First of all, a point worthy of consideration is whether the mid-summer is a suitable time for holding such a convention. That period was selected while financial and banking interests were less engrossing than now, and when the convention was looked forward to as a holiday affair more than a gathering for useful work. Perhaps it may still be considered the most acceptable time. It is not, however, the portion of the year in which such an undertaking naturally fits into the habits of many of the most successful and experienced representatives of financial circles. That class take as much as they can spare of the summer season for vacation and rest and do not care to give any more of it to business and work than their own banking offices and round of duties require. The motive of the more active members of the Association undoubtedly is to have at these annual meetings as many as possible of the best thinkers, speakers, and those eminent for practical skill and attainments, that the profession contains. We do not need to say those classes are largely represented now. There is of course no room for doubt on that point. The only question suggested for consideration is, would not some season other than the most trying of the year permit the convention to draw more largely on the same classes. There certainly are a great many of the highly-gifted in banking circles who are conspicuous by their absence, a goodly number of whom might be induced to be present if the date of its being held better suited their habits.

We may sum up then the argument for a change of date by saying that the summer is no time for traveling over the country a thousand or two thousand miles in hot dusty cars for a three-days' session of a financial convention. Such a journey to and back, with the thermometer at 90 or over, may be no serious obstacle to some; but it is to the over-worked business class, as financial men of large interests are; it is, too, for those of advanced years, most of whom need quiet instead of the buzz of revolving wheels and the strain of blowing whistles. Of course the weary traveler this year had a decided relief in prospect, a strong attraction at the end of his journey, in the beautiful and comfortable city of Denver. But who would not prefer to go even to Denver in June or October, and keep nearer home in July or August? Then, too, a summer session calls for work in hot, sultry weather by those who are to make addresses or otherwise take an active part in the session. This is by no means desirable. It is hard on the writer to be given an extra task at a time when the burdens should be lightened; it is hard on the hearer because no writer can do his best work when weary.

What we have said suggests another important particular in which there is large opportunity for improvement; indeed, the change we have proposed above would help to bring to pass this other amendment. It will be noticed that the addresses have various merits; that within moderate limits would be natural. In this case, though, the extremes are wide apart. Some are excellent, but some by no means come up to the standard of work expected to proceed from a convention of banks and bankers of the United States. We do not take exception to any of them because they advocate what we may call unsound views. Both sides of every question affecting banking interests must, we suppose, be given a hearing; but ought not an address be required to have some merit before it is inflicted on the convention, and through it on the public?

In other words, should there not be more care in selecting the individuals to perform these duties, or may not their work be read and passed upon or edited by a committee before the convention gives it a place in its records. It has been urged by a very good judge that all stated addresses should be omitted. This is perhaps the easier way of getting out of a trying situation; but is it a way out that would add most to the interest and usefulness of these conventions? We should propose rather that there be a smaller number of addresses, and with that decrease the greatest care be taken to have that smaller number worthy of the Association. What is desired is the best thought of the practical business man. There are very few speeches made or essays written, proceeding from whatever source they may, which strike the average hearer with the force of the words of one whose views are drawn from the experience of a business life as well as from a study of books. We should for many reasons be sorry to have this feature disappear from the proceedings of these conventions.

THE CZAR'S PEACE MANIFESTO.

Nothing more surprising or more seemingly out of tune with the prevailing spirit of the day could well be imagined than the letter from the Czar of Russia to the foreign envoys at St. Petersburg. This proposition for a formal conference to devise means to stop the European policy of continually increased armaments comes not only on the heels of our own notable demonstration of the power of a navy, but it is issued at the very hour when rumors are circulating of an impending armed collision between Russia itself and Great Britain. Perhaps no time could have been selected during the past thirty-five years when such a proposition would have been received with greater astonishment. Had the document come from any other source astonishment would at once have given place to incredulity. But the nature of the Czar's proposals, and the form in which they were made public by Count Muravieff, leave no possible doubt as to the genuineness of the Russian Emperor's purpose.

The perplexity caused by this wholly unprecedented move in diplomacy has been forcibly illustrated by the reception of the proposition. In some quarters, even in England, the idea is characterized as quixotic. In others, as is natural, the project is examined with distrust, the critics not being willing to believe that the Czar's purposes are sincere. In Germany, we learn from the despatches, the Emperor is believed to endorse the plan of his neighbor sovereign, but the political and military cliques treat the matter scornfully. Mr. Balfour remarks in the British House of Commons that in his judgment no such proposition could have been made with actual hope of practical results. Yet none of these authorities appears to have explained why, if wholly quixotic, the peace plan should have been contrived by the Czar of Russia, of all men; why, if his purposes were insincere, the Czar should have chosen a medium of introducing them which would eventually bring the stigma of bad faith home to him personally before the civilized world; or why, if the proposition could not be made with expectation of serious results, an Emperor should have deliberately chosen to make himself ridiculous. These criticisms seem to us on examination to reflect very little except the bewilderment of the critics.

We think that some of this bewilderment may be removed by an examination of the letter in which Count Muravieff communicates the wishes and convictions of his Imperial master. Perhaps it will be worth while to analyze this remarkable document in detail. In saying first that "the maintenance of general peace and the possible reduction of the excessive armaments which weigh upon all nations present themselves in existing conditions to the whole world as an ideal toward which the endeavors of all governments should be directed," the Czar says nothing more than he said in his farewell address to President Faure at St. Petersburg, exactly a year ago. "Our two nations," the Emperor Nicholas then declared, "are equally resolved to contribute with all their powers to the maintenance of the peace of the world." This sentiment has in fact been the burden of the young Czar's public and diplomatic statements since his accession to the throne. Doubtless, these earlier deliverances were regarded by many of their hearers as conventional if not hypocritical. But the Czar was not to blame for such popular interpretation, and it is quite undeniable that both his utterances and his policy have thus far been consistent.

The excessive modern armaments, the letter continues, were founded and developed in order to guarantee peace, and they have apparently failed of their purpose. Labor and capital are alike diverted from their true channels by the maintenance of these enormous standing forces. The burden on the people has become too great to be longer borne; if therefore the system is to be continued, "it will inevitably lead to the very cataclysm it is desired to avert." These are the grounds on which the Czar appeals for a conference of governments.

Let us observe, to begin with, that not one of these statements of fact can be controverted. They are the plain truth, as every European statesman knows. We touched upon some of these phases of the modern military system recently in writing on the life-work of Prince Bismarck, and showed then the certainty that sooner or later the system would, for these very reasons, work out its own ruin. The enormous modern standing army was established in Europe, as the Czar's letter truthfully declares, for a guaranty of peace. In the result it is found that the system is a Frankenstein which cannot be controlled. It cannot stand still. Each nation, in order to ensure itself against possible attack, must endeavor to be a little stronger than its neighbor; but no sooner has it enlarged its own offensive and defensive armament than its neighbor State, for precisely the same reason, makes the same increase with something more. The very nature of the theory renders such results inevitable. But the upshot is a heaping of Ossa on Pelion which must apparently continue to the end of time, or until the resources of the States concerned are broken down (as has happened with half the Continental States already), or until, in sheer desperation, the trial of arms between the nations is invoked so that there may at least be something to show for this unheard-of waste of public treasure in time of peace. This, we say, is the conclusion of sober logic from the existing situation. Not one reputable statesman and not one intelligent thinker will question these conclusions. Yet because the same conclusions are publicly drawn by the Russian Emperor they are regarded by the initiated politician as something out of the usual run of human reasoning.

We suppose that the Czar reached his decision for the issuance of this manifesto because he was convinced that some international understanding of the sort was necessary to avert the ruin of his own State. It is well enough known what the system of modern armaments has done for Russia. Even in favorable years the income of that Government comes nowhere near meeting expenses. In the ten years of peace preceding 1897 the Russian public debt increased one billion and a-half roubles, or more than a billion dollars. The annual charge for interest on that debt is only a trifle less than the annual expenditure for the standing army, and the two sources of expenditure together make up nearly one-half the total annual outlay of the Government. Both have increased by leaps and bounds during the past few years, and there is not the slightest reason to suppose that both will not increase still more rapidly in the next ten years of standing armaments. Meantime all the enlightened economic and fiscal schemes of M. Witte, Russia's intelligent Finance Minister, are threatened with destruction. Is it, then, so remarkable that an intelligent Prince should ask where such a process is to end? Once this question is seriously considered, there is but one answer which any man can make, and that is precisely the answer made in this week's letter of the Czar.

It may perhaps be thought that we have simply discussed the theoretical merits of this notable royal communication and have ignored its practical possibilities. It is, indeed, painfully obvious that recognition of the evil by no means infers general willingness to adopt the remedy. There is only one remedy; for the alternatives of general bankruptcy of governments or of mutual destruction in war can hardly be called remedial processes, and if these alternatives are accepted there remains only the so-called "quixotic" proposition of the Czar. The first and absolutely essential step is to stop the annual increase in these armaments; this, from the very nature of the case, can be done only by formal agreement of the Powers concerned. It will be observed that out of the rather general chorus of skepticism from European critics of the Czar's proposals there has come one note of practical common sense: the suggestion that if Russia were to abandon its plans for new war-ships, Great Britain too might revoke the order for increased naval armament lately submitted by Mr. Goschen.

It is not to be supposed that disarmament of the nations could at this moment be seriously considered. But it will readily be recognized that much will have been accomplished if the nations merely agree to stop with such armament as they have to-day.

We have pointed out the peculiar reasons which Russia has for dreading the future under the system now employed. It may be thought—it has been argued in some quarters—that Russia's particular needs and embarrassments gave a motive to the Czar which need not exist with other sovereigns. But as a matter of fact it can only be a question of time, of relative endurance, when every State must reach the end of its rope under the remorseless strain of the modern military system. Greece, Italy and Spain gave way before the stronger financial nations made any sign of distress; Russia's finances might possibly collapse before those of France or Germany, but the Nemesis of the system must sooner or later, unless some halt is called, overtake every State. Indeed, if the question narrows down, as it certainly would appear to do, to the survival of the State with the strongest exchequer, it is obvious enough that Great Britain would eventually be left alone in the field of solvent Powers. Fortunately, England less than any other State is inspired by motives of international hatred and national ambition. If the Continental Powers were to call for a pause in the development of modern armaments, the assent of England's Government is assured beforehand.

MISMANAGEMENT IN THE ARMY.

We trust sincerely that the request for an investigation, as made by some of the army officers whose departments have been accused of mismanagement or neglect, will meet with an early and adequate response. We do not express this wish through a feeling that somebody must be punished because the soldiers have suffered, and we regret that a tone of personal vindictiveness has crept into the discussion of this question in the press. Least of all ought partisan political considerations to be allowed a moment's hearing. Once it should come to be generally believed that the attack on certain branches of the War Department is a covert demonstration by one political faction or party against another, intelligent popular interest in the matter would cool off immediately. At the moment we do not believe that the very general demand for an investigation has any such inspiration. It is a spontaneous movement of indignation, to be sure, for what is believed to be a grave wrong, but it is first of all an appeal for an impartial tribunal which can establish the facts and, if need be, fix the responsibility.

The impartial investigator is confronted at the start with several undeniable facts which qualify intelligent criticism. Sickness of soldiers at the front or in camp is an inevitable incident of war; the records of our Civil War, for instance, show that deaths in the army from disease were double the combined number of deaths in battle and from wounds, and by far the largest percentage of such deaths from disease were cases of typhoid fever. It is, moreover, perfectly obvious that conditions this year, at the front at all events, were more unfavorable than in the Civil War. The army was more hastily recruited and mobilized; its operations were more rapid and exacting; the hostile country was a fever-stricken district, and was invaded at the most dangerous season of the year. Finally the difficulties in the way of landing troops and stores before Santiago, and of bringing them to the front, were vastly increased by the lack of a serviceable harbor and the absence of anything like available military roads. These facts must not be overlooked, and ought to be fully weighed in fair criticism of the misfortunes of the army.

But it seems to us that these exceptional circumstances fall very far short of explaining the present decimation of our army by disease. The Secretary of War, declaring this week that he will order no investigation of the Quartermaster-General's Department, of the Commissary-General's Department, or of the Surgeon-General's Department, adds that "there is no fault to be found with them. If there has been any lack of supplies, food, medicine or clothing in any of the camps, it has been due to the officers in command or to unavoidable circumstances." But this in our judgment is an extremely ill-advised way of meeting the situation. Fault has been found with every on of these departments and with the War Department as a whole. The complaints are specific; they are emphasized a thousand times by the shocking spectacle presented by our returning regiments. They are the burden of popular discussion at this hour throughout the Union, and we greatly doubt if popular opinion will submit to an ipse dixit of this kind, whatever its source. Moreover, even Mr. Alger admits that if such neglect has been proved, the commanders are to blame, and it appears to us, since the bad conditions are no matter of doubt, that investigation is absolutely essential to fix the responsibility, even if it rests on other shoulders than those of the Department officers. If the medical and subsistence staffs at Washington are without blame in this matter, they themselves ought to be the first to demand investigation. Surgeon-General Sternberg has already asked for such investigation, and a refusal by the Secretary would, in our judgment, be as grave an injustice to him as to the public.

Granting the fact that sickness on a considerable scale was unavoidable, there are, it seems to us, five very serious matters which demand investigation. We refer to the lack of proper food and medical supplies during the attack on Santiago; the lack of proper and healthful transportation service for our soldiers on the way to Cuba and Porto Rico; the shocking neglect of the hospital ships returning with the sick; the bad judgment shown in selecting and managing the military camps in this country; and finally, the grave blunders in the camp arranged at Montauk for the returning soldiers.

The circumstances surrounding all these incidents are painfully well-known already to the newspaper-reading public. We do not need to recite them. We wish to add a few words, however, by way of showing the need of an investigation—not only in justice to the officers now under popular censure but as an absolute necessity to the future remedy of existing defects. Mr. Alger has declared, regarding the lack of supplies at Santiago, that the troops sent to that point "took with them three months' supply of everything, especially medicine and food." This statement, so far as it goes, is confirmed by Surgeon-General Sternberg and by Surgeon Munson of the medical corps at Santiago. But Surgeon Munson, who is best qualified to speak, goes on to show, in his report of July 29, that the medical supplies thus forwarded were for the most part perfectly useless to the army in its hour of need, because the medical officers were not allowed to unload them. Until a day or two after the fight at La Guasima, when the wounded were already crowding the hospital tent, the only facility allowed to the medical department for bringing tentage, appliances and medicines to the shore at Siboney was one row-boat, the order for which was revoked after a single trip from the supply-ship. Most of these medical supplies remained inaccessible a week after the heaviest fighting in front of Santiago. These are matters of official record, not questioned by anybody; what was involved by such neglect of decent provision for the wounded our people have learned in the heartrending accounts of the hospital makeshifts at the rear of the Santiago army.

It is quite useless to argue that nobody was to blame for such a situation, the result of which was death by the score of soldiers whose lives would have been saved by proper care and provision. Mr. Alger lays much stress on the fact that lighters sent down for use in unloading were lost at sea, and hence that facilities for landing supplies were unavoidably cut off. This may be true; but Surgeon Munson's report clearly proves that boats were to be had, and that in the end, after a fatally long delay, they were obtained. Why there were no such boats specifically available for the supply ships, and under the orders of the proper officers, is not explained at all. We are perfectly well aware that Gen. Shafter's plan of campaign involved quick attack, and that the first requisite was debarcation of the troops and of the ammunition. But to say that this part of the unloading was necessarily the first is a very different matter from excusing total neglect of provision for the wounded, even when serious fighting had begun. The essential fact remains that there was neither proper provision nor proper organization for the landing of the army. The navy sent boats to bring the soldiers on shore; why was no arrangement made for the navy to land the stores? We have seen that a simple row-boat served the purposes of the surgeons later on. As the "Army and Navy Journal" points out, the rules of the British Admiralty not only provide explicitly that "all troops, with their baggage, regimental stores and horses, are to be shipped and to be landed by the navy;" but that "boats, lighters and tugs" for landing stores "must in part, and should if possible entirely, be provided by the navy." A naval fleet lay close at hand during this chaos at the Siboney landing-place. Does anyone suppose that the medical staff would have remained cut off from its supplies if intelligent co-operation of this sort had been arranged by our War Department?

The suffering of our soldiers in the matter of water transportation has some excuse in the difficulty of securing sufficient transport vessels on short notice. But neither this argument, nor the stock argument that army transportation cannot insure personal comfort, wholly explains or excuses the overcrowding of some of these transports to such degree that disease broke out before the troops were even landed. It is, for instance, a matter now sufficiently well known that our Porto Rico troops were in large measure unfitted in advance for a serious campaign by such provision for their transportation. These bad results might have been avoided, even with the overcrowding, had food and water supplies been competently looked after. But the water supplies on several of these ships appear to have been so crudely arranged that contamination followed as a matter of course.

The defects of this regular transport service were however so far overshadowed by the scandals of the hospital ships that not much has been heard of them. It is not only the people at large who are bewildered at the show of incompetency in the equipment of such boats as the "Seneca" and the "Concho," but the official organs of the army frankly confess that individual responsibility ought to be and can be fixed. For the lack of adequate supplies the Secretary of War blames the captain of the "Seneca," and thus washes his hands of the matter. As to the over-crowding of the vessel, the Surgeon-General declares that an army officer transferred the sick soldiers to the "Seneca," and thus declares himself free of responsibility. Even the lack of proper medical attendance on the hospital boat's long trip is similarly waved aside. The regular medical corps, Dr. Sternberg goes on to say, "is not one-quarter big enough for the needs of the army," and thus he explains not only the shocking lack of medical care on the hospital ships but the utter lack of adequate medical attendance in the hospital tents at Siboney. We cannot help thinking that the average citizen will brush aside these technicalities, and ask who was responsible for committing sick soldiers to a ship of whose capacity every one was ignorant; why such disposal of soldiers seriously ill was not made subject (as Surgeon Munson testifies it was not) to proper medical authorities, and who was so blind as to leave the medical corps short-handed in a campaign whose chief danger, as all the world knew, was disease in the invading army? Readers of history will remember that precisely similar excuses were made by the British War Department for the hospital and commissary scandals of the Crimean War, and these excuses have been rejected as promptly by the judgment of the last half-century as they were by the English public of 1855.

What we have said regarding the other phases of this matter applies with equal force to the condition of the army camps in the United States and to the deplorable mismanagement at Montauk Point. It is maintained by some competent judges that such yellow fever as did exist in the Santiago army was brought from the infected camp at Tampa. Be this as it may, the fact remains that our soldiers returning from the Southern camps, where they have had to face neither Cuban malaria nor Spanish bullets, are in almost as wretched physical condition as the soldiers from Santiago. We have never been able to understand why it was necessary to station Northern soldiers in a Southern climate during mid-summer; but the climate does not explain the typhoid epidemic, which has put a good part of our volunteer army out of service. Nor, we think, is the matter satisfactorily disposed of by the easy retort that volunteer soldiers are always careless and that typhoid in crowded communities is very common. The very recognition of such facts ought to have led to scrupulous care in the selection of camps to shelter and officers to discipline the recruited troops.

We say again, therefore, that an official and impartial investigation of these incidents of the war is a positive necessity. If our methods of army management have been wrong, we certainly ought to learn both the evil and the remedy. If incompetent officers have mismanaged matters in any grade of the service, it is due to the country that it should be informed who were the culprits and how they obtained their offices. If appointments for political favor have done this mischief, it is of the highest importance that the evil should be exposed; for politics in an army, as France proved twenty-eight years ago, leads in the end to demoralization and ruin. If, on the other hand, all these incidents were inseparable from a war such as has just been concluded, then, we should say, President McKinley owes it to his subordinates in the War Department to allow the facts to be brought forth in such manner as will convince and satisfy the American public.

A NEW OFFICIAL COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE DEPARTMENT IN ENGLAND.*

MANCHESTER, August 24th.

It is a significant indication of the growth of European official interest in the promotion of foreign trade that the governments of Germany, France and Great Britain have recently taken steps tending to increase and make more efficient the assistance which they severally render to the mercantile and industrial interests of their respective countries in connection with markets and commercial opportunities abroad. In Germany, the constitution and functions of Chambers of Commerce, which there as well as in France are semi-official bodies—partly supported by the State—have recently been revised with this object in view. In France a new "Commercial Intelligence Bureau" has been established, and in England the report and recommendations of a Special Departmental Committee have just been published proposing some important changes in the official methods of collecting information in foreign countries and the British Colonies, and of disseminating it amongst the commercial and industrial community at home.

The Committee, appointed on July 26th, 1897, was composed of five representatives of the Foreign and Colonial Offices and the Board of Trade, and five non-official members, viz., the President of the Association of Chambers of Commerce, the President of the Imperial Institute, the Presidents of the Manchester and London Chambers of Commerce, and Sir James Mackay, who has had extensive business experience in India. Seventeen witnesses, including two from the Manchester Chamber, were examined, and the Committee was supplied with answers to a number of interrogatories which it had addressed to Chambers of Commerce throughout the kingdom.

The report of the Committee premises that the topics upon which it was specifically requested to advise were (1) the collection and prompt dissemination, amongst those interested, of accurate information upon commercial subjects, and (2) the official collection of samples, especially of goods of foreign manufacture competing with British productions, and the exhibition of such samples to manufacturers and traders in the United Kingdom. In dealing with the first of these points the report sets forth, at the outset, the already existing methods of supplying commercial intelligence by the publications of the Foreign, Colonial and India offices and the Board of Trade. These include, of course, the Consular Reports, which were much criticised in the evidence—favorably and unfavorably—and the Committee admits that they might be improved. So far as their matter is concerned the only material suggestion offered is that Chambers of Commerce should from time to time indicate to the Foreign Office specific subjects for special investigation by Consular officers. Some such plan has for some time past prevailed in the United States. Every regular reader of American Consular Reports can testify to the frequency with which special investigations are made under instructions from the Department of Foreign Commerce at the instance of commercial bodies and even of individual firms. Often, indeed, the results of such inquiries are of great interest and of practical value.

The report further recommends that in the British colonies where there is no representation analogous to that of Consuls in foreign countries, agencies for obtaining commercial intelligence should be established. In the Crown colonies these should be selected from Collectors of Customs or officers holding similar positions, and in the self-governing colonies it is suggested that the various administrations might be willing to appoint suitable men. Means of increasing the efficiency of the Consulates, as commercial reporters, are recommended. The addition of clerical or expert assistance in some cases is proposed. More important still, regarded as a new departure, is the proposal to dispatch, from time to time, properly qualified commissioners to particular countries to investigate and report upon the progress and condition of trade. "Thus, at intervals of say three years, a commercial expert would visit British North America, the Australian and the South African colonies, with a view to collecting and noting such developments as have taken place since the last visit." Similarly special agents are to be dispatched to foreign countries as occasion may require. One such agent is, indeed, already at work in the Argentine Republic, Southern Brazil and Chili. He left England about six months ago, and the results of his mission will doubtless afford guidance to the Government in following up this proposal of the Committee.

To one suggestion put forward in the evidence the Committee is entirely opposed. It was denied that British Consuls should furnish information as to the financial standing of business houses in their districts, that they should assist in the recovery of debts, and even that they should act as agents for advertising or selling British goods. The report observes that to undertake duties of this kind would be to expose Consular officers to responsibilities which they ought not to bear, and that their assumption would prove a fruitful source of jealousy between rival traders. It may be noted here, however, that to a very limited extent British Consuls do sometimes render services of this kind, but these are variously limited by the interpretation which each Consul is disposed to put upon the general instructions framed by the Foreign Office for his guidance.

But the most prominent innovation recommended by the Committee is the founding in London of a new official department under the control of the Board of Trade, to be called the "Commercial Intelligence Office." Its function is broadly described as that of meeting "the constantly increasing demand for prompt and accurate information on commercial matters, so far as it can be met by Government action." The opinion is expressed that "it is more than essential in these days that our manufacturers and traders should rely mainly on their own efforts to extend the area of their transactions and the amount of their business. The State may, however, usefully afford assistance in the interests of the trading community, as a whole, and may supply information from a broader point of view than that of the individual trader." The new department is not to take out of the hands of the Board of Trade, the Foreign Office, the Colonial Office or other administrative departments any of the duties with which they are now charged, except such as may from time to time be specifically indicated by Her Majesty's Government. Its chief work will be (1) to receive from these departments, and from other sources—public and private—all intelligence bearing upon the subjects committed to its care, and to digest, prepare and distribute such intelligence in ways most likely to be useful to persons engaged in commerce and industry; (2) to reply to all inquiries coming within the scope of its functions, orally as well as in writing, and (3) to direct applicants for special information, not at hand, to the proper sources from which it may be best obtained. One recommendation, quite original so far as British practice is concerned, evidently follows the German method of utilizing official commercial intelligence. The Committee is to have power to withhold from general circulation such information as may appear to it more suitable for communication to Chambers of Commerce and other associations.

The composition of the new department, or rather of its controlling body, presents a feature which, though not quite without precedent, is novel in a permanently constituted British organism. It is to be a committee made up of one representative from each of the four chief Governmental departments concerned with foreign or colonial affairs, and six representatives of commerce and industry chosen, each for a definite period, by the President of the Board of Trade. The Chairman is to be the representative of that department, and the Secretary one of its permanent staff. The constitution of the Committee follows approximately that of the "Trade and Treaties Committee," which sat from 1890 to 1893 to consider questions arising out of the European commercial treaties expiring at the beginning of 1892. Four or five years ago the establishment, in permanence, of some such joint official and non-official body, for commercial purposes, was earnestly pressed upon the attention of the Government by the Manchester Chamber of Commerce. The project has now received the approval of the Committee, though in a somewhat different form. The concluding portion of the report recommends the maintenance in London of a commercial museum, the contents of which should be circulated for inspection in the chief manufacturing and mercantile districts. The museum is to be formed on very much the same lines as the museums of Brussels, Vienna and Philadelphia.

It should be stated that although all the members of the Committee sign the report, two notes are appended, expressing a certain reserve on the part of two of them. Sir James Mackay doubts the utility of the proposed new department, pointing out that British industry and trade have attained their present vast importance entirely through private initiative and private effort, and he thinks that private enterprise may be trusted, with a minimum of Government assistance, to maintain and enlarge them. Mr. W. H. Holland, late President of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce, says: "It is a sound principle that governments should not be expected to do for the trader what he is able to do for himself." He supports, however, the proposal to set up a Commercial Intelligence Office as an experiment. He also thinks that "British commerce should look for its expansion chiefly to individual energy and capacity."

ANTHRACITE COAL RATES AND THE ONTARIO & WESTERN.

We have on previous occasions directed attention to the growth which has occurred since 1890 in the revenues of the New York Ontario & Western and the great improvement in the position of the security-holders which has followed as the result. Analysis of past reports has shown that this improvement was due principally to the anthracite coal traffic developed with the building of the Scranton Division, but that at the same time the management have carefully looked after the other classes of business—building up the milk traffic, fostering the passenger traffic, and in various other ways seeking to add to the permanent earning capacity of the property.

The annual report of the company for the fiscal year ending June 30 1898 is now in the press, and we have been favored with early proof-sheets of the same. In this period of twelve months there was no further expansion, gross and net being substantially the same as for the twelve months preceding; but in being able to make such a record as this the company must be considered to have done remarkably well; for the conditions were not favorable to improved results. In the first place, industrial revival, from which much had been expected, was checked by the "Maine" disaster and the subsequent outbreak of the war with Spain; while the anthracite coal trade, from which the road derives its largest source of traffic, remained throughout the whole period, as is well known, in an exceedingly unsatisfactory state. Despite it all the net earnings fell but a trifle below the total for 1896-7, which was the best ever reached; in other words the road earned net of $1,112,992, against $1,113,906. And as reflecting the favorable character of its income exhibits, we may note that with net of $1,112,992, the fixed charges amounted to only $710,532, leaving a surplus balance of over four hundred thousand dollars—$402,460. It should be borne in mind that the Ontario & Western is relatively a small road. There are systems several times its size whose surplus is no larger than this.

President Thomas P. Fowler in the present report enters into an extended discussion of the conditions prevailing in the anthracite coal trade; and this part of his remarks is of general interest in view of the fact that the topic is one of much concern to the whole anthracite carrying industry. After noting that extreme depression has prevailed, and citing the views pro and con as to whether an early improvement can be expected, he points out that the usual panacea has already been suggested, namely a reduction of the freight rate. The claim is made, he says, that it is manifestly unfair to charge higher rates for transporting anthracite coal to market than is charged for hauling bituminous coal. He demonstrates very clearly and very conclusively that this notion has nothing to support it.

In the first place he states, what will we are sure be a surprise to many, that the gross earnings from this branch of the Ontario & Western's traffic have averaged under seven mills per ton per mile from the time the Scranton Division was opened up to the present date. Furthermore, he says, it must be borne in mind that all coal traffic is one-way business—that is, the coal trains earn nothing whatever when returning from the markets to the mines. Then he clinches the argument by saying that were the rates paid for hauling bituminous coal applied to anthracite, the Ontario & Western would be one of those which would be obliged to retire from this branch of business, as it could not profitably haul coal to tide-water or other points at a rate of three mills per ton per mile.

Mr. Fowler proves, too, that there is no reason why the rate for hauling anthracite coal should be as low as the rate on bituminous coal or lower than the present anthracite rates. The train loads are necessarily much lighter than those of the bituminous carrying railways, as all anthracite producing mines in this section of the country are located in the deep valleys of the State of Pennsylvania, and various summits and heavy gradients are encountered in moving the product of the mines to markets. The actual transportation cost is therefore heavier than it is on many of the low-grade bituminous roads, over some of which fifty-car trains may be hauled.

Another difference is that in the anthracite trade there are known nearly a dozen varieties or sizes of coal while there is no sizing or grading of bituminous. Soft coal is generally dealt in, unassorted and unclassified, and trains do not need to be broken up or divided so as to get a particular size, nor need there be any storing or side-tracking, the coal being generally delivered at regular intervals under contracts for large quantities. There is consequently much less switching and shunting, and cars are unloaded and returned much more promptly. On the other hand each of the different sizes of anthracite must be taken from chutes when the breaker is running and loaded into and carried in separate cars and side-tracked or stored until wanted. At different seasons of the year certain sizes are in demand, while other sizes may have no market whatever. Those sizes not required are dumped into storage places and thus remain until it is possible to dispose of them; or such sizes are carried in cars which are side-tracked sometimes for months at a time. Thus the anthracite carriers are in the position of having to render services not only as common carrier but also as warehouseman, factor and sometimes as financial agent.

Mr. Fowler also avers that rates in the case of bituminous coal are usually on the basis of a 2,000-pound ton, while those in the case of anthracite coal are on the basis of a ton of 2,240 pounds. Adverting to the claim frequently made that the operations of the Ontario & Western in this particular field furnish evidence that the anthracite coal traffic is unduly profitable, Mr. Fowler notes that the construction of the Scranton Division involved the building of only 54 miles of line. The Ontario & Western previously had had, for many years, 325 miles of main line admirably located for reaching the anthracite markets via the Lakes and tide-water, as well as at other interior rail and water points. As an entirely new operation, he says, from the coal fields to the markets, it could have offered no inducement to either the capitalist or experienced railway promoter, and in fact could not as such have been built.

We have in the foregoing given only an outline of Mr. Fowler's arguments and reasoning. His entire remarks must be read to appreciate what a strong case he makes out for the existing tariff charges of the anthracite roads.

GROSS EARNINGS FOR HALF-YEAR.

The improvement in the gross earnings of United States railroads during the first six months of the current calendar year was so marked that it seems desirable to know approximately the aggregate extent of that improvement as expressed in dollars. In other words, how much the roads added to their revenues in this period of time. In that way we get a better idea of the change which has occurred in the condition of this important industry.

We published a very comprehensive statement last week which showed a gain in gross earnings over the corresponding six months of last year of somewhat over 51 million dollars. This is a large amount, but it does not represent the full extent of the expansion which occurred. The statement referred to, while very elaborate and extensive, included only the roads which had made reports of both gross and net. Of course it is impossible to procure returns from every road in the country. But there are quite a few which, while not reporting net, give out statements of the gross. Hence if we undertake to compile figures of the gross alone we can enlarge upon our statement of last week. Starting with the totals reported in that statement, we have in the following table added 46 other roads for which we have the comparisons as to the gross though not as to the net.

* For five months.

Altogether, therefore, we have the results as to 232 separate roads, operating 164,161 miles of line. In this way, it will be seen, the increase is raised to over 61 million dollars, the 232 roads having earned 567 million dollars in the first six months of 1898, against only 506 million dollars in the first six months of 1897. In addition, however, there are, as already stated, a number of other roads from which it is not possible to secure returns. These, if they could be included, would still further swell the amount of increase. In the preliminary compilations published in our issue of July 16, we estimated the probable improvement in gross earnings on the railroad system of the United States as a whole for the six months at 65 million dollars. We are now inclined to raise this estimate, and say that the improvement was probably in the vicinity of 70 million dollars. We shall not attempt to dilate upon the meaning and significance of this expansion of 70 million dollars in the gross revenues of our railroad transportation lines in a period of six months. We wish simply to record the fact itself. In the following we furnish a list of the roads distinguished for large amounts of gain. The statement is the same as that published last week, with the addition of such roads as belong in the table now that the basis of the compilation has been extended.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS OF GOLD AND SILVER AT SAN FRANCISCO.

The Collector of Customs at San Francisco has furnished us this week the details of imports and exports of gold and silver through that port for the month of July, and we give them below, together with the figures for the preceding months, thus completing the results for the seven months of the calendar year 1898. The imports of gold have been quite large, the amount received reaching $2,039,735, of which $1,803,628 was in coin. Of silver there came in $83,215, of which $70,730 was bullion. There has been received during the seven months a total of $16,202,746 gold and $881,394 silver, which compares with $517,544 gold and $1,200,470 silver in 1897. The shipments of gold during July were $168,470 coin and the exports of silver have been $612,980 coin and $166,000 bullion. For the seven months the exports of gold have been $384,483, against $287,096 in 1897, and $3,313,200 silver has been sent out, against $5,053,223 in 1897. The exhibit for July and the seven months is as follows:

Clearings by Telegraph.—Sales of Stocks, Bonds, &c.—Transactions of the Stock Exchange Clearing House.—The subjoined table, covering clearings for the current week, usually appears on the first page of the CHRONICLE, but on account of the length of the other tables is crowded out once a month. The figures are received by telegraph from the leading cities. It will be observed that as compared with the corresponding week of 1897 there is an increase in the aggregate of 8·1 per cent. So far as the individual cities are concerned, New York exhibits an increase of 14·1 per cent, and the gains at other points are: Boston 4·4 per cent, and New Orleans 1·1 per cent. Philadelphia records a loss of 2·1 per cent, Chicago 6·3 per cent, Baltimore 16·3 per cent and St. Louis 19·9 per cent.

Monetary and Commercial English News

London, Saturday, Aug. 20, 1898.

The acceptance of the preliminaries of peace by Spain has naturally been followed by a great rise in American securities. But the general public is not buying very much and probably will not invest upon a considerable scale until political apprehension dies away. We are now in the very slackest time of the whole year. The heat for this country is very great and everybody who can get out of the city has either gone or is going.

Besides that the uneasiness respecting China continues. Nobody who is competent enough to form a good opinion believes that there is any serious danger of a war between this country and Russia. In the first place we have no wish to burden ourselves with the Government of China. And we all fear that if war were to break out the Chinese Government would collapse and that the Powers, or some of them, would have to take the Government of China into their own hands. Lord Salisbury and his colleagues have therefore been all along opposed to any policy on the part of the Continental Powers that might destroy the dynasty, and the Continental Powers themselves must see that it is for the present at all events desirable to keep China together. On the part of Russia it is perfectly evident that she is not prepared for war. Just now she could not convey troops enough to the Chinese frontier. While the Crimean War was going on the moving of reenforcements from the interior of Russia to Sebastapol caused greater mortality in the Russian Army by far than the bullets of the British and the French and exposure to the climate in the trenches and on the field. But if that was the result of marches in Russia itself what would be the consequence of attempting to move a very large Russian force to the Pacific? And even when the Siberian Railway is completed the difficulty of conveying a large army and keeping it reenforced and fully supplied with provisions and munitions of war will be so great that unless the Russian Government is mad it will not provoke war with a first-class Power.

Nobody then seriously believes that war is likely, but the Russian Government is undoubtedly trying to consolidate its power in Manchuria, and the corruption of the Chinese officers as well as the fears and weakness of the Emperor may possibly encourage them to go from one step to another, which will keep alive the apprehension that in the end war between this country and Russia will be unavoidable. At all events the policy pursued by Russia is causing so much uneasiness that nobody cares to engage in new enterprises.

Then the expedition to Khartoum is just about to start, and although we all hope for a speedy and successful termination, yet nobody can shut his eyes to the mortality likely to result at this season of the year in such a climate; and of course there are always possibilities of mistakes in war. The Soudan expedition, however, counts for very little so far as markets are concerned. The real cause of this stagnation is to be found in the state of China and the attitude of the three Continental Powers.

In other respects the political position has undoubtedly improved. The French Government is pursuing a moderate policy in China, while in Africa, by the settlement of the West African dispute, it has given assurance that it recognizes the danger of pushing too far its opposition to British interests.

Above all, the Spaniards have accepted with amazing apathy the result of the war. That they were utterly beaten is, of course, apparent even to the most ignorant Spaniard, and that the country was no longer in a position to continue hostilities is also clear. But that the people should accept so meekly the incompetence of their rulers, their generals and their admirals, the utter want of preparation, the gross corruption—all the signs, in short, of national decay, is surprising even to those who have been accustomed to look upon Spain as a dying State. Still, the apathy of the Spaniards indicates that there will be no serious troubles in that country, and consequently makes it possible that some kind of arrangement of the Spanish finances may be brought about which will prevent serious disturbance on the Paris Bourse.

Furthermore the outlook in Italy—though it is disappointing enough—is not quite so dark as it was a little while ago. And lastly, hopes are again beginning to be entertained that a satisfactory and peaceful settlement of the contemplated arrangements between Austria and Hungary will be brought about. In the Transvaal everything is quiet. In the Cape Colony the elections are being followed with great interest, but nobody can yet foresee what the result will be. So far the supporters of Mr. Rhodes have been victorious; but whether that means general or only very partial success we cannot yet say here.

In the meanwhile the mining companies in the Transvaal continue to increase the output month by month. It looks now as if the total production will exceed this year 12 millions sterling. The fact is eagerly seized hold of by the Boer Government to prove that no concessions are required by the mining industry. But it is to be recollected that the number of mining companies which are able to pay good dividends is very small; that there is an immense number of companies which are unable to work at a profit, and that one of their great difficulties is the high taxation, the extravagant cost of living and the difficulty of obtaining labor, and all these are the result to a very great extent of the policy of Government.

The money market continues wonderfully easy. The supply is large and rates continue low in spite of all the banks and the discount houses can do. How long this condition of things will continue depends chiefly upon the course of the New York money market. If the demand for moving the crops becomes very great while trade is so good and the Government absorption so large, it is possible that a very considerable shipment of gold may take place. In that case rates will rise very sharply here. But if much gold is not shipped to New York it does not seem probable that there will be very much pressure in the market.

Germany, of course, will take some gold, and the usual requirements for the interior, for Egypt, South America and other colonies, that always occur in the autumn, will make themselves felt. But as far as can be seen at present there will be no great demand for gold such as would disturb the London money market unless the shipments to New York become large.

The general expectation here is that the shipments will be large and that either in September or October there will be a very sharp rise in rates here.

In India, as usual in the rainy season, business is exceedingly slack and the money market consequently is quiet. The Government has taken advantage of this to bring out the rupee loan that was announced in the Budget last March. The amount is smaller than was expected—only 120 lacs—and this week the minimum price has been fixed at 94¼. The general expectation is that the demand for the loan will be pretty active, especially as the total amount is so small, and that it will go at a considerable premium, say 1½ to 2 above the minimum.

Meanwhile the India Council continues to sell its drafts wonderfully well. It offered for tender Wednesday 25 lacs and the applications were for five times that amount. The Council, however, has disposed of its drafts so well since the beginning of April that it is now holding out for a higher price. Accordingly it refused to sell below 1s. 3 29-32d. per rupee, at which price it disposed of about 17 lacs. It could have sold the balance at a considerable amount more at 1s. 3⅞d., but refused.

WALL STREET, FRIDAY, SEPT. 2, 1898.—5 P. M.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—Business in Wall Street has been more limited in volume this week than for several weeks past. Saturday's bank statement was interpreted to foreshadow a firmer, if not a stringent, money market, and this had a tendency to restrict aggressive operations during the early part of the week. It is apparent, moreover, that the outside demand for securities has been so far satisfied as to make it much less urgent than it has recently been. On the other hand, it is reported that representatives of large financial interests have been steadily buying securities at the lower quotations, which resulted from the conditions mentioned above, and as a consequence the markets are firmer as the week draws to a close.

No change of importance has occurred in the general situation. There continues to be almost no difference of opinion as to prospects for the future, and investors with capital are freely taking desirable offerings. It is reported that the foreign demand has also increased and that considerable purchases of American securities by London have been made for Continental account. The tendency of exchange has been downward this week, and unless a change in the conditions governing the foreign exchange market occurs gold imports must increase in the near future. In view of the probability of a considerable influx of gold and a falling off in the demand for currency from the interior, there is a good supply of funds in the money market, and rates, especially for time loans, are still relatively low.

The open market rates for call loans on the Stock Exchange during the week on stock and bond collaterals have ranged from 1¾ to 3 per cent. To-day's rates on call were 2½ to 3 per cent. Prime commercial paper quoted at 4 to 5 per cent.

The Bank of England weekly statement on Thursday showed a decrease in bullion of £62,124, and the percentage of reserve to liabilities was 48·30, same as last week; the discount rate remains unchanged at 2½ per cent. The Bank of France shows a decrease of 3,550,000 francs in gold and 500,000 francs in silver.

The New York City Clearing-House banks in their statement of Aug. 27 showed a decrease in the reserve held of $8,690,800 and a surplus over the required reserve of $21,343,300, against $28,839,250 the previous week.

Dealings are in bonds "when issued" and represent transactions in the Unlisted Department of the Exchange.

State & Railroad Bonds.—Sales of State bonds at the Board are limited to $427,000 Virginia 6s deferred trust receipts, stamped, at 8¾ to 9½, and $ 0,000 District of Columbia 3-65s at 117.

The market for railway bonds has been less active this week, the average transactions per day being about $1,000,000 less than for the two weeks previous. In sympathy with the stock market there has been a tendency to weakness, but actual decline is limited to a few issues and is about offset by advance in others. Colorado Midland 1st and 2d 4s were conspicuous for activity and an advance of 8 and over 5 points, respectively. Wabash 2ds and debenture series B, Kansas City Pittsburg & Gulf and Standard Rope & Twine issues advanced from 1 to 2 points. Northern Pacific and Union Pacific bonds were notably strong. The active list includes, in addition to the above, Atchison, Chesapeake & Ohio, Central Georgia, Erie, New York Central & Hudson, Lake Shore, Reading, Southern Railway, Texas & Pacific and U. P. Denver & Gulf issues.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The stock market has been somewhat irregular this week. On Monday there were reasons for anticipating a firmer money market, which led to some liquidation by timid holders. The bear element took advantage of the situation to depress prices and were generally successful. Tuesday's market was steadier but without much change. Since Tuesday there has been an undertone of strength and some stocks have materially advanced. The grangers and several high-grade issues, including Illinois Central, Pennsylvania, N. Y. Central and other so-called Vanderbilt shares, have been relatively steady, although, with a few exceptions, the active list has declined an average of between 1 and 2 points. The Northern Pacific and Union Pacific issues have been among the strong features of the market. The local traction stocks were erratic. Metropolitan Street Railway fluctuated over a range of 7 points, Manhattan Elevated over a range of nearly 5 points and Brooklyn Rapid Transit over a range of 4 points.

The miscellaneous list furnished material for active speculation and many securities of this class advanced or declined from 4 to 6 points, according to the varying success of manipulators. General Electric was notably strong on reports of extensive new contracts and Minnesota Iron and Illinois Steel advanced on further progress with consolidation plans.

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

The following table shows the gross earnings of every STEAM railroad from which regular weekly or monthly returns can be obtained. The first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the period from January 1 to and including such latest week or month.

The returns of the street railways are brought together separately on a subsequent page.

STREET RAILWAYS AND TRACTION COMPANIES.

The following table shows the gross earnings for the latest period of all STREET railways from which we are able to obtain weekly or monthly returns. The arrangement of the table is the same as that for the steam roads—that is, the first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings or the calendar year from January 1 to and including such latest week or month.

Street Railway Net Earnings.—The following table gives the returns of STREET railway gross and net earnings received this week. In reporting these net earnings for the street railways, we adopt the same plan as that for the steam roads—that is, we print each week all the returns received that week, but once a month (on the third or the fourth Saturday) we bring together all the roads furnishing returns, and the latest statement of this kind will be found in the CHRONICLE of August 27, 1898. The next will appear in the issue of September 17, 1898.

Leaving surplus income carried forward as balance profit and loss to June 30, 1898.		$387,703

No comparison has been made with the operations of the previous year, as the company came into possession of the property Sept. 1, 1896, and the first report covered only the operations to June 30, 1897—a period of ten months.

Of the deductions from income, $515,709 represents amounts expended for additions and improvements which in the opinion of the board are not distinctly new property, and therefore are chargeable to operating expenses, and $206,000 represents a reduction in the value of equipment still in service, but of a character not to be much longer economically used.

The property (roadway, structures and equipment) has been improved during the year, and is well adapted for the increased traffic which is expected from existing business conditions and abundant harvests in the territory served by the company. Included in the operating expenses is the cost of 37 locomotives and 370 cars purchased during the year to provide for equipment put out of service.

Reserve Fund.—As stated above, the directors have set aside $3,000,000 out of surplus income, as a reserve to be available, as may be found necessary, until the end of 1901, toward maintaining the regular 1 per cent quarterly dividends on the preferred stock, if at any time prior to that date the current net earnings should prove insufficient for that purpose. So far as not so used by that date, the fund may then, by vote of the directors, be returned to the general purposes of the company. In view of the comparatively short time which has elapsed since the organization of the company, and also of the fact that the unexpectedly favorable results of the fiscal year just closed cannot safely be treated otherwise than as exceptional, the board have been led to adopt this conservative policy, which will, no doubt, commend itself to all who are interested in the company. Of course if current available earnings continue as at present, this reserve need not be drawn upon. Your directors may add that the business prospects of the company were never better than at the present time.—V. 67, p. 223.

Boston & Albany Railroad.

(Report for year ending June 30, 1898).

In the thirty-first annual report, President Bliss says:

"The receipts from freight increased during the year $167,205 and from other sources $12,578; passenger earnings decreased $52,835, leaving a net increase of $126,943. The outlay during the year for expenses and improvements has increased $136,926.

"Traffic in the early months of the year gave promise of a considerable increase in earnings, but on the declaration of war with Spain the local business decreased, and the later months of the year show a large reduction in revenue. Owing to the sharp competition in all classes of freight traffic, the rate per ton per mile decreased from 9 2-10 mills in the fiscal year 1897 to 8 4-10 mills in the year 1898. Never before in the history of the road was the rate for transportation of freight so low nor the volume of traffic so great.

"Work on the separation of grade crossings has continued throughout the year at a cost of $450,192. There is no floating debt and there has been no charge to construction. The Improvement and Ware River funds have received $31,204 dividends and interest from the securities held by the Trustees, and they now stand charged with $2,404,204."

Tables in the report show the passenger traffic for a series of years. In 1896 the numbers of both through and way passengers reached a maximum, namely, 123,072 and 12,665,255 respectively. In 1897 both classes of traffic decreased, and in 1898 the way passengers again decreased, while the through passengers increased somewhat. The totals for the late year were 111,930 through passengers and 10,551,865 way passengers. The way passengers, it will be observed, therefore decreased in the two years over 2 millions, or over 16 p. c.

The operations, earnings, charges, etc., for four years were as below given:

West Virginia Central & Pittsburg Railway Co.

(Report for the year ending June 30, 1898.)

President H. G. Davis says in part:

General Remarks.—Mention has been made in the reports for the past few years of the decline in coal freight rates and the effect it has had on the revenues of the company. The net income for the past year was practically the same as the year before, but this was accomplished only by doing a larger volume of business, and in reducing the cost per ton per mile for hauling the same. The increase in coal was over 60,000 tons [from 1,058,694 to 1,123,270 tons, the latter forming about 70 per cent of the year's tonnage.—Ed.], and of coke nearly 70,000 tons [161,175 to 230,294 net tons], and yet the company received for this class of traffic $38,000 less than it did for the preceding year. The increase in passenger traffic, miscellaneous freights, etc., made up the difference. The prospects at this time are good for a continued increase in traffic. The coal companies report that they have engagements for the present year in excess of last year's business, and the indications are that the lumber plants, tanneries, etc., will increase their output.

The company now owns over 2,000 freight cars, and their use over foreign roads is a source of considerable revenue. Last year it amounted to $80,731, an increase of $9,191 over the preceding year. Of the entire equipment 84 per cent has automatic couplers and 84 per cent air brakes.

Huttonsville Extension.—The valley of the Tygart River, especially its upper part, is one of the most fertile and productive in the State of West Virginia, and from Beverly south, 30 miles or more, the mountains are covered with heavy timber in its original growth. From Elkins south the West Va. Cent. & Pitts. has a branch six miles to Beverly, and the company decided to extend it to Huttonsville, 11 miles beyond. The track is being laid and it is expected trains will be running to Huttonsville late in the fall. No new steps have been taken by this company since last report in the matter of the connection with the Chesapeake & Ohio.

Bonds.—There were issued and sold during the year $100,000 bonds to meet indebtedness incurred in making permanent improvements, building cars, purchasing locomotives, etc. These bonds were sold at a premium of 9%.

Physical Condition.—As to this, the report says:

To the "new improvements and betterments account" have been added during the year $13,500. The expenditures under this heading were only half the amount of the previous year. Nearly all of the expensive work necessary in the substitution of iron for wooden bridges, filling trestles, etc., has been accomplished. The roadbed is now in good condition and believed to be quite secure against any ordinarily high water. There have been 4·69 miles of 70-pound steel rail laid in the main track, replacing that amount of 56-pound rails, and the latter used for sidings, the cost being charged to operating expenses. The road is now laid with 70-pound rails continuously from Piedmont to Hendricks, a distance of 60 miles. Eleven miles of 85-pound rails have been purchased and will be laid in the Piedmont & Cumberland road, replacing that amount of lighter rail, which will be used on the Huttonsville extension.

During the year the company has built at its shops at Elkins and added to its equipment 113 coal and coke cars, and has also purchased from the Baldwin Locomotive Works three engines, the total cost being $84,730, which amount has been charged to equipment account. In addition to this, 61 cars were built at a cost of $26,895, and charged to operating expenses. Of these 30 were used to replace cars destroyed and 34 substituted for that number of iron coal hoppers now obsolete.

Jacksonville Tampa & Key West Railway.

(Report for the year ending March 31, 1898.)

Receiver Joseph H. Durkee says in substance:

General Remarks.—The country adjacent to the line is slowly improving agriculturally. During the winter of 1897-98 the weather was severe enough to set back the growth of the orange trees in many localities. The indications are still that this year's crop will excel last season's at least fifty per cent. With favorable seasons the orange culture will in a few years be restored to its former conditions. A few turpentine orchards have been opened along the line and every encouragement is given to this industry.

Every economy consistent with the preservation of the property in good condition has been practiced. The physical condition of the road, roadbed, trestles, bridges, engines and all equipment is fully maintained.

The total amount of receiver's certificates now outstanding is $141,300 and their interest has been promptly paid.

Interest on Underlying Bonds, Etc.—During the year the receiver has not paid interest upon bonds of the constituent companies by the consolidation of which the defendant railway company was formed. There are still outstanding equipment trust bonds, Series "B." to the amount of $8,000, due, $4,000 on May 1, 1896, and $4 000 on Nov. 1, 1896.

Earnings.—Under order of court, Feb. 3, 1896, the earnings of the several divisions are now reported separately, viz.:

Net earnings	$53,378 def.	$5,354 def.	$11,979	$36,045

Prior Claims.—On Nov. 11, 1897, the Court, confirming the Master's report, ordered that claims aggregating $277,860 (including receiver's certificates for $141,300, and taxes $30,000) should rank as a prior charge on the property, and should be paid out of any proceeds arising from the sale of the properties now in the control of the Court. The unpaid taxes named above have since been paid. A decree was also entered confirming the Master's report upon compensation of trustee and counsel, the amount involved being $56,030. On Dec. 4, 1897, an appeal was taken by the mortgage trustees from the decree of Court confirming the Master's report upon priority of claims. This decree is still pending in the Circuit Court of Appeals for the Fifth Judicial Circuit.

Metropolitan Street Railway Company of Kansas City, Mo.

Walton H Holmes, Vice-President and Gen. Manager, says:

Construction.—During the year the company has put in operation the double track electric line on Wyandotte St. from Second St. to the Southwest Boulevard and on the Southwest Boulevard from Main St. to the city of Rosedale. [In all 6 miles of road—12 miles of track.—ED.] It also converted the Prospect Ave. horse line [1¾ miles long], into a double-track electric line from Fifteenth Street to Thirty first Street. During this period also the Kansas City & Independence Air Line, a competitor of the company, went out of the passenger business between Kansas City and Independence, and thus left Fairmount Park without transportation facilities. As the Washington Park lease was about to expire we abandoned Washington Park and built a double-track extension to Fairmount Park. This line was put in operation the middle of May. [Park Connecting Railway, Washington Park to Fairmount Park, .822 miles of double track.—Ed.]

The Riverview Power Station has been completed and put in successful operation, supplying electric power as far as possible from a central station. This station is modern in every particular.

Expenses.—For the year the percentage of operating expenses has decreased to 54·83 per cent from 56·55 per cent for the previous year, while the cost of carrying passengers has likewise decreased from 2·91 hundredths cents per passenger to 2·85 cents per passengar. The policy of maintaining the company's physical property in first-class condition has been continued and rigidly followed throughout the year. For repairs on cars and tracks alone the gross sum of $91,084 was expended, an increase of $17,147 over the amount expended the previous year.

Equipment.—The equipment includes: Cable cars, 474; electric cars, 105; sweepers and snow plows, 15; elevated railway cars, closed motors, 30; closed motors (out of use), 8.

United States Glass Company.

(Report for year ending June 30, 1898.)

President D. C. Ripley in his report congratulates the stockholders that the long-looked-for improvement in the company's affairs has arrived. Although prices of staples have declined, the present feeling is justified by recent sales that prices will now advance. The cost of glass has been reduced 14c. per 100 pounds. The sales for the past year show an increase of 19 per cent, and the loss for bad debts on this business did not exceed one-third of 1 per cent. During the year the company has sold 15 acres of its Glassport property at an average price of $4,500 an acre, and the company's investment in that property is showing satisfactory results. The report makes the following showing:

Sales, royalties, etc.	$1,614,848
General and operating expenses	1,602,455
Net profits for year	$12,393
Available assets—
Glass and materials on hand, accounts receivable and cash.	$668,733
Liabilities	490,872
Net available assets	$177,860
Add cost of works, exclusive of Glassport	2,318,401
Glassport Land Co	462,468
Total assets in excess of liabilities	$2,958,729

The surplus earnings of more than $12,000, as above, compared, it is stated, with a deficit of $1,300 last year and a deficit of $30,000 for the year before.

[The authorized capital stock is $5,000,000 in $100 shares, of which, it is understood, there has been issued (full paid) $3,458,100 common and $890,000 preferred. The company is a Pennsylvania corporation and was organized in 1891 to manufacture pressed and blown glassware of every description. Its plants are at Pittsburg, Glassport and Greensburg, Pa.; Wheeling, W. Va.; Findlay, Steubenville and Tiffin, O., and Gas City, Ind. The report has not been received and the statement here given is taken from a Pittsburg paper.—Ed.]

The following were elected directors for the ensuing year:

Daniel C. Rip'ey (President), Addison Lyle, A. L. Brahm, Ralph Bagaley, Marion G. Boyce, J. S. Craig, W. C. King, Joseph Anderson, H. D. W. English.

American Debenture Co.—Foreclosure Sale Sept. 27.—Foreclosure sale of the collateral securing the bonds of 1883, series F, is advertised for Sept. 27. See list of collateral, etc., in notice of sale in the advertisement in last week's CHRONICLE.

Appleton (Wis.) Water Works Co.—Bondholders' Committee.—Wm. H. Burrows, Charles L. Long and Granville C. Tyler, with W. W. Miller, of 30 Broad St., New York City, as Secretary, constitute a bondholders' committee representing more than a majority of the first mortgage bonds. They have begun foreclosure proceedings and earnestly request all bondholders who have not already received the committee's circulars immediately to communicate with the secretary of the committee.—V. 67, p. 426.

Badger Electric Co. (Lt'd).—Bonds Called.—Under terms of mortgage dated Oct. 1st, 1891, to the Atlantic Trust Co., Trustee, bond No. 76 for $1,000 has been drawn for redemption at 104 and accrued interest on Oct. 1st, 1898.

Baltimore & Ohio RR.—Time for Deposits Limited to Sept. 15.—The reorganization managers announce that over 97½ per cent of the bonds and over 95½ per cent of the stocks embraced in the reorganization plan (excepting the B. & O. preferred shares and Akron & Chicago Junction preferred shares) have been deposited under the plan of June 22, and that further deposits will be accepted only upon a cash payment of 2 per cent of the par value of bonds and an additional cash payment of $2 per share of stock deposited until Sept. 15, after which date no further deposits will be accepted except in the discretion of the reorganization managers and upon such terms as they may impose.—V. 67, p. 426.

Bath (Me.) Gas & Electric.—Lewiston Brunswick & Bath Street Ry.—Assignment.—A press dispatch from Bath, Me., Aug. 30, says: "Galen C. Moses, one of the wealthiest known of Bath's citizens, assigned to-day. This action is said to be caused by alleged financial difficulties of the Bath Gas & Electric Co. and the Richards Paper Company of South Gardiner, both of which concerns later assigned. The failure is thought to exceed $200,000." Mr. Moses is President of the Bath Street Ry. Co., and one of the syndicate promoting the Lewiston Brunswick & Bath Street Ry.—V. 66, p. 1001.

Bear Valley Irrigation Co. of Redlands, Cal.—Reorganization.—We enclosed a copy of the item respecting this company recently published in the CHRONICLE to the Savings & Trust Company of Cleveland, O., the mortgage trustee, and requested further information. In response we have this:

The clipping gives all the information that can be given at this time. We are interested only as trustees under a mortgage, and the clipping outlines a proposed basis of settlement between different parties in litigation. There has been no printed circulars gotten out, simply a proposition made and put in writing as a basis of settlement, which, if accepted by all parties in interest, contemplates reorganization. We have not heard as yet as to whether proposition of settlement has been accepted by the water consumers and others to the extent of making it binding. Mr. A. G. Hubbard of Redlands, Cal., is Chairman of the bond and note holders' committee; also of the committee representing receivers' certificates.—V. 67, p. 369.

Brunswick Dock & City Improvement Co.—Additional Stock Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed $730,200 additional capital stock, making total amount listed $5,000,000. The company has redeemed (and the trustee has canceled) $169,200 of the $180,300 first mortgage bonds outstanding and has made arrangements to pay off the entire bonded indebtedness of the company. See the Treasurer's statement in V. 67, p. 273.

Buffalo & Niagara Falls Electric Ry.—First Dividend.—The company has declared its first dividend, one per cent (quarterly), payable Sept. 15.—V. 63, p. 558.

Buffalo & Susquehanna RR.—Bonds Called.—First mortgage five per cent, Series A, $1,000 bonds, numbers 1223 to 1296, both inclusive, and Series B, $500 bonds, numbers 113 to 116, both inclusive, and numbers 119 to 121, both inclusive, have been called for the sinking fund, and will be redeemed at par and accrued interest on October 1, 1898, at the banking house of Messrs. Harvey Fisk & Sons, No. 29 Nassau Street, New York.—V. 67, p. 427.

Buffalo Tonawanda & Niagara Falls Electric Ry.—New Company.—This company has been incorporated with authorized capital stock of $1,250,000 in $100 shares, and has absorbed the Tonawanda Street RR. The directors are:

Henry B Smith, Bay City, Mich.; H. M. Gillett, Bay City, Mich.; Timothy E. Ellsworth, Lockport; James A. Roberts, Buffalo; George Sandrock, Buffalo; Clarence M. Howard, Buffalo; James Low, Niagara Falls; John A. Read, North Tonawanda; Benjamin L. Hand, North Tonawanda.

The Tonawanda Street RR. was an electric line, bonded for $50,000, and extending from Tonawanda to Gratwick, 2¾ miles. The present intention as reported is to build a double track road along the river front from Black Rock to Tonawanda, and from the latter point to Niagara Falls over private property.

Chicago Cattle Loan Co.—Chicago Junction Railways & Union Stock Yards Co.—Object of New Company.—It appears that the Chicago Cattle Loan Co., whose incorporation was noted last week, was organized by interests identified with the Chicago Junction Railways & Union Stock Yards Co., for the purpose of loaning money direct to cattle feeders in the West, taking chattel mortgages on the cattle, and stipulating that the cattle when marketed shall be sent to Chicago. The Kansas City and Omaha Stock Yards, it is stated, have both organized cattle loan companies, and they have proved of great advantage to the stock yards of those cities.—V. 67, p. 427; V. 66, p. 1043.

Chicago Great Western Ry.—Surveys.—This company is running a preliminary line from Hampton, Ia., to Omaha, Neb., not, however, with any present intention of building, but to secure information which may be useful in the future. (Official statement to "Railroad Gazette.")—V. 67, p. 423, 433.

Chicago Peoria & Western RR.—Glucose Sugar Refining.—Proposed Connecting Line.—The Chicago Peoria & Western has been incorporated in the interest of the Glucose Sugar Refining Co., to connect its plants in Chicago, Peoria and Rockford, Ill., and Davenport, Ia. Surveys are in progress between Chicago and Peoria. The officers of the new company are those of the Sugar Refining Co., viz.: President, C. H. Matthiessen; Secretary and Treasurer, S. T. Butler; General Manager, W. J. Gorman.—V. 67, p. 319.

Columbus Hocking Valley & Toledo Ry.—Further Advance of 2 Per Cent for Interest on Consol. 5s Sept. 1.—J. P. Morgan & Co., referring to their circulars of Feb. 25, 1897, Aug. 31, 1897, and Feb. 28, 1898, give notice that they are prepared to make a further advance of $20 on each $1,000 5 per cent consol. bond of 1881 now deposited with them.—V. 66, p. 1044.

Commonwealth Electric Co.—Chicago Edison Co.—Prospectus—Description of Bonds and Property.—Agreement.—Of the $2,000,000 of Commonwealth Electric bonds recently issued it is announced that $500,000 have been placed in London with the London-Scottish American Trust, through Aldis, Aldis, Northcote & Wilson. In addition $700,000, it is stated, have been placed in Chicago, $3 0,000 more have practically been placed and N. W. Harris & Co. are offering the remaining $500,000. A letter of President Insull to N. W. Harris & Co. gives the following facts regarding the company's property, its business, its bond issue and its agreement with the Chicago Edison Co.:

Property Owned.—The Commonwealth Company practically control the entire electric lighting business in Chicago south of Thirty-ninth Street, north of Lincoln Park and west of Ashland Boulevard. It recently acquired at a cost of considerably more than $2,600,000 the business and a sets of the following companies:

South Side.—People's Electric Light & Motor Power Co., Mutual Electric Light Co., Hyde Park Thomson Houston Light Co., Hyde Park Electric Light & Power Co., Englewood Electric Light Co., People's Light & Power Co.
West Side.—West Chicago Light & Power Co.
North Side.—Western Light & Power Co., Edgewater Light Co.

The Commonwealth Company's ordinance confers the right to use streets and alleys throughout the entire city of Chicago for a period of fifty years from June, 1897, in the operation of wires and electric conductors for the distribution of electricity for furnishing light, heat and power. The company has also acquired the ordinances of:

Garfield Electric Lighting Co., on the west side.
Western Electric Co., on the south side.
Fort Wayne Jenney Electric Co., Lake Electric Lighting Co. and Town of Lake Electric Light Co., in the town of Lake.
Lake View Electric Light Co., in the city of Lake View.

The company therefore possesses full and ample ordinance rights covering its operation in every part of Chicago.

New Bonds.—The $2,000,000 of 5 per cent forty-five year gold bonds are secured by a mortgage to the Northern Trust Co., Chicago. The further amount of $150,000 is held in escrow for the retirement of $5 ,000 bonds of the Hyde Park Thomson-Houston Light Co. and $100,000 of bonds of the Hyde Park Electric Light & Power Co. by purchase or exchange, for which arrangements are already on foot. After retirement of the $150,000 outstanding bonds said mortgage will be a first lien upon all property and rights of the Commonwealth Company.

[Then follows a statement as to the right to issue additional bonds and the provisions touching the depreciation reserve fund, substantially as already reported in the CHRONICLE of Aug. 13, page 319.]

Plan of Operation.—Agreement with Chicago Edison as to Interest.—The various systems operated by the different companies above mentioned have been consolidated and brought under one management, and five of the nine existing stations will be dispensed with.

An extremely favorable operating contract for the period of the life of the bonds has been formally executed between the Chicago Edison Co. and the Commonwealth Co., giving the latter the right to call upon the Edison Co. to supply all the current necessary to feed the Commonwealth Co.'s system at a very low cost of production.

Under this operating contract it is provided that, if at any time the interest on the Commonwealth Company bonds shall be unpaid, all moneys accruing to the Edison Company under the contract pending such default shall be paid to the mortgage trustee to be used in paying the matured interest coupons, the Edison Company allowing the payment of interest by the Commonwealth Company in preference to its own claims. It will thus be seen that the Edison Company practically stands sponsor for the payment, to the extent of moneys accruing to it under the operating contract, of the interest on bonds of the Commonwealth Company.

Earnings.—The gross earnings of the various systems now owned for the year 1897 were approximately $333,000. The net earnings for that period were $75,700. On April 1, 1898, the Commonwealth Electric Co. took over the various properties, but did not commence economizing until about May 15, since which time without any increase in prices the following results have been obtained:

Month.	Gross earnings.	Operating expenses.	Net earnings.	Av. per year.
May	$25,914	$19,077	$6,832	$82,0-9
June	27,474	18,053	9,411	112,934
July	27,517	17,771	9,746	116,952

The above figures are based upon the operation of the plants without the advantage of the operating contract made with the Edison Co., the advantages of which will increase as the business of the Commonwealth Co. is extended. The total fixed charges under a bond issue of $2,000,000, and including the interest on the underlying bonds, will amount to $109,000. It is estimated the net earnings before the lapse of a year's operation will be at the rate of $140,000 per annum.

Management.—The officers and directors are as follows:

President, Samuel Insull; Vice Pres., Robert T. Lincoln; Sec. and Treas., Frank S. Gorton, Comptroller, Walter M. Anthony, General Super., Louis A. Ferguson; Directors, Edward L. Browster, Samuel Insull, Joseph Leiter, Robert T. Lincoln and John J. Mitchell.—V. 67, p. 370, 319.

Eastern Illinois Coal Co.—Payment of Coupons.—A Boston paper says:

"Treasurer J. M. Pendleton announces that the coupon of Sept. 1 1898, will be paid on presentation at the Farmers' Loan & Trust Co. The coupon of March, 1898, will be paid later on if it is possible to do so, but the condition of the soft coal trade has been such in the past few years that the company has been unable to make leases that would provide a revenue sufficient to meet the interest charges. It is hoped that the company will be able to meet the interest in the future, but it cannot be promised at this time."

Edison Electric Illuminating Co. of Brooklyn.—Kings County Electric Light and Power.—Official Circular Giving Terms for Sale of Stock.—An official circular explains as follows the plan under which the stockholders of the Edison Electric Illuminating Co. of Brooklyn can sell their holdings to the Kings County Electric Light & Power Co:

Deposit of Stock.—"Edison stockholders are to deposit their certificates of stock, together with an agreement to deposit an amount of cash equal to 25 per cent of their stock with the Central Trust Co. (unless the right to subscribe for additional stock shall have been assigned), and are to assign to the trust company the shares represented by the certificates, together with the shares of the additional stock to be acquired with the cash so deposited. The trust company will issue negotiable certificates for the shares. The time allowed for such deposits is limited to Sept. 20."

Description of New Purchase Money Bonds of Kings County Co.—"The trust company, after its receipt of two-thirds of the Edison stock, will assign the shares to the Kings County Co. and receive the purchase price therefor, which will (including the additional stock subscribed and paid for) be represented, par for par, by 6 per cent gold ninety-nine year purchase money coupon or registered bonds of the Kings County Co. The Kings County Co will, in addition, deliver to the stockholders' committee bonds of the same issue which will produce an income agreed to be sufficient to meet the expenses of the competent representation by the committee of the present and future interests and rights of the Edison selling stockholders in the necessary details of the present transaction, in guarding the expenditures of the proceeds of the further issue of Edison first consolidated mortgage bonds and the investment of the guaranty fund presently mentioned, and otherwise."

"The purchase money bond of the Kings County Company will be secured by vendor's lien on the Edison shares to be reserved by the Central Trust Company and by a purchase money mortgage, which, besides being a first lien on the Edison shares, will be a general lien on property, present and future, of the Kings County Company, subject only to its present first mortgage of $2,500,000. They will also be secured by the deposit with the Central Trust Company of $1,000,000 cash to be invested in securities to be approved by the stockholders' committee."

Consolidated Mortgage of Edison Co. to be increased to be $10,000,000 at 4 Per Cent Interest.—"It is proposed that the Edison first consolidated mortgage, recently authorized for $5,000,000, in 5 per cent bonds, shall be authorized instead to an amount not exceeding $ 0,0 0,000 in forty year 4 per cent bonds. This mortgage will be secured by a first lien on all the Edison property, subject only to the existing first mortgage bonds which will be paid off and canceled in 1900. The Kings County Company will additionally secure these bonds by a mortgage of its own property, subject to $2,500,000 of its first mortgage bonds and the lien of its purchase money bonds to be received by the Edison selling stockholders. The first issue of the Edison first consolidated bonds will be $2,000,000, to provide funds to pay for the stock of the Municipal Company. Of the remainder, $1,875,000 will be reserved to retire the $1,500,000 of existing first mortgage bonds, which will be called for payment at 110 and interest in 1900, as provided in the mortgage. The remainder of the $10,000,000 issue will be issued from time to time as required for extensions, additions and other property, which, when acquired, will become subject to the lien of the mortgage."

Right to Subscribe for Consol. 4s at 88 in 1900.—"It is proposed to secure to the Edison stockholders ratably to their holdings the right to subscribe in 1900 for the $1,875,000 of Edison consolidated first mortgage bonds at the price of 88 per cent of their par value, which will provide the amount necessary to redeem the $1,500,000 of existing first mortgage bonds. The holders of Central Trust Co. certificates for stock deposited will thus for each 21⅓ shares have the privilege in 1900 of subscribing for one $1,000 bond at the price of $880 and accrued interest."

Extra Dividend of 2¼ to 3 Per Cent from Profit and Loss Surplus.—"The holders of trust company certificates will also be entitled to their ratable shares of extra dividends to be declared by the Edison Company so as to distribute the amount to the credit of profit and loss on June 30, 1898, including the insurance fund, less the expenses of the company incident to the new mortgage and this transaction. The amount of this dividend cannot be known until such expenses are determined, but it will probably be between 2¼ and 3 per cent."

Stockholders' Committee.—"The duties of the stockholders' committee, George Foster Peabody, Ethan Allen Doty and Edwin M. Bulkley, will, it is contemplated, continue until investment shall have been made of the remaining $6,125,000 of the Edison first consolidated bonds reserved for extensions and improvements. The membership of this committee will be in the control of the holders of a majority of the purchase money bonds to be received by the Edison selling stockholders."

Deposit of Two-Thirds of Stock Necessary.—"The agreement will become effectual upon deposit with the Central Trust Company of two thirds of the Edison stock. The time allowed for such deposits is limited to September 20."

Capitalization of Kings County Company.—The Edison Company has outstanding $4,000,000 of stock, which will be increased to $5,000,000 and exchanged as above stated. If the entire issue is so exchanged, the capitalization of the Kings County Company will consist of the following:

Kings County capital stock	$2,500,000
First mortgage 5 p. c. (A&O) gold bonds of 1897, due 1937	2,500,000
Purchase money 6 per cent ninety-nine year gold bonds secured by deposit of Edison stock, also by a second mortgage on the property of the Kings County Co., and by a guaranty fund of $1,000,000, total issue about	5,150,000
Edison Electric Illuminating first mortgage 5s subject to call in 1900	1,500,000
Edison Electric Illuminating consol. mortgage forty-year 4 per cent, $10,000,000, of which to be issued at once to pay for Municipal Company's stock	2,000,000

—V. 67, p. 177.

East Middlesex Street Ry.—Payment of Bonds.—The $125,000 bonds due Sept 1 are being paid at the National Hide & Leather Bank, Boston. Estabrook & Co. recently purchased a like amount of 5 per cents issued to refund the maturing loan.

Gas Consumers' Association of the United States.—To Increase Capital Stock.—The stockholders will vote at the office of the company, 316 Post Street, San Francisco, on Oct., 20, upon a proposition to increase the capital stock from $300,000 to $500,000, divided into 25,000 shares of the par value of $20 each. D. L. Randolph is President and George R. Kibbe Secretary of the company.

Hudson River Tunnel Ry.—Sale Ordered.—Chancellor McGill, at Jersey City, on Thursday signed the order directing the foreclosure sale of the property. The date of sale will be fixed by Commissioner Randolph Parmly.—V. 67, p. 274.

Illinois Steel—Minnesota Iron—Lorain Steel—Elgin Joliet & Eastern RR.—Chicago Lake Shore & Eastern RR. —Federal Steel.—Official Statement as to Pending Consolidation.—On Tuesday Judge E. H. Gary gave to the press the following statement:

"The committee on consolidation reports that it has been decided to organize a new company, to be known as the Federal Steel Co., under the laws of New Jersey. The capital stock will be about $200,000,000, one-half in 6 per cent preferred and one half in common stock. A syndicate which will furnish the necessary working capital for the new company will be managed by J. P. Morgan & Co.

"Arrangements for the purchase of the steel plants at Lorain, O., and Johnstown, Pa., have been consummated. A majority of the stockholders of the Minnesota Iron Co., the Illinois Steel Co. and the Elgin Joliet & Eastern RR. Co. have already signified their willingness to sell to the new company.

"It is expected that a circular embodying the plan of organization will be sent to the stockholders of the different companies within a week. The transfers of stock will probably be made by the Central Trust Co. It is expected that the new company will be ready to begin business on Oct. 1."

The final details are to be left to a sub committee consisting of Robert Bacon of J. P. Morgan & Co. and Roswell P. Flower.

We are officially informed that the stockholders of the Minnesota Iron Co. will receive a cash dividend of 1½ per cent and for every $10,000 par value of stock $13,600 par value of new preferred stock. They will also have the privilege of subscribing for $10,000 of new common stock at 25.—V. 67, p. 428.

Kansas City Pittsburg & Gulf RR.—Official Statement.—President Stillwell has made the following statement regarding the property: "The prospects for our road were never brighter than they are to day. I hear all sorts of rumors of receiverships, big floating debt, &c., but the facts in the case are that the Kansas City Pittsburg & Gulf is to-day earning its full interest and has the larger part of the money in the bank to meet its October coupons. It has no floating debt. Our August earnings ($812,000) are the largest in the history of the road. The best previous month was November, 1897, with gross earnings of $303,600. Our earnings are now $11,000 to $12,000 a day. They should from now on be largely increased, for the cotton movement is just starting Five large lumber mills which have been in processs of construction for nine months will soon be completed, and they should give us $5,000 a day in freight. One of the mills is now giving us $1,000 a day. The last week of July was the best week in the history of the road for the movement of lumber. We handled 564 cars from the 119 saw-mills located on the road." —V. 67, p. 222.

Kentucky & Indiana Bridge.—Bonds Sold.—Logan Murray, who is liquidating the Kentucky National Bank, it is stated, has sold $138,000 of the terminal bonds of the Bridge at 60 to the Southern Railway Co. It is thought the bridge will be foreclosed this fall and the company be reorganized.—V. 65, p. 976.

Mobile & Bay Shore Ry.—Mobile & Ohio RR.—New Project.—The Mobile & Bay Shore Ry. was recently incorporated by W. Butler Duncan, Adrian Iselin, Jr., J. H. Masson, James C. Clarke, and others, identified with the Mobile & Ohio, to build a railroad from Mertz Station, on the Duncan Branch, to or near Portersville and Alabama Port, a distance of 27 miles. All the rights of way have been secured. Books of subscription to the capital stock of the Mobile & Bay Shore Ry. Co. will be opened in the Cotton Exchange Building, Mobile, on Sept. 28th, 1898.—V. 67, p. 271.

New Transfer Ticket Law in New York State.—Statute in Effect.—The law providing a penalty for the unlawful use of transfer tickets issued by the street railways of New York State went into effect on Thursday. The law is as follows:

"Section 619a. No transfer ticket or written or printed instrument giving, or purporting to give, the right of transfer to any person or persons from a public conveyance operated upon one line or route of a street surface railroad to a public conveyance upon another line or route of a street surface railroad, or from one car to another car upon the same line of street surface railroad, shall be issued, sold, or given, except to a passenger lawfully entitled thereto. Any person who shall issue, sell or give away such a transfer ticket or instrument as aforesaid to a person or persons not lawfully entitled thereto, and any person or persons not lawfully entitled thereto who shall receive and use or offer for passage any such transfer ticket or instrument, or shall sell or give away such transfer ticket or instrument to another, with intent to have such transfer ticket used or offered for passage after the time limited for its use shall have expired, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor."

New York & Harlem RR.—Stockholders to Vote Oct. 5 on Proposed Settlement of Refunding Controversy.—A special meeting of the stockholders will be held on Oct. 5, 1898, at twelve o'clock, noon, "for the purpose of considering the final report of a committee appointed by the board of directors to agree with the board of directors of the New York Central & Hudson River RR. Co. upon a settlement of the questions between the two companies arising out of the lease of April 1, 1873, and the refunding of the consolidated mortgage bonds of this company, and for the purpose of taking final action with reference to such proposed settlement and agreement." The terms of the proposed settlement were given in the CHRONICLE of Aug. 13, p. 321. They provide that of the saving from refunding the $12,000,000 of 7s due May 1, 1900, at 3½ per cent, $220,000 shall go to the Central and $200,000 to the New York & Harlem, affording to the latter an amount equal to 2 per cent yearly on its stock.

The Harlem stock is now receiving in dividends 12 per cent yearly, and after July, 1901, (when the rental from the Fourth Avenue line will be increased from 3½ per cent to 4 per cent) and the refunding of the consols will have been accomplished, the annual distribution should equal 14½, if not 15, per cent. See V. 67, p. 178 and 223, and also INVESTORS' SUPPLEMENT.—V. 67, p. 321.

Northern Pacific Ry.—Master's Report Touching Lands.—Special Master Carey at Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 25, filed his report, deciding that the preferred stock of the old company does not possess the lien which was claimed for it upon the 3,738,874 acres of land in Minnesota and North Dakota east of the Missouri River. The Master holds that there can be no such thing as preference of stock upon capital, in the sense that the stockholder shall be repaid that which he has contributed to the capital of the corporation, before the creditors are satisfied.

Report.—An advance statement for the late fiscal year will be found on page 477 of to-day's CHRONICLE.

Dividend.—It is understood that at their meeting yesterday the directors took no action regarding any dividend on the common stock from the earnings of the past year, and that the annual report, as adopted, makes no mention of the subject. The President stated to the board that if business prospects continue as at present, of which there seems to be every likelihood, it would be proper for the board in the course of a few months, to give consideration to the question of a dividend on the common stock from the earnings of the current year.—V. 67, p. 223.

Paducah (Ky.) Railway & Light Co.—Status of Consolidation.—New Loan.—This company, as already announced, has been incorporated with a capital stock of $300,000, and we are officially informed will be bonded for $400,000, secured by a first mortgage, the only mortgage on the property. The purpose is to absorb the two street railway companies and the two electric-light companies, all of which are now owned by the same people. The companies thus to be amalgamated are the Paducah Street Railway Co. and the People's Light, Power & Railway Co., the last-named company having already absorbed the General Electric Light & Power Co.

There will be about 14½ miles of street railway, besides a large electric light and power plant. The new bonds are being sold through the American Trust & Savings Bank of Chicago, Ill., and Mr. R. W. Vivian, broker, of the same city. The preliminaries are not yet completed, but it is hoped during the next few weeks to get everything in shape.—V. 67, p. 127.

Peoples Gas Light & Coke Co. of Chicago.—Cross Bill.—In the suit of James Livingston the company has filed a cross-bill designed to show that at the time of filing his bill Livingston was not the owner of the fifteen bonds in question, but was and is now a mere tool of certain persons who have caused to be instituted the action in furtherance of a design to injure the stock and bond holders of the company by depreciating the market value of the company's assets and securities.—V. 67, p. 321.

Port Arthur Duluth & Western Ry.—Sold.—The Toronto General Trusts Co. has sold the control of the road to Mackenzie, Mann & Co. for a price said to be about $250,000. The new owners, it is believed, will extend the road forty or fifty miles into Minnesota to connect with the railways of the Northwestern States and also to a connection with the Rainy River Railway, a charter for which Mackenzie, Mann & Co. have secured, and on the construction of which it is said they are now working. A description of the Port Arthur Duluth & Western was given in V. 64, p. 1002.

Quebec Montmorency & Charlevoix Ry.—To Purchase Power and Light Plant.—The stockholders will vote Sept. 30 on a proposition to purchase the Montmorency Power Company, which supplies the motive power of the street railway and lights to the city streets. The price is said to be $1,250,000.—V. 67, p. 75.

Sedalia (Mo.) Railway Light & Power.—Sedalia Electric Co.—Purchased.—A press dispatch from Sedalia says the Sedalia Railway Light & Power Co. and the Sedalia & Brown Springs Electric, embracing in all 15 miles of track and an electric-light plant have been purchased by Stewart & Co., of New York, and will be consolidated under the name of the Sedalia Electric Co. The new officers are: S. H. G. Stewart of New York, President; John D. Crawford of Sedalia, Vice-President, and Calton H. Reeve of New York, Secretary and Treasurer. The directors are the above officers and A. C. Zimmerman of New York and W. H. Powell, Jr., of Sedalia.

Standard Rope & Twine.—Union Selling Co.—Selling Agency.—The Union Selling Co. has been organized, with a capital of $500,000. Mr. Thomas Russell, for thirty years agent of the Clark Mile-End Spool Cotton, is President and Mr. Charles E. Borden is Vice-President. Mr. Borden has been at the head of the sales department of the Rope & Twine Co. The other directors are Mr. Henry D. Cooper of J. F. White & Co., Mr. J. W. Spaulding of A. G. Spaulding & Co. and Mr. E. A. Walton of the Citizens' Insurance Co.

We understand that the purpose of the Union Selling Co. is, in its relation with the Rope & Twine Co., to act as selling agents, and at the same time to finance the Rope & Twine Co.'s business to an extent which will enable it to run its factories on full time and so place it in the position in the trade which it should occupy. Hitherto the Rope & Twine Co. has been unable to do what is now proposed to be done through the intermediary of the Union Selling Co., owing to lack of sufficient working capital. It will be seen that this arrangement will enable the Rope & Twine Co. to effect large economies in its manufacturing expenses, and as the Selling Co. will assume the charge for selling, the net benefit to the Rope & Twine Co will be considerable.—V. 66, p. 951.

Staten Island Rapid Transit RR.—Over 92 Per Cent of Seconds Deposited—Penalty After Sept. 9.—Hallgarten & Co. announce that over 92 per cent of the 5 per cent second mortgage bonds guaranteed by the Baltimore & Ohio RR. Co. have been deposited with the Central Trust Co. under the July agreement. Notice is given that further deposits will only be accepted without penalty until September 9, inclusive, after which date there will be a penalty of $20 per bond.—V. 67, p. 435.

Swift & Co.—Increased Dividend.—The company has increased the rate of its quarterly dividend from 6 per cent per annum, at which it has stood since April, 1895, to 7 per cent. Previous to 1895 the rate was 8% yearly.—V. 67, p. 321.

Terre Haute Electric Ry.—Majority of Bonds of 1892 Defeated—Further Deposits till Sept. 15.—The first mortgage bondholders' committee of the Terre Haute Street Railway Co. has prepared a bondholders' agreement and has secured the deposit of more than a majority of the bonds thereunder. The limit of time for receiving deposits at the Illinois Trust & Savings Bank has been fixed at Sept. 15.—V. 67, p. 323.

Torrington (Needle) Company—Excelsior Needle Co. of Connecticut—New Company—Securities Offered.—Kidder, Peabody & Co. this week offered for subscription at par $1,000,000 first mortgage 5s, $1,000,000 preferred stock and $1,000,000 Class "A" stock of the new Torrington Company. The company is capitalized as follows:

First mortgage 5 per cent 20-year gold bonds, dated Sept. 1, 1898, interest M&S. c*. Mortgage trustee, New England Trust Co., of Boston. Issue subject to call at 110 and interest	$1,000,000
7 per cent cumulative stock, preferred as to principal and dividends; issue subject to call at 125 per cent; par value of shares, $25	1,000,000
Class "A" common stock, entitled for 5 years to 8 per cent dividends each year, cumulatively, before any dividend payments to Class "B," par value of shares $25	1,000,000
Class "B" common stock, par value of shares, $25	1,000,000

The subscription lists were opened on Thursday, September 1, and were to be closed on or before September 3, 1898.

The Torrington Company is incorporated under the laws of the State of Maine, and was formed for the purpose of acquiring and carrying on the business of the Excelsior Needle Co. of Connecticut, which has been in business since 1866. It will own directly and through ownership of the shares of subordinate companies the factory and plant at Torrington, Connecticut, where are manufactured sewing-machine and knitting-machine needles, and also bicycle spokes and nipples and swaging machinery; also the factory at Springfield, Massachusetts, where are manufactured needles; and the needle factory in Redditch, England; also a considerable investment in store supplies in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and London, England, and in its bicycle spoke factory in Leicester, England. The prospectus says:

The officers of the old company state that it produces a large majority of all the sewing-machine needles and bicycle spokes and nipples produced in this country. The new company acquires all the old company, free of all incumbrances, and will start with no outstanding liabilities except the above-mentioned bonds and with about $175,000 cash on hand, beside cash assets. The books of the old company have been examined by Messrs. Deloitte, Dovers, Griffiths & Co., chartered accountants of London and New York, who report as follows:

"We have examined the accounts of the Excelsior Needle Co., Torrington, Conn., the National Needle Co., Springfield, Mass., and A. H. Smith & Co., New Haven, Conn., and we find the total profits for the three companies, before charging any depreciation and interest on capital, to be as follows: Year ended 30th June, 1896, $480,074; year ended 30th June, 1897, $398,640; year ended 30th June, 1898, $465,725. These profits are arrived at after including the result of the transactions of the business in England and the various agencies in the United States. In the profits for the year ended 30th June, 1898, there is included an amount of $71,912, derived from the sale of patent rights in Germany. We are assured that all depreciation is covered by the charges to operating expenses for renewals and repairs, and from the character of the machinery and plant we believe this to be the case."

These profits, averaging over $100,000 per annum, will leave a surplus after paying 5 per cent on bonds, 7 per cent on the preferred stock and 8 per cent on both classes of common stock. The new company has arranged to continue for a period of years the present management, and some of the former directors will remain as directors.

Third Avenue RR. (New York City).—Ready for Underground Trolley.—Edward Lauterbach, counsel and one of the directors of the company, is quoted as saying:

"The underground trolley which is to replace the cable and other traction methods of the company will be in operation in sixty days after the beginning of the work on the main Third Avenue line. Before the snow flies the cars of the 42d Street line will be operated by electricity and those of the 125th Street line in ninety days. The Dry Dock line will be left over until the spring. The change from cable to trolley will result in little, if any, interference with the operation of the Third Avenue system, except perhaps on the 42d Street line. When, seven years ago, the change was made from horses to cable traction there was no interference with operations, and recently at Washington a change was made from cable to electricity without a hitch.

"All the changes and improvements contemplated for the system will cost from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000. The new cars will be lighted by electricity, will be handsomely equipped and properly heated for the cold season. We are reaching out with the Union Railway Co. and improving its service steadily, and our relations with the Metropolitan Street Railway Co. continue to be pleasant. The change on Third Avenue from cable to electricity was brought about by the force of sound logic and no considerations that involved delay were heeded."

A statement of the earnings for the year ending June 30, 1898, is given under "Annual Reports."—V. 66, p. 1047.

United States Mortgage & Trust Co.—Listing of Bonds on New York Stock Exchange.—Series G of this company's Real Estate first mortgage collateral trust bonds were listed last week on the New York Stock Exchange. In June last several of the previous issues were listed and the statement then made to the Exchange described very fully the nature of the Real Estate Bonds and their collateral, and also the financial standing of the company as shown by income account, balance sheet, etc. This statement will be found at length on page 487 of this issue of the CHRONICLE.—V. 66, p. 1239.

United States Sugar Refining Co. Waukegan, Ill.—Competition in Glucose.—This company with a capital of $2,000,000 stock and $1,000,000 6 per cent bonds has the following officers: President, C. M. Warner of Syracuse; Vice President, Wm. H. Bartlett of Bartlett, Frazier & Co.; Treasurer, Thos. A. McIntyre of McIntyre & Wardwell. The directors are: Wm. A. Nash, President of the Corn Exchange Bank; E. R. Ladew, director of the U. S. Leather Co.; E. B. Walden; Herman W. Hoops, Timothy Hogan and Wm. J. Forbes. The "Wall Street Journal" says:

The plans of the company call for a factory with a daily capacity of 15,000 bushels of corn, which is about one-sixth of the capacity of the Glucose Co. It is stated by people connected with the new company that the factory will be in operation in October. The new company bases its plans on the expectation of a profit of 25 cents, which is regarded as conservative. There are practically no patents covering the production of glucose, but it costs from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000 to equip a modern plant, and this fact is of itself a guaranty against destructive competition. It is not likely that the entry of a competitor in the glucose field will be productive of disturbance in the trade, as the Glucose Co. feels that it is desirable from various points of view that there should be a certain amount of independent competition in the trade.—V. 66, p. 617.

Union Suburban Telephone & Telegraph Co. of Cleveland.—This company has been incorporated with $1,000,000 authorized capital stock to operate from Painesville to Sandusky, with branches all over Ohio. H. A. Everett and J. B. Hanna are among the incorporators. The syndicate, of which Mr. Everett is at the head, it is stated has secured control of the Home Telephone Co. and is planning this extension.

Utah & Pacific RR.—Oregon Short Line RR.—New Line.—The Utah & Pacific RR. has been incorporated in Utah to build a railroad from Milford southwest to the boundary line of Utah in Iron County, about 80 miles. The road will be virtually an extension of the Oregon Short Line, and will use the old grade, which was completed by the Union Pacific several years ago from Milford to Pioche, Nevada, 110 miles. A contract with the Oregon Short Line provides that the latter shall furnish the rails and equip the road. The contract with the Short Line, it is stated, also calls for the completion of the road within one year from August 16; 40 miles to Sulphur Springs, it is hoped, will be ready for operation by January 1. The capital stock is $850,000, and the incorporators are: Alfred W. McCune, of Salt Lake, President; David Eccles, of Ogden, Vice-President; William L. Hoge, of Anaconda, Mont., Secretary; Chas. W. Nibley, of Baker City, Ore., Treasurer; Joseph F. Smith, Richard Mackintosh, of Salt Lake; Thomas D. Dee, of Ogden, and Robert C. Lund, of St. George. The work of construction will be carried on by the Utah Construction Co., with Robert S. Campbell as President.—V. 67, p. 372.

Since the opening of the Scranton Division, July 1, 1890, the anthracite tonnage and revenue, including coal received from the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company at Sidney, has been in each of the following years:

Within the last year the final payments on account of car trust indebtedness have been made, with the exception of three notes held by the Guaranty Trust Company and maturing August 15, 1898, (since paid), November 15, and February 15, 1899, amounting in the aggregate to $17,500, when the last car trust obligation of the Company will have been discharged.

On or after June 1st, 1899, the Company has the right to pay off or refund by issue of its four per cent bonds $5,600,000 of Consolidated First Mortgage five per cent bonds. This matter is now having the careful consideration of the Board, and will be carried through when such a price for the fours can be had as, in the judgment of the Directors, they should and are likely in the near future to command. No bonds have been issued or disposed of during the last fiscal year.

The contract with the Adams Express Company having expired, a new agreement, taking effect July 1st, was entered into for a period of five years, and thereafter to continue until one year's notice shall be given, by either party to the agreement, of its termination.

The Sleeping and Drawing-room Car contract with the Pullman Company terminated March 31st, 1898. A new contract was thereupon made with the Wagner Company for running sleeping-cars only, for a period of ten years, the Railway Company reserving the right to operate its own drawing-room cars, the earnings from which will hereafter be included in the earnings of the Railway.

In addition to the amount invested by the company in the stock and bonds of the Ontario Carbondale & Scranton Railway Company, further sums were necessary to complete that line, amounting at the close of the fiscal year to $628,894 76. While these advances have been carried as, and do constitute, an asset, enforcible by judgment against the subordinate company, should any necessity arise for such action, to protect the interests of the company or its security-holders, it is evident that the item is not a quick asset available for the purpose of discharging direct liabilities.

Surplus earnings having been used in the completion of the line, the Board decided to charge the item against the profit and loss account and to credit the same account with the balances carried in the construction accounts of the Wharton Valley and Hancock & Pennsylvania roads (the latter being the portion of the O. C. & S. line in New York State), both which accounts are now closed.

Various other minor accounts have also been closed, uncollectible claims charged off and settlements of old claims effected, making a further charge to profit and loss, the net result of all being a reduction of the profit and loss surplus from $2,681,087 28 at June 30, 1897, to $2,611,173 02 at June 30, 1898. The charges and credits referred to are set out in more detail in the Treasurer's report.

PASSENGER RECEIPTS.

In view of recent legislation obliging railway companies in the State of New York charging a rate of fare exceeding two cents a mile to place on sale mileage books of 500 or 1,000 coupons, at two cents per mile, good in the hands of any person presenting them on trains, the officers of the Company, after mature reflection, concluded to make a uniform rate of two cents a mile for all distances traveled over the Company's lines, at the same time withdrawing all other forms of tickets, including the mileage books previously issued. The use of such books led to abuses which the officers of the Company were unable to control or rectify. At several connecting points it was necessary to meet the two-cent rate established long since by the New York Central Company, and being confronted by these conditions, the plan of charging a uniform rate of two cents per mile was finally adopted. It is believed that for a time this concession may result in reduced passenger receipts, but the Board and officials of the Company have reason to expect that the reduction from three cents to two cents per mile will, in the end, stimulate passenger travel and develop the country adjacent to the main line and its branches, thus eventually augmenting the Company's revenues, both as to local freight and passenger earnings.

LOCAL FREIGHT RECEIPTS.

After a prolonged period of dulness and depression there were indications of an improvement in business conditions during the first months of the calendar year. The "Maine" disaster was, however, immediately followed by a period of uncertainty and serious mercantile depression, which has continued with more or less force since war was declared in April last. There are now, however, indications of a material improvement in business throughout the country, in which your company will be prepared to participate when peace shall have been declared and normal conditions happily resumed.

MILK RECEIPTS.

As stated in the last annual report, the rates on milk were re-adjusted in accordance with a decision of the Inter-State Commerce Commission, then recently rendered. While such rates were established, on the basis of the old uniform rate of thirty-two cents per can, as the maximum rate to be charged for the longest distance, a considerable reduction on the shorter hauls was made, which it was intended should benefit the shippers located in near-by districts. These reductions in the freight rate have not enhanced the price of the commodity, so far as the farming community is concerned. For example, while the rate on milk shipped by rail from Orange County stations was reduced from thirty-two to twenty-six cents per can, the price per quart received by the farmer has shown no material increase. The prices received for the months of April, May and June in the years 1896, 1897 and 1898 have been furnished by an Orange County shipper, and were as follows:

April	1¾-1½ cts. per qt.	1½-1¾ cts. per qt.	2 cts. per qt.
May	1½ cts. " "	1½ cts. " "	1½-1¾ " " "
June	1¼-1½ cts. " "	1¼ " " "	1¼ " " "

It is too often assumed that a panacea for the ills of the shipper may be found in the reduction of the rate he pays the railway for transporting his product. Experience shows that the reduction is in most cases absorbed by the middle man or consumer and that the producer fails to derive any great benefit from such concessions, while the loss falls entirely upon the carrier. Upon the prosperity of the agriculturalist depends, in great measure, the financial success of the railway, and all proper concessions which the railway company can extend to the farming community along its lines are as a rule cheerfully made, because their interests are identical, and it is an elementary business proposition that facilities and rates which promote the prosperity of the shipper also benefit the carrier to an appreciable extent. These conditions apply to other branches of traffic as well as to milk. Uniform and just rates, giving no advantages whatever to favored shippers, are of paramount importance, but the continual reduction of freight rates is of no material advantage to the shipper, simply because the agents, factors, middlemen or consumers at the other end of the line are individually or collectively astute enough to absorb the amount of such reduction, or as much of it as possible. This has been the case heretofore and is likely to continue to be so in the future.

The constantly increasing demand for milk shipped in bottles instead of cans, and the higher freight paid on bottled milk, are conditions which promise to reimburse the carrying companies to some extent for the reduction made in the can rate. The superior quality of the milk produced in the country tributary to the main line and branches of your company, and the untiring attention given to the development of this traffic by the freight department and operating officials, promise a continuation of the satisfactory growth of this branch of traffic.

COAL TRAFFIC.

Again this year it is necessary to report extreme depression in the anthracite coal trade, and consequently coal traffic earnings do not show that improvement which your officers had hoped to be able to place before you. For the first time in more than a decade the consumption of anthracite coal is not likely to show a material increase. It is believed by many well-informed persons, who are familiar with the trade, that these conditions are temporary and that there will be a revival of the demand and an improvement in prices with a return of prosperity in other fields; that economy in the domestic uses of anthracite is to be looked for when in other branches of business unusual depression has led to similar conditions. On the other hand, there are also experienced and intelligent people who hold the view that the increasing use of bituminous coals, gas oil and electricity for domestic and business purposes has introduced a new factor of a most serious character, which the anthracite trade must promptly take steps to combat or the future is dark indeed for this great industry. The usual panacea has already been suggested, viz., a reduction of the freight rate. It is claimed that it is manifestly unfair to charge higher rates for transporting anthracite coal to the markets than are charged for hauling bituminous coal.

The earnings and details of the anthracite coal traffic have been very clearly presented by the General Manager, in this, as well as in former reports. The gross earnings from this branch of the Company's traffic may be said to have averaged under seven mills per ton per mile, from the time the Scranton Division was opened until the present time. It must be borne in mind that all coal traffic is one-way business, that is, the coal trains earn nothing whatever when returning from the markets to the mines. It may be stated as a further proposition that were the rates paid for hauling bituminous coal applied to anthracite, this Company would be one of those which would be obliged to retire from this branch of business, as it could not profitably haul coal to tide-water or other points at a rate of three mills per ton per mile or even less. The railways which regulate the prices of bituminous coal at tide-water and other markets haul large trains over low-grade lines to comparatively inexpensive terminal points, such as Norfolk, Va., for instance. The rates are abnormally low and the roads doing the business are not conspicuously prosperous.

Bituminous coals are mined in various localities throughout the United States, easily accessible from the seaports and great manufacturing centres. Competition is keen and the condition of the trade for a number of years has been unprofitable, and at times almost lamentable. Neither the owner of the fee, the operator or the miner have been at any time within the last ten or twelve years upon a basis even approaching prosperity. The old remedy of low rates has been applied with caustic severity; but without avail. To apply these conditions to the anthracite trade could in no way benefit the mine owner or operator. It is manifestly unreasonable to assume that the rail rate can be lowered and the high royalty and comparatively high price received for coal at the breaker at the same time be retained. The very low price received for bituminous coal at the mine, sometimes as low as sixty or seventy cents per ton, would not be possible in the case of the individual or Company operating an anthracite breaker, and yet it is clear that in order to compete with bituminous coal on equal terms, in the New England and other manufacturing markets, not only the rail rate but the cost at the mines must be reduced to the prices ruling on the bituminous product. The objective point, the end to be arrived at, should be an increase in the freight rates on bituminous coal to a reasonably profitable point and not the reduction of the anthracite rate to the ruinous bituminous basis.

Aside from these considerations, there is no reason why the rate for hauling anthracite coal should be as low as the rate on bituminous coal, or lower than the present anthracite rates. The train loads are necessarily much lighter than those of the bituminous carrying railways, as all anthracite producing mines in this section of the country are located in the deep valleys of the State of Pennsylvania, and various summits and heavy gradients are encountered in moving the product of the mines to the markets. The actual transportation cost is therefore heavier than it is on many of the low-grade bituminous roads, over some of which fifty-car trains may be hauled. In the anthracite trade there are known nearly a dozen varieties or sizes, while there is no sizing or grading of bituminous.

Soft coal is carried long distances, usually at regular intervals under contracts for large quantities, entered into at the beginning of each year. As it is generally run of mine coal which is dealt in, unassorted and unclassified, trains no not need to be broken up or divided in order to get a particular size, nor need there be any storing or side-tracking. There is consequently much less switching and shunting, and cars are unloaded and returned much more promptly.

Each of these sizes of anthracite must be taken from chutes when the breaker is running and loaded into, and carried in separate cars, and side-tracked or stored until wanted. At different seasons of the year certain sizes are in demand while other sizes may have no market whatever. Those sizes not required are dumped into storage places and thus remain until it is possible to dispose of them; or such sizes are carried in cars which are side-tracked sometimes for months at a time. As a car, in which twenty-two tons on the average can be carried, costs in the neighborhood of five hundred dollars, and as these cars are held on tracks, the average cost of which cannot be far from fifteen thousand dollars a mile, it will be seen that the accumulation of interest and cost increases at a somewhat alarming ratio. When carried at storage places, the re-handling, interest on cost of an expensive plant, and maintenance, constitute a very serious item of expense, all of which is borne by the railway company.

All of these facilities are provided, and services are included in the freight rate paid.

It is also manifestly unfair to compare the freight rates paid for hauling and handling anthracite and bituminous coals without giving prominence to the fact that in the anthracite trade the custom is to deal with long or gross tons of 2,240 pounds, whilst generally in the bituminous trade only short tons are known. This difference will average four thousand eight hundred pounds weight on every twenty tons carried in a coal car.

It will thus be seen that the somewhat peculiar and complicated relations existing between the transportation company and the shipper in this particular branch of traffic result in putting the railway company in the position of having to render services not only as common carrier, but also as warehouseman, factor, and sometimes as financial agent.

The amount of capital required by an anthracite coal-carrying railroad company to enable it to compete successfully with other railway companies in the same territory, is therefore much in excess of the funds necessary merely to construct and equip a line of railway. It is also a difficult task to introduce and find markets for the anthracite coals of a newly opened line. If an anthracite trade is to be conducted successfully and profitably, it is necessary to be able to reach the Northern and Western markets, as well as the tide water and Eastern consumer and costly and extensive terminals are required on the Great Lakes, as well as at tide-water points, and barges and vessels must be built or controlled, in the proper conduct of the business.

The market value of the article transported bears some proper relation to the rate charged for carrying and caring for it. One must consider whether the rate charged is reasonable for the services performed and cannot justly complain because it may cost more to ship a bale of silk a certain distance than it does a box of boots. That the rate on anthracite coal is a reasonable rate there can be no doubt. In fact, that question has once already been passed upon by the Inter-State Commerce Commission and the Courts. The shipper undoubtedly would be entirely content to pay even a higher than the prevailing rate, as he has done in the past, provided he could realize more for his product at the mine.

The price at the breaker and the freight rate are inseparable factors, dependent one upon the other, and properly so. It is well known that in no other portion of the globe are freight and passenger rates so low as they are in this country, and there are no people anywhere who get the best of fuel at a cost so slow. It may be authoritatively stated that last year the rates obtained by the London & Northwestern Railway of England for all coal handled over its lines averaged one and a quarter cents per ton per mile. The average distance was, no doubt, quite equal to the rail haul of anthracite coal to tide-water points and lake ports, It is undeniably true that competition reduces but never enhances the market price of a commodity or the rate for carrying it. It must likewise be admitted that there are to-day engaged in the anthracite carrying trade too many lines competing sharply with each other for the traffic offered. In other words, there has not only been over-production in the output of the mines but in transportation facilities as well. The only possible remedy would seem to lie in the direction of the proper control of the product and its curtailment to the requirements of the trade. Such co-operation, if earnest and honest, would probably lead to and secure to the producer reasonable prices and profits, and to the transportation companies fair and stable rates. The officers of this Company have at all times and in all seasons, expressed their willingness, even anxiety, to co-operate for these praiseworthy and desirable ends. As an indication that the anthracite coal traffic is unduly profitable, the operations of the New York Ontario & Western Railway in this particular field are frequently referred to. It may be proper to state in view of these assertions that the construction of the Scranton Division involved the building of only fifty-four miles of line. It connected with the upper coal field of Pennsylvania, three hundred and twenty-five miles of main line, which had for many years been in active operation and which are admirably located for reaching the anthracite markets, via the lakes and tide-water, as well as at other interior rail and water points. As an entirely new operation from the coal fields to the markets it could have offered no inducement to either the capitalist or experienced railway promoter, and in fact could not as such have been built. It is not denied, on the contrary it has repeatedly been asserted in these reports and elsewhere, that the construction of the Scranton branch has been a profitable operation for your company and seems likely to continue so, but only in connection with its then existing line and the natural advantages it possesses for reaching markets for other commodities than anthracite in all directions.

It is again a pleasant duty to state that all employes of the company have continued throughout the year to discharge their various duties in a faithful, efficient and satisfactory manner.

By order of the Board.

UNITED STATES MORTGAGE & TRUST COMPANY.

APPLICATION TO LIST REAL ESTATE FIRST MORTGAGE COLLATERAL TRUST BONDS ON THE NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, June 18, 1898.

The United States Mortgage & Trust Company, a corporation duly organized under the laws of the State of New York, respectfully begs to make application to list its $5,000,000 First Mortgage Trust Gold Bonds, and submits herewith a certified copy of its charter and by-laws, which shows in Section 2, Subdivisions 1 and 2, the authority of this company to loan money on bond and mortgage and to issue its bonds against such security, as follows:

SECTION 2.—1. "To loan money on bond and mortgage on real estate situated within the United States, or upon the hypothecation of such real estate, or upon the hypothecation of bonds and mortgages on such real estate, for any period of credit, and repayable by way of annuity or otherwise."

2. "To issue bonds of said company, and to sell and dispose thereof; but the amount of such bonds outstanding at any time shall not exceed the amount of moneys then owing to the said company upon the loans aforesaid; and such bonds may be payable to bearer, or may be registered bonds."

In pursuance of such authority the company has loaned $5,109,264 on first mortgage and has issued against these mortgages $5,000,000 of its bonds. These bonds are the direct obligation of the company, and are additionally secured by the deposit with the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, trustee, of at least an equal amount of first mortgages on improved income-producing real estate in selected cities of the United States. Herewith is presented the certificate of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, trustee, stating that these underlying mortgages have been duly deposited and assigned to it, together with all necessary certificates as to title, recording of mortgage, insurance policies assigned, etc., etc. The amount of insurance so deposited with the Guaranty Trust Company of New York in connection with these mortgages aggregates $4,161,125, or 81 per cent of the total amount loaned.

At and after the duly authorized date options of redemption of bonds at par and interest may be exercised by giving thirty days' prior notice to all registered holders of bonds, and by making a public advertisement once a week for four weeks previous to the date of call.

The issuance of mortgage trust bonds by this company is limited by Article XV of the by-laws to ten times the amount of the capital and surplus, which now amounts to $3,250,000.

In case foreclosure of any loan becomes necessary, it is withdrawn from the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, trustee, and other mortgages to an equal amount substituted therefor.

These bonds are issued in following series:

These bonds are severally secured by deeds of trust made to the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, as trustee, certified copies of which are herewith submitted. All bonds are coupon bonds with privilege of registration as to principal only, or upon surrender of coupons thereto attached the bonds may be registered as to both principal and interest. The place of payment of all bonds is the office of the company, No. 59 Cedar Street, New York, which is also the place of registration and transfer.

The Commercial Times.

FRIDAY NIGHT, Sept. 2, 1898.

The extreme hot weather experienced the past few days has had a tendency to interrupt business operations to some extent; still, trade conditions as a rule have been fairly satisfactory, a moderate amount of merchandise changing hands. The retail trade has been a fair buyer of supplies to cover its wants for the fall season and in the main fair values have been obtained. Reports received from the South stating that some effort is being made to have planters hold back their cotton at present low prices, has received some attention in the trade. A severe wind and rain storm was reported at Savannah and immediate vicinity on Wednesday. It did considerable damage to property. The Czar's proposition for an international conference for the purpose of obtaining real and lasting peace among the Powers has been a topic of considerable interest during the week.

Speculation in cotton for future delivery has been quiet. Both buyers and sellers have shown little disposition to make new ventures, holding back awaiting developments. The tone of the market has held steady and during the latter part of the week prices hardened a few points on buying by local shorts to cover contracts. The less favorable crop accounts from the Atlantic States and some talk of efforts being made among planters to hold cotton back had a tendency to create a desire among bear operators to reduce their outstanding engagements. Saturday there was a dull but steady market. Monday prices weakened a few points early in the day in response to easier foreign advices. Subsequently, however, heavy rains reported in the Atlantic States stimulated some buying and the early loss was recovered. Tuesday the market again opened lower. Foreign advices were disappointing and brought a few selling orders. Bear operators, however, were not aggressive, they generally holding back awaiting developments. During the latter part of the day the tone was steadier. The weekly report by the Government's Weather Bureau was considered unfavorable and continued heavy rains were reported in the Atlantic States; this stimulated some buying by shorts to cover contracts. The close showed prices 2 to 3 points higher for the day. Wednesday there was a quiet market and under the favorable crop accounts from Texas and the Mississippi Valley prices eased off 1 to 3 points. Thursday the trading was more active. Both foreign and local shorts were moderate buyers to cover contracts, and there was considerable buying by a Wall Street commission house. Prices showed an advance for the day of 8 to 9 points. To-day the market was easier. There was some selling for foreign account, and during the afternoon there was some selling by local account, prompted by a free movement of the crop in the interior. The close was quiet, with prices 6 to 7 points lower for the day. The spot market has been quiet; prices advanced 1-16c. on Thursday. The close was quiet and unchanged at 5 13-16c. for middling uplands.

On the basis of the rates on and off middling as established by the Revision Committee, the prices for a few of the grades would be as follows:

Jute Butts, Bagging, &c.—The market for jute bagging has continued steady during the week under review at unchanged quotations, the close this evening being at 6⅛c. for 1¾ lbs. and 6½c. for 2 lbs. of standard grades. Car-load lots of standard brands are quoted at 6¼c. for 1¾ lbs. and 6⅝c. for 2 lbs., f. o. b. at New York. The market for jute butts has been dull. Quotations are nominally 1·80c. for paper quality and 1¼c. for mixing.

From Messrs. Ira A. Kip & Co.'s circular we ascertain that the deliveries of jute butts and rejections at New York and Boston during August were 30,095 bales, against 50,785 bales for the same month last year, and since January 1 the deliveries have reached 339,107 bales, against 289,390 bales in 1897. The aggregate stock in the hands of importers and speculators in New York and Boston on August 31 was nil bales, against 1,000 bales at the corresponding date of 1897, and the amount afloat reaches 34,312 bales, against 56,503 bales last year.

Prize Steamers Released.—The clearances from New York on Tuesday, August 30, included the two Spanish steamers Catalina and Miguel Jover, which were seized by the Government last April, but were recently released by order of a prize court. The steamers have on board the same cargoes with which they sailed from New Orleans April last, as follows: Catalina, 2,775 bales cotton for Barcelona and 400 bales for Genoa: Miguel Jover, 3,900 bales for Barcelona.

The Standard Bale.—A demand for a standard square bale of American cotton of uniform dimensions is now general throughout the United States and Europe. The movement among the cotton interest during the past summer has produced the endorsement of the bale of 24x54 inches, inside measurement of the country box as the standard by all the Cotton Exchanges of the United States as well as by the Liverpool Cotton Association, and the Havre and Bremen Cotton Exchanges. This action has brought about such a widespread interest that all branches of the cotton trade, from the planter to the shipper, have taken active measures in their respective territories to reach the result that upon the opening of the next season, 1898-99, cotton coming to hand will be principally packed in uniform standard boxes, 24x54 inside measurement.

The reasons for this movement are, first of all, the greatly reduced freight rate which is obtainable on packages of this size, due to the fact that they are capable of better compression, which is now brought down to 40 lbs. to the cubic foot, against 22½ lbs. formerly.

Many shippers and steamship agents, as well as railroad carriers, appreciating this fact, have instructed their representatives to discriminate in freight in favor of the standard bale. Experiments made last season demonstrated that these standard bales could be carried with equal profit at a reduction of 40 per cent in the freight rate. While this applies to all carriers, it is a noticeable feature in the item of ocean freight; 40 per cent on present rates means from $1 to $1 25 per bale less than rates necessary to make a ship a profitable carrier under the old and irregular-sized bales that formerly came to hand. It does not require much thought to see where this advantage in shipping charges settles itself; practically it is a gain to the farmer of not less than $1 per bale according to the average of ocean freight rates prevailing during the last few years; this gain applied to every bale of cotton he raises brings up the aggregate to say $10,000,000 per annum, more or less, according to the size of the American crop.

In consequence of the uniformity of the package and the greater density obtained through this uniformity, the ship generally is enabled to load her dead-weight capacity, and as all shippers of cotton are familiar with the advantages of giving every ocean carrier a full cargo, competition to this end necessarily lowers the freight rate, which in turn enables the interior buyer to pay the farmer a higher price for his bale of cotton, which, especially at the present price, is most acceptable to him.

Another great advantage of the reduced measurements of the bale is that it allows the bagging to come well down over the sides of the bale, covering its contents entirely, thus reducing the chances of country damage and protecting the contents of the package from other exposure.

There is a saving also in insurance. The underwriters are prepared to make lower rates for both the fire and marine risk on account of greater density and more freedom from land damage of the standard bale.

Three years ago an effort was made in Texas to bring about a uniform standard bale. Meetings of various bodies, such as farmers, ginners and others interested in cotton, were held and resolutions passed leading to this end. At that time it was thought that a measurement of 28x58 was all that was necessary. This sized package became almost universal in the State of Texas, but later it was found that the movement was not radical enough. Consequently numerous experiments were made until it was demonstrated that the standard of a square bale as mentioned above, 24x54, developed all the advantages desired in a square bale of cotton. Several shipments of cotton of this standard were made during the past season and reached their destination in good order, holding the density satisfactorily to all parties interested.

After the vigorous campaign of the past spring and present summer to bring about a uniform standard bale of American cotton, there is good reason for the belief that the results thus far obtained will continue to develop until the better condition in which American cotton is received has been extended to all our milling centres in this country as well as to those of all foreign countries, and that we have heard the end of the wretched way in which our great product of the South has been heretofore handled.

We wish the standard bale of 24x54 all the success that is claimed for it.

GOVERNMENT WEEKLY COTTON REPORT.—Mr. W. L. Moore, Chief of the Weather Bureau of the Agricultural Department, made public on Tuesday the following telegraphic reports on the crop in the Southern States for the week ending August 29:

VIRGINIA.—Cotton poor.

NORTH CAROLINA.—First half of week warm and sunny, was favorable and crops improved, but too much rain in south portion latter half; cotton improving in some sections, in others shedding and rust continue; it is opening rapidly and picking will soon become general.

SOUTH CAROLINA.—More sunshine and less rain than last week, except in Central and Peedee counties, where excessive rainfall flooded bottoms, destroying much cotton; cotton opening freely and picking quite general, rust widely prevalent; shedding and rotting of bolls continue to injure prospects.

GEORGIA.—General and heavy rains increasing damage to cotton; cotton rotting, shedding and rusting badly and boll worms increasing.

FLORIDA.—Frequent rains damaged cotton.

ALABAMA.—Last few days cool and wet with heavy to excessive rains; cotton rusting and shedding generally, boll worms more numerous and some complaints of bolls sprouting, it is opening rapidly, but picking has been retarded by rains.

MISSISSIPPI.—Cotton improving, bolls opening rapidly and picking progressing, although retarded by hot weather; bales of new cotton becoming more numerous in all sections, some damage by shedding, rust, rot, worms, and abnormal growth of plant.

LOUISIANA.—Fore part of week warm and dry, followed by cool showery weather, unfavorable for cotton, which was damaged some by rust, shedding and boll worms; caterpillars appearing, but without material damage; cotton picking progressing slowly.

TEXAS.—Local showers every day, but drought continues southwest portion, rainfall generally insufficient; cotton improved in central and northern portions, but boll worms, caterpillars and sharpshooters are causing damage in many localities, worm being poisoned; picking in southern and central portions progressed rapidly, but some delay from showers; some cotton opening prematurely account previous dry weather, and some shedding, rains checked opening in northern portion.

ARKANSAS.—Cotton being damaged by worms, blight and rust; in some localities it continues to shed and is being injured by too much rain, while in others it is being damaged by drought; it is opening rapidly, but picking is not general on account of excessive heat; some cotton has been marketed.

TENNESSEE.—Except some local showers, warm, dry weather prevailed, inducing rapid development and maturing crops; cotton much improved, opening rapidly, picking progressing well.

OKLAHOMA.—Cotton picking begun, first bales marketed Thursday, crop not in as good condition as formerly, considerable shedding and damage from boll worms and sharpshooters.

MISSOURI.—Cotton opeping nicely.

These reports on cotton are summarized by the Department as follows:

The week has been very unfavorable to cotton, especially over the greater part of the eastern portion of the cotton belt, where it has suffered from heavy rains, which have been continuous for the past month, causing rust, shedding and too rapid growth of stalk. In portions of North Carolina and over the central part of the cotton region conditions of the past week have been somewhat more favorable and the crop is improved in Tennessee, Missouri and portions of Mississippi and Arkansas. Cotton has also improved in Central and Northern Texas, but insects are causing damage in many localities, and premature opening and shedding are reported from the central and southern portions of the State. Picking is becoming general in the northern portion.

EGYPTIAN COTTON CROP.—Mr. F. Jac. Andres of Boston has received the following from the Cotton Department of the Anglo-Egyptian Bank, Alexandria:

"Temperature during July has been hot. Worms and fogs have been very rare and have done no harm. These circumstances, so favorable to the plants, have been to a certain extent counteracted by the water difficulties. However, thanks to the great care and energy in the distributions the waterings strictly necessary have been obtainable over the greatest part of the Delta; but the extremely limited supply could not reach everywhere, the highest parts must have suffered considerably and the plants so situated are not therefore in a good condition. For some days past the Nile has risen and it is hoped by the 10th or 15th of August there will be no further anxiety about the water supply. In Upper Egypt the condition of the plants is very satisfactory, they have in no way suffered from shortage of water. Flowering and the formation of pods is very advanced. From the Fayoum the news is not quite so favorable."

BREADSTUFFS.

FRIDAY, Sept. 2, 1898.

No improvement has been apparent in the demand for wheat flour. Buyers generally have been slow in placing orders for supplies, their purchases as a rule having been limited to small lots. In fact the trading has been almost exclusively of a hand-to-mouth character, and as there have been fairly free offerings of new crop flour to arrive, the tone has been easy and prices have weakened slightly. Rye flour has been in fair supply and as demand has been limited, prices have favored buyers a little. Corn meal was sold slowly and prices have weakened somewhat under fairly free offerings.

Speculation in wheat for future delivery has been quiet, but the tendency of prices has been towards slightly higher prices. The principal bull point has been crop damage reports from Russia, which have given a steadier tone to the foreign advices. Saturday prices advanced early in response to stronger foreign advices, accompanied by some buying orders, but later reacted under moderate offerings, prompted by a predicted free movement of the crop in the Northwest during the coming week. Monday prices advanced 1/2@3/4c. There was moderate buying for both local and foreign account, stimulated by the small world's shipments for the week and further talk of crop damage in Russia. The estimate by the Hungarian Minister that the world's production of wheat would be slightly below the consumption had apparently little or no influence upon the situation. Tuesday the market was easier early in the day under moderate offerings prompted by a large crop movement in the Northwest and weaker foreign advices. Subsequently, however, there developed a demand from shorts to cover contracts and the loss was recovered. Wednesday the market was easier on weaker foreign advices, and continued large receipts at the Northwest prompted free offerings, and prices declined. Thursday the market was easier early in the day on Western selling. During the afternoon there was renewed buying by shorts to cover contracts and prices advanced, closing ½@½c. higher for the day. To day the market was weaker under the free movement of the crop in the Northwest and easier foreign advices, closing at ¼@1½c. decline for the day. Business in the spot market was fairly active during the latter part of the week, the free movement of the crop in the Northwest causing the premiums on cash wheat to rapidly disappear. The export sales to-day here and outports were 600,000 bushels.

Indian corn futures have been moderately active and the tendency of prices has been towards a higher basis; values have gradually hardened throughout the week on reports of crop damage by dry, hot weather. Early in the week the improvement in prices was only slight, but later in the week, as the reports of crop damage by the dry, hot weather become more numerous, there was more disposition shown to buy and the advance in prices became more pronounced. To-day the market was easier under more favorable crop accounts. The spot market was fairly active at lower prices. The sales for export were 350,000 bushels.

Oats for future delivery have been dull but in sympathy with the advance in the market for corn values have improved slightly. The crop movement has been moderately large. At the West some export business has been reported transacted. Locally, however, the volume of trading has been very moderate. To day the market was dull and easier, in sympathy with the decline in other grains. The spot market was more active. The sales for export were 270,000 bushels.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, P. M., Sept. 2, 1898.

The chief feature of the week in the cotton goods division of the market has been the advance in print cloths in response to the most active demand which has come forward for a long time past. This has had a modified sympathetic effect upon directly allied goods, but with that its influence has ended. In other directions the tendency has been, in fact, to favor buyers, for there the raw cotton situation still operates as chief factor. The general demand during the week has been well sustained at both first and second hands, and a considerable aggregate business has been recorded. The results for the month of August, so far as cotton goods are concerned, are significant of the liberal business doing throughout the country. The policy of buyers was uniformly conservative; in no direction was there any trace of speculation; and yet a large aggregate business has been reported in nearly all descriptions as the outcome of steady day-to-day hand-to-mouth purchases. This character of buying is expected to keep up longer than usual, as trade at second hand is still good, and supplies held by jobbers must be quite moderate. The woolen-goods division of the market has continued inactive and disappointing.

WOOLEN GOODS.—The week's business in men's-wear woolens and worsteds for spring has been of very moderate proportions only and still leaves the light-weight situation very unsatisfactory. There are but few mills which have secured an average volume of business, while there are a number which have so few orders booked up to the present time that they are more likely to shut down than to continue running. In addition to slow new business, cancellations of early orders on serges are reported. The price situation is unsettled by these conditions, but agents will rarely quote openly any lower prices than before. Both the overcoatings and cloakings divisions continue dull at previous prices. Dress goods have sold more freely but at generally easy prices. Flannels and blankets are firm, but the demand is light.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of cotton goods from this port for the week ending August 29 were 4,213 packages, valued at $128,595, their destination being to the points specified in the tables below:

* From New England mill points direct.

The value of the New York exports for the year to date has been $7,933,207 in 1898 against $7,567,394 in 1897.

In heavy brown sheetings and drills sellers have shown an easier attitude on both spots and contracts, and the tendency is in favor of buyers. The home demand is fair, but buying for export light. Fine yarn gray goods are mostly 1-16c. dearer. Bleached cottons still quiet, but low grades firmer under print cloth influences. Wide sheetings inactive at unchanged prices. Cotton blankets very firm and cotton flannels steady, with a quiet business. Denims dull and in favor of buyers. Ticks quiet and unchanged, plaids in moderate request, and checks and stripes and cheviots slow at previous prices. Kid-finished cambrics rather steadier Fancy prints in well-sustained request and steady, and the demand for indigo blues, mournings and other staple lines shows considerable improvement, with a steadier tone in the market. Ginghams are in a well-sold condition with steady demand. Print cloths have sold largely and the market has advanced 1-16c., to 2 1-16c. for extras, at which price sellers are firm but the demand much quieter.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—Orders for fall lines of dress goods, silks, ribbons, etc., have been numerous, but only small quantities individually called for. Demand readily met all around and prices irregular. No business of importance yet recorded for next spring.

MUNICIPAL BOND SALES IN AUGUST.

The total amount of municipal bond sales recorded in this Department during the past month was the largest total for any August since 1892, from which year our records date. In fact, the total is over three and one-half millions heavier than that for August 1895, which amount ($8,464,431) prior to the present year was the highest total for any August ever reported. According to our records, the total of the sales of municipal securities marketed during the month of August was $12,196,425. In this total we do not include $1,302,600 temporary loans recorded, nor do we include the $12,688,992 36 bonds of New York City, which, although awarded, the City Comptroller was prevented from delivering pending a decision of the Court as to the legality of the award. This decision, although expected daily, has not yet been handed down.

This total for August, as given above, compares with $6,449,536 for August of last year and with $7,868,563 for the month of July of the present year. Including the New York sale, eliminated from the table given below, the total would have reached $24,885,417, the highest for any month ever recorded, if we except November 1896—the month when the sound money cause triumphed in the Presidential election.

The decided increase in the amount of municipal securities sold during August, it is proper to say, is due partly to the sales of some large issues; there has been a decrease in the number of municipalities as compared with the previous month, there being 159 (emitting 188 separate issues), as against 179 (emitting 199 issues) for July. In August 1897, as it happens, there were also 159 municipalities and 188 separate issues recorded.

The month has been notable, too, for the high prices which the bonds have commanded, and the active competition indulged in by the intending purchasers of many of the issues floated.

The principal sales of the month were as follows: The Massachusetts $1,000,000 3 per cent 30-year loan and $2,900,000 3½ per cent 30 and 40-year loan, awarded to R. L. Day & Co. and Blake Bros. & Co., Boston, bidding jointly, at 101·309 and 110·459, respectively; Cincinnati, Ohio, $500,000 3½ per cent 20-40-year (optional) water bonds, awarded to a syndicate, at 103·70; Essex County, N. J., $500,000 4 per cent 40-year gold park bonds, awarded to Mason, Lewis & Co. and the Illinois Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago, bidding jointly, at 112·199; Salt Lake City, Utah, $500,000 4 per cent 20-year refunding bonds, awarded to E. H. Rollins & Sons, Boston, at 100·575; Washington County, Pa., $500,000 4 per cent 3-28-year Court House bonds, awarded to the Dollar Savings Bank, Pittsburg, at 109·74; Cleveland, Ohio, $300,000 4 per cent 28-year water-works bonds, awarded to Estabrook & Co., Boston, at 113·91, also $225,000 4 per cent 10-year funded debt bonds, awarded to Whann & Schlesinger, New York, at 106·517; Norwalk, Conn, $300,000 3½ per cent 20-year funding bonds, awarded to Farson, Leach & Co., New York, at 101·10.

In the following table we give the prices which were paid for August loans to the amount of $11,613,952 issued by 129 municipalities. The aggregate of sales for which no price has been reported is $582,473, and the total bond sales for the month $12,196,425. In the case of each loan reference is made to the page of the CHRONICLE where a full account of the sale is given.

Kootenai County, Idaho.—No Action Taken to Test Legality of Bonds.—Referring to our item in the CHRONICLE of May 21, 1898, p. 1010, where we stated that the Board of County Commissioners had ordered the County Treasurer to cease paying interest on the $80,000 bonds issued in 1892, pending legal action to test the validity of the bonds, we are now advised that the case has not yet been taken into Court; the present District-Attorney has done nothing as yet in regard to the matter, and as his term of office expires the coming fall, it will probably be left to his successor to attend to.

Melrose, Mass.—City Charter.—At a special town meeting held recently the Town Moderator was instructed to appoint a committee of fifteen to draft a city charter, which committee is to report at the town meeting to be held in November.

Mineral Ridge, Ohio.—Bond Litigation.—The "Ohio State Journal" reports that the Council of Mineral Ridge has declined to pay $10,000 worth of bonds which were issued to aid in the construction of the Mineral Ridge & Niles Electric Railway, and that the holders of the bonds (a Kansas City company), will begin suit in the United States District Court to recover on them.

New York City.—Outlying Bonds Declared Legal.—On August 26, 1898, the Corporation Counsel forwarded to the Comptroller opinions holding the following issues of bonds of outlying districts valid:

Village of Richmond Hill, $70,000 4% reg. street improvement bonds (sometimes called third issue), dated May 1, 1897. Also $150,000 4% registered sidewalk bonds, dated June 1, 1897.
Town of Middletown, Richmond County, $28,000 4% refunding bonds, dated October 8, 1897.
Village of Whitestone, $50,000 road bonds, dated December 1, 1893.
Village of Tottenville, $30,000 5% water bonds, dated September 1, 1897.

On August 31, 1898, the following bonds were declared legal:

Jamaica Union Free School District No. 7, $125,000, dated September 10, 1897, and payable $5,000 annually, commencing in 1900.
New Lots, town improvement bonds, for paving Atlantic Avenue; balance of issue amounting to $54,000, and dated May 19, 1886.

Oregon.—Status of Warrant Not Yet Determined.—We quote from the Portland "Oregonian" as follows: "The status of the $25,000 warrant issued in payment for a branch asylum site in Eastern Oregon, yet to be determined by the State Treasurer, is a subject of interest to lawyers here. The Supreme Court rendered an opinion holding that the Treasurer should be perpetually enjoined from paying it. Upon request of counsel for the holders of the warrant, the cause was remanded to allow the filing of an answer. The lower Court accepted stipulations and made an order authorizing the payment of the warrant. State Treasurer Metschan has not yet passed on the matter. It is held by some that he will not be warranted in taking up the paper while the Supreme Court decision stands unreversed, notwithstanding the order of the lower court. The warrant and interest amount to about $33,000."

Sacramento County, Cal.—Bonds Invalid.—On May 10, 1898, E. E. Gaddis, Superior Judge of Yolo County, handed down a decision in which he stated that the Board of Supervisors had not the power to levy and collect a tax for county road purposes on property situated in a municipality within a county. The Supreme Court recently affirmed this decision, which affects an issue of $75,000 4% Fulsom Highway bonds sold last February. The Supreme Court finds that the powers of the Supervisors are restricted on road matters to the country portion of the county and not within the limits of municipalities, and the levy of the special tax would fall upon property-owners of the corporate cities as well as those of the country districts. By levying a tax to pay for these bonds the Supervisors did indirectly what the law prohibits doing directly—tax municipalities for road work of a district.

San Francisco, Cal.—Bond Litigation.—We take the following from the San Francisco "Chronicle" of Aug. 23, 1898:

A decision rendered yesterday by Judge Morrow in the United States Circuit Court delays for a time the payment of interest due on the Montgomery Avenue bonds and the redemption of the bonds themselves. The decision is an important one, the entire amount involved being more than $3,000,000.

The history of the bond issue and the suit in question is to the effect that on April 20, 1872, an Act of the California Legislature was approved which provided that the city and county of San Francisco could issue bonds to meet the expense of opening Montgomery Avenue. The Act was passed in response to a petition signed by a majority of the property owners along the proposed street, and provided that these property owners should be assessed each year to pay the interest coupons and for a sinking fund to redeem the bonds at maturity. After the Act was approved by the County Court, 1,879 bonds were issued, payable thirty years after date, unless otherwise redeemed, bearing interest at 6%, payable semi-annually. These bonds were sold to the highest bidders after being advertised. September 21, 1874, the Board of Public Works that had charge of the work transferred the avenue to the city authorities, it having been completed by means of the money realized from the bond sale.

Jakob Siebel, a resident of Germany, purchased twenty of the bonds and, not receiving any interest on them, brought a suit in equity in the United States Circuit Court during the mayoralty of Adolph Sutro against the Mayor, the Board of Public Works, Board of Supervisors, city and county of San Francisco, its Treasurer and Tax Collector, and 15,000 others, alleged to be owners of property on Montgomery Avenue. The suit was to compel the city officials to levy assessments on the property holders as provided by the act that the interest might be paid on the bonds. The bill in equity sets forth that from 1873 to 1879 taxes were levied sufficient to pay interest on all coupons up to January, 1880, and that these taxes were paid; that each subsequent year the Supervisors were called upon by the plaintiff to levy a tax upon the land sufficient to pay the interest, but the Board did not do so; that on July 1, 1891, the Treasurer had on hand $12,318 to the sinking fund, but refused to advertise for the redemption of the bonds, and under resolution of the Board of Supervisors transferred the amount to the general fund of the City Treasury and subsequently other smaller sums met the same fate. The plaintiff asked for a decree that the principal and interest of the Montgomery Avenue bonds be a lien upon the property described in Section 4 of the Act referred to and that the property be liable for assessment for the payment of the principal and interest of the bonds.

Attorney Creswell, representing the officers of the city and county of San Francisco, named as defendants in the bill, interposed a demurrer on general grounds that the action was not one of equitable cognizance, and that the bondholder had an adequate remedy at law and that the officers of the city should be compelled to act if at all, through the State courts. He further held that a decree based upon the bill in equity would be futile, as it could declare nothing more than the statute declares and would not enforce the statute, and, furthermore, that equity would not aid a stale claim, the fact of the plaintiff making no attempt to compel the Supervisors to act during the past sixteen years amounting to acquiescence in the failure of the Board to act and their reasons for not acting.

The Court sustained the demurrer and dismissed the case, leaving the plaintiff free to find his remedy elsewhere.

One important point decided is that the bonds do not act as a lien on the property except by means of regular assessments made by the municipality.

Tacoma, Wash.—Warrant Litigation.—The Tacoma "News" on August 25, 1898, stated that another warrant suit had been commenced against the city and another petition filed asking that the City Treasurer be restrained from using any of the city funds until plaintiff's warrants had been fully paid.

The suit is brought by the Quaker City National Bank of Philadelphia, which holds about $100,000 of the alleged illegal Boggs warrants. Substantially the same question is involved in all the suits recently filed, the effort being to have the courts compel the city to pay what the city claims has once been paid. The injunction asked for against the Treasurer will probably be heard Saturday, August 27, 1898.

Toledo, Ohio.—Bonds Proposed.—The city has under consideration the issuing of $300,000 30-year bonds for building a new city hall. The securities, if issued, will be in denomination of $1,000 and the interest not more than 4%. The proposition to issue these bonds will be submitted to the people at the election to be held in April, 1899.

Vallsburgh, N. J.—Bond Award Corrected.—In the CHRONICLE of last week (p. 446) we stated that on August 24, 1898, the $40,000 4½% water-plant bonds were awarded to R. B. Smith & Co., New York City, at 106·87. We are now advised that the above firm did not deposit the $500 agreed upon as a guaranty, and the Common Council therefore awarded the bonds to Benwell & Everitt, of New York City, at 105·13.

Valley County (P. O. Ord), Neb.—Bond Offering.—The $32,000 4½% optional refunding bonds recently registered with the Secretary of State will be sold at private sale to the highest bidder. Securities are in denomination of $1,000, and the principal will mature May 1, 1918, but are subject to call prior to maturity.

Walla Walla County (Wash.) School District No. 1.—Bond Sale.—On August 15, 1898, the $30,000 5% school bonds were awarded to N. W. Harris & Co., Chicago, at 101·75. Principal will mature ten years from date of issue. For description of bonds see CHRONICLE August 13, 1898, p. 338.

Carpenter, County Treasurer, for $64,978 4% bonds issued to pay for Warburton Avenue extension bridges. Principal will mature $10,000 yearly on June 1 from 1900 to 1904, inclusive, and $14,978 in 1905. Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check for $1,250 drawn to the order of the County Treasurer.

Whittier, Cal.—Proposed Bond Issue.—Local papers state that this place will soon advertise for bids for $40,000 20-year water-works bonds.

York (Pa.) School District.—Proposed Bond Issue.—This district will issue $37,000 of bonds. The date of sale has not yet been determined, but it will probably be some time in October or November.

The full details of clearings for the week covered by the above statement will be given next Saturday. We cannot, of course, furnish them to-day, bank clearings being made up by the various clearing houses at noon on Saturday, and hence in the above the last twenty-four hours of the week have to be in all cases estimated, as we go to press Friday night.

We present below our usual detailed figures for the previous week, covering the returns for the period ending with Saturday noon, September 3, and the results for the corresponding week in 1897, 1896 and 1895 are also given. In comparison with the preceding week, there is an increase in the aggregate exchanges of one hundred and one million dollars, but at New York alone the gain is seventy-six millions. Contrasted with the week of 1897 the total for the whole country shows an addition of 8·1 per cent. Compared with the week of 1896 the current returns record a gain of 54·8 per cent, and the excess over 1895 is 38·4 per cent. Outside of New York the loss from 1897 is 1·3 per cent. The excess over 1896 reaches 28·3 per cent, and making comparison with 1895 the gain is seen to be 17·4 per cent.

COTTON CROP REPORT.

Our annual Cotton Crop Report is given to-day in a special Supplement. We put it in that form last September for the first time; we do the same again this year, because when published separate the report has been found to be in a more convenient shape for those of our readers who need it most for immediate use, while all who do not bind their volumes find that in that form it is more easily kept and handled for reference.

Our investigations for the season ending Sept. 1 1898 have been even more exhaustive than usual. The spinning industry of the whole country has been worked over to gather the facts relating to cotton consumption and manufacture we give. Our crop statement too, which has always been known to be perfect in system and results, we have continued along the same lines originated and adopted by us nearly thirty-five years ago. On the present occasion the purpose has been to show progress in every detail of the work, and we believe we have produced a record more than ever entitled to the position it has always held the world over as authority in the matters to which it relates.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

Concern is beginning to be felt with reference to the money market. No doubt rates for a time will rule higher than they have been ruling for many months. No legitimate interest can suffer from any moderate rise. Of course people who have been able to borrow at low rates and narrow margin on stocks of doubtful value while the money tide was on the flood will find it more difficult to float their inflated bubbles when the tide is receding. It is, though, evidence of a healthy state of affairs that money should be in better demand when industrial movements quicken. But extremely low and extremely high rates are both prima facie evidence of a lack of confidence, and while we have been going through our long period of distrust, the way has been marked by a series of such extremes, alternating from one to the other.

No such monetary crisis as referred to above or anything of that character is in prospect, or is a present possibility; furthermore, when writers compare our surplus bank reserves this year with those at the same date of 1893 to 1896, or even with 1897, and draw conclusions from the happenings in those years, they are projecting into the future shadows that coming events do not cast. At the same time, without doubt business is developing and a good healthy growth is in prospect; which means not simply that we are marketing our crops and that money is needed for the purpose, but that capital is more venturesome and that enterprise is becoming more free. There is a common-place saying that you cannot eat your pudding and keep it too; much the same sort of reasoning applies in the present case, for capital cannot go into various kinds of enterprises and at the same time be held to put out on call loans at one and a-half per cent. These are, of course, general conclusions, but they fix moderate limits beyond which money ought not to fluctuate on the present occasion because our resources are large and much dearer money is certain to make sufficient supplies available in the market.

There are, though, special shiftings of capital in large amounts in progress and anticipated which are always when occurring liable to be a disturbing incident and which are now the chief influence causing whatever uncertainty is felt. To-day again we have to report a large loss in reserve by the banks, due to the takings the current week from them by the Government of gold and currency in payment of the 3 per cent bond purchases. Too much stress on this occasion may be laid upon this feature; the whole discussion is made to turn on the surplus bank reserves, while very little and frequently no account is taken of the recuperating resources back of those reserves. How imperfectly, for illustration, the surroundings this year are disclosed by the statement that the surplus reserves of our Clearing House institutions last Saturday, Sept. 3d, were reduced $6,352,250 to $14,991,050, against a surplus at the same date in 1896 of $8,228,500. In the first place it is a fact of importance that while the surplus reserves last Saturday were less than 15 million dollars, the total reserves were $203,088,500, whereas in 1896 the total reserves were only $119,996,500; again, the Treasury's actual cash balance September 1 1898 was $294,487,085, against a cash balance of $243,346,401 on same date of 1896 and $107,283,911 September 1 1893; finally, the net favorable foreign merchandise balance for the seven months ending with August 1 1898 was $317,132,861; at the same day in 1896 it was only $90,565,677, whereas in 1893 the balance was unfavorable, the total excess of imports being $62,872,231. These figures show great strength at the present moment; they should lead every one to minimize the comparatively unimportant fact that the Treasury has for a brief period deprived our banks of a considerable portion of their surplus reserves. Very high rates for money are out of the question in the face of such conditions.

The interests of peace have been greatly served by the agreement reported this week to have been entered into between England and Germany. Of course we cannot know until the official document is made public the full effect of the arrangement. But what has been published with reference to its terms would indicate that it is of wide scope, providing for and closing the more irritating questions which heretofore have, from time to time, been a source of anxiety lest they might lead to a rupture. This construction as to the radical character of the altered political situation finds confirmation in the hearty congratulations the Emperor of Germany sent to General Kitchener on his great victory achieved in the Soudan, resulting in the fall of Khartoum, in which telegram the Emperor also incidentally commended the wisdom of Great Britain's policy in Egypt. One cannot fail to recognize what strong evidence that message is of a material change in sentiment towards England on the part of the Emperor William when one remembers and compares it with that other message of congratulations sent to President Kruger on the successful repulse of the Jameson raid.

Lord Salisbury's peace policy is finding strong recommendation just now in the successes it is meeting with. The German arrangement is not the only evidence of its working. It has been stated that the proposal of a peace Congress by the Emperor Nicholas originated in a suggestion from Queen Victoria. However that may be, if the current reports are to be relied upon, decided progress has been made towards a complete understanding between Russia and Great Britain, not only with reference to Manchuria but with refer ence to other interests and matters at issue between the two countries. If this turns out true, and the German contract has also been correctly represented, may not the Czar's peace congress, when it meets, prove to be far more fruitful in results than has been anticipated? With every possible casus belli between Great Britain and Germany and Russia settled, what nation will there be to take a position unfavorable to the Czar's proposal, except it may be France?

An important development of the week has been the announcement of the decision of the Inter-State Commerce Commission, ruling against the equity of the differentials on passenger business claimed by the Canadian Pacific, and the prompt declaration of the managers of the Canadian Pacific that they would abide by the decision of the Commission. In thus acceding to the request of the Inter-State Board the Canadian Pacific officials have done a graceful as well as a politic act. It is understood that the effect will be to end the existing war in passenger rates to the Pacific Coast which has for so many months been a serious disturbing element in the situation, and which while it lasted always involved the possibility of a widening of the area of conflict. Moreover the Canadian Pacific acquiesces in such a broad, unqualified way that its present act may well be taken as an indication of what its course will be in the future. For Vice-President Shaughnessy is quoted in the newspapers as saying that "in this case, as in all previous cases involving United States traffic, the company accepts without question, and will be governed by the decision of the Commission, taking care of course that its rates will be on the basis of those which prevail on any other route," etc.

Mr. Shaughnessy is prompted to speak of "the marked spirit of fairness" with which the Commission have evidently sought to handle the subject, and it must be admitted that perusal of the report distinctly conveys the impression that the Board have striven to be judicial and impartial. After stating that the Canadian Pacific reduced the first-class fare last spring from Boston to Seattle first from $71 75 to $40 and then on March 10 to $35, and that the trouble arose from the refusal of the American lines to allow the Canadian line a differential of $7 50 on first-class and $5 on second-class business, the Commission declare that they are unable to find in the testimony "anything outrageous in the conduct of the Canadian Pacific in this matter." They say that there may be reasons why the differential should never have been granted (the road had been allowed a differential for about ten years), but that in insisting upon it the company was simply claiming what numerous American lines had claimed, and what many were enjoying. Neither could the Commission see anything wrong in the proposition of the Canadian Pacific offering to submit the question to arbitration. They take pains to state that they think the claim made on behalf of the American roads that no Canadian road is entitled to a differential on any American business is "probably untenable." They further point out that the broad question whether Canadian roads should be allowed to participate at all in the carrying trade of the United States does not come within their province. That is a subject for the consideration of Congress and the treaty-making power. The question in this instance was one simply of fact, and judged by that standard they do not think the Canadian Pacific is entitled to a differential. Answering the argument that longer time is required over its route, they aver they can see little force in the suggestion. Of all the competing lines the tracks of the Canadian Pacific alone extend from ocean to ocean. Its road-bed and equipment are equal to any. It has railroad connections with Seattle, Tacoma and Portland. It runs through cars from Boston to Montreal. It has steamship connection to Asia by its own steamers—and much more to the same effect. It is also to be noted that the Commission have adopted a different tone from that ordinarily adopted in their official rulings. They state that they have no power to allow or disallow the differential in dispute, "but would consider it extremely fortunate if the conclusions reached should be made the basis of early adjustment." In other words, the Commission have acted mainly in an advisory capacity, making suggestions and recommendations, and as the plan has worked so well in this instance, why would it not be wise to adopt it generally.

Increased dividend and interest distributions continue the order of the day among the railroads, reflecting the great improvement in the revenues of our transportation lines which occurred during the twelve months ending last June. The Milwaukee & St. Paul management have followed the ultra-conservative course of not enlarging the dividend on the common stock, which is now at the rate of 5 per cent per annum. On the other hand, the Atchison managers have this week declared the full 4 per cent on the adjustment incomes. This shows at once the favorable state of the company's income and the conservative basis on which the property was reorganized. Interest on these incomes at present is not obligatory but is dependent entirely upon earnings. A year ago the payment was only 3 per cent, and this was based on the surplus for the eighteen months ending June 30 1897. The dividend of 4 per cent now declared comes out of the earnings for the twelve months ending June 30 1898. As the amount of the incomes outstanding is $51,728,000, the 4 per cent to be distributed will call for a payment of over two million dollars. A preliminary statement of the earnings for the late year was published in the CHRONICLE of August 6, and showed a gain over the year preceding of no less than $5,580,459 in the gross earnings and of $2,689,492 in the net earnings.

On account of the pressure on our columns we have deferred until next week the publication of our monthly statement of the gross earnings of United States railroads for August. A preliminary tabulation which we have prepared this week covering 92 roads shows an increase of 1,873,625, or 4·37 per cent. There was an extra business day in the month the present year, due to the fact that August 1898 had only four Sundays where August 1897 had five; but on the other hand the grain movement was of small dimensions and recorded a large falling off from the previous year. This latter fact will explain the decrease in earnings shown by some of the grain-carrying roads, and also the shrinkage noted on some of the trunk lines. The New York Central, for instance, reports $268,041 decrease, which is explained entirely in that way. The ratio in this case is less than 7 per cent, and we have it on good authority that, owing to the saving in expenses which has been effected through consolidation and in various other ways, there will be no loss at all in the net. It is to be noted that towards the close of the month the comparison on some of the roads improved very decidedly. Thus our statement for the fourth week of August given on another page and comprising 70 roads shows 9·71 per cent increase. In part, though only in part, this exceptional ratio of improvement may be referred to the fact that the week had but one Sunday in 1898 against two in 1897.

Money on call, representing bankers' balances, has loaned during the week at 2 and at 4 per cent, averaging 3½. The lower rate was recorded on Tuesday when there was an easy tone to the market, due to the announcement of a call by the Treasury for the redemption, during the current month, at a rebate of ½ of 1 per cent, of the $14,004,560 outstanding currency 6s, which will mature at the end of the year. The higher rate was first recorded on Wednesday. Then some borrowers paid off an aggregate of about $5,000,000 outstanding loans at 3 per cent at the banks. Later in the day, when they sought to borrow, the banks refused to loan at less than 3 per cent, and in the attempt to obtain a supply at the Stock Exchange the rate was bid up to 4 per cent, but the closing rate was 3 per cent. The range for money on call on Tuesday was from 2 to 3 per cent; on Wednesday from 2½ to 4 per cent; on Thursday from 3 to 4 per cent, and on Friday from 2¾ to 4 per cent. The important feature is that the Treasury has again been drawing largely from the banks on account of bond settlements during the week. On Wednesday the Sub-Treasury, under instructions from Washington, began to receive gold from the banks in exchange for currency of the denominations of $5, $10 and $20, to be shipped from Washington to the interior at Government rates for transmission by express. Banks and trust companies quoted 3 per cent as the minimum early in the week and later some few demanded 3½ and even 4 per cent. Time contracts are freely offered, with a moderate demand, and quotations are 3½ per cent for sixty to ninety days and 4 for four to six months on good Stock Exchange collateral. Commercial paper is not very active, the supply is moderate and the demand light, especially from banks. Rates are 4 per cent for sixty to ninety-day endorsed bills receivable; 4@5 per cent for prime, and 5@6 per cent for good four to six month's single names. Banks having large correspondence report a continued inquiry for re-discounting from the South, the West and Northwest; but otherwise no especially new feature. One of the large banks reports purchases of paper this week for the account of a Chicago institution. It is claimed by the officers of this bank that the merchants of this city are not suffering from the effects of the diminished bank reserves, for comparatively few merchants are borrowers and good names can be sold at fair rates. It was reported from Washington on Thursday that the Secretary of the Treasury has no present intention of calling for the redemption of the outstanding 2 per cents, for the reason that they are so largely held by the banks as security for circulation.

The news from Europe during the week has been of unusual importance. On Saturday dispatches were received in London announcing an Anglo-Egyptian victory in the Soudan and the capture of Omdurman, the Mahdi's capital. It was announced on Tuesday that an Anglo-Russian understanding had been reached. It was also reported on Tuesday that England and Germany had come to an agreement on all African questions, Germany withdrawing the demand made in February 1895 for the maintenance of the status quo in South Africa, and both the English and the German governments agreeing to give a joint guaranty of a loan to Portugal to enable her to meet the award of the Swiss arbitrators regarding the Delagoa railway. Germany is also reported as agreeing to recognize the permanence of the British occupation of Egypt. On Wednesday it was announced that Li Hung Chang had been dismissed from office. These important events had a decided influence upon the London financial markets early in the week. The Bank of England minimum rate of discount remains unchanged at 2½ per cent. The cable reports discounts of sixty to ninety day bank bills in London 1⅞@1¾ per cent. The open market rate at Paris is 1⅞@1¾ per cent and at Berlin and Frankfort it is 3¾ per cent. According to our special cable from London, the Bank of England lost £251,167 bullion during the week and held £34,753,051 at the close of the week. Our correspondent further advises us that the loss was due to the withdrawal for export of £33,000 to the United States, to shipments of £253,000 net to the interior of Great Britain and to £35,000 imported from Australia.

The foreign exchange market has been heavy this week, influenced by fairly liberal offerings of cotton and grain futures and by a limited demand. The reported large purchases of stocks for European account, stimulated by the cheering political and other news early in the week, also had some effect upon the market. The absence of important demand seems to be easily accounted for, the foreign trade conditions, present and prospective, giving assurance of lower rates for exchange and therefore deterring purchases except for current needs. The price of gold has advanced in London in response to an inquiry for the metal for shipment to America, and until the rates for exchange further decline the movement of the metal hither from London will probably not be large. It was announced on Wednesday that $250,000 had been bought at the English capital for shipment to New York and on Thursday the engagement of $400,000 was reported. There was an arrival of $900,303 gold on Thursday; previously reported $2,855,573, making the total arrivals on this movement $3,755,876. The arrivals of gold in transit for Cuba during the week have been $1,188,143; previously reported $1,608,422, making a total of $2,796,565.

The range for nominal rates for exchange during the week has been from 4 83½ to 4 84 for sixty-day and from 4 85½ to 4 86 for sight, and after Wednesday nearly all the drawers posted the lower rates. The market opened easy on Tuesday, though rates for actual business for long and short were not quotably lower and the only change, compared with rates at the close on Friday of last week, was a reduction of one-quarter of a cent in the bid price for cable transfers, making the quotation 4 85@4 85½. On Wednesday the tone was weak and rates for actual business were reduced one-quarter of a cent all around to 4 82½@4 82¾ for long, 4 84½@4 84¾ for short and 4 85@4 85¼ for cable transfers. The market was again weak on Thursday, mainly by reason of an absence of demand, and rates for actual business were further reduced one-quarter of a cent, to 4 82¼@4 82½ for long, 4 84¼@4·84½ for short and 4 84¾@4 85 for cable transfers. The market was steady on Friday. The following shows the daily posted rates for exchange by some of the leading drawers.

ENGLAND'S VICTORY IN EGYPT.

The capture of Khartoum, last Monday, by Sir Herbert Kitchener and his English and Egyptian regiments, probably means the downfall of that singular movement of fanaticism and rebellion known as Mahdism. It is surmised by careful observers that it means more than this, and will involve the virtual occupation of Egypt as a British colony. For although Great Britain has all along assured the other European Powers that its intervention in Egypt would be restricted absolutely to the pacification of the country, there is every probability that withdrawal of the strong arm of England, even after last week's victory at Omdurman, would be merely the prelude to another chapter of anarchy. To our mind, the whole history of this Egyptian expedition has an instructive bearing on our own existing problem in the Philippines; and with that parallel in view, we shall undertake to recall the history of the English venture in the Soudan.

English invasion of the Upper Nile began with the rebellion of Arabi Pasha against the Egyptian Khedive in 1882. Both England and France were then forced to take sides against the rebel, and in favor of the incompetent Khedive, because the maintenance of the existing government was necessary to the interests of the two Powers in the Suez Canal. The uprising of Arabi was dealt with in a single season, but was promptly followed by the far more serious revolt in the Soudan. France, invited to participate in the movement against the Mahdi, declined the offer, and the British army of occupation was left to protect the interests of civilization in Egypt.

The situation in Egypt which confronted the Gladstone Government at the opening of 1883 was in many ways similar to that which now confronts our Government in the Philippines. There was conservative advice in plenty for the Ministry to withdraw its army from the Nile and leave Egypt to solve its own internal problems. It was reasoned that England had no vital interests in Egypt; that continued occupation would subject the British Government to collision with either jealous or hostile Powers; that the end of a struggle to pacify Egypt was not visible; and, in brief, that the game was not worth the candle. But to this the answer was made, and was accepted as conclusive by the peace-loving Gladstone Ministry, that to evacuate Egypt would be to commit the Nile country to anarchy, would confess the futility of all the preceding Egyptian policy, and would be in effect to flinch from a situation which, incurred by circumstances and not as a result of choice, had in the end imposed a duty both to English interests and to civilization. This was fifteen years ago; the victory of Sir Herbert Kitchener merely marks the culmination of the policy then adopted.

The chapter of events in the period covered by this policy has been interesting, and at times both exciting and discouraging. It has comprised the curious expedition of General Gordon in 1884 to treat personally with the Mahdi, his assassination by the Dervishes in 1885, the futile movement of Lord Wolseley and Sir Charles Wilson in the same year, the death of the Mahdi and the rise of his equally ferocious lieutenant, known as the Khalifa, the period of several years when the English Government seemed to hesitate and to weary of its task, and finally the renewed forward movement to Dongola in 1896, which led to eventual success under the very skilful commander who now occupies the rebel capital. There has been heavy loss of English life and large expenditure of treasure, the final victory having been obtained only by actually building a first-class railway in the rear of the advancing troops. It is not unnatural that many people, even now, should ask what was the use of such a policy.

We suppose that the average Englishman will answer, first, that the operations of 1882, which were necessitated by all that had gone before, served in their turn to make logical and inevitable all that has followed; second, that by no other human means could commerce in the Suez Canal and up the Nile have been protected. There was, in short, a strong probability that a fertile country, well adapted to fill the needs of the world's consumers, and lying beside one of the principal channels of the world's commerce, would lapse into barbarism unless some modern civilized Power should interfere. By a combination of circumstances not entered upon in any expectation of what actually followed Great Britain was the Power on whom was imposed this civilizing mission. If she had flinched from it under conditions then existing, she would not have been the Great Britain of history.

As a matter of fact, the results of the English protectorate in Egypt—if we may call it by that name—has not merely held back the tide of anarchy and Moslem fanaticism. To maintain the status quo, in all senses of the expression, would not have been any very extensive service to civilization, because the country was already falling into ruin through the tyranny and incompetency of the regular Khedival Government. The Upper Nile region, where the Mahdi and the Khalifa have hitherto enjoyed almost undisputed rule, is now largely a waste, though prior to 1882 it was full of farms and cattle. In this district civilized life will naturally be restored, under the guardianship of English garrisons. But meantime Lower Egypt also has already begun to feel the beneficent influence of humane modern government. While extending military aid to the helpless Egyptian Government, England, in common with other European Powers, has not only required surrender to the control of European tribunals of the finances of the Government, but has placed in the hands of a mixed native and foreign tribunal its judicial administration. The very first result of this judicial system was to curtail the arbitrary powers of the Khedive himself.

Life and property are now secure in Egypt; personal rights are protected, and not only trade but accumulation of property by the poorer classes has been made possible. It has been estimated that although taxation under British control has been heavy because of the war expenses, the average rate is nevertheless barely one-third of what it was under the previous arbitrary rule of the Khedive. Trade at the same time has been materially expanded, and, as was naturally to be expected, the chief benefit has accrued to England's commerce. But there has been no restrictive policy; the United States, for instance, has in the last ten years doubled or trebled its annual export of merchandise to Egypt, and has increased its imports from that country almost exactly ten-fold. All this, we should say, is a justification of the English policy in North Africa.

We do not wish to be understood as contending that because an uncivilized territory will be benefited by transfer to the control of an intelligent government therefore every progressive State is bound to circle the world as a knight-errant of modern industry. We do believe, however, that civilization moves only as the governments of to-day accept the duties imposed on them by circumstances or by the logic of events. England did not want Egypt, and could she consistently do so, she would gladly get rid of her responsibility to-day. But in reviewing the successive steps by which the present situation was created, the student of recent history will find that the present position of the British Government was inevitable. We believe that the acquisition of Luzon, and its future control by the United States, is equally inevitable. The recognized government of the Philippines had broken down, precisely as did the recognized government of Egypt fifteen years before. In each case the natives were eager to obtain control of government, and in each case it was absolutely certain that they were incompetent to govern. The alternative, then, was control by a civilized outside power, or anarchy, and circumstances left the decision, in each instance, with a single outside government in possession of the field. Whether we say, regarding Egypt and regarding the Philippines, that accident forced England and the United States into unwelcome responsibilities, or that the two nations merely discharged their duty to modern progress, we reach the same conclusion.

In our opinion the colonial problem of the next generation is not, whether the civilized Powers will or will not fall heirs to the estates of what Lord Salisbury described as dying nations. That question is already being rapidly answered in the affirmative. The real problem is, whether the nations which are obtaining this control are able and willing to use their opportunities properly. The preliminary struggle over this question has already been witnessed on the Chinese coast, and it is after all only the colonial problem of the Eighteenth Century in a somewhat altered form. Spain has lost all her colonies because she used them as a means of profit to the home government, exacted by onerous trade restrictions and taxation. England lost the richest of her colonies because of exactly the same blunder, and saved the rest only by promptly abandoning the mistaken policy. Germany and Russia, who are now aspiring to colonial rule, will be tried by the same test, and so will the United States. If these Powers learn their lesson in advance, as England learned hers through experience, we do not doubt that future history will describe the partition of Africa and Asia as the great events of the century in the progress of civilization. It is not least striking among current incidents of diplomacy that shrewd European critics are accepting the rumored commercial treaties regarding the foreign acquisitions of European Powers as a distinct step towards the Czar's plan for a halt in the increase of modern armaments.

THE MILWAUKEE & ST. PAUL DIVIDEND.

Considerable disappointment has been felt because the directors of the Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul, at their meeting on Thursday of this week, did not increase their dividend distribution on the common stock. The last semi-annual payment on the common shares was 2½ per cent and the next dividend has now been fixed at the same rate. In other words, the stockholders are to get altogether 5 per cent out of the late year's earnings. Most of them had looked for 6 per cent.

The case is one that allows for considerable difference of opinion. On the one hand 5 per cent is to be regarded as a pretty satisfactory rate of return. No doubt, also, considering the state of public sentiment in the West towards the railroads, an unduly high return is to be avoided. Furthermore, in these days of declining freight charges, the position of a railroad property is very much strengthened if a considerable amount out of earnings is devoted each year to improvements, betterments and additions, instead of providing the money by new capital issues. On the other side of the question, however, the arguments in this instance are equally strong. If in a time of business depression dividends are to be reduced below the normal, is it objectionable to pay somewhat above the normal rate when times are prosperous and revenues large. Then again the St. Paul's income exhibit for the late year is of such a flattering character, while the outlook for the future is so promising, that no one can deny that an increase in the dividend would have been looked upon as fully justified by conservative opinion. Furthermore, financially the position of the company is one of exceptional strength, and the money to represent the increased dividend could have been spared without difficulty—the holdings of cash and cash assets being of really striking proportions, as we shall presently show. Thus the matter of increasing the dividend was really a question of policy, and the management have doubtless acted for the best interests of the company and the security holders.

Whether or not the shareholders feel satisfied with the course pursued, they cannot fail to derive great gratification from a contemplation of the results for the late fiscal year. The annual report has been issued this week and from every standpoint it is of most pleasing character. Needless to say great expansion is shown in both traffic and revenues. The number of tons of freight handled increased 2,676,589, or 23·17 per cent; the number of tons one mile increased 19·52 per cent. The average rate dropped to below a cent per ton per mile, namely to 9·72 mills, but this represents only a relatively small decline. Hence gross earnings were added to in the large sum of $3,702,895, and even the net earnings increased over a million dollars ($1,078,868)—this, too, notwithstanding exceptionally liberal outlays on maintenance and renewal account; for instance, $1,364 046 was spent for repairs of locomotives against only $972,044 the year before, while a contribution of $1.125 000 was made to renewal account, against only $200,000 in 1896-7.

The traffic statistics reveal one feature which will no doubt be a surprise. In view of the large grain crops raised last year and the excellent demand which developed for the same, the popular impression has been that the striking gains in earnings that Western roads have been showing, and particularly those in the territory occupied by the St. Paul, were due chiefly to an augmentation in the grain tonnage. This illusion the report before us dispels. It is found that in the aggregate of all agricultural products the increase was only 581,296 tons, while the other classes of tonnage increased 2,095,293 tons, or nearly four times as much. In ratio, the addition in the first case was 15·01 per cent, in the other 27·28 per cent. President Roswell Miller says tersely: "the increase of earnings during the past year was due to the general improvement in business," and the figures given justify the statement. Of course this improvement in business must be referred in great measure to the excellent harvests gathered and the high prices realized by the farmers for their products, enabling them to spend money with greater freedom than for years past.

The income statement shows a surplus above charges for the twelve months of $5,928,683. The 7 per cent dividends on the preferred shares and the 5 per cent dividends on the common shares call together for $4,502,298, which, deducted, leaves a balance of $1,426,385. An additional one per cent on the common stock would have reduced the amount only $460,266, so that even on the basis of 6 per cent dividends there would have been a surplus balance of about a million dollars.

In addition to the expenditures for improvements and betterments paid for out of earnings, the company spent $1,796,870 for new equipment, real estate, &c., which was charged to capital account. As stated above, the balance sheet reveals great strength in the finances. Including accrued interest, the current liabilities June 30 were $6,726,156, as against which there was $7,045,911 of cash assets, over five millions being in actual cash. In addition the company holds $6,587,000 of securities in its treasury, and has besides a separate cash fund of $1,661,350 representing deposits to the credit of the Renewal Fund.

THE WABASH RAILROAD.

In our BANKERS' AND TRUST SUPPLEMENT last week we published an article on "The Business Outlook," contributed by Mr. O. D. Ashley, the President of the Wabash Railroad. It was a thoughtful and suggestive paper, furnishing a clear insight into the conditions likely to control the course of business in the immediate future. This week we have Mr. Ashley's annual report to the stockholders of his company, and this also is an interesting document, being written in the same earnest, thoughtful way. It deals of course mainly with the affairs of the Wabash Railroad, but there are also some general observations bearing on the railroad industry as a whole. Not the least of the merits of Mr. Ashley's productions is that they are temperate in language and conservative as to statements and conclusions.

In his report Mr. Ashley has this time a much more pleasing account of the year's results to unfold than heretofore. In the long period of depression, from which all our railroads suffered so severely, the Wabash management very naturally had a difficult task trying to make both ends meet. In 1893 4 for instance it fell $671,764 short of meeting its obligatory fixed charges; in 1894-5 it did but little better, falling $542,907 short. The next year (1895-6) conditions improved, and the road was able to show a small surplus ($66,800) on the operations of the twelve months. In 1896-7, also, there was a small surplus ($28,336), though this was the result entirely of economies in management, gross earnings having again fallen off decidedly. Now for 1897-8 we have a surplus in the large sum of $401,496, and this, too, after the exercise of full latitude and freedom in the making of expenses.

Thus for the first time in five years the company has had a period of twelve months when the situation has had a promising appearance. As compared with the twelve months preceding, of course the contrast is marked, as shown by the increase of $1,681,075 in the gross earnings—nearly 13 per cent. The conditions certainly were much better, but in order to avoid error it must be borne in mind that they were not wholly free from adverse features. The farming classes enjoyed unusual prosperity, the grain movement was large, and at the same time there was a fair revival of general trade—whose full development, however, was interrupted by the outbreak of the war with Spain. But as in the case of the other roads, the trouble has been with the rates. We need hardly repeat that during the greater part of the twelve months almost utter demoralization in tariff schedules prevailed in trunk line territory. On the Wabash the rate received has been steadily tending downward for many years, and in 1896-7 the average per ton per mile was only 6·61 mills. In 1897-8, under the demoralization prevailing, the average dropped still lower, namely to 6·24 mills. Mr. Ashley, in his remarks, refers to the unsatisfactory nature of the situation in this respect, saying that while there has been manifest improvement in the volume of traffic, and consequently a fair increase in net profits, it is still quite evident that the rate problem is as far from a satisfactory solution as ever. He contends that it is not so much a question of what the rates should be as how they can be maintained when agreed upon. He argues that because of the failure of Congress to provide needed relief by the amendment of the Inter-State Commerce law, "the complicated machinery of inland transportation is allowed to work under laborious and unsatisfactory conditions, to the exclusion or indefinite postponement of improvements in harmony with the progressive spirit of the times, and yet public clamor is at once aroused if there is the least failure in service or in the accommodation of travelers."

He also notes that the great decline which has been established in rates must have had far more serious results except for the coincident development of relief in two directions. The state of the money market made possible the readjustment of interest obligations, as old mortgages have matured or as bankrupt companies have been reorganized. The substitution of 3½, 4, 4½ and 5 per cent bonds for 6 and 7 per cent issues, has saved enough in fixed charges, he states, to neutralize a fair share of the reduction in rates of transportation, while the superabundance of capital has rendered its employment difficult except at a lower range of interest, and thus a great change has been brought about in the finances of the railway companies which to that extent compensates for the diminished revenue of the operating departments. At the same time the severe trial to which railway property has been subjected has had one good effect—it has developed economical methods of operations in many directions, thereby enabling the lines to move an enormous volume of freight at rates which only a few years since would not have paid running expenses, but which now yield a small although inadequate profit. It is well enough to bear in mind, however, that neither this process nor the other can be continued indefinitely.

We have stated above that the surplus above obligatory charges for the twelve months ending June 30 1898 amounted to $401,496. This would have sufficed to pay the full 6 per cent on the $3,500,000 of Debenture Class "A" bonds, and leave a small amount for the Debenture Class "B" bonds. But the management have wisely decided that the floating debt of the company should be paid before dividends could be claimed by the holders of the Debenture mortgage bonds. It is pointed out that a year ago this floating debt amounted to $800,000, it consisting of notes given for borrowed money. Moreover, it was all incurred in meeting the obligatory interest payments in the years 1894 and 1895, when, as already stated, earnings were insufficient for the purpose.

Mr. Ashley shows that the stipulations of the debenture mortgage obviously contemplate the discharge of a floating debt incurred in this way, and then says with much force that irrespective of the legal obligations of the company it is not only sound policy on the part of the company to clear off its floating debt, but it is beyond question for the ultimate advantage of the holders of the debentures. He states that through the application of surplus earnings in paying off the notes, the floating debt has now been reduced to $400,000. Within the ensuing six months, he thinks, a large part, if not the whole, of this can be liquidated. And at the end of the fiscal year, counting upon a continuance of fair traffic, it is not unreasonable to expect, he opines, a complete elimination of these borrowed-money notes.

THE CLEVELAND CINCINNATI CHICAGO & ST. LOUIS REPORT.

While the monthly returns of the "Big Four," or Cleveland Cincinnati Chicago & St. Louis Railway, have left no room for doubt as to the nature of the company's income exhibit for the fiscal year ending last June, the annual report, which we publish on another page, presents to the view of the security holders many facts and features which are necessary to a correct understanding of the year's results, and which serve to make the showing for the twelve months all the more encouraging. The road is an allied property to the Chesapeake & Ohio, Mr. M. E. Ingalls being President of both, and the report will attract special attention this time by reason of the notable achievements of the C. & O. in the late year and the desire to see whether the Big Four is distinguished in the same way. Besides this, recent rumors concerning the probable absorption of other lines have aroused additional interest regarding the company's affairs.

In the light of the facts brought out in the report the income exhibit for the twelve months cannot be regarded as otherwise than highly satisfactory. The reader knows that the general conditions prevailing during the twelve months were such as to ensure a large addition to the tonnage of the railroads—that the grain traffic was of unusual dimensions, that farmers received good prices for their products, and that with the money so received they bought freely of goods and commodities, thus furnishing a large volume of return freights, and that there was more or less of a revival of trade activity all over the United States. But while this is so, one important fact must always be borne in mind in considering the return of a road situated in that part of the country where the lines of the Big Four lie—especially at a moment like the present when we are receiving the reports of the Northern Pacific and the Milwaukee & St. Paul, with their phenomenal records of increase. We have reference to the differences in the character and conditions of the several sections of country. In the territory traversed by the lines of the Big Four there is no such opportunity for growth as there is in the territory served by the Northern Pacific and the St. Paul. The country is already tolerably well settled, and while the absolute amount of new traffic to be moved may equal and even exceed that developed in the respective territories of the other two systems named, the chance for getting any decent revenue from it is very slim.

In the Middle Western States there has long been a superabundance of roads. The whole territory is, in fact, thoroughly grid-ironed with railroad lines. Hence when an additional ton of freight is created, or appears in evidence, a dozen different roads stand ready to pounce on it, each anxious to get it away from the others. Out of these conditions and the fact that much of the tonnage consists of low-class freight which must be hauled long distances, there has arisen a situation as to rates that makes it necessary for the roads which are so unfortunate as to be situated in this territory to accept exceedingly small remuneration for their transportation services. The properties under Mr. Ingalls have of course been managed and adapted to meet just such conditions, but that does not alter the fact that the problem itself is a difficult one and that it imposes a rigid limit on profits.

In this we are speaking of the state of things as it has existed for a long time. In the late year the trouble with reference to rates was greatly intensified, for, notwithstanding the large amount of tonnage available, less heed was paid to agreed schedules of rates than ever before except at a period of actual war between the roads; and this is the point of the whole difficulty. The effect is seen in another marked reduction in the average rate received by the Big Four. The average had been low in the year preceding, the company having then realized only 6·14 mills per ton per mile. But in the late year there was a drop to 5·45 mills, being a further decrease in this one year of over 10 per cent—due in part to a larger amount of low-class freight carried, in the main however to excessive competition. The increase in tonnage was satisfactory enough, the company having handled about 17 per cent more freight than in the year preceding, though the gain on the St. Paul during the same twelve months was 23·17 per cent.

We refer to these facts to show that the favorable income results for the year were reached in face of a state of things as to rates which almost seemed to preclude the possibility of profitable results. But even this does not tell the whole story. The company at the same time managed to make very liberal outlays for renewals out of earnings, and it is this fact which gives peculiar emphasis to the satisfactory nature of the year's outcome. President Ingalls points the contrast between the twelve months just past and the annual period which preceded it by saying that the year ending June 30 1897 closed with a deficit after paying three quarterly dividends of 1¼ per cent on the preferred shares (the fourth dividend being passed), while during the late year the company was enabled to resume dividends, and the indications are that the quarterly payments can now be regularly maintained. Stated in figures, $368,520 remained available for payment of the dividends in 1896-7 and $446,702 in 1897-8. The difference between the two amounts is not large; still in the one case the amount is equal to less than 3¾ per cent on the $10,000.000 of preferred shares, in the other case it is equal to nearly 4½ per cent.

But, as already indicated, this difference does not reflect the full change in the results between the two years—does not show the great improvement which occurred during the late twelve months. We may say, too, that the net earnings likewise record only a small increase, the amount at $3,252,447 for 1896-7 comparing with $3,351,726 for 1897-8. It is only when we go back and look at the course of the gross earnings and the movement of the expenses that we note how really marked has been the character of the improvement. As a matter of fact the gross earnings increased nearly 1¼ million dollars, rising from $13,117,-111 to $14,320,094. But at the same time expenses were added to in the sum of almost 1⅛ million dollars, which explains the small expansion in the net.

This heavy augmentation in expenses does not represent an enlarged operating cost, but indicates, as noted above, exceptional outlays made in the betterment of the property and charged to expenses. As stated, too, the fact that the company should have been able to make these outlays and yet earn 4½ per cent on the preferred shares is a most encouraging feature of the year's results. At the outset it is well enough to observe that the company has charged nothing to construction or capital account during the twelve months, from which it follows that whatever expenditures for improvement and betterment were made were charged directly to expenses and paid for out of earnings. Mr. Ingalls refers to these as "expenses to put the property in proper condition and repair some of the wastes of previous years, when the earnings were light, especially in reference to the equipment." He enumerates a few of the special items of expenses. Thus 28·8 miles of side track were provided at a cost of $96,621; $36,589 was spent to build new stores upon the viaduct abutting the company's property at Columbus; $326,000 was charged to expenses for new freight cars to replace those worn out in the present and previous years; $56,577 was spent on account of additional air-brakes and couplers; 15 new engines were purchased to replace old and light engines worn out, at a cost of $145,420; 7 new passenger cars were purchased at a cost of $43,000.

But it is not necessary to enumerate all the exceptional outlays. The classified statement of expenses shows clearly that the bulk of the increase consisted of expenditures of that character. For instance, we find that $2,114,094 was spent upon maintenance of equipment, against only $1,562,619 in the previous year, an addition of $551,475, while for maintenance of way $1,907,948 was spent, against $1,705,606; the increase under these two heads alone therefore being over three-quarters of a million dollars. On the other hand, that the road was operated with true economy is evident from the fact that the increase in the cost of conducting transportation was but $227,-657, or only about 4½ per cent. The real significance of this last comparison does not appear until one notes that in the amount of transportation work done (as represented by the tons of freight moved one mile) the increase was fully 26 per cent. How was it possible to do 26 per cent increased work with an augmentation of only 4½ per cent in the cost of conducting transportation? One way has been to economize in the freight train mileage by increasing the train load. With 26 per cent increase in the tonnage movement one mile, the freight train mileage was added to not quite 12 per cent, the average freight train load having been raised from 247 tons to 278 tons.

The most important fact in connection with the special outlays of the late year remains to be mentioned: the work of this character has been substantially completed. Mr. Ingalls says that the numbers of the freight equipment have all been filled and the whole equipment brought up to the standard, so that "hereafter it can be maintained with only the expense of ordinary wear and tear and replacements.' Furthermore he states "it is anticipated that for the coming years a large sum can be saved in expenditures for equipment and track from those of the last year." Obviously therefore, taking all these facts together—the prospect of a large volume of business with the certainty of the elimination of expenses of an unusual character—the future would seem to be quite promising.

THE NORFOLK & WESTERN AS REORGANIZED.

While the late reorganization of the Norfolk & Western changed entirely the financial status of the property—so that it must now obviously be regarded as on a sound and conservative basis—it did not and could not change the conditions under which th e road's operations have to be conducted. These conditions always have been and still are very trying. The traffic consists largely of minerals, which have to be carried cheaply, and this imposes the necessity of moving freight at an average rate so low that but a few years ago it would have been deemed absolutely ruinous. In large measure the problem confronting the Norfolk & Western is the same as that confronting the Chesapeake & Ohio, and it is interesting on that account to compare the two.

The significant feature in the Norfolk & Western report, as in that of the C. & O., is the further great decline shown in the average rate received. We noted in reviewing the C. & O. statement that for that company the rate per ton per mile in the late year had dropped to only 3·70 mills per ton per mile. On the Norfolk & Western the average for the same year was but little higher than this, being 4·04 mills. In the previous year the average was 4·46 mills, so that in this single period of twelve months the decline has been about 10 per cent. When such a percentage of reduction occurs, in a rate already low, it is obvious that railroad operations must be conducted with skill and efficiency, to avoid bankruptcy. President Henry Fink in his report makes plainly manifest the reasons for the further fall in rates. He points out that aggregate freight tonnage increased as compared with the year preceding no less than 1,309,276, or 18·78 per cent, and that the bulk of the increase occurred in the coal and coke traffic. The coal shipments increased 611,509 tons, or 20 per cent, the coke shipments 352,372 tons, or 46 per cent. The coal and coke shipments together constituted about 58 per cent of the entire tonnage.

Not only must coal and coke in any event be carried at low rates, but in addition, as Mr. Fink takes pains to show, the bituminous coal business during the whole year was in a state of demoralization. As a consequence the Norfolk & Western was compelled to accept on tidewater and other competitive coal somewhat lower rates even than it had received during the preceding year. As to the grain shipments we understand that the company has for some time been refusing this class of business, since the management could see no profit in it. The report says: "The rates on export grain are now so low as to render this traffic undesirable." Speaking of the rate situation generally, Mr. Fink adds his testimony to that of all other railroad officers when he says that while tariffs in the Southern territory have been fairly well maintained, rates of freight in the territory of the Joint Traffic Association have been and are in a demoralized condition without precedent in the history of unrestrained competition. "The evil of rate-cutting," he observes, "seems to have passed from the acute to the chronic stage, and ordinary remedies are no longer effective."

This is not too strong a characterization, and with such difficulties confronting the management the nature of their task must be obvious to every one. Perhaps it is well enough to add, however, in order that the public may appreciate fully the significance of undertaking to net a profit on a rate of 4 mills per ton mile, that it means that the road had to move two and a-half tons a mile to earn one cent. Nowhere outside of the United States has such an undertaking ever been attempted, and probably nowhere else could it be attempted with any assurance of success. The Norfolk & Western has met the problem in much the same way as the C. & O. and other roads similarly situated—that is by introducing economies in operation so as to reduce the cost of performing the transportation service. For instance, we note Mr. Fink says that while there was an increase in the movement of tonnage (as compared with the year preceding) of 18 per cent, the cost of conducting transportation was augmented less than one per cent.

A heavy train load is of course a necessary concomitant of such a state of things. In reviewing the C. & O. report we commented on the proportions to which that company's average load had risen, the figures for 1897-8 being 379 tons. Perhaps it will be a surprise to hear that the Norfolk & Western does not fall far behind the C. & O. in this respect, the average number of tons of revenue freight per freight train having been 355 tons. Mr. Fink takes pains to state that this result was achieved notwithstanding the fact that the grades and curves of the road are not favorable to the movement of heavy train loads, and notwithstanding that a large percentage of the freight car mileage consists of "empties."

It will be seen from what has been said that conditions have been such as to put the reorganized property to a severe test. That it has stood this test is the best proof of the thoroughness with which the work of reorganization was done. The company had fixed charges of $2,239,433 to meet. With a freight rate of only four mills per ton per mile the net income available to meet these charges was 50 per cent in excess of the amount required, that is, was $3,382,987. As a result there was left a surplus of $1,143,553, or, allowing for some minor deductions, $1,138,948. This is sufficient to give the Adjustment preferred shares the full 4 per cent dividends to which they are entitled, and leave a balance of pretty nearly a quarter of a million dollars. We may say, too, that operating expenses for the year include a credit to the Equipment Renewal Fund of $113,434. This, if not included, would have swelled the surplus correspondingly.

In one particular the Norfolk & Western pursues a different policy from that of the C. & O. The latter reported for the late year no charges to Construction and Equipment, everything being included in expenses and paid for out of earnings. The Norfolk & Western shows new capital expenditures to an aggregate of $1,334,596. Obviously, however, nearly the whole of this could have been provided from surplus earnings, had the company chosen to apply this surplus in that way instead of in the payment of dividends on the preferred shares. But the road is English-owned, and such a course we are sure would not have met with the approval of the foreign interests. Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Co. have audited the accounts, and certify that nothing has been charged to capital account that ought to be included in expenses. Moreover, Mr. Fink points out that liberal expenditures were made for maintenance, renewals and improvements (and included in operating expenses) in addition to the outlays for construction and equipment charged to capital account.

Monetary and Commercial English News

LONDON, Saturday, Aug. 27, 1898.

It is announced from Madrid that the Spanish Cabinet has has decided to re-assemble the Cortes on September 5, contrary, it is believed, to the wish of the Premier, Señor Sagasta. But he has found the pressure brought to bear upon him, both within the Cabinet and from the outside, to be so strong that he has judged it best to yield, inasmuch as the Protocol arranging the preliminaries of peace has already been signed. It seems that the worst that can be feared is delay in carrying on the negotiations for the conclusion of the final treaty of peace. The general feeling is, moreover, that Spain, being a constitutional Power, or at any rate being based upon the constitutional idea, the best plan is for the Government frankly to consult the representatives of the Spanish nation in making their treaty of peace.

So far as the United States is concerned, its victory has been so complete and Spain is so utterly incapable of making any kind of resistance to whatever terms the American Government may think right to impose, that any delay, whether caused by the Spanish Cabinet or by the Spanish Government, can, it is felt, have very little effect in one way or the other upon the ultimate result. It may, of course, anger the American people and force the United States Government to ask more than she would be willing to accept were she met on the part of Spain in a conciliatory spirit. Nevertheless that, it is argued, is for Spain to consider, and is in no way any one else's affair. Of course, the wish both in England and indeed all over Europe is that the peace negotiations may be concluded with the utmost possible despatch. Ever since the brilliant victory of Admiral Dewey in Manila Bay, which has been fully realized all over Europe, the Senate of Spain has frankly and fully admitted that she was utterly incapable of carrying on the war and was willing to accept the best terms she could obtain from the American Government, and consequently the feeling now is that the sooner the war is ended and Spain applies herself to the reorganization of her whole system of government and the development of what resources remain to her, the better it will be for Spain.

A Blue Book has been issued this week which is a preliminary statement of the labors, so far as they have gone, of the Indian Currency Committee. As was generally expected from the position of the Committee, from the very beginning it is recognized that the policy of 1893 (when the Indian mints were closed to the coinage of silver) shall be maintained, and consequently from the labors of the present Committee it is evident that no relief in that direction can be hoped for. As I have already said, the statement is merely a preliminary one, and the full recommendations of the Committee are not yet in the possession of the public. As the subject is one of such great importance, both to India and to this country, it was rightly felt that the public were entitled to know how far the labors of the Committee had progressed, and it must be frankly admitted that a very large amount of evidence has been collected. But, the Committee being so largely dominated by the official Simla element, it was impossible to expect that they would reverse the policy deliberately entered into by the Indian Government in 1893. Of course, every one competent to form an opinion, however much opposed to the closing of the mints, as the result of the labors of the Herschell Committee, realizes now that after five years many trade complications of one kind and another have arisen on the good faith that the mints would remain closed, and it is perfectly evident that to reopen them, at any rate suddenly, could hardly fail to do serious harm and probably great injuries to many branches of Indian trade.

At the same time it is now admitted that even if a gold standard is established in India, India is not rich enough, nor is she likely to be in the immediate future, to obtain the necessary gold which would give her a gold currency as well as a gold standard. Moreover, the experiment, which has now lasted five years, shows clearly that one of the effects of closing the mints has been to deprive trade in India of legitimate banking assistance. In other words, when trade becomes active at the great centres like Calcutta, Bombay and Madras, and of course to a still greater degree in the small towns of the interior, money is at prohibitively high rates and trade fails to get the accommodation to which it is legitimately entitled, chiefly because through the closing of the mints there are no means of readily obtaining an increased supply of rupees whenever and wherever they may be wanted.

The Directors of the Bank of England at their meeting on Thursday morning again made no change in their official rate of discount, which consequently stands at 2½ per cent. Rates are rather lower than last week, day-to day money being in plentiful supply at about ¼ per cent, money for the week at about ¾ per cent, while the discount rate for three months' bills is about 1⅜ per cent, and even long-dated paper is a full quarter below the official Bank rate. Consequently bankers and the discount brokers who have to work from day to day under the money market do not see any prospect of putting up rates very much in the immediate future. There is a considerable demand in London, and there has been for some months past, upon Continental (chiefly Russian) account. But this call for gold, coming from the Government and being much in the nature of an act of savings on the part of the Government, is filled with great care and will not be allowed to affect rates.

The uncertain factor in the question is how much gold America will require during the coming autumn. Of course it is evident that if the New York bankers like, they can take very large sums indeed; but so can nearly everyone if so disposed. Of course the balance of trade, which has been long in favor of the United States, is exceptionally so this autumn, and inasmuch as we shall require about our usual quantity of wheat again this year we shall still further increase our indebtedness during the ensuing autumn. On the other hand, there have been large purchases this week through the arbitrage houses of American securities on American account, and this of course will tend to lessen the indebtedness of London to New York. The impression in the market seems to be that America will take a moderate amount of gold, but not sufficient to cause any amount of stringency in the London market.

Business upon the Stock Exchange this week has been almost confined to American securities, and although the British public have bought but little, nevertheless there are distinct signs of interest in the market on the part of the public as distinguished from professional operators, showing clearly that if the present rise continues in the autumn, the market for American railroad shares in London may become as active when the holidays are over as it has been during the past few weeks in Wall Street.

For the 25 lacs of rupees offered each week by the India Council of Tender the total applications on Wednesday exceeded 133 lacs; this compared with an offer of 15 lacs twelve months ago, when the applications of the market amounted to 100. The Council succeeded in getting a somewhat better price this week than last, although it was obliged to make some allotments below 1s. 3 29-32d. The total sales this year so far have realized somewhat over 7 millions sterling, comparing with a little under 4 millions sterling twelve months ago.

The following return shows the position of the Bank of England, the Bank rate of discount, the price of consols, &c., compared with the last three years:

WALL STREET, FRIDAY, SEPT. 9, 1898.—5 P. M.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—A review of Stock Exchange transactions for the week indicates an absence of the local demand for investment securities which has been more or less conspicuous in Wall Street for some time past. For an explanation of this fact one probably need not go beyond the records of the Weather Bureau and an analysis of the conditions now prevailing in the money market. In regard to the latter, while loanable funds have up to the present time been available for legitimate purposes at reasonable rates, there is, nevertheless, a feeling more or less widely prevalent that these conditions may not continue, and that a conservative policy is for the moment wise.

The principal event of the week affecting Stock Exchange values was the action of the St. Paul directors in declaring a 2½ per cent dividend on St. Paul common stock. It was the signal for heavy selling of that stock which resulted in a decline of nearly 5 points. This, too, indicates that business has been largely in the hands of the speculative element: for why should a legitimate owner of St. Paul shares throw them over because the directors chose to adhere to a conservative policy in the matter of a dividend?

The progress recently made with the Baltimore & Ohio reorganization plan has attracted attention, and one of the features of the week was an advance of nearly 6 points in Baltimore & Ohio shares.

The foreign exchange market is regarded with interest. Rates for exchange have further declined and the gold import movement is gradually increasing.

The open market rates for call loans on the Stock Exchange during the week on stock and bond collaterals have ranged from 2 to 4 per cent. To-day's rates on call were 2¾ to 4 per cent. Prime commercial paper quoted at 4 to 5 per cent.

The Bank of England weekly statement on Thursday showed a decrease in bullion of £251,167, and the percentage of reserve to liabilities was 49 00, against 48·30 last week; the discount rate remains unchanged at 2½ per cent. The Bank of France shows a decrease of 5,100,000 francs in gold and 1,725,000 francs in silver.

The New York City Clearing-House banks in their statement of Sept. 2 showed a decrease in the reserve held of $8,313,400 and a surplus over the required reserve of $14,991,050, against $21,343 300 the previous week.

I D stands for bonds "when issued" and represent transactions in the Unlisted Department of the Exchange.

State and Railroad Bonds.—Sales of State bonds at the Board include $2,000 Tennessee settlement 3s at 93½, $7,000 Louisiana consol. 4s at 101 to 105, $37,000 Virginia fund. debt 2-3s of 1991 at 75½ to 76¼ and $140,000 Virginia 6s deferred trust receipts at 8½ to 9.

On a volume of business averaging nearly $2,500,000 par value per day the market for railway bonds has been narrower than of late and somewhat irregular. The investment demand seems to have been limited and transactions were confined largely to speculative issues. The action of the Atchison directors in declaring a dividend of 4 per cent on the adjustment bonds, which appears to be entirely warranted by the earnings of the company, led to considerable activity and an advance of a point or more in both the Atchison issues. Colorado Midland 4s have lost a part of the advance noted last week. Erie general lien 4s, Texas & Pacific 2ds and Wabash debenture series B have declined from 1 to 2 points, while Evansville & Terre Haute 5s, San Antonio & Aransas Pass 4s and Wisconsin Central first trust receipts made a corresponding advance.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—Such changes as occurred in the stock market over the holiday period were generally to a higher level. The upward movement was led by Baltimore & Ohio, which sold on Tuesday at 5¼ points above the closing price on Friday. At the same time Denver & Rio Grande preferred showed a gain of 2½ points and Reading first preferred a gain of 2 points. Wednesday's market was somewhat easier. On Thursday firmness was the feature, and in several cases the highest quotations of the week were made until near the close, when the St. Paul dividend was announced as noted above. This was immediately followed by a decline of nearly 5 points in that stock.

In sympathy with this movement Rock Island declined 3 points, Burlington & Quincy and Northern Pacific preferred 2 points and North West. Illinois Central, Louisville & Nashville, Union Pacific preferred and Northern Pacific 1½ points. Manhattan Elevated has continued a weak feature and Metropolitan Street Railway was erratic, fluctuating over a range of 5 points. The market was irregular to-day. After a firm opening and some advance it developed weakness and closed heavy, with quotations generally below the lowest recorded yesterday.

Some of the active stocks on the miscellaneous list have been notably weak, including American Sugar, American Tobacco, International Paper, Minnesota Iron and Illinois Steel, which declined from 3 to nearly 10 points.

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

The following table shows the gross earnings of every STEAM railroad from which regular weekly or monthly returns can be obtained. The first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the period from January 1 to and including such latest week or month.

The returns of the street railways are brought together separately on a subsequent page.

c Deducting other expenditures for repairs, replacements and general expenses, net income applicable to interest on bonds in July was $93,425, against $109,281 last year, and for January 1 to July 31 $647,262, against $574,802. This is the result in Mexican dollars treated (according to the company's method of keeping its accounts) as equivalent to 80 cents in United States money—that is, depreciation beyond 20 per cent has already been allowed for.

STREET RAILWAYS AND TRACTION COMPANIES

The following table shows the gross earnings for the latest period of all STREET railways from which we are able to obtain weekly or monthly returns. The arrangement of the table is the same as that for the steam roads—that is, the first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings or the calendar year from January 1 to and including such latest week or month.

Street Railway Net Earnings.—The following table gives the returns of STREET railway gross and net earnings received this week. In reporting these net earnings for the street railways, we adopt the same plan as that for the steam roads—that is, we print each week all the returns received that week, but once a month (on the third or the fourth Saturday) we bring together all the roads furnishing returns, and the latest statement of this kind will be found in the CHRONICLE of August 27, 1898. The next will appear in the issue of September 24, 1898.

According to the company's method of accounting, one of the two semi-annual dividends paid on the common and preferred shares during each fiscal year is charged to the earnings of that year and one is paid out of the earnings of the year preceding. This system is too complicated to be followed in above income account, and consequently the dividends paid during each fiscal year are stated separately as follows:

DIVIDENDS PAID DURING THE FISCAL YEAR.

Tot. Div.	$4,635,708	$3,737,453	$3,227,132	$3,199,620

Out of the surplus of $5,928,702 for the late fiscal year, the company paid its April, 1898, dividends of 2½ per cent on common and 3½ per cent on the preferred stock, these dividends aggregating $2,237,989, and will pay in October dividends to the amount of $2,264,326, including the dividend of 2½ per cent declared this week on the common stock and the 3½ per cent on the preferred shares. These payments will leave a balance on the year's operations of $1,120,387.

Northern Pacific Railway.

(Report for year ending June 30, 1898.)

The results for the late fiscal year were in the CHRONICLE last week, as also the statement from the report regarding the reserve fund for dividends on the preferred stock. The pamphlet report is now at hand and will be published in full in the CHRONICLE next week. In the meantime the following comments of President Mellen regarding the business of the year are timely:

BUSINESS OF PAST YEAR AND PROSPECTS.

"In many particulars the year ending June 30, 1898, has been exceptional. While there have been others in which the gross receipts have been larger, there has been none in which the results have been so satisfactory, both as to the condition of the property and the net revenues therefrom.

"The favorable winter of 1897-98 and consequent freedom from accident and blockade has helped materially to produce this result, but more than all else the economies accomplished by grade reductions, by substitution of permanent for temporary structures in the roadway, and by the employment of modern power in place of that previously available.

"The very satisfactory result of the year's work may be attributed largely to the marked increase in train-load and car load, and to the consequent decrease in cost per ton mile.

LANDS WEST OF THE MISSOURI RIVER.

"In the territory tributary to the lines of the company prosperity has been evidenced by the increased sales of lands, the company having disposed of a greater acreage (nearly 50 per cent more) and to a number of individuals greater than in any previous year in the history of the property. The prospects for the coming year are equally promising.

LANDS EAST OF MISSOURI RIVER.

"It is hoped that the interest of the company in the lands of the old Northern Pacific RR. Co. east of the Missouri River, now held by the sequestration receivers of the old company, may be realized before the end of the calendar year, for upon Aug. 25, 1898, the Special Master reported against the claim of the preferred stockholders of the old company to such lands in preference to creditors. This company asserts against these lands about 95 per cent of the indebtedness represented by such creditors."—V. 67, p. 477.

Colorado Fuel & Iron Co.

(Report for the year ending June 30, 1898.)

President J. C. Osgood says in substance:

General Results.—The net earnings for the year ending June 30, 1898, decreased $115,720 from the preceding year. The fuel department shows an increase of $338,325; the iron department a decrease of $332,994. In the fuel department the production of coal increased 573 635 tons and of coke 60,602 tons. In the iron department earnings for last year was included an amount of $180,000 due from the Rail Makers' Association. For reasons hereafter stated, this $180,000 has been charged to profit and loss. For the purpose of comparison, therefore, the amount due from the Rail Association should be deducted from last year's earnings or added to this year's earnings, on which basis the net earnings for the current year would show an increase of $64,280. The total net earnings provided for all fixed charges, sinking funds, etc., leaving a balance of $96,803.

Iron Department. The rail mill has been idle since the fall of 1896, including the entire current year. In December, 1896, the company entered into a contract with the Rail Makers' Association, comprised of all the principal manufacturers of steel rails in the United States, under the terms of which the company was to receive $360,000 during the year 1897. In February, 1897, the officers of the Association claimed that it was dissolved, but believing in the legal liability of the individual members of the Association, this Company continued to carry out its obligations throughout the year 1897. All but two of the members, however, refused to recognize their liability or make any settlement. As the result of a lawsuit may be deferred for several years, the $180,000 earned under this contract in the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1897, has been charged to profit and loss.

The great reduction in the price of steel rails, following the dissolution of the Rail Makers' Association, made it necessary that the company should make extensive improvements in its blooming and rail mill. The new mills are only now fairly in operation, though some rails were made during May and June. The blast furnaces were started up in January, 1898, but their operation did not affect the earnings of the company, as the pig iron was accumulated for the starting up of the rail mill. The Merchant mill has been operated throughout the year, and the sales have increased 70 per cent over last year. The profits of all the operations of the iron department have been more than absorbed by the fixed expenses and the heavy cost of starting up the new mills, resulting in a net loss on the year's operations of $ 0,398.

Collateral Trust Loan.—In order to make the improvements at the steel works, a loan of $400 000 was negotiated on collateral, including $180,000 Grand River Coal & Coke Co. bonds, $165,000 Colorado Fuel & Iron Co. general mortgage bonds and $55 000 Colorado Supply Co. stock. The loan dates from Sept. 1st, 1897, and matures Sept. 1st, 1899, interest 6 per cent per annum. With the improved business and financial outlook and expected earnings from the steel works improvements, it is believed that the bonds and stock can be sold at prices which will pay off the loan at maturity. The loan is margined by a mortgage on previously unencumbered coal lands and a small amount of minor securities.

Colorado Coal & Iron Development Co.—The litigation growing out of the guaranty by the Colorado Coal & Iron Co. of $700,000 Colorado Coal & Iron Development Co. bonds has finally been amicably settled, and this company will receive as security for its guaranty and the moneys already advanced by it, all the remaining property of the Colorado Coal & Iron Development Co., which, while not now available, it is hoped will eventually be saleable at prices which will reimburse us. The amount already advanced is $176,437, and under the terms of the settlement there is an additional amount of $50,000 to be paid, and the taxes and interest on bonds will result in a fixed charge of $55,000 per annum until the property can be disposed of.

Financial Condition.—The large increase in cash liabilities is accounted for by the starting up of the steel works and the accumulation of raw materials and manufactured stocks (principally pig iron) and customers' accounts. The increase of these accounts over June 30, 1897, amounts to $444,461, and, owing to delays in starting the new plant, the amounts are larger than is ordinarily necessary and will be materially reduced in the near future. The company purchased during the year $153,000 of bonds for the various sinking funds on underlying bonds which will release an equal amount of its general mortgage bonds, a portion of which has been used in the collateral trust loan already mentioned. The increase in bills payable is largely due to loans on pig iron warrants, which will be paid as the pig iron is sold or used in making steel rails.

Preferred Stock Dividends.—That the undivided earnings are not available for the payment of preferred stock dividends is not due to their diversion to steel works and other improvements, but because they have been applied to prior obligations, including the obligations arising under the guaranty of the Colorado Coal & Iron Development Co. bonds already referred to, and the purchase of bonds for sinking funds. The improvements and additions to the property have been made from the sale of general mortgage bonds, collateral trust loan and depreciation sinking funds. If the expectations with regard to the profits to be derived from the new steel plant are realized, the shortage in earning preferred stock dividends should soon be made good. The company has contracts for rail which will keep the plant in full operation till Nov. 1, and the outlook for new business is very favorable.

Earnings, Etc.—The results for the year compared with those of last year were as follows:

Boston & Lowell RR.—Bonds Sold.—The company has sold to E. H. Rollins & Sons, at 108·337, $214,000 4 per cent 20 year bonds to retire the same amount of Salem & Lowell RR. 6 per cent bonds, due Oct. 1, 1898.—V. 66, p. 80.

Boston Subway—Boston Elevated Ry.—Entire Subway in Operation.—The third and last section of the Boston subway was opened on Sept. 3 to street railway service. Two sections—one from Pleasant Street to Park Street and the other from the Public Garden to Park Street—have been in operation for about a year. The length of the subway is 1⅞ miles, with a trackage of about 5 miles. There are three junctions by which the surface cars enter and leave the subway. The cost to date, including material, work, real estate, etc., is stated as approximately $5,786,000. The ground was first broken on March 28, 1894.

The subway is owned by the city of Boston, and the terms of its twenty-year lease to the West End Street Ry. (now under lease to the Boston Elevated RR. Co.) were given in the CHRONICLE of Dec. 12, 1896, page 1065. Various other interesting facts regarding the enterprise, the character of the road and the accommodation afforded by it for street railway traffic will be found in the report of the West End Company in V. 65, p. 1021.—V. 67, p. 318.

Buffalo Kenmore & Tonawanda Electric Ry.—Buffalo & Lockport Ry.—Purchased.—The Buffalo Kenmore & Tonawanda Electric Ry., it is understood, was purchased at the recent sale in the interest of the Buffalo & Lockport Ry. Co. The latter company has equipped with overhead trolley the former branch of the Erie RR. from Lockport to North Tonawanda, 13 miles, and over the line now purchased will have an extension from Tonawanda to the corner of Military Road and Kenmore Avenue in Buffalo, a distance of 5½ miles. The Buffalo Kenmore & Tonawanda also before the sale operated under lease the Elmwood Avenue & Tonawanda Electric Ry., extending from the corner of Kenmore Avenue and Elmwood Avenue in Buffalo to a point one-third of a mile south of the southerly limits of Tonawanda, a distance of 2¾ miles. The electricity is supplied from the great power plant at Niagara Falls. The Buffalo & Lockport Ry. Co. owns the Lock City line, and the franchise allows it to handle freight through the streets of the city from 11 P. M. to 5 A. M.

From Buffalo to North Tonawanda, until the Kenmore Road could be purchased and put in condition for use, the company used the tracks of the Buffalo & Niagara Falls Electric Ry. The "Railway Age" says:

The time occupied in making the trip over the line from Lockport to Buffalo is a little over an hour and the company will give a half-hour service. The service given by the Erie management when in charge of the road between Lockport and North Tonawanda was four passenger trains and one freight each way every day. The fare from Buffalo to Lockport is kept at the old Erie rate, which was 75 cents per round trip. The line is practically level for the entire distance from North Tonawanda to Lockport, with the exception of a slight grade west of Lockport, and for about 10 miles of the distance is as straight as an arrow. The rails used by the Erie were of the 60-pound variety, and it was found necessary to re-lay only about a mile of the road. In doing this an 80-pound rail was used.

The Buffalo & Lockport Ry. and Niagara Falls Electric Ry. have the same officers.—V. 67, p. 427; V. 66, p. 1088.

Canadian Pacific Ry.—Inter-State Commerce Commission.—Decision.—The Inter-State Commerce Commission on Sept. 2 made public its decision in the case of the Canadian Pacific denying the propriety of the company being allowed differential passenger rates between Eastern points and the Pacific coast. The Commission found nothing disgraceful in the action of the company in reducing its rates in view of the action of the American roads, and nothing radically wrong in its attitude respecting the settlement of the question. The position of the company, however, has changed greatly since 1888, when a differential was first granted, and the Commission says:

"No line, American or Canadian, ought to insist upon a differential unless it is at a manifest disadvantage. This is especially true of the Canadian Pacific, a Canadian institution, built largely by Government aid and for Government purposes. If it comes into the United States to compete for traffic between United States points, it should be, content to operate upon the same terms as its American competitors unless those terms are clearly unjust or unreasonable. It should not insist upon a different order of things here unless it can make its title to the demand clear beyond all question. The Canadian Pacific appears, however, to be entitled to make as low a rate on this trans-Continental business as any American line."

Decision Accepted.—On Wednesday the company issued a circular accepting the decision of the Inter-State Commerce Commission and agreeing hereafter to quote the same rates as its competitors. In the circular Vice-President T. G. Shaughnessy says:

It was not understood by this company that the Commissioners would express an opinion on the merits of the claim for a differential, and therefore the company had no opportunity to submit in full its evidence and argument, but the Commissioners have dealt with the subject in their report, and they give it as their opinion that the Canadian Pacific Railroad is not now entitled to a differential on Pacific coast passenger business.

Throughout their very able analysis of the question the Commissioners seem to have entirely lost sight of the fact that while this company is competing with the United States railways for inter-State traffic, several more important lines in the United States are active competitors of the Canadian Pacific for Canadian traffic, and it may not be out of place to say here that if such an arrangement were practical and in the public interest, the Canadian Pacific could very well afford and would be glad to forego all claims to inter-State traffic of every description if the United States competitors made no inroads on the business tributary to its lines in Canada.

However, in this case as in all previous cases involving United States traffic, the company accepts without question and will be governed by the decision of the Commission, taking care, of course, that its rates will be on the basis of those which prevail by any other route, and tariffs covering traffic affected by the decision to take effect on the 25th inst., restoring ante-bellum rates as far as practicable in existing conditions, will be filed by this company in accordance with the Inter-State Commerce Law.

The company reduced the first-class fare from Boston to Seattle first from $71 75 to $40 and then, on March 1 last, to $35.

New Line.—Passenger service over the lately-completed portion of the Montreal & Ottawa branch between Ottawa and Alfred, 42 miles, was begun on Sept. 5.—V. 67, p. 318.

Central Ry. of Georgia.—Interest on Incomes.—The directors on Saturday decided to pay 2 per cent interest on Oct. 1 on the first preferred income bonds. The annual report will be found on a preceding page.—V. 65, p. 924.

Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul Ry.—Dividend.—The dividend declared on the common stock this week was 2½ per cent, as against 3 per cent at this time a year ago. In April last, however, the dividend was 2½ per cent, while in April, 1897, it was only 2 per cent. In other words, the dividends paid out of the earnings of the two fiscal years aggregate the same, viz.: 5 per cent. The annual report is given on other pages of to-day's CHRONICLE.—V 66, p. 520.

Choctaw & Memphis RR.—Choctaw Oklahoma & Gulf RR.—Little Rock & Memphis RR.—Sale of Bonds.—The CHRONICLE has already reported the agreement by which the Choctaw Oklahoma & Gulf RR. Co. will obtain control of the Little Rock & Memphis and extend the line to form, with its own road, a system 500 miles in length, reaching from Central Oklahoma to Memphis, Tenn. This week the sale is confirmed of $2,200,000 bonds of the Choctaw & Memphis RR. (the company which will succeed the Little Rock & Memphis after the foreclosure sale Oct. 25) to Edward B. Smith & Co. of Philadelphia. These bonds will form part of an issue of $3,400,000 five per cent bonds to be created at $12,500 per mile by the Choctaw & Memphis. Of the loan $1,200,000 will be used to acquire the Little Rock & Memphis, and the remainder, those now sold, will be used to extend that road from Little Rock westerly to the western boundary of the State, where connection will be made with the Choctaw Oklahoma & Gulf RR., as extended, 13 miles from its eastern terminus to the Arkansas line.

Arrangements have been made to lease the Choctaw & Memphis to the Choctaw Oklahoma & Gulf for a division of the through business on a mileage prorate that will guarantee the interest on the bonds of the new company and dividends on its $1,750,000 preferred stock at the rate of 2 per cent for the first year, 3 per cent for the second and 4 per cent for the third year and thereafter.

After the payment of 6 per cent on the preferred stock, one-half of the net earnings of the new company will go to the Gulf Co., the other half being available for dividends upon the $1,750,000 common stock. The rental guaranteed under the lease will be only $750 a mile for the first year, rising to a maximum of $885 a mile. The Gulf Co. is now itself reported to be earning at the rate of $2,214 per mile, traversing a less desirable country, and with 137 miles of its tracks within the bounds of Indian reservation.

The following facts regarding the new loan have been furnished to the CHRONICLE: "The bonds are to be 5 per cent fifty-year gold bonds, dated July 1, 1899. They are not guaranteed technically on account of a charter limitation, but their interest is practically guaranteed by contract of lease, an extract from which will be endorsed on each bond. Total issue is limited to $3,400,000."

The Philadelphia "Times" says:

The 140 miles of new road will traverse what is said to be the richest unoccupied railroad territory in the United States. Portions of it are covered with valuable tracts of pine timber, and there are considerable undeveloped deposits of coal and iron ore in the hills. The lower lands are adapted to cotton growing, while it is believed that the higher table lands will prove to be a rich fruit-growing region. President Gowen already has his surveying parties in the field, and construction work will be begun this month and completed before next summer.—V. 67, p. 126.

A receiver has been or will be appointed. These measures are preparatory to the reorganization which Hon. George F. Wright is interested in effecting.—V. 66, p. 1139.

The English company, it is understood, has outstanding ordinary shares on which £136,978 has been paid in and also £50,000 full-paid 10 per cent preferred shares. Shares on which £10 was originally paid in will receive £20 10s. in stock of the new company.

Bryant of the Eastern District, sitting in Chambers in that city, refused to confirm the sale of the road to George C. Holt, and ordered that the property be re-sold on the first Tuesday in October. Judge Bryant also required L. J. Smith, who opposed the confirmation of the sale, to furnish a bond in the sum of $50,000 guaranteeing a purchaser at time of sale who would pay more than $425,000 for the La Porte Railroad.—V. 67, p. 73.

Metropolitan Street Ry. of New York.—Cable to be Replaced at Once.—The company completed last week the installation of the conduit electric power system on the Sixth Avenue line, from Fifty-ninth Street to Fourteenth Street, and expects to have the line completed from Thirteenth Street to Canal Street about Sept. 15. The rapidity with which the work is progressing on both Sixth and Eighth avenues is given as the reason for the immediate conversion of the Broadway cable line to the underground electricity. The intention was to allow this work to lie over until another year, but instead of so doing it was decided to break ground at once. The work, it is stated, will be done on only two or three blocks at a time, and when the crowded part of the thoroughfare is reached it is proposed to continue it only at night, when the roadway is comparatively clear.—V. 67, p. 320.

Boudholders so pre-enting their bonds will be entitled to receive in cash an amount equal to interest on same at 7 per cent from July 1, 1898, to Oct. 1, 1898, and at 3 per cent from Oct. 1, 1898, to Jan 1, 1900. In case of holders not desiring to extend, the Central Trust Co. will purchase their bonds at par and interest at 7 per cent from July 1, to Oct. 1, 1898, and at 3 p. c. Oct. 1, 1898, to Jan 1, 1900.—V. 67, p. 425.

Pueblo Electric Street Ry.—Pueblo Gas & Electric—Pueblo Electric Light & Power—Pueblo Light, Heat & Power.—Consolidation.—A complete reorganization of the street railway and electric light companies of Pueblo, Col., has been effected. A new company has been organized which has purchased the property of and consolidated into one company the Pueblo Electric Street Railway Co., the Pueblo Electric Light & Power Co., the Pueblo Light, Heat & Power Co., and the Pueblo Gas & Electric Light Co., the owners of the stock of the different companies taking bonds and stock in the new company. All the different properties will be operated hereafter from one large power station, and there has been added to the equipment three McIntosh & Seymour compound condensing engines, of which two are 800 h.p. and one 600 h.p. The generators are General Electric direct connected, there being two 225-k.w. generators for street railway work and one 250-k.w. monocycle generator for incandescent lighting. There will also be one 125-light Brush arc machine, two 80-light Wood arc machines, four 500 T. H. arc light machines and two Wood alternators.

Terminal Railway of Buffalo.—To be Opened Sept. 15.—The opening of this terminal line, extending from Blaisdell to Depew, N. Y., a distance of 11 miles, will take place on Sept. 15. The new road will enable the New York Central and Lake Shore lines to shorten the time of through trains. The intention, it is stated, is to operate only freight trains on this road at present but it is probable that with the adoption of the winter schedule, through passenger trains also will be run from Depew to Blaisdell, obviating the necessity of the long hauls into and out of Buffalo, and the delay incident to switching.—V. 61, p. 1138.

The expenditures for Repairs of Bridges include the total cost of 72 steel bridges, aggregating 5,688 feet in length—replacing an equal number of wooden bridges; the filling of about 2·6 miles of pile bridges with earth—226 bridges having been completely filled and 86 reduced in length by filling; and the replacing of 275 wooden culverts with iron.

The sum of $145,000 has been charged to Operating Expenses for the replacement of the Passenger Station at Minneapolis. The new structure is now under construction. Operating Expenses have also been charged with the cost of Freight Warehouses at Chicago and Milwaukee; Car Erecting Shop at West Milwaukee; Passenger Station at Cedar Rapids, and other new structures at various points.

The expenditures for maintenance of Rolling Stock during the year were $2,918,523 70, an increase of $153,685 18 from the previous year, and include the amount of $533,917 94 charged to Operating Expenses to replace the loss of equipment during the year, as stated on page 9, and the cost of general repairs of 282 locomotives and 13,782 cars.

The cost of fuel during the past year has been largely increased by the coal strike which occurred last summer and continued for five months. During this time we were obliged to get coal wherever we could and to pay whatever price was necessary. The cost of fuel was increased $125,000 from this cause. The remaining increase of cost was due to increased tonnage of freight transported.

By agreement with the City of Chicago, as expressed in the ordinances passed December 21, 1897, amended December 29th, 1897, and February 21st, 1898, amended May 23d, 1898, this company has undertaken the elevation of its tracks between Central Park Boulevard and Mayfair, a distance of 4·24 miles, and between Hawthorne Avenue and Wood Street, ·15 mile, and the depression of the Deering line track, ·22 mile.

This involves the elevation of the Y at Pacific Junction and the North Chicago line, ·54 miles—making a total elevation of 4·93 miles, and total depression ·22 miles.

The work from Central Park Boulevard to Pacific Junction is under construction, and will be finished during the present year. The remainder of the work, from Pacific Junction to Mayfair, from Hawthorne Avenue to Wood Street and the depression of the Deering line track, will be done next year.

The work now being done, from Central Park Boulevard to Pacific Junction, provides for four tracks.

The renewal fund of the Company, shown in the General Account, was created by current charges to Operating Expenses during this and previous years, to provide for the cost of track elevation in Chicago and for other extraordinary expenses. The estimated cost of track elevation now under construction is $954,425.

CLEVELAND CINCINNATI CHICAGO & ST. LOUIS RAILWAY COMPANY.

NINTH ANNUAL REPORT—FOR THE FISCAL YEAR ENDING JUNE 30, 1898.

To the Stockholders:

For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1898, the gross earnings of the C. C. C. & St. L. Ry. Co., proper, have been	$14,320,094 49
Operating expenses, including taxes	10,968,368 02
Net earnings	$3,351,726 47
Interest and rentals	2,905,024 40
Leaving a balance to credit of income of	$446,702 07
Deducting from this three quarterly dividends of 1¼ per cent each on the preferred stock	375,000 00
Leaves a surplus of	$71,702 07
To which add sundry balances of accounts	35,188 66
Making a total surplus of	$106,890 73
Which, added to the income acc't of the previous year	198,861 07
Makes a balance of	$305,752 40

The mileage of main track from which these earnings were derived has been the same as in the previous year.

The Mt. Gilead Short Line (2 miles in length), operated by this Company, earned, gross, $4,344 45, an increase of $58 77 compared with the previous year; the operating expenses were $5,860 35, showing a loss for the year of $1,515 90, against a profit of $420 31 for the previous year.

The Kankakee & Seneca Railroad (42·08 miles in length), operated jointly for account of this Company and the Chicago Rock Island & Pacific Railway, earned, gross, $95,523 65; operating expenses were $72,277 36; net earnings, $23,246 29, against $11,400 09 last year.

The Peoria & Eastern Railway, from Springfield, O., to Peoria, Ill. (352 miles in length), earned, gross, $1,883,106 55; operating expenses, $1,426,424 59; net earnings, $456,781 96; fixed charges, $441,620 00; showing a surplus of $15,161 96; as against a deficit of $98,773 16 last year.

The above lines make a total mileage of track on all the system operated and controlled by this Company, including double track and sidings, of 3,180·99 miles. The total gross earnings of the entire system have been $16,303,069 14, an increase of $1,469,969 29; net earnings, $3,830,238 82, an increase of $223,124 62 compared with the previous year.

The number of tons of freight carried one mile shows an increase of 27 per cent, while the revenue from freight shows an increase of 12 per cent; the average receipts per ton per mile falling from 6·14 mills to 5·45 mills. Larger train-loads were averaged, so that the earnings of freight trains per mile were the same this year as last. The loss of revenue per ton per mile is due to excessive competition and to the carriage of a larger amount of lower-class freights.

The number of passengers carried one mile shows an increase of 7 per cent and the revenue 5 per cent; the average rate per passenger per mile falling from 1·964 cents to 1·915 cents. The passenger train mileage decreased 113,818 miles. This, with an increase in mail and express earnings, carried the passenger train earnings per mile up to 99·42 cents, from 92·99 cents the previous year.

The year ending June 30, 1897, closed with a deficit after paying three dividends upon the preferred stock, the Company passing the dividend for the quarter ending June 30, 1897. During the year just closed the Company has been enabled to resume dividends upon the preferred stock, and has paid three, and the indications now are that the regular quarterly dividends can hereafter be paid.

As will be seen by examining in detail the statements of the Company, there has been considerable money expended and charged to expenses to put the property in proper condition and repair some of the wastes of previous years, when the earnings were light, especially in reference to the equipment. Some of the principal items which have been spent during the year and charged to repairs (the company having made no charges to Construction Account for any repairs or improvements during the year) are as follows: 28·8 miles of new side-track for the accommodation of business and the passing of trains, including new yards at Greensburg, Ind., at a total cost of $96,621 76. To comply with the ordinance of the city of Columbus, new stores were built upon the viaduct abutting the Company's property, at a cost of $36,589 50; this was charged directly to expenses, but in time there should be an income from the rent of these stores. $326,000 was charged to expenses for new freight cars to replace those worn out in the present and previous years; in addition to this the ordinary repairs were fully maintained, and $56,577 expended on account of additional air-brakes and couplers to comply with the law of Congress in reference to the same. The expenditure of this money fills the numbers of the freight equipment and brings all of the same up to the Company's standard, and hereafter it can be maintained with only the expense of ordinary wear and tear and replacements. Fifteen new engines were purchased and charged to expenses to replace old and light engines worn out, at a cost of $145,440. Seven new passenger cars of various descriptions were purchased, at a cost of $13,000, and charged to expenses on account of renewals and replacements. Altogether, in addition to these items, the expenditures for stations, rails, ties and ballast have been fully up to the requirements necessary to maintain the property in its present high standard of physical condition. It is anticipated that for the coming years a large sum can be saved in the expenditures for equipment and track from those of the last year.

$598,118 80 has been charged to expenses for taxes: an increase of about 4 per cent over the previous year. This burden is still as serious as ever and not much relief can be anticipated for the future.

The Company's extension into Louisville has proved a source of profit during the past year, instead of a loss, in addition to bringing new business to and from the other lines of the Company.

It will be seen by looking at the Balance Sheet that the greater part of the cost of new cars and engines purchased during the year and charged to expenses is payable in monthly instalments during the next three years, with interest at the rate of 5 per cent. This liability amounts to $417,793 80, and is carried under the name of "New Equipment Account."

The outlook for business for the coming year, at the writing of this report, seems to be quite encouraging. Large crops of wheat have been harvested and other crops look promising. The only cloud resting upon your property is the excessive competition and the low rates attending the same. This, it is hoped, can be reduced somewhat during the coming year.

It will be noticed by examining the accompanying statements of the Auditor that we have added to the statements published in the previous years a comparative statement of the earnings and expenses of the Peoria & Eastern Railway for the years 1897 and 1898. It is very gratifying to see the improvement that has taken place in this property during the last year. Its gross earnings have increased about 15 per cent, and instead of the deficit of $98,773 16 last year, there is a surplus of $15,161 96 after deducting fixed charges. In addition to this, in the expenses is the sum of $102,491 97, which it was found necessary to expend in rebuilding the Urbana shops. This large expenditure has been impending for several years, and it was thought could be no longer postponed, and was made this year. The freight equipment of the Company has not been fully maintained during the last five years of depressed earnings, and arrangements have been made for the purchase of 1,000 box cars, which completely fills all the vacant numbers. These cars were purchased for 10 per cent cash and the balance payable in sixty monthly payments, with 5 per cent interest, and payments as made will be charged to operating expenses of that line. It is thought the earnings from the mileage of the cars will take care of a large portion of this sum and that the Company can easily absorb the balance and continue to earn not only its fixed charges, but, it is hoped, also a surplus which can be applied to the reduction of the debt which it owes the C. C. C. & St. L. Ry. Co. for advances hitherto made. The physical condition of the property has been steadily improved since your Company took possession of it and it is now in such condition that it will require nothing but ordinary repairs to maintain and improve it.

Your careful attention is called to the attached statements of the Auditor, which give a full and complete history of the operations of the Company during the past year, and it is believed that they will show some encouragement to the stockholders.

The trains have been operated during the year with great freedom from accident, and the Company gives due recognition hereby to all the employes for their faithfulness and zeal in the performance of their duties.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

By order of the Board of Directors.

FINANCIAL.

The Comptroller's comparative balance sheet and Treasurer's statement of funded debt, annexed to this report, show the financial condition of the company on June 30, 1898.

It will be seen that there is an increase of $37,100 in the company's first consolidated gold bonds outstanding June 30, 1897. These bonds, and certain shares of the adjustment preferred stock, were taken from the securities in the company's treasury and exchanged for certain securities of the old company which the holders had neglected to deposit with the Reorganization Committee. The exchange was made substantially in accordance with the plan of reorganization, but subject to a penalty.

One hundred thousand dollars of South Side Railroad Company consolidated mortgage third preferred 6 per cent bonds that matured January 1, 1898, have been extended to July 1, 1900, at 4½ per cent interest per annum.

The last mortgage of $10,000 on land owned by the Company in Hagerstown, Md., was paid during the year.

The items appearing in the balance sheet under the head "Investments in other Companies" were increased during the fiscal year by $86,200, of which $80,000 was for the purchase of the mortgage of that amount upon the property of the Virginia Company, the entire stock of which is owned by this Company. The remainder, $6,200, represents the Company's subscription to the Capital Stock of the Norfolk and Portsmouth Belt Line.

It will be seen by the Treasurer's statement, that on June 30, 1898, the Company's Funded Debt outstanding (exclusive of equipment obligations and exclusive of bonds in the Company's treasury aggregated $46,279,950, and that the interest charges for the year ending June 30, 1899, are $2,210,657. Including equipment obligations, the Funded Debt is $46,801,950, and the interest charges for the year ending June 30, 1899 are $2,232,794 50.

The following Car Trust Certificates and Bonds have been paid during the year:

Car-Trust Certificates of 1892	$66,000 00
Car-Trust Bonds of 1893	59,000 00
Total	$125,000,00

Leaving outstanding June 30, 1898:

Car-Trust Certificates of 1892	$253,000 00
Car-Trust Bonds of 1893	266,000 00
Total	$519,000 00

The last of the Certificates of 1892 matures in October, 1902, and the last of the Bonds of 1893 matures in January, 1903.

In addition to the above, there were outstanding on June 30, 1898, $3,000 of the Equipment Mortgage Bonds of 1888.

CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND BETTERMENTS.

The following expenditures have been made during the year for construction, equipment and betterments, and charged to Capital Account:

Construction	$220,731 84
Equipment	650,000 00
Air Brakes and Automatic Couplers	263,178 97
Branch Lines and Spurs	36,752 16
Improvements and Betterments	164,133 82
Total	$1,334,596 79

The expenditures for construction include double-tracking, new sidings and extensions of old sidings, ballasting and fencing, road crossings, telegraph wires, interlocking plants and signals, engine houses, shops and turn tables, general offices, fuel and water stations.

The main items charged to improvements and betterments are a portion of the cost of replacing temporary wooden trestles by masonry and embankments or iron and steel structures, and by substituting new and stronger iron and steel bridges for old weak structures. A portion of the cost of this work has been charged to operating expenses, in accordance with the instructions of the Board.

TRAFFIC.

As compared with the year ending June 30, 1897, the number of passengers carried shows a decrease of 1·84 per cent; but the mileage of passengers increased 10·1 per cent, and the earnings increased 4·36 per cent, notwithstanding the decrease in the average earnings per passenger per mile from 2·318 cents in 1896-97 to 2·197 cents in 1897-98.

The whole of the decrease in the number of passengers was in the local travel; 92 per cent of the earnings from passengers was derived from local sources.

The total tonnage of all classes of paying freight moved during the year was 8,276,948 tons. The mileage of tons was 2,301,312,744.

The total earnings from freight were $9,306,899·20, and the average earnings per ton per mile 0·404 cent; 81·7 per cent of the revenue from freight was derived from local business; 87·4 per cent of the tons carried was local tonnage.

A comparison with the operations for the year 1896-97 shows the following changes:

Increase in tons moved 1,309,276, equal to 18·78 per cent.

Increase in tons moved one mile, 351,862,257, equal to 18 per cent.

Increase in earnings from freight, $611,266 31, equal to 7·03 per cent.

Decrease in average earnings per ton per mile, 0·042 cent, equal to 9·42 per cent.

The bulk of the increase in freights was in coal and coke shipments. The shipments of bituminous coal aggregated 3,664,191 net tons, and show an increase of 611,509 tons, equal to 20 per cent.

The coke shipments aggregated 1,117,273 tons, and show an increase of 352,372 tons, equal to 46 per cent.

The bituminous coal and coke shipments constituted about 58 per cent of the entire tonnage.

The bituminous coal business was in a state of demoralization during the whole year, and the company was compelled to accept somewhat lower rates on tidewater and other competitive coal than it received during the preceding year.

The shipments of grain aggregated 490,397 tons. The rates on export grain are now so low as to render this traffic undesirable.

The Comptroller's statement of classified tonnage, hereto annexed, shows the tonnage of the various articles of freight carried over the road, and the increase and decrease as compared with the preceding year.

EQUIPMENT.

The Company's equipment has been maintained in good condition. In addition to the charges to operating expenses, of the cost of maintenance and renewals, $113,434 has been credited to the Equipment Renewal Fund during the year and charged to operating expenses for depreciation of equipment; and $62,601 84 has been charged for automatic couplers.

Six new heavy Consolidation locomotives, for use as pushers on the Flat Top Mountain grade, have been purchased during the year. Their cost, $69,928 28, has been charged to the Equipment Renewal Fund.

The following additions have been made to the car equipment during the year:

550 gondola cars,	10 cabin cars.
50 stock cars,

At the close of the year the equipment consisted of:

65 passenger engines,	26 switching engines.
325 freight engines,
Total engine equipment..... 416
146 passenger cars,	19 combination passenger and baggage cars,
34 baggage and express cars,	5 officers' cars,
25 baggage and mail cars,	1 pay car.
9 mail cars,
Total passenger equipment ....239 cars.
6,684 box cars,	2,272 drop bottom gondola cars.
590 stock cars,	6,432 hopper bottom gondola cars,
15 poultry cars,	399 flat bottom gondola cars.
462 flat cars,
4 charcoal cars,
525 coke cars,
Total freight equipment. .....17,383 cars.
139 side dumpers,	275 cabin cars.
15 tool cars,	5 steam shovel cars,
1 pile driver car,	2 supply cars.
Total maintenance of way equipment..... 437 cars.
Floating equipment..... ..	2 sea-going tugs,
	10 barges.

PHYSICAL CONDITION.

The condition of the roadway and structures has been much improved during the year, liberal expenditures having been made for maintenance, renewals and improvements (charged to operating expenses), in addition to the expenditures for construction and betterments charged to capital account.

96·23 miles of main and second track have been re-laid with 85-lb. steel rails and 42·1 miles with 75-lb steel rails.

1,115 lineal feet of wooden trestles have been replaced by masonry and embankments.

965 feet of wooden trestles have been replaced by iron and steel structures.

2,046 lineal feet of old weak bridges have been replaced by strong steel structures.

Considerable work has been done in renewing defective bridge and culvert masonry, and some progress has been made in the work of reducing grades.

The increase in the number and length of the Company's freight trains has necessitated the extension of old sidings and the addition of new ones; 20·43 miles of new sidings and extensions of old sidings have been constructed during the year; 6·71 miles of old sidings and branches, for which there was no longer any use, have been taken up. The net increase in length of sidings was 13·72 miles.

5·21 miles have been added to the second track.

A 12-stall brick engine house and smith shop has been erected at Kenova.

In March, 1898, a flood in the Scioto River caused considerable damage to the roadway and track on the Scioto Valley Division. Owing to washouts and submergence of track the movement of trains over that Division had to be suspended for several days.

GENERAL REMARKS.

While there has been a general improvement in business throughout the country, the section from which the Company draws its traffic has not been highly prosperous during the year. Anticipation of war, and actual war, have checked the revival of business. Nor has the Company derived any considerable advantage from the war in the movement of troops. Under these circumstances the results of operation for last year are highly gratifying. These results illustrate the recuperative power of the property, and confirm the opinion we expressed in our last report, that the Company has been organized on a safe and stable basis.

The Company has already derived great benefits from the expenditures made in putting the property in good condition, and in providing additional facilities for the economical handling of its traffic. As a large percentage of the Company's freight business is of the lower classes, and can only be secured at rates that leave a small margin of profit, it is necessary to secure a large volume of freight, and to reduce the cost of transportation to a minimum. It is therefore the part of wisdom to continue such expenditures as will result in a reduction of the operating expenses, and especially the cost of the movement of freight. The work of reducing grades, wherever practicable, should be prosecuted as rapidly as may be found consistent with economy.

The rates in the Southern territory have been fairly well maintained during the year; but rates of freight in the territory of the Joint Traffic Association have been and are in a demoralized condition without precedent in the history of unrestrained competition. The evil of rate-cutting seems to have passed from the acute to the chronic stage, and ordinary remedies are no longer effective. Efforts made from time to time by the cooperative fast freight lines, of which this Company is a member, to improve the rate situation by agreements with their competitors, have invariably resulted in a diversion of competitive traffic from those lines and a loss of revenue to this Company.

Congress has adjourned without giving the railroads the hoped for relief by amending the Act to Regulate Commerce so as to permit a division of competitive traffic, improperly termed pooling.

On the other hand, Congress did not enact into a law the Cullom Bill, which was introduced in the Senate at the last Session of Congress. That bill, if enacted into a law, would have conferred upon the Inter State Commerce Commission additional and extraordinary powers, including the power to establish rates on all inter-State traffic.

In compliance with the provisions of the by-laws, Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Co. were elected at the first meeting of the Stockholders to audit the books and accounts of the Company. Their Certificate is attached to the balance sheet.

Your attention is invited to the report of the Vice-President and General Manager, hereto annexed. Analysis of the results shows that the Road has been operated with an economy and efficiency which is highly creditable to the Transportation Department.

It will be seen that there was an increase in movement of tonnage of 18 per cent, while the cost of conducting transportation shows an increase of only 0·74 per cent. The average number of tons of revenue freight per freight train was 355 tons, notwithstanding the fact that the grades and curves of the Road are not favorable to the movement of heavy train-loads and that a large percentage of the freight car mileage consists of "empties." The revenue load per train was further reduced by hauling a large quantity of ballast on revenue trains.

The percentage of operating expenses was 67·17 per cent of the gross earnings (taxes excluded). In view of the low average rate per ton per mile (0·404 cts), and in view of the liberal expenditures that have been made in the maintenance of the road and equipment, this percentage must be considered quite low.

The officers and employes in all departments of the Company's service have faithfully and efficiently discharged their duties during the year.

By order of the Board of Directors,
HENRY FINK,
President.

THE WABASH RAILROAD COMPANY.

NINTH ANNUAL REPORT—FOR THE FISCAL YEAR ENDING JUNE 30, 1898.

A condensed statement of the operations of your Company for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1898, gives the following result:

Gross Earnings		$13,207,802 43
Miscellaneous Receipts, Interest Dividends, etc		180,6[illegible]5 97
Total Receipts		$13,388,518 40
Deduct Operating Expenses	$9,304,779 30
Deduct Taxes	499,486 35
Deduct Balance Joint Track Rentals and Miscellaneous Expenses	488,211 84	10,292,477 49
Net Earnings applicable to Interest		$3,096,040 91
Interest on Mortgage Bonds	$2,604,045 01
Rental on Eel River RR	90,500 00	2,694,545 00
Surplus		$401,495 91

The details, which will be found in the tables included in the Auditor's report annexed [in pamphlet], have been arranged upon a slightly different plan in the foregoing statement in order to enable stockholders to understand clearly the disposition of receipts, but the result is the same, namely, a surplus for the year over all fixed charges of $401,495 91.

As compared with the traffic operations of the previous fiscal year, the changes are as follows:

In Gross Earnings, an increase of	$1,681,075 07
In Operating Expenses, an increase of	1,325,·26 00
In Taxes, a decrease of	30,184 02
In Miscellaneous Receipts, an increase of	67,3 1 31
In Balance of Joint Track Rentals, an increase of	[illegible]0,128 92
In Net Earnings applicable to Interest, an increase of	373,1[illegible]3 48

The increase in Miscellaneous Receipts is mainly due to larger dividends on stocks represented in the Investment Account. The increase in the Balance of Joint Track Rentals is mainly the result of the contract with the Grand Trunk Railway Company, reference to which will be made in another part of this report.

The surplus net earnings of the year, amounting to $401,495 91, has been carried to the credit of Profit and Loss Account, in accordance with the vote of the directors, which decided that the floating debt of the Company should be paid before dividends could be claimed by the holders of Debenture Mortgage Bonds. This floating debt, which, at the close of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1897, amounted to $800,000, consisting of notes given for borrowed money, was the result of the payment of interest on the First and Second Mortgages during the fiscal years 1894 and 1895, in excess of net earnings applicable thereto. Under the stipulations of the Debenture Mortgage, which cover the question of dividends to this mortgage, it is provided that the amount applicable to the payment of such interest "shall be ascertained by deducting from the gross earnings of said Company all current expenses for operating said railroad and such sums as in the judgment of said Board of Directors may be necessary to maintain and renew said road and its equipment and appurtenances. and to keep the same in good condition, and to increase its equipment to such an extent as may be commensurate with its business requirements, and to pay taxes, rentals, interest and sinking fund instalments accrued or to accrue on any and all mortgages existing on the property hereby conveyed, and to satisfy all liens and charges thereon that are or may be prior in equity to this mortgage."

Under this clause it is clear that the floating debt, which represents interest payment to the senior mortgages, should be fully discharged before net earnings can be applied to dividends on the Debenture Bonds.

But irrespective of the legal obligations of the Company, as thus interpreted. it is not only sound policy on the part of the Company to clear off its floating debt, but it is, beyond question, for the ultimate advantage of the holders of Debenture Bonds. The possible danger of a floating debt should not be allowed to interfere with the otherwise promising and healthy financial condition of the Company.

This explanation of the conservative policy of the Board of Directors is made to answer inquiries of the holders of Debenture Bonds. and to justify a postponement of dividends, which strengthens the Company and adds to the permanent safety and value of all its securities.

This application of the surplus earnings of the year has enabled the Company to pay off $400,000 of the floating debt. which has been reduced to $400,000 at the end of the fiscal year. Within the ensuing six months a large part of this, if not the whole amount, can be liquidated, and at the end of the present fiscal year, counting upon a continuance of fair traffic, it is not unreasonable to expect a complete elimination of these borrowed-money notes.

The statement of floating debt does not include equipment notes amounting to $430,692 40, which extend over a period of two years in monthly payments, amounting to an average of about $18.000 per month during that period. These notes are charged to operating expenses as they mature, and will be easily provided for in monthly earnings.

The Act of Congress, which requires all freight cars to be provided with automatic couplers and air-brakes compels railway companies to expend about $80 per car for these improvements. This expenditure has taxed the resources of all lines severally, and has been especially oppressive to companies of moderate financial resources, and it soon became evident that quite a number of them would be unable to comply with the law. The time was consequently extended to January 1, 1900, and this will probably render compliance with the Act less difficult. The Wabash Company will complete its changes in this respect during the next calendar year, and will then be able to economize in such expenditures. One of the embarrassments of the change required has been found in the addition of such an expense to old box cars of comparatively small capacity, ranging from twelve to fifteen tons, which are being displaced by those of so-called standard capacity of thirty tons. Many of these old cars have seen so much service that it would be a waste of money to add the automatic couplers and air-brakes required by the law. The Company has therefore been compelled to provide new cars in their stead more rapidly than would have been necessary under former conditions. Recognizing however, the humane features of the law, railway companies have been anxious to meet its requirements with as little delay as possible, and the subject is only referred to here in order to account for larger expenditures for rolling stock during the last fiscal year. The opening of the Buffalo Division has also obliged the Company to add considerably to its motive power and passenger equipment. Reference to the report of Vice-President and General Manager Ramsey, herewith submitted, will give more complete information on this subject, and such details as may be considered essential to a correct understanding of the policy which has governed the management in meeting the requirements of the case.

Your attention is also directed to Mr. Ramsey's report in reference to further improvements in the physical condition of the track, in the substitution of heavy steel rails for those of lighter weight, and such expenditures in the department of maintenance and repair as have appeared necessary to carry out plans for putting the lines of the Wabash into the best physical condition attainable.

Whoever studies carefully the railway situation in this country will be led to the conclusion that under the fierce competition of lines multiplied at a rate far beyond the rate of increase in the volume of traffic, those which are in the best physical condition, and provided with rolling stock of approved design and enlarged power and capacity, will stand the best chance of securing traffic. Box cars of modern standard are much preferred by shippers and are more conveniently and economically handled. The scanty profits now available to transportation companies at the prevailing rates render it necessary to study economy in every direction, not only in the movement of trains and in the motive power, but in the improvement of tracks. It is not difficult to understand that in the rectification of lines and in the removal of heavy grades, as well as in providing a smooth and solid track, we add to the capacity of the motive power, secure greater speed, greater safety and greater economy. In short, it is a self-evident proposition that the railway companies which are able to adopt the most approved methods of operation, with machinery of the best make and modern design, and tracks of substantial construction, will meet the peculiar conditions of railway traffic in this country with the best promise of success.

In our last annual report, reference was made to a temporary arrangement made with the Grand Trunk Railway Company of Canada, under which two passenger trains were run daily, each way, between Buffalo and Detroit. This experiment was satisfactory enough to encourage the management to further negotiations with the Grand Trunk Company, and the result was an agreement covering a period of twenty-one years, which gives the Wabash the joint use of the tracks between Windsor, Buffalo and Niagara Falls for both passenger and freight trains, and also the use of the ferry between Windsor and Detroit. Arrangements have been completed, also, with the Erie Railroad Company for the use of its line from Suspension Bridge to Buffalo, and its passenger station in that city. In connection with these terminal facilities at Buffalo an agreement has been made with the Lehigh Valley Railway Company for the use of yards for the convenient handling of freight. These arrangements appear to be sufficient to handle the traffic of the line.

The trains began running under the new agreement March 1, 1898 and the result, thus far, has been quite satisfactory. The additional traffic contributed to the lines of the system between Detroit, Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City would alone be of great advantage to the Wabash Company, but there is good reason to anticipate, besides, a fair profit above the rental on the traffic between Buffalo and Detroit.

The stockholders will be asked at the annual meeting to approve and authorize the construction of two short lines between Hannibal Mo., and Quincy, Ill., about sixteen miles, and between Moulton and Albia in the State of Iowa, a distance of about twenty seven miles. The construction of these two links will save about twenty-four miles of distance between St. Louis and Des Moines, Ia., and give the Wabash, by way of the Hannibal Bridge, the shortest line between Quincy and Kansas City, and the amount saved in rentals of other roads now used jointly to reach the same points will offset the interest on bonds issued for the construction of the new lines. The transfer of the property now held by the Purchasing Committee will, at the same time, add to the Wabash system, the Des Moines & St. Louis Road, of about sixty-seven miles, extending from Albia to Des Moines. Although opposed, as a general proposition, to the construction of any new lines of road, these short links have seemed imperatively necessary to the proper development of the present system, especially in view of the retention of the Des Moines & St. Louis Line now to be turned over to the Company by the Purchasing Committee.

Railway Companies in the United States are still struggling with the difficulties of unregulated competition, and while there has been manifest improvement in the volume of traffic, and consequently a fair increase in net profits, it is still quite evident that the rate problem is as far from a satisfactory solution as ever. It is not so much a question of what the rates should be as how they can be maintained when agreed upon, and against this obstacle the companies involved are constantly stumbling, much to the embarrassment of associated lines, and to the discontent of shippers.

Congressional relief, which can be furnished by legislative amendment to the Inter-State Commerce Law, has hitherto been sought in vain, and the railway interests of the country have thus been jeopardized by a neglect which it is difficult to comprehend or excuse. The complicated machinery of inland transportation is allowed to work under laborious and unsatisfactory conditions, to the exclusion or indefinite postponement of improvements in harmony with the progressive spirit of the times, and yet public clamor is at once aroused if there is the least failure in service or in the accommodation of travelers. The severe trial to which railway property has been subjected has had one good effect; it has developed economical methods of operation in many directions and thus enabled the lines to move an enormous volume of freight at a rate which, but a few years since, would not have paid running expenses, but which now yields a small, although inadequate profit. Another favorable feature has been influential in partially relieving these corporations from the consequences of intense competition and meagre profits. This is to be found in the condition of the money market, which has made possible the readjustment of interest obligations as old mortgages have matured, or as bankrupt companies have been reorganized. The substitution of 3½, 4, 4½ and 5 per cent annual interest for 6 and 7 per cent obligations has saved enough in fixed charges to neutralize a fair share of the reduction in rates of transportation, while the superabundance of capital has rendered its employment difficult except at the lower range of interest rates, and thus a great change has been brought about in the finances of railway companies, which, to that extent, compensates for the diminished revenue of the operating departments.

Looking to the future growth and prosperity of the country, and the close connection of the transportation interest with that expansion, it is to be hoped that Congress will see the necessity of removing useless restrictions in the Inter-State Law, in view of a senseless and uncontrollable competition, which, while encouraging unjust discrimination, cripples railway enterprise, limits railway extension, and renders it impossible to continue improvements which the public good demands.

Perhaps it is not an over-sanguine anticipation to expect in the near future a more intelligent comprehension of this subject on the part of the people whose interests are so closely identified with transportation. When this time arrives the voters of the country will be anxious to remove obstacles which stand in the way of progressive development. It will then be recognized that the country itself is the chief sufferer from laws which discourage legitimate and healthy enterprise and contract the area of employment.

It is always gratifying to recognize the share of the officers and employes of the company in contributing to its successful operation. The results given in this report are largely due to their loyal and faithful coöperation in all the departments of administration.

United Electric Securities Co.—Securities Purchased.—The company has expended $72,632 in the purchase of its collateral 5 per cent bonds, as follows: Fifth series, $10,000 at 100; seventh series, $3,000 at 99⅝; ninth series, $46,000 at 101·57; tenth series, $13,000 at 99·40. The report of Aug. 1, 1898, was in V. 67, p. 480.

West Virginia Central & Pittsburg Ry.—Listed in Baltimore.—The Baltimore Stock Exchange has listed an additional $150,000 first mortgage bonds, making total amount listed to date $3,250,000.—V. 67, p. 478.

Wheeling & Lake Erie Ry.—Coupon Payment.—Notice is given by advertisement of the payment announced last week (page 488) of a year's interest on the three loans underlying the consols.—V. 67, p. 488.

Wisconsin Central—Litigation.—The committee representing the joint improvement bonds filed a bill of complaint on Sept. 5, praying that the first and second mortgage issues of the Wisconsin Central RR. Co be treated as if retired until the improvement bonds are fully paid; also for the retirement of alleged indebtedness, evidenced by eleven promissory notes aggregating $1,100,000. They also asked for a stay of the foreclosure proceedings under the two mortgages aforementioned (see V. 67, p. 276).—V. 67, p. 424, 435.

York Southern RR.—Contest for Possession.—The Northern Central Ry. has filed a suit in equity to stop the sale of the York Southern by President Warren F. Walworth to Daniel F. Lafean, C. C. Frick, H. C. Niles, H. H. Weber, C. H. Dempwolf, M. H. Houseman, George K. McGaw and Charles I. Nesbit. By the terms of an agreement between Mr. Walworth and the Northern Central it is alleged that that gentleman's controlling interest should have passed into the hands of the latter some time ago. It seems possible that the recent purchasers acted in the interest of the Baltimore & Ohio.—V. 67, p. 488.

—The regular September number of the "Street Railway Journal" has been made a souvenir of the Boston Convention of the American Street Railway Association, and is an unusual publication in size, in typographical appearance, and in the character and quality of its reading matter. We call attention to the following articles: "Street Railway Conditions and Financial Results in Metropolitan Boston," an article devoted to a financial analysis of thirty-one suburban and inter urban street railway properties in and about the city of Boston: "The Boston Subway"; "The Proposed New Electric Elevated Railway in Boston." The issue contains about 140 pages of reading matter and 269 pages in the advertising department, in which over 350 advertisers are represented. The advertisements embrace about thirty pages from European manufacturers.

—The Reorganization Committee of the Wheeling & Lake Erie Railway Company first mortgage (Lake Erie Division) bonds, George Coppell Chairman, gives notice to the holders of certificates of deposit for above bonds that coupons which became due October 1 and April 1 last upon such of the above bonds as were deposited with the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, having been paid and surrendered, the Guaranty Trust Company of New York will pay over to the holders of the respective certificates of deposit the amount of interest collected upon such coupons upon presentation of such certificates of deposit.

—Clarence H. Wildes & Co., 36 Wall Street, have issued a circular with regard to the bonds of the Chicago Burlington & Quincy RR. Co. The circular contains five large pages and furnishes much information in attractive form.

—The Empire State Idaho Mining & Developing Co. has declared a monthly dividend of 1 per cent, payable on Sept. 15. The net earnings of the company for July and August, it is said, were over 2 per cent per month.

—Ennis & Stoppani, 34 New Street, New York, are distributing free on application a special letter on Brooklyn Rapid Transit stock.

Friday Night, Sept. 9, 1898.

Early in the week only a limited volume of business was transacted. The observance of a holiday on Monday, Labor Day, together with a continuance of the hot weather experienced last week, served to retard business operations. Thursday found a most agreeable change in climatic conditions, and during the past two days trade has improved; in fact in some lines of merchandise there has been an approach to activity in the trading, as buyers who have held back awaiting cooler weather have begun operating. Favorable progress is reported being made for a successful culmination of the Minnesota Iron-Illinois Steel consolidation. There is also a report that renewed efforts are being made, and with a fair measure of success, for a consolidation of the tin plate interests. The removal from power of the Chinese Minister, Li Hung Chang, has received some attention, as bearing upon the Anglo Russian situation in the Far East. The victory of the Anglo-Egyptian forces over the Dervishes and the capture of Omdurman has been a feature of the week.

Lard on the spot has had a slow sale for Western, but city has been in moderate demand from refiners. Offerings have been fairly free and prices have declined. The close was steady at a partial recovery from bottom prices, with prime Western at 5·25c. and prime City at 5·00c. Refined lard has had a fair sale, but at easier prices. The close was steady at 5·00c. for refined for the Continent. Speculation in lard for future delivery has been quiet. Early in the week prices were lower under moderate offerings, prompted by yellow fever reports. Subsequently, however, buying by packers turned the market steadier, and prices advanced.

Speculation in cotton for future delivery has continued quiet and the net change in prices for the week is unimportant. Local operators have shown an unwillingness to make new ventures, both buyers and sellers as a rule holding off awaiting developments. Foreign advices have also reported the same apathy existing in speculative circles abroad. Crop-damage reports have been received from Georgia, Alabama and North Carolina, due to the excessive rainfall. It is now generally conceded that the condition of the crop has deteriorated in these States. Many of the trade, however, believe that the prospective decreased yield in the Atlantic States will be fully offset by a larger crop in Texas. Consequently these reports of crop damage have had only a limited amount of influence upon values. A strengthening feature during the latter part of the week was the belief that the monthly Government report would show a decline of about 8 to 9 points in the average condition; in anticipation of such a report there was some buying by shorts to cover contracts. Liverpool the past few days has reported a fairly active spot market, and this has had some influence in favor of prices. Saturday the market was easier under limited offerings, largely for foreign account, closing 3 to 5 points lower for the day. Monday, Labor Day, was a holiday. Tuesday there was a dull, narrow market, and prices barely changed throughout the day. Wednesday there continued a slow market. The only feature of interest being limited buying by a few shorts to cover contracts, stimulated by talk of a less favorable Government report. Thursday the market was moderately active. Foreign advices were stronger and were accompanied by a limited number of buying orders.

The crop damage reports from the Atlantic States were accompanied by buying orders, and there was some buying by local shorts to cover contracts. Selling orders were reported received from New Orleans and Texas. To-day the market was weaker, under selling for Liverpool against acceptances of firm offers from the South. New Orleans was also a seller. The close showed prices 5 to 7 points lower for the day. The spot market declined 1-16c. on Tuesday; advanced 1 16c. on Thursday. The close was quiet and unchanged; 5 13-16c. for middling uplands.

On the basis of the rates on and off middling as established by the Revision Committee, the prices for a few of the grades would be as follows:

WEATHER REPORTS BY TELEGRAPH.—Advices to us by telegraph from the South this evening indicate that there has been too much rain in portions of the Atlantic States the past week, resulting, it is stated, in damage to the crop. Further injury from rust, rot, worms, etc., is also claimed in Alabama and to a limited extent in Mississippi. From other sections reports are as a rule favorable. Picking is now quite general and has made good progress.

Galveston, Texas.—During the last day or two conditions have improved somewhat. The worms and other pests are more under control, though in parts of Central Texas they have done damage. The fair weather has enabled pickers to catch up and much has been accomplished in that direction. Reports are still conflicting as to actual damage done by worms, though there is no question that they are generally under control now and no further damage is anticipated. Picking is progressing rapidly all over the State. There has been rain on two days of the week, the precipitation reaching five hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has ranged from 69 to 88, averaging 79. August rainfall three inches and seventy hundredths.

* "Additions" include all corrections in port receipts and overland made at the close of the season, as well as the excess in Southern consumption, as shown by the actual results. This total is increased or decreased by interior town stocks. In the season just closed there was a large increase in interior stocks from the total of Sept. 1, 1897. In 1896-97 a heavy decrease occurred. In 1895-96 stocks were added to. † Deductions.

JUTE BUTTS, BAGGING, &c.—There has been a fairly good demand for jute bagging during the past week, but quotations are unchanged at 6⅛c. for 1¾ lbs. and 6½c. for 2 lbs. of standard grades. Car-load lots of standard brands are quoted at 6⅛c. for 1¾ lbs. and 6½c. for 2 lbs., f. o. b., at New York. The market for jute butts has been quiet. Quotations are nominally 1 80c. for paper quality and 1⅛c. for mixing.
